Estimate of the Pauperism of England and Wales.

The persons in receipt of relief in certain parishes incorporated under Gilbert's Act, or in single parishes still governed by the statute 43d Elizabeth, (the population of such parishes being about 200,000,) are not included in the summaries given in pages 9 and 10, no returns having been received from them.

We have, therefore, made an estimate of the number of paupers in the places not included in the above summaries; and for the purpose of showing the average number at one time during each year, we have taken the mean of the numbers in receipt of relief on the 1st of July and the 1st of January respectively.

The result of this estimate for each year from 1849 (being the first year for which it can be given) to 1864 appears in the following Table, which may be taken as exhibiting the pauperism of England and Wales. Estimated Pauperism of England and Wales.

Insane Paupers, 1st January 1864.

We have caused the lists of lunatics, idiots, and other persons of unsound mind, chargeable to the poor rates on the 1st January 1864, to be tabulated.

It appears from these returns that in 661* Unions and single Parishes under Boards of Guardians, there were 37,576 insane paupers, of whom 27,590 were lunatics and 9,986 idiots. The number of paupers, inclusive of the insane, was on the same day 1,011,753.†

In regard to the sexes of the insane paupers, it will be seen that 16,471 were males, and 21,105 females.

| Insane Paupers. | Males. | Females. | Total. |
|---|---|---|---|
| Lunatics - - | 11,891 | 15,699 | 27,590 |
| Idiots - - | 4,580 | 5,406 | 9,986 |
| Total - - | 16,471 | 21,105 | 37,576 |

These paupers were maintained in the following establishments ; viz.—

20,257 in County or Borough Lunatic Asylums.
1,196 in Registered Hospitals, or in Licensed Houses.
9,608 in Union or Parish Workhouses.
864 in Lodgings, or Boarded out.
5,651 resided with their Relatives.

The number of Insane Paupers in each Union-County is set forth, with other particulars, in the Appendix at pp. 286 et seq.

* Inclusive of eight Gilbert's Incorporations.

† Exclusive of the paupers in seven of the Gilbert's Incorporations, from which the Poor Law Board do not receive this information; the number of insane paupers in these places was 82.

Expenditure for relief.

The foregoing statistical statements show that in the year ended at Lady-day 1864 as compared with the previous year there has been on the whole a reduction in the amount of the expenditure for the relief of the poor, and that this reduction has occurred in 31 counties or county divisions. There has, however, been an increase in 16 counties, though to a small extent, not exceeding in any one 2·5, or on the average 1·1 per cent., except in the counties of Derby and Durham; in the former of which it has been 7·1, and in the latter 4·3 per cent. The increase in the expenditure of the county of Derby occurred almost entirely in the Glossop Union, where the cotton manufacture prevails, and where much distress has been suffered in the several trades connected with that manufacture. The increase in the expenditure of the county of Durham is more widely extended over the several Unions in it, and is alleged to be chiefly owing to an increase in the population, and consequently in the pauperism of the Unions, to the additional cost of the maintenance of lunatics, and to some causes of a temporary character.

Irremovable poor.

With regard to the irremovable poor it will be seen, on reference to the Table at pages 184 and 190, that the cost of the relief of paupers of this class has very materially increased since the Act of 24 & 25 Vict. c. 55., which reduced the period of residence from five to three years, came into effect; and that the expenditure for in-maintenance and out-relief for this class in the years 1863 and 1864 amounts to more than one third of the whole expenditure under those heads. It should be observed, however, that the increase in this item may not have been entirely owing to the alteration of the law, but partly to the distress which prevailed in the manufacturing districts during the two years in question.

Lancashire and other parts of the cotton manufacturing districts.

In the county of Lancaster there has been, during the year ending at Lady-day 1864, a decrease on the whole in the expenditure for the relief of the poor, as compared with the previous year, of 5·5 per cent. The expenditure of the year 1863–4, however, as will have been anticipated, still exceeds the ordinary amount. This will be seen from the following statement:

| Expenditure for the year ended at Lady-day | | 1860 | £425,608 |
| Ditto | ditto | 1864 | 856,048 |

But it is known that a material diminution has taken place during the present year, and it may be confidently anticipated that the expenditure in the cotton district will soon be reduced to its ordinary amount.

This conclusion is warranted by the reduction which, with some fluctuations, has been gradually going on in the number of persons relieved in the cotton manufacturing district, as shown by the following statement:

NUMBER of PERSONS in receipt of RELIEF in 28 Unions in the Distressed District.

| Christmas 1862 - - - | 273,858 |
| „ 1863 - - - | 145,779 |
| „ 1864 - - - | 112,843 |
| At the end of April 1865 the number was reduced to - - - | 98,368 |

The WEEKLY COST of OUT-DOOR RELIEF granted by the Guardians in the same Unions was at—

| Christmas 1863 - - - | £ 8,577 |
| „ 1864 - - - | 6,345 |
| At the end of April 1865 - - - | 5,224 |

According to the latest returns, the number of persons receiving relief in the distressed districts still exceeds by about 25,000 the ordinary average number of paupers previous to the distress. We hope that from the improvement in trade and the increased facilities for obtaining employment this excess will ere long disappear.

We insert in the Appendix, p. 298, a Table relating to the number of paupers in the district, in continuation of that which was given in our last Report. We also insert copies of the further Reports received from our Special Commissioner, Mr. Farnall, which contain information not only on the fluctuation of the distress in the cotton districts, but on the prospects of the cotton trade, and on the condition of the population engaged in that trade (see pages 67–75).

Union Relief Aid Act, 27 Vict. c. 10.

An Act was passed in the last session of Parliament, which received the Royal Assent on the 28th April 1864 (27 Vict. c. 10.) to continue certain provisions of the Union Relief Aid Acts, 1862 and 1863, for a further period. By that Act all the provisions of the previous Acts, except such as relate to contributions from other Unions in aid of any distressed Union, were extended and made to apply to the expenditure for the Quarter ending at Lady-day 1864. The Act limited the power of the Poor Law Board to issue any order under it to the 1st of July 1864.

The only orders issued by the Board under this Act were for loans to the—

|---|---|
| Ashton-under-Lyne Union of - - - | £ 4,797 |
| And to the Preston Union of - - - | 5,154 |

These sums were included in the total amount of the loans advanced to these Unions, as stated in our previous Report, p. 15.

Public Works (Manufacturing Districts) Act, 1863.

An Act was also passed, which received the Royal Assent the 29th July 1864, to extend the powers of the Public Works (Manufacturing Districts) Act, 1863. By this Act power was given to the Lords Commissioners of Her Majesty's Treasury to advance the sum of 350,000*l.*, beyond the sum already authorized, to the Public Works Loan Commissioners, for the purpose of being lent for the execution of public works in the district referred to.

We have under the provisions of this Act issued Orders for the whole of the sum authorized to be advanced, excepting a small balance, in accordance with applications made to us from the district.

We insert in the Appendix, pp. 23–66, copies of Mr. Rawlinson's further Reports on the progress and results of the proceedings under the Public Works Acts. Those Reports are accompanied by Tables showing the amount of the several loans for which Orders have been issued by the Board, the local authorities to whom they have been advanced, and the objects to which they have been appropriated. They also contain valuable information and remarks on the nature and extent of the works undertaken by means of the loans, and the advantages derived from them in a sanitary point of view, as well as in the more direct and important object for which they were intended to provide, namely, the employment of the able-bodied poor on works of public utility. For the full particulars of the statements on this subject we refer to the reports themselves.

We also insert in the Appendix, p. 300, a Table showing the amounts of the several loans advanced by the Public Works Loan Board under the Union Relief Aid Acts.

It is satisfactory to state, that we have received a communication informing us that 79 payments have been made to the Public Works Loan Board in respect of advances under the Union Relief Aid Acts and Public Works (Manufacturing Districts) Acts; and that there were no arrears either in the instalments of the principal or in the interest.

Casual poor in the metropolis. 27 & 28 Vict. c. 116.

The relief of wayfarers and casual poor in the metropolis has engaged our further attention, and has been the subject of legislation during the last session of Parliament.

The difficulty which had been experienced in making due provision for the relief of this class of poor persons arose from the very nature of their destitution. Being houseless wanderers, not attached to any particular locality, some Boards of Guardians entertained the opinion that no special obligation to relieve them rested upon any one Union or Parish rather than another. While therefore some Unions and Parishes provided a sufficient amount of accommodation for the casual poor, others declined altogether to do so, and contented themselves with refusing the relief demanded by the applicants, leaving them to seek it elsewhere. Hence the burthen of their relief was very unequally distributed; and, as it appeared to us, after having given this difficult question our best consideration, the remedy for this inequality was to enlarge the area to which such relief should be chargeable. Upon this principle the Act of 27 & 28 Vict. c. 116. was founded, which required provision to be made by all Unions and Parishes within the district to which the Metropolitan Local Management Act applies, for the accommodation of this class of poor persons, and entitled the Guardians, if the Poor Law Board should have certified that proper wards or places of reception had been provided, to be reimbursed by the Metropolitan Board of Works the amount found by the auditor to have been duly expended by them in and about such relief. The relief thus became a common charge upon the whole of the metropolitan district.

We issued a circular letter, accompanying it by a copy of the Act, and giving such explanations and advice as appeared to us material to the Unions and Parishes to which the Act applied. A copy of the letter is inserted in the Appendix, p. 77, together with the Report of the Inspector for the Metropolitan District, Mr. Farnall, on the subject of the proceedings under the Act. The result has been altogether satisfactory, and the provisions of the original Act, which was in force only until Lady-day last, have been since made permanent.

New workhouses.

We insert in the Appendix, p. 327, a list of the orders which we have issued during the year ending the 31st December last, for the erection of new workhouses, or for the enlargement and improvement of existing workhouses, according to plans to which our approval has been given under our seal.

Certified schools.

We also insert in the Appendix, p. 325, a statement containing the particulars of the schools which during the past year we have certified, under the authority of 25 & 26 Vict. c. 43., as fitted for the reception of such children or persons as may be sent to them by the Guardians of any Union or Parish, in pursuance of the provisions of the Act. The statement is in continuation of that contained in our Report for the previous year, p. 359.

Emigration.

The usual statement as to the emigration which we have authorized during the past year at the expense of the poor rates is given in the Appendix, p. 326. The total number of emigrants did not exceed 41.

Removal of Irish Paupers.

We take this opportunity of remarking, that though the removal of Irish paupers from England has been greatly reduced, there are still some cases in which Boards of Guardians find it necessary to resort to this measure.

We believe that they have frequently had some difficulty in ascertaining distinctly the names of the Unions in that country where the places of birth or residence stated by the paupers are situated. We therefore desire to draw attention to the return laid before Parliament in the last Session, No. 377, in which are set out the names of all the Irish Unions, the counties in which they are situated, and the names of the parishes comprised therein. It will be easy for Boards of Guardians, if they consult this document, to obtain the requisite information in any case in which they experience any difficulty.

We have also issued further orders, adding several places, formerly extra-parochial, to Unions, the names of which appear in the statement in the Appendix, p. 330. Extra-parochial places.

A statement will be found in the Appendix (p. 302), showing the daily average number of children attending Workhouse Schools in England and Wales, as well as the number attending District Schools, during the half year ended at Lady-day 1864; and also the amount of money paid, from the Parliamentary Grant, in respect of the salaries of the schoolmasters and schoolmistresses for the year ended at the same period. The following is a summary of this statement:— Education of pauper children.

A summary of the returns received from the several Unions and Parishes in England and Wales of the number of persons vaccinated by the public vaccinators during the year ended at Michaelmas last is given in the Appendix, p. 336. This summary shows the number of persons vaccinated during the present year to have been 537,212. The summary also shows that the number of cases in which the vaccination has been successful is 529,479. The births during the year in the several Unions were 739,236. The law relating to this subject, as now framed, has imposed some restrictions upon our proceedings, and has prevented us from acceding to some proposals made by the Privy Council in reference to the providing of vaccination in sparsely peopled districts, which would otherwise have been highly expedient. Vaccination.

Treatment of the sick in workhouses.

We regret the occurrence during the past year of cases in which neglect was alleged to have taken place as regards the treatment of sick inmates of workhouses. We are at all times ready promptly to inquire into any complaint made by or on behalf of an inmate of a workhouse, and in the event of neglect being proved on the part of any paid officer to censure the officer, or remove him from his office, as the circumstances of the case may require. It is, moreover, our anxious desire to provide for such a systematic supervision of the workhouses and their sick wards as may prevent the occurrence of any such neglect. With a view to this object it is rendered one of the duties of the Poor Law Inspectors to visit from time to time, and report to the Board upon the condition of the workhouses of the Unions under their charge; but such inspection of them, at distant intervals, cannot alone be relied upon as sufficient. Subject to the regulations of the Board, the management and control of the workhouses is by law entrusted to the Guardians, and the Board have provided by their regulations for the appointment of a Visiting Committee, whose duty it is to visit the workhouse once at least in every week, and to report to the Guardians, in a book provided for the purpose, the state of the several wards and the condition of the inmates of the workhouse. These regulations of the Board are rendered obligatory by the enactment contained in the 10 & 11 Vict. c. 109. § 24., which requires the Board to appoint a paid visitor of the workhouse in every case where the Board of Guardians neglect to appoint a Visiting Committee, or the Committee neglect to visit for three months.

We believe that if the Visiting Committee strictly and punctually make the inquiries prescribed by the order of the Board, and record the results of those inquiries, any matter of complaint as regards the management of the workhouse would be wholly prevented or speedily remedied.

The regulations on the subject are as follow :—

Art. 149. The Visiting Committee shall from time to time write such answers as the facts may warrant to the following queries, which are to be printed in a book, entitled the Visitors' Book, to be provided by the Guardians, and kept in every workhouse for that purpose, and to be submitted regularly to the Guardians at their ordinary meetings :—

Q. 1. Is the workhouse, with its wards, offices, yards, and appurtenances, clean and well ventilated in every part ?—and is the bedding in proper order ?—if not, state the defect or omission.

Q. 2. Do the inmates of the workhouse, of all classes, appear clean in their persons, and decent and orderly in their behaviour ; and is their clothing regularly changed ?

Q. 3. Are the inmates of each sex employed and kept at work as directed by the Guardians, and is such work unobjectionable in its nature ?—if any improvement can be suggested in their employment, state the same.

Q. 4. Are the infirm of each sex properly attended to, according to their several conditions ?

Q. 5. Are the boys and girls in the school properly instructed as required by the regulations of the Commissioners, and is their industrial training properly attended to ?

Q. 6. Are the young children properly nursed and taken care of, and do they appear in a clean and healthy state ?—Is there any child not vaccinated ?

Q. 7. Is regular attendance given by the medical officer ?—Are the inmates of the sick wards properly tended ?—Are the nurses efficient ?—Is there any infectious disease in the workhouse ?

Q. 8. Is there any dangerous lunatic or idiot in the workhouse ?

Q. 9. Is Divine Service regularly performed ?—Are prayers regularly read ?

Q. 10. Is the established dietary duly observed ?—and are the prescribed hours of meals regularly adhered to ?

Q. 11. Are the provisions and other supplies of the qualities contracted for ?

Q. 12. Is the classification properly observed according to Articles 98 and 99 ?

Q. 13. Is any complaint made by any pauper against any officer, or in respect of the provisions or accommodations ?—if so, state the name of the complainant, and the subject of the complaint.

Q. 14. Does the present number of inmates in the workhouse exceed that fixed by the Poor Law Commissioners ?

Audit districts and district auditors.

We have proceeded, on the occurrence of vacancies during the past year in the office of Auditor for certain districts, to carry into effect the recommendation of the Select Committee of the House of Commons, "That the time of the auditors when "appointed should be wholly devoted to the public service, and "that with this view their numbers should be reduced as "vacancies occur, and the vacant districts incorporated with "others."

This we have been enabled to do, under the provision in the existing law, 7 & 8 Vict. c. 101, § 32, by which we are empowered to add any Parishes or Unions to any existing district, or to separate any Parishes or Unions therefrom.

The first case which occurred was with respect to the Staffordshire and Derbyshire Audit District. On the occasion of the vacancy caused by the decease of the late auditor of that district we thought it advisable to annex the Unions comprised in it to the adjoining districts.

The proposal, however, created dissatisfaction on the part of the Guardians of some of the Unions included in the district in question, and we received a deputation on the subject, who urged upon our consideration the circumstances which appeared to them to render the appointment of a separate auditor for the district desirable. We did not fail to give full weight to the representations laid before us, both by that deputation and in memorials addressed to us on the same subject; but we saw no sufficient reason for materially altering the arrangement which we had proposed, and an order was accordingly issued on the 14th November 1864, annexing the various Unions and Parishes to the Cheshire and Denbighshire Audit District. It is evident that unless advantage is thus taken of vacancies as they arise, the alterations in the appointment of auditors recommended by the Select Committee cannot be carried into effect. In the present instance the new district appeared to be not more extensive than an active and experienced auditor, who devoted his whole time to his duties, might without difficulty undertake; and the result, so far as it has been tried, has shown this to be the case. It is possible, however, that some modification of the district may be made at a future time. We may further observe, that although on the present occasion the Chairmen and Vice-Chairmen of the several Unions formerly in the Staffordshire and Derbyshire district were not called upon to vote in the appointment of the auditor, the appointment of his successor, whenever a vacancy may again occur, will rest, unless any alteration of the present law should be made, with the Chairmen and Vice-Chairmen of the several Unions in the present District, in the same manner as heretofore. The advantage of a strict and effective audit cannot be doubted; and our only desire is to make such arrangements as may be best calculated to effect this object. Vacancies have since occurred in three other districts; the Hampshire and Sussex district, the Northumberland district, and the West Yorkshire district. As regards the first district we have divided the Unions included in it, and annexed them to three adjoining districts. We have also issued an order annexing the Unions in the Northumberland district to the adjoining Durham district. With regard to the West Yorkshire district, after much consideration we arrived at the conclusion that the importance and position of the district rendered it unadvisable, either that it should be divided, or annexed entirely to any one of the adjoining districts. We therefore authorized the election of another auditor for the district by the Chairmen and Vice-Chairmen of the several Unions in the ordinary manner.

Superannuation allowances to Officers of Unions and Parishes. 27 & 28 Vict. c. 42.

An Act was passed in the last Session of Parliament, 27 & 28 Vict. c. 42. "To provide for Superannuation Allowances to Officers of Unions and Parishes." We refer to the circular letter, in the Appendix, p. 90, in which we drew the attention of the Guardians to the provisions of this Act. We have received during the past year many applications from Boards of Guardians for the allowance of superannuations to officers who by age or infirmity had become incapable of performing their duties efficiently, and we have had much pleasure in sanctioning them.

The Act will, we doubt not, be of great practical benefit in securing some provision during old age to meritorious officers, who, when worn out by long service, had in some cases no resource but to become themselves chargeable on the fund which they had previously administered to others. It also takes away any inducement which Guardians might have had, in consideration of such a result, to continue in office persons who had become incompetent for the active and effective discharge of their duties.

Some questions have arisen in carrying this measure into operation, and upon consulting counsel we have been led to apprehend that it would not in all cases confer the benefit which was contemplated by Parliament. It is therefore proposed to submit to Parliament some amendments which appear desirable in the provisions of the Act.

Union Assessment Act.

The progress of the proceedings under the provisions of the Union Assessment Committee Act during the past year, though in some Unions not so rapid as might be desired, has on the whole been satisfactory. We refer to the circular letters which we have issued during the year connected with this subject, and which will be found at pp. 81–89 of the Appendix. In one of those letters we have fully explained the provisions of the Act (27 & 28 Vict. c. 39.) which was passed in the last Session of Parliament, to amend the Provisions of the Union Assessment Committee Act of 1862. It is unnecessary that we should enter into any further detail on the subject of the Act.

We have made a return to an order of the House of Commons (Sessional Paper 1864, No. 576.), showing in what Unions the Valuation Lists had been completely revised, and returned approved to the overseers in April 1864, together with the amount of the rateable value upon which the contributions in each Union to the Common Fund were calculated at Lady-day 1863, and the amount of the rateable value as settled by the Assessment Committee in 1864. We have also made a return to an order of the House of Lords of the expenses incurred by the Guardians in carrying into execution the Union Assessment Committee Act in the years 1862, 1863, and 1864 (Sessional Paper 1865, No. 29.)

On reference to the former of these returns it will be observed, that on the whole there is a very large increase in the amount of the rateable value of the several Unions as settled by the Assessment Committees in 1864, when compared with the rateable value of the previous year. It also appears by the same return that in 184 Unions the valuations had not been completed on the 14th of April 1864. Since that time we believe that the valuation lists of about 90 of those Unions have been settled and approved; and we hope that the same progress may be made in the present year, and that by the date of the next Report in April 1866 the valuation lists in the whole of the Unions will have been revised and finally settled.

Great credit is due to the Guardians who have undertaken the duties of the Assessment Committee, and also to the Clerks to those Committees, for the exertions and care which they have bestowed on this important subject; and we trust that the advantage of securing a correct and uniform valuation of the rateable property throughout the country will amply repay the labour and expenditure which have been incurred in arriving at this result.

In such a complete and comprehensive review of the basis of local taxation as results from the labours of the Assessment Committees numerous questions of interest and importance have necessarily arisen before those Committees. We have been appealed to from many quarters particularly on the subject of the exemptions which exist in regard to certain kinds of property which are not at present subject to the rate.

We think that this subject will deserve the careful attention of Parliament.

Poor removal. 27 & 28 Vict. c. 105.

The only other Act relating to the administration of the Poor Laws which was passed in the last Session of Parliament is the 27 & 28 Vict. c. 105., "An Act to explain the statutes of Her "present Majesty for amending the laws relating to the removal "of the poor." We refer to the circular letter which is inserted in the Appendix, p. 89, on the subject of this Act. It will be observed that it was passed in consequence of a decision in the Court of Queen's Bench in the case of the overseers of Great Salkeld v. Plumpton Wall, in which it was held that, as regards a pauper settled in one Parish and removing into another Parish of the same Union, his residence in the Parish of his settlement should be excluded in calculating the period of residence within the Union which would confer irremovability.

The decision therefore established a distinction between residence in any part of a Union which included the Parish of the pauper's settlement and one which did not include it. This distinction was removed by the present Act; but it has had this further result, that if a person having resided for three years in the Parish of his settlement goes to live and becomes destitute in any other Parish of the same Union he is at once irremovable, and chargeable upon the common fund. If he had gone into another Union he would not have been irremovable until after a residence there of three years.

The Act therefore, so far as its effect extends, is a further step towards the establishment of Union Chargeability.

All which we humbly present to Your Majesty.

C. P. VILLIERS,

President.

No. 1.

PUBLIC WORKS (MANUFACTURING DISTRICTS).—REPORT of ROBERT RAWLINSON, Esq., Civil Engineer to President of the Poor Law Board.

Office of Public Works, St. Peter's-square, Manchester, 5th July 1864.

SIR,

THE power given to the Poor Law Board by the 20th section of the Public Works (Manufacturing Districts) Act, 1863, to order loans to the aggregate amount of 1,500,000*l.*, expired on the 1st instant, when the total sum of the loans, so ordered, amounted to 1,499,883*l.*

Table I.* appended to this Report, shows the boroughs, townships, and districts which have made application for loans; the local authority from which the application issues; the date of the application, the separate amount of loans ordered by the Poor Law Board, and date of the Board's order, together with a statement of the estimated cost of the various public works in the execution of which it is proposed to expend loans obtained under the provisions of this Act.

Table II. shows the quantities and descriptions of the different public works so undertaken, in yards, miles, and acres, respectively.

Table III. shows the number of persons (distinguishing the factory operatives from skilled labourers) who were employed upon the public works at the date (25th June) of my last monthly return.

Table IV. shows the instalments advanced to the local authorities in respect of 126 loans up to the present date, amounting to 426,059*l.*, and also the residue of money yet remaining to be advanced, which amounts to 1,037,824*l.*

Table V. contains a list of applications which have been made, but which cannot be granted unless a sufficient sum of money is placed at the disposal of the Loan Commissioners for the purposes of this Act, and the borrowing powers are extended in point of time.

With reference to the character of the works already undertaken, the great bulk of the expenditure is for sewerage and street improvement works, including the formation, paving, flagging, and channeling of streets. Of the 1,499,883*l.* ordered by the Board 315,267*l.* is for the former, and 782,846*l.* for the latter class of works; amounting together to 1,098,113*l.* or 74 per cent. of the total sum. The length of the sewerage works thus undertaken is 463,527½ lineal yards, or 263⅓ miles. The area of paving and street works undertaken in respect of the above-mentioned sum, is 3,305,052 square yards; or about 683 acres; the length of the streets and roads being 445,514½ lineal yards, or 253 miles.

These tables include almost every township of importance in the cotton manufacturing districts, there being but few which have not undertaken public works through the provisions of this Act. But the already accomplished benefits of the Public Works Act are not to be determined by the actual amount of labour afforded to the distressed operatives, neither by the extent of works completed, nor by the sum of money as yet expended. I am assured, by constant communication with every portion of the district, that these works have been the means of preventing pauperism to an extent equalling near treble the numbers actually engaged upon them, simply because employment upon these works has been offered to all able-bodied applicants for relief.

To a considerable degree, also, the public works have acted as a training school for out-door labourers. Numbers of men who have been employed upon these works have thus received an introduction to out-door labour, and have subsequently obtained work in other quarters. The health and strength of the men engaged upon these works has been so improved, that whereas, at one time, it was never difficult to distinguish between factory operatives and regular labourers, persons of the greatest experience are now unable to tell one from the other by their physical appearance.

I have great pleasure in reporting with reference to the men engaged upon the works, that their general conduct has been exceedingly good; that disorderly proceedings have been of very rare occurrence, and have been usually confined to individuals. I am also very happy to be able to state that no fatal accident has occurred in the execution of these public works, a circumstance which I consider attests the intelligence of the workmen, and reflects great credit on the local surveyors who have directed the progress of the various undertakings.

It has been found by careful inquiry that the men engaged upon the public works have usually four or five dependents (wife and children), and that in the quarries throughout the district very large numbers of men have been employed in getting and conveying stone, of which it is estimated that not less than 300,000 tons have been quarried for use in the works already completed.

The vigour and confidence with which the local authorities throughout the district have at length undertaken public works of permanent utility and sanitary improvement have exceeded my most sanguine expectations. Many of the chief towns of the district will be remodelled. In Blackburn, where public works afforded employment to nearly 1,000 operatives, who were thereby enabled to maintain themselves and their families during the whole of last winter, 36,650*l.* has been already expended; 18,086 lineal yards of sewers have been constructed, and 51,385 superficial yards of paving and flagging provided and laid down; the public park has been greatly improved; the bed of the river, which was in a very foul condition, has been cleansed and pitched with stone; and some miles of streets have been reformed.

In Bolton, 250 factory operatives have been employed for some months past in constructing a large reservoir; while immediately within the borough, 3,119 lineal yards of sewers have been constructed, and 16,263 square yards of paving and flagging laid down in streets, of which the total length exceeds two miles.

In Ashton-under-Lyne, where there are still nearly 6,000 unemployed cotton operatives, owing to the manufactures of this borough being chiefly composed of American cotton, 4½ miles of streets have already been renovated; 4,384 lineal yards of main sewers have been constructed, and 38,827 square yards of paving and flagging provided and laid down.

In Oldham, nearly 200 factory operatives have been employed during the winter, making a public park, and 4,000 lineal yards of sewers and 7,000 square yards of paving and flagging have been completed.

In Wigan, 10,000*l.* has been expended (chiefly in labour) in constructing water works, and 4,500*l.* in street improvements; 11,000 square yards of paving and flagging having been completed.

In Stockport, there are 273 factory operatives now engaged upon main sewerage and street works, which have been undertaken and partially executed.

In and around Glossop, there are upwards of 400 operatives now engaged upon the public works, representing a population of nearly 2,000 persons. A large majority of these men are employed upon works which the Board of Guardians are executing upon Lord Edward Howard's estate, whose liberal and humane efforts to provide labour and wages for the distressed population of Glossop have been very conspicuous and most successful.

These are but seven of the 78 places wherein the Act is in operation, and in which works have been undertaken, but they will serve as examples of the whole number.

With reference to the proposed extension of the Act, there are several considerations which I should desire to urge upon your attention.

First, as to employment in the cotton factories, and the future prospects of the operatives in this respect. During the last three months, though employment has increased, this increase has been concurrent with a rise in the price of cotton. The best qualities of raw cotton are now dearer than at any previous time, and there is no prospect of a material fall in price until the crop of this year comes forward; but the stocks of manufactured goods, both at home and abroad, are now so low, that it is not probable, under any circumstances, that the numbers unemployed will again approach those of last winter, although the present very high price of cotton will render a general resumption of production impossible, and if the aspect of the war in America should change, and the struggle approach a settlement, there would most probably be a temporary and extensive cessation of employment in the cotton factories. Manufacturing production is much embarrassed by conflicting reports as to the quantity of cotton now stored in the Southern States; the estimates varying from 3,000,000 bales to 1,000,000 bales. If the latter was known to be the correct estimate, manufacturers would feel more independent of the contingencies of the American war.

Under these circumstances, I cannot but think it very desirable that every legitimate provision should be made to meet any increase of indigence which may occur during the ensuing autumn and winter. The number of able-bodied men now out of work is very greatly reduced from what it was at the date of my last report, and in several parts of the district there is already an unsatisfied demand for weavers. But in addition to the uncertainty of employment in the factories, it is to be remembered that large numbers are now engaged in out-door occupations (other than the public works), which will fail them on the approach of winter.

It is very true that there is a large portion of the sum already allotted which is yet unexpended; but, as stated in a former report, considerable sums are due for materials. In the case of large towns, most of the local authorities in them have borrowed as much as they have deemed expedient or necessary.

But there are several districts, which after encountering much local opposition, and, in some cases, after unavoidable delays, have succeeded in forming Boards under the provisions of the Local Government Act, 1858, but which could not lodge their applications and plans with the Poor Law Board before those already received had absorbed the whole of the 1,500,000*l.* set apart for the purposes of this Act. These Local Boards have generally been formed for the express purpose of taking advantage of the provisions of the Public Works Act, and I submit, both as a question of employment for the operatives in their neighbourhood, and for the permanent and sanitary benefits to be derived from the execution of the proposed works, that the case of these Local Boards is worthy of the consideration of Parliament.

Among the names of places in the Schedule of applications contained in Table V., annexed to this Report, several towns are included, to which considerable loans have been already allotted. These are, for the most part, great centres of distress, where the numbers unemployed are even now considerable, and may seriously increase.

In arranging for the proposed extension of the Public Works Act, there is one provision which I should especially recommend you to make, and this has reference to Boards of Guardians. I need hardly inform you that these bodies are not possessed of any borrowing powers for the execution of public works, except under the special provisions of this Act. And you will observe from Table I. of this Report, that loans made to Boards of Guardians have usually been for small sums, amounting, but very rarely in respect of any one township, to 2,000*l.*; many of them being under 500*l.* Some of these loans have been entirely expended; of others, a large portion has already been laid out, and in most cases, they have been advanced to rural townships, where but for the small public works, executed by means of these funds, the unemployed population of the village would have been living as paupers during the whole of last winter. The expenditure, in reference to public works, by the Boards of Guardians, has been in every respect most satisfactory. Except in very scarce instances, the landowners have given the land required for widening and improving of parish roads; and, in most cases, the guardians' expenditure in unskilled labour has amounted to 75 per cent. of the loans. Applications from several of these bodies in all probability will not be made unless the rate of pauperism should increase considerably in the latter part of the year. But, looking to the circumstances above mentioned, I should strongly recommend that, in any further sum to be set apart for the purposes of this Act, not less than 30,000*l.* should be included, in order to meet the possible claims of Boards of Guardians, and this sum I have placed to them in the schedule.

In the event of a further sum, to the amount contemplated, being devoted to the purposes of this Act, I have a confident opinion that, if the cotton trade should revive as soon as is generally anticipated, the Public Works Loan Commissioners will not be called upon to advance more than two thirds of the amount, and probably not so much.

The public works undertaken in Lancashire will, when executed, promote sanitary arrangements to an extent which it is not possible to describe fully in this report. Roads have been improved, and will be further improved; streets have been formed, sewered, paved, and many others will be formed, sewered, and paved; houses will be drained; and rivers, flowing through the midst of dense masses of populations, will be cleansed and permanently improved; public parks and recreative grounds will be formed; old and crowded graveyards, in the midst of cottages, have been closed, and suburban cemeteries will be formed, each such cemetery having the character of a public park, as at Chorley and other places; waterworks have been improved, and, if the additional loan is granted, new waterworks will be undertaken and executed.

The immediate effect has been to create local energy in devising and promoting works of public and of social utility, which works, when executed, offer means for additional private improvements equally useful.

By the forming, sewering, paving, and flagging of streets local traffic is facilitated, and acres of mud and foul street areas in the midst of dwelling-houses are converted into clean roads; main sewers remove surface and subsoil water, and so prevent injurious evaporation in a climate naturally damp; house-drains carry off waste water and soil refuse at once from the vicinity of cottages, and substitute cleanliness for dirt, comfort for discomfort; waterworks allow of water being delivered at "constant service" within each cottage. Experience shows that these advantages are so much appreciated by the factory operatives, that a preference is given to houses so improved, and landlords generally are thus compelled to adopt and introduce house drains, and a water supply. The direct effects are to remove sewage, cesspit matter, surface dirt, and wet, and tainted well water; causes known by investigation to engender disease.

The proposed additional loans cannot, however, be made unless the Public Works Act is renewed, and the amount to be advanced increased, as recommended in this Report.

I have, &c.,

P.S.—Since writing the foregoing Report, I have received a memorandum of the works executed at Blackburn, a copy of which I append for your information.

Mem.—Blackburn, almost the first to feel the distress in its severity, was the first to assist to originate and develop the Public Works Act, and the first to obtain a loan under its powers. By boldly entering upon and vigorously prosecuting a comprehensive scheme of works (of great public utility), the weight of the calamity has been staved off, and the population, otherwise pauperised, has been trained and inured to new employments, tending to invigorate and at the same time to support them.

The task of organizing and manœuvering this peaceful army of workers has been not an ordinary one, but the happy results obtained have compensated amply for every exertion. If no other advantage had been gained, it will have been most valuable in a national view, as showing how to ward off a similar calamity, should one occur, and teaching that it is quite practicable to turn surplus and unemployed labour into new and remunerative channels.

It must not be supposed that the difficulties of the crisis are over; a most unexpected turn of events may plunge us in the coming winter into circumstances of embarrassment and trial, but cannot find us unprepared to meet them.

Besides the public works conducted by the Corporation, the Public Works Act has (by having been the means of originating comprehensive schemes of labour) set to work very many otherwise dormant sources of employment; and the result has been that hundreds of operatives have been employed by private individuals and upon works not really compassed by the Act; for instance, Joseph Fielden, Esq., lord of the manor of Blackburn, has expended not less than 5000*l.* in providing materials and labour for construction of roads, and other improvements upon his estates, some of which improvements, but for the distress, might have remained undone for years; of the above sum, at least 1,700*l.* was paid for labour to unskilled labourers. The agent of Lady Whitehead has also spent considerable sums for like purposes; so also the agents to Mr. Carr, and many others.

About 700*l.* has been expended in forming the grounds adjoining the infirmary; and nearly the whole work has been done by factory operatives.

Large sums have been spent in the Corporation Park, at Blackburn, in forming new roads, terraces, &c., of which amount a return shall be supplied hereafter.

It would, however, be difficult to trace to their sources the advantages of the Public Works Act; but one instance may be named as an example of how far the benefits have spread. During the distress Messrs. Butterworth & Brooks, of Rawtenstall, have employed upwards of 100 factory operatives in baring the rock at their quarries, from which the Blackburn supply of setts is derived, thus sending employment and bread into a remote district, where the factory operatives, being deprived of their usual employment, must (but for this accidental aid) have suffered much privation.

The works at Blackburn are still being carried on with full effect, and find employment for from 400 to 600 men.

I have confined my remarks to Blackburn alone, as I find that to enter upon details of other places would occupy too much space.

No. 2.

PUBLIC WORKS (MANUFACTURING DISTRICTS).—REPORT of ROBERT RAWLINSON, Esq., C.E., to the Right Honourable C. P. VILLIERS, M.P., President of the Poor Law Board.

Office of Public Works, St. Peter's Square,
SIR, Manchester, 7th November 1864.

I HAVE the honour to acknowledge the receipt of your instructions to prepare a return, "showing the amounts granted under the "Public Works Acts, 1863–64, to each public body, the sum actually "paid in each case, and the number of factory and other workmen "employed on such works in each district."

I have accordingly prepared tables, annexed to this Report, containing the information required.

Table I.* includes the names of boroughs, townships, and districts which have made application for loans; the local authority from which such application issues; the date of application; the amounts of separate loans ordered by the Poor Law Board; the date of the Board's order; together with a statement of the character and estimated cost of the various public works which it is proposed to execute by means of loans under the provisions of these Acts.

Table II. shows the total amount granted to each place, the amount of the separate loans, the amount of instalments advanced, the date of advance, and the residue at the call of each place to be paid over as the several works in hand progress. The total amount at present appropriated is 1,796,646*l.*, of which instalments amounting to 742,260*l.* have been advanced. The total residue of these loans to be advanced as works progress is, therefore, 1,054,382*l.*

But as the whole amount set apart for the purposes of these Acts was 1,500,000*l.* + 350,000*l.* = 1,850,000*l.*, there is yet a sum of 53,354*l.* to be appropriated. Applications exceeding the amount of this balance are, however, now under consideration of the Board. This balance of 53,354*l.* added to the 1,054,382*l.* above referred to, shows that there remains for expenditure upon public works already undertaken a sum of 1,107,736*l.*

* The Tables referred to in this Report are omitted, as those appended to the Report (at page 33), dated 25th January 1865, contain similar particulars in a more complete form.

Table III. shows the number of men who were employed upon works during the last week in October. From this it will be seen that there are 4,002 returned as factory operatives, and 2,422 as skilled labourers, making a total of 6,424. But I have learned that in Blackburn and in other places, numbers of men, who were formerly factory operatives, and have now, through a long experience upon these public works, become skilled labourers, are unwilling to declare themselves "factory operatives," lest the confession should be taken to invalidate their skill as labourers.

The great demand for stone, bricks, and other materials, which the execution of improvement works has created, has also been an additional means of providing employment for a large number of persons who are not included in this Table. The getting and conveyance of nearly 400,000 tons of rough paving and other stone, for use upon these works, has alone furnished very much employment for the labour of indigent factory operatives, while the weekly expenditure within the district of about 10,000*l.* from the funds provided by these Public Works Acts has relieved a numerous class of small shopkeepers, who had very severely felt the indirect pressure of the cotton famine.

It is impossible to tabulate precisely the effect of such an expenditure upon local employment. During last month it was the opinion of many well-informed persons that the production of cotton manufactures had fallen to as low a point as in the corresponding period of 1862. But the numbers of persons receiving parochial or charitable relief last month did not amount to one half of the number who were thus dependent in 1862.

I have already stated that the number directly employed upon the public works is 6,424. I estimate the number engaged in getting stone and other materials at not less than 2,000, which will make a total of 8,424, who, with their dependent families, will represent a population of from 30,000 to 40,000 persons deriving their subsistence from these works.

Subject to the condition imposed by the Acts, that the works are of public utility and sanitary improvement, the devising, direction, and execution of the works are entirely in the hands of the local authorities and their officers. For the satisfaction of the Poor Law Board, the plans and estimates are examined, and the locality is inspected by myself or by Mr. R. A. Arnold, Resident Government Engineer in Lancashire, before reporting. After a loan has been sanctioned by the Poor Law Board the works may be proceeded with by the local authorities to the extent of the first instalment. On application for further instalments, a certificated statement, showing the extent of works already executed, is furnished. This statement is then examined, the works are again inspected by the Resident Engineer, and a report is sent in before the order for a further instalment is issued.

A return is made from each local authority monthly to the Public Works Office in Manchester, such return containing information similar to that in Table III. annexed to this report. The number of men engaged at each place is, in a great measure, dependent upon the nature of the works undertaken, and in some degree also on the zeal of local authorities and their officers.

In one or two cases street works so undertaken, being for the most part renewals or repairs of streets already formed and paved, do not afford as much employment as those in a majority of the towns of the district where street surfaces have never been formed, and are consequently very uneven and much extra excavation is necessary before such streets are reduced to uniformity of form for paving and flagging.

If a more rapid execution of public works and employment of distressed factory workmen in every operation which they could possibly perform had been attempted to have been made compulsory on local authorities throughout the district, a very large portion of the works now in hand would not have been undertaken. Such compulsory interference would have been considered an insufferable infringement of the rights of private property and of public convenience.

With regard to the proportional expenditure of loans in materials (including cartage) and labour, I may mention amongst other instances that in the borough of Stockport, out of an expenditure of 13,779*l.* upon main sewers, 5,319*l.* 15*s.* 3*d.* has been directly paid in wages to factory operatives engaged upon these works. In several of the rural townships of the Stockport union, out of a considerable expenditure upon highway improvements, fully 75 per cent. of the sums borrowed has been thus paid in wages of unskilled labour. In Bolton, where a loan of 10,000*l.* has been borrowed under the Public Works Act for the construction of a reservoir, for extending the water supply of the borough (devised and superintended by Mr. Baylis, the borough surveyor), out of a total expenditure of 10,575*l.*, about 7,000*l.* has been directly paid in wages to men who were factory operatives, and whose earnings, after a few weeks' training on the works, have generally averaged 16*s.* per week.

In the Glossop Union, out of a total expenditure of 12,507*l.* 7*s.* 8*d.*, mostly on works of private improvements, clearing land, draining, and reservoir embankment making, the sum of 9,874*l.* 10*s.* 5*d.* has been paid in wages to men who were distressed factory operatives resident in and around Glossop.

In Blackburn there are at present 1,071 men employed upon public works, of whom 623 are returned as "factory operatives." Out of a total expenditure of 16,766*l.* in labour, 11,024*l.* 15*s.* has been paid in wages to indigent factory operatives resident in the borough, and who have been engaged on public works.

In the borough of Staleybridge, out of a total expenditure of 6,808*l.*, the amount paid to factory operatives in wages has been 1,766*l.*

Of course the proportion paid in materials, skilled and unskilled labour, must depend upon the character of the works in each instance; but, considering the sanitary advantages of the works undertaken, and the need which existed for their execution, it can hardly be deemed a matter for regret that the local authorities have, in their selection of works, thought as much of sanitary improvement as of the amount of employment which would be afforded to indigent factory operatives.

I have, &c.

Robert Rawlinson, C.E.

Addenda to the preceding Report of 7th November 1864.

I have great pleasure in referring to the sanitary improvements as already indicated in the improved condition of the vast population of the distressed cotton district, and also to the permanent improvement which it may be anticipated will follow the execution of the works under the Public Works Act. Hitherto the Returns of the Registrar-General have shown an unnatural mortality among the population of Lancashire, amounting to one half per cent., or five in each 1,000 above the ordinary returns for the metropolis. This excess in Lancashire, with a population of 2,000,000, involves the yearly sacrifice of 12,500 lives. It is only reasonable to hope that the construction of more than 300 miles of public sewers and drains, the formation and paving of about 300 miles in length of streets and highways, many of which have heretofore been in a most unwholesome and miserable condition, will have the good effect of diminishing this waste of human life.

The facilities provided for private improvements in house draining, yard forming, flagging, and other works, as also the example afforded by the construction of these public works, have given a marked impetus to sanitary improvement throughout the district. Several towns having already experienced the advantages of proper public works executed by means of the money already advanced, are meditating a much larger expenditure upon additional public works, beyond those provided for under the provisions of the Public Works Act.

The borough of Bolton, which has borrowed 177,934*l.* under the Public Works Acts, is contemplating a total expenditure on public works and town improvements exceeding 300,000*l.*

The health of the men engaged upon the public works continues to be excellent; it has been greatly improved by their out-door labour. There have been a few cases of fever in the district, mainly caused by overcrowding. In each case Local Boards have been immediately advised to lessen the overcrowding, to remove all nuisances, and to use whitewash liberally.

The prospects of manufacturing employment are said to be improving. Owing to the rumours of peace in America and the condition of the money market, together with the then extravagantly high price of cotton, a panic occurred in September; since that time the price of raw material (cotton) has fallen greatly.

With the improved aspect of monetary affairs, there is now a tendency to an advance in prices and to a restoration of commercial confidence. An impression prevails that the increase of factory employment will be steady until the time arrives when the demand will exceed the existing supply of such labour. With stocks of cotton in the country and afloat equal to nearly 1,000,000 bales, with the new crop coming forward, which is estimated to be sufficient to provide full-time work for all, with the stocks of manufactured goods at home and abroad lower than they have been for some time past, it would appear that this demand for labour cannot be very far distant.

Public works to be executed in the distressed cotton districts by means of money to be advanced, "lent" by Government, have been regarded with suspicion by many persons who have had experience of such works in Ireland. The loan to Lancashire appears to have been acquiesced in by many members of Parliament and others as a matter of stern necessity, sure to end in failure, and ultimately in being converted, if not wholly, at all events partially, into a loss or gift. Such was not the intention in framing the Act, nor will failure in this form be the result of the Public Works Manufacturing District Act. The reasons why failure will not take place as in Ireland may be stated as under.

All works undertaken and executed in the distressed cotton district are necessarily devised, planned, estimated, executed, and superintended by the local authorities. The proviso as regards public bodies being—that each work shall be one of "public utility and sanitary improvement." The entire rateable value of the property in the district is given in mortgage as security for repayment of interest at $3\frac{1}{2}$ per cent. per annum, and the principal by equal annual instalments in 30 years.

Private improvements may be effected on similar terms. It is understood that distressed cotton operatives will be employed on the works as far as is practicable, as also that such works as will offer employment to the greatest numbers of distressed operatives shall be first commenced. The amount of money loaned is not advanced in one sum, but by instalments (say, in tenths of the whole); before a second or any subsequent instalment is advanced application must be made to the Poor Law Board for an additional sum, with such application there must be a balance-sheet produced, setting forth the details of expenditure, as also necessary plans and sections to show the progress of the works up to the date of application. The works are then inspected, the accounts investigated, and, if found satisfactory, a short report recommends the payment of a further instalment. Although the Government Engineer is in no way responsible for the works, it is his duty to make inspection and to report to the Poor Law Board from time to time as to the character of the works and as to the mode of execution. Advice is freely given by the Government Engineer to any local surveyor or local body who may ask for it, and frequently consultations take place, and works are modified according to suggestions made on such occasions. Short general rules and instructions as to works have been printed and circulated.

On public works in Ireland, river improvements, arterial drainage, &c., the works are entirely devised, planned, estimated, and executed by Government engineers. The land and property owners, or a majority of them, consent to the works. A loan as per estimate is made by Government on security of the property to be benefited; but it has been found that in the execution of such works first estimates have been exceeded to the extent in instances of double and even threefold. Repudiation of such excess has then taken place on the plea that the owners of property mortgaged have been deceived. The mortgage, they say, was prepared upon the assumption that estimates prepared by Government engineers could be relied upon, and ought to be taken as binding in respect to the mortgage.

In Ireland, local authorities, owners, and others for whom public works have been executed, have neither devised, estimated, nor superintended the execution of such works. In the distressed cotton district (Lancashire) under the Public Works (Manufacturing Districts) Acts, 1863–64, as previously stated, the works are necessarily in each case devised, estimated, executed, and superintended by the local authorities. The loan is made on security of the rates of the entire property of the district, and is advanced by instalments, but only upon satisfactory evidence of proper expenditure of the sum previously paid over for the purposes sanctioned by the Poor Law Board.

No. 3.

PUBLIC WORKS (MANUFACTURING DISTRICTS). — REPORT of ROBERT RAWLINSON, Esq., C. E., to the Right Honourable C. P. VILLIERS, M.P., President of the Poor Law Board.

Office of Public Works, St. Peter's Square,
Manchester, 25th January 1865.

SIR,

I HAVE again the honour further to report to you, that on the expiration of the borrowing powers provided by these Acts, upon the 1st instant, the total sum appropriated by the local authorities of the district is 1,846,082*l.* The total amount devoted to the purposes of these Acts being 1,850,000*l.* (1,500,000*l.* Act 1863, and 350,000*l.* Act 1864), there remains an unappropriated balance of 3,918*l.*

Table I. annexed to this report shows that the 1,846,082*l.* above referred to has been taken up in 155 separate loans. This Table also includes the names of the boroughs, townships, and districts to which loans have been ordered, the local authority from which the application has issued, the date of the Board's order, together with a statement of the character and estimated cost of the public works which it is proposed to execute by means of loans under the provisions of these Acts.

Table II. shows the total amount granted to each place, the amount of separate loans, the amount of instalments advanced, the date of advance, together with the residue at the call of each place, to be paid over as the works progress. The total amount already advanced is 805,802*l.* The total residue to be advanced, as the works progress, is therefore 1,040,280*l.*

Table III. shows the quantities of the sewerage, street, and highway works, together with the cubical contents, in millions of gallons, of the reservoirs, all of which works are to be executed and constructed in respect of the sums placed in the first three columns of Table I. With reference to the character of the works undertaken, the larger portion of the expenditure is upon sewerage and street improvement works, including the formation, paving, flagging, channelling, and kerbstones of streets, and also the widening, re-forming, and improvement of highways in the rural districts. Of the 1,846,082*l.* ordered by the Board, 370,946*l.* will be expended in the former, and 839,007*l.* in the latter class of works. The length of sewerage works thus undertaken (exclusive of house drainage) is 534,445 yards, or about 304 miles. The area of paving, and other works of street and highway improvement, undertaken in respect of the above-mentioned sum, is 3,708,393 square yards, or about 766 acres ; the total length of these streets and highways being 485,560 yards, or nearly 276 miles.

The cubical contents of the reservoirs forming the storage of the waterworks, which have been undertaken in respect of the sum of 414,629*l.*, is about 1,480,675,000 gallons.

Table IV. shows the number of men, distinguishing factory operatives from skilled labourers, who were employed upon public works during the week ending 31st December 1864, together with the amount of wages paid and average earnings of the factory operatives. The numbers employed are less than at the date of my last Report. Unquestionably they would have been considerably larger but that this return was taken for Christmas week, when the numbers were reduced by the holidays, and also by three or four days of severe frost.

The distribution of the loans is shown by Table II. to have been equitably made, although it was not possible entirely to control this, because the special circumstances of each district in some respects compelled the immediate sanction of proper applications as they were made. The following abstract refers to 14 places having municipal government, which have obtained loans to the aggregate amount of 1,272,858*l.* The Table, as abstracted, shows the amount borrowed per head upon the population of each place, and also the amount borrowed in respect of every 100*l.* of the rateable value of property assessed to the relief of the poor within the respective municipal boundaries.

The remainder of the sum appropriated, amounting to 573,224*l.*, which has been borrowed by 33 Local Boards of Health, 3 Boards of Improvement Commissioners, and 7 Boards of Guardians, will, I estimate, be expended among a population at the rate of about 1*l.* 10*s.* per head.

In former Reports I made reference to the quantity of stone used in these public works, and the large amount of unskilled employment which the getting and conveyance of it afforded. With the exception of a very small quantity of Welch and Scotch stones, the whole of the unsquared and a very large proportion of the squared and hewn materials used in these works have been obtained within the district. I estimate that the quantity of stone so quarried, squared, hewn, and used cannot now fall far short of 500,000 tons.

In regard to the execution of works for which the sum of 805,802*l.* has already been advanced to local authorities, it has been found that the great demand for materials and for skilled labour has raised the price of both to the extent, on an average, of about 15 per cent., and where the employment of unskilled hands has been very great, and wages liberal, that this has also increased to some extent the cost of the works.

On the subject of the works already executed, I have the honour to append reports from the local surveyors of several of the larger towns, where the operation of the Acts has been most extensively developed. Their concurrent testimony is valuable in respect to the operation of these Acts in the localities named.

The Surveyor of Ashton-under-Lyne reports, that "the necessity for these works cannot be overrated in a sanitary point of view;" and with reference to the 351 factory operatives employed by the corporation upon public works, he doubts if more than one third of them will "return to the factory when this cotton depression ceases." The Surveyor of Oldham also states, that such was the condition of some of the streets and roads in that borough, "that the railway companies "had absolutely refused in some instances to allow their horses and "lurries to pass over them." The Surveyors of Bury and Burnley both express an opinion to the effect that public works in those boroughs, necessary for the health of the population, must have been postponed for an indefinite period, but for the provisions of the Public Works Acts.

The Engineer to the corporation of Blackburn states, with reference to the very extensive public works which have been already executed in that borough, that "words can scarcely convey an idea of the "change; however, it is most gratifying;" and the Borough Engineer of Preston acknowledges "the timely assistance rendered by means of "the Public Works Act." The Surveyor of Stockport bears testimony "to the admirable manner in which the cotton operatives have "executed their work;" and in this opinion the Borough Engineer of Wigan, with all the surveyors previously mentioned, gives a cordial concurrence.

Of the sanitary benefits of these public works I can report with the most hopeful confidence. The mortality of Lancashire has hitherto been about one half per cent. above that of other portions of the kingdom. It has been estimated by very competent authority, that throughout the population of this district there have been yearly, on an average, some 14,000 "preventable" deaths, and probably not less than 400,000 "preventable" cases of sickness. No one familiar with the absence of drainage, or with the condition—the sometimes impassable and always unwholesome condition—of the street surfaces, which existed in most of the townships, and in portions of all the towns throughout this district, can doubt that the last success of these Acts and works will be plainly declared in the Registrar General's tables of mortality. Probably it will take some years for this improvement so to manifest itself. The reports of the borough surveyors appended to this Report serve to show with what satisfaction the measure is locally regarded. With an experience confirmed by the continued testimony of the entire district, I can only repeat my opinion as to the benefits of the Public Works Acts.

The borrowing powers given to Boards of Guardians, and of which they have readily availed themselves, as far as practicable, for the execution of works under the provisions of these Acts, have rendered most valuable assistance in removing one great difficulty which had been experienced; namely, providing labour for the able-bodied poor. The prevention of pauperism, through the medium of these works, has, I am informed, been at the least to an extent of three times the number of men actually employed upon them; and, besides providing wages for the sustenance of from 30,000 to 50,000 persons, the value of the public works in preserving the health, energy, and independence of those employed, and, more indirectly, in fixing the attention even of those who were unemployed, has been and is very considerable.

The public works in Lancashire have served to prove that willing and intelligent men can soon learn a new occupation, when stern necessity forces them to it, and a fair opportunity is afforded them.

It was said previous to this great trial that cotton factory workers were entirely unfitted for any other sort of labour than that of attending to machines, in heated factories, or of working at the loom. It was also asserted, that using the pick and the spade would ruin their hands and fingers, by destroying that delicacy of touch required in manipulating cotton thread. Experience, however, teaches the contrary, and further shows that, in a month or six weeks, the cotton worker's hands harden to rough out-of-door work, and breathing fresh air, under the excitement of a new exercise, helps to set the muscles, and speedily to strengthen both the appetite and the man's bodily frame. It must, however, be remembered, that this is not true of all factory workers, but only of a portion of them, and these the best, morally and physically. The public works executed in Lancashire have been in a great degree undertaken by volunteers from amongst the distressed factory operatives. That is, by men willing and wishful to escape from dependence on either the dole of charity or the taint of pauperism. The work has not been "test-work," and yet it has proved the most effective form of test. Willing men have accepted the work so soon as it has been offered to them, and they have striven to the uttermost of their ability to earn an honest and independent living at it. Unwilling men have moved away to some other district, or have managed to do without this form of labour, and thus the Local Relief Committees and the Poor Law Guardians were, for the most part, as effectually relieved from their presence as if they had remained at work. It will be, however, a great mistake to look on this Lancashire experiment as proving that large numbers of men may suddenly be turned from one occupation to another wholesale. This has not been accomplished in Lancashire, nor will it ever be practicable. Out of thousands of men involuntarily idle, hundreds only have had profitable work found them. This has indeed been brought as a charge of failure against the Public Works Act. The notion seems to have been prevalent that all the distressed men, as enumerated and published in the weekly returns, could and would be set to work at once, on the passing of the Act; and when this was seen not to be the case, a charge of "failure" has been made. The experiment of attempting to provide labour wholesale for large numbers (whole masses of men) was tried in Ireland during the years of famine, and utterly failed. If any similar attempt had been made in Lancashire, the failure must have been as palpable. If Government Engineers had been sent down to set out works on which to find employment for all the distressed men, the best and the worst alike, there could have been no choice, no independence, no emulation, so that the incapable, the unwilling, and the idle would have leavened the entire mass. Fortunately for this Lancashire experiment, the works have been divided and subdivided, so that men in small gangs could be employed, and there duly mixed with skilled workmen, and entirely directed by local superintendence. The list of names of places in which works have been undertaken and are in progress will show that the works are general over the entire area of the distressed cotton manufacturing district; and the reports by the several local surveyors also show that, in many instances, the progress of the several works has been quite as fast as it has been found possible to obtain suitable materials, stone-flags and bricks. Then, in street and road works, local traffic, in some degree, controlled the numbers of streets it was possible to take possession of and shut up at one time; and, in the formation of public parks, markets, cemeteries, and waterworks, where there was wider scope for numbers of men being employed, negotiations as to land had to take place, and then delay as to plans deferred active operations, so that this form of obstruction should not be charged to the Public Works Act. The local authorities have, for the most part, been in earnest in desiring to provide useful employment; and the local surveyors bear testimony to the great value of the several works undertaken, as also to the industry and good conduct of the men. I beg, also, to bear my testimony to the earnest and indefatigable zeal of the local surveyors in devising and setting out works, in making plans and estimates, and in teaching and in superintending the men. The Central Relief Committee have throughout rendered all the assistance required in the most prompt manner and practical form. An allowance, to supplement wages, for the first six weeks of training was made, with suitable warm clothing for winter wear, and waterproof boots for those men who were required to work with their feet in water. In my opinion, the public works in Lancashire have been a great success; but I also consider that all the contingencies must be taken into account. It will not be wise either to praise them extravagantly or to blame them unduly, but fairly to examine the experiment in its strength and in its weakness. The several reports by the local surveyors set forth and describe the extent and utility of the works undertaken.

I have, &c.

I find, on comparing my estimates by the actual cost, that they are considerably exceeded, in consequence of the increased cost of material, occasioned by the great demand for these kind of materials in the manufacturing districts. Our employment of skilled labour will average about 110, and of cotton operatives about 130. These numbers would be considerably increased if we were not limited in our operations by the great scarcity of sets and kerbstones. The necessity of these works cannot be overrated in a sanitary point of view, nor their permanent usefulness lightly esteemed, as is abundantly proved by the very general satisfaction manifested by almost the whole of the inhabitants. The work is fully appreciated by the cotton operatives themselves, who thereby obtain remunerative employment; and I very much doubt if more than one third of those we employ would return to the factory when this cotton depression ceases.

The Ashton and Stalybridge Waterworks are not under my immediate control; but for your information, I beg to state that there are employed at present 221 operatives, of whom not more than 12 are skilled; that the amount expended weekly will be about 107*l.*; and that in a short time a considerably increased number will be employed as the work becomes more developed.

The works have been carried out in a substantial and satisfactory manner, and the factory operatives have exhibited a willingness and perseverance which has been most encouraging. They have throughout conducted themselves very well.

Future statistics will undoubtedly show the beneficial result of these works in a reduced local death-rate; present observation entirely confirms the opinion as to the effect they have in improving the domestic and social condition of the labouring classes. Properly to appreciate the greatly improved condition of this borough (Blackburn) through the operation of the Public Works Act, it is only necessary to inspect some of the newly sewered and paved districts, and contrast them with the state of those not yet so improved. Words can scarcely convey an idea of the change; however, it is most gratifying.

No other combination of circumstances but those arising from a vast number of able-bodied men being out of employment, and a great stimulus being given to the production of the required materials, could possibly, in so short a time, have accomplished so great and so beneficial a change—the completion of a perfect system of sewers, embracing upwards of 30 miles.* The drainage of dwellings in every locality, rich and poor alike—the paving and flagging of 7½ miles of new streets—are results of the Public Works Act, without which these improvements would have been left undone, the population would have been impoverished, and the dead weight of the panic have been felt in all its severity; therefore, out of the evil of this crisis, there has come much and lasting good. To accomplish this has required united action, and the sinking of every minor point of difference; and in this borough there has been everywhere exhibited a willingness and heartiness which have not a little contributed to produce the good results attained.

In this department 44 streets have been put under notice to sewer, pave, flag, &c. Of this number 26 are finished, and the cost apportioned upon the respective owners, and the remainder are in progress. The sum expended upon this work is about 8,000*l.*, and a very large proportion (about three fourths) has been paid in wages to working men in and adjoining the district. In this proportion I include factory operatives, labourers, quarrymen, boatmen, carters, pipe-makers, paviors, masons, &c. The excavating for sewers, and ballasting, &c. of streets have in several cases been let to factory operatives, who have worked willingly and well, and earned, upon an average, 2*s.* 4*d.* per day.

* This refers to the complete system, now completed very nearly.

| Paving. | Flagging. | Kerbstones. | Sewer Pipes. | Street Gullies. |
| 27,712 square yards | 10,820 square yards | 5,534 lineal yards | 6,640 lineal yards | 196 in number. |

In sewering the streets, all the old square flat-bottomed stone drains are taken up, and small-pipe drains substituted ; every house is properly drained into the new sewers. The combined works of paving, flagging, and sewering costs about 6*l.* per cottage house, being an equivalent to nearly three-halfpence per week of additional rental, required to repay the owner of property for money expended.

Gas Department.

In this department a new gas tank has been constructed to contain 475,000 cubic feet, at a cost of upwards of 2,000*l.* This was much required, as the storage capacity for gas was inadequate to the requirements of the town.

On this work about 12,000 cubic yards of excavating has been done entirely by factory operatives, and 575*l.* 7*s.* 9*d.* has been paid to them in wages. The residue of the 2,000*l.* has been expended on skilled labour (principally masonry), stone, other materials, and implements.

Water Department.

In this department, a covered reservoir at Walshaw Clough, and the laying of 3,300 lineal yards of iron pipes, have been completed. The works in progress consist of the construction of a compensation reservoir and other works at Lee Green ; the enlargement of an old compensation reservoir, by raising the embankment, and preparing the seat of another compensation reservoir ; the making of a flood water-course to convey flood-waters past the two reservoirs above alluded to, into the compensation reservoir to be made at Lee Green. About 44,500 cube yards of earthwork have been executed in connexion with these works, as also a large amount of masons' work in constructing stone culverts, valve house, valve well, fence walling, &c. The money expended is about 5,900*l.*, of which sum about 2,800*l.* has been paid for labour alone. The necessity of these works being proceeded with will be shown by the fact that at present there is only about 14,000,000 gallons of storage room for water in reservoirs for the use of the town, while within the district of water supply there is a population of near 40,000, and also by the fact that there are no means of separating the pure from the flood water. This state of things will be remedied by the works in progress, ample storage room will be obtained, storm-waters will be passed directly to the compensation reservoirs, for the use of mill-owners, and the pure water to the town for domestic consumption.

These works, like the preceding ones, have been the means of employing a large number of men, such as factory operatives, labourers, carters, pipe-layers, and masons.

That the operations of the Public Works Act in this town have been beneficial no one can deny. For my own part, I cannot see what would have been done without the Act. Public Works could not have been carried out by imposing additional taxes, which, during the depression of trade, would have been unjustifiable. To carry out private improvement works would have been equally so. The provisions of this Act, by advancing money at a low rate of interest, and deferring the repayment over a number of years, made these works possible. From the description already given of the works, it will be seen that they are entirely of practical utility, and possess the recommendation of improving the appearance and cleanliness of the town, as also the health and comfort of the inhabitants.

| Pipe sewers - - - | 1,910 „ |
| Total - - | 4,270 |

Cost about 4,500*l.*, including all materials, implements, timber, and salaries.

I may mention that some portions of the main sewers have been very difficult to execute, on account of quicksands ; but I am glad to state that the whole of the sewering works have been executed in a most substantial manner, of the best materials ; and, taking all into account, I think the estimates for this work will have been exceeded very little.

As to the unemployed operatives, I have found a great portion of them very willing and ready to work, and, after a few weeks' experience, they have generally turned out fair workmen ; and there cannot be a doubt that the great bulk of these operatives would have had to have been relieved from either the Guardians or some of the Relief Committees had they not been employed upon such works.

There is also another great fact, that the making of these sewers has relieved many of the undrained and unhealthy districts, which would not have been the case for years had not the Public Works Act been passed.

As to paving, very little has yet been done, on account of the ground over the sewers in the streets not having yet sufficiently subsided since the making of the sewers, but a large amount of materials have been got ready for this work. The amount of expenditure, under this head, amounts to the sum of 2,160*l.*, and nearly the whole of this sum has been expended in purchasing materials.

The draining of land for the cemetery is progressing, but great difficulties have had to be overcome in making the main drain, on account of the treacherous nature of the ground. The sum expended up to the 31st December last amounts to 9,300*l.*, and out of this sum 8,500*l.* has been expended in purchasing the land, and in settling compensation claims, &c.

Oldham.

Report on the operation of the Public Works Acts, 1863–4, within this Borough.

Borough Surveyor's Office, Town Hall, Oldham,
11th January 1865.

I may premise that from the year 1826 to 1863 no additional powers had been obtained for the sanitary regulations of the borough of Oldham, and that at the latter period the town council felt themselves in no position to carry out, compulsorily, the works of improvement they desired to effect. This want of power on the part of the council accounts. no doubt, for the condition of the town, in a sanitary view, on my appointment in October 1863 ; that in August 1863 the council adopted some of the clauses of the "Public Health Act, 1848," and of the "Local Government Act, 1858," and the "Local Government (Amendment) Act, 1861," and took the necessary steps for carrying out the provisions of the "Public Works (Manufacturing Districts) Act, 1863."

At this time (1863) there were 1,204 streets and courts in the borough, 125 of which were highways repairable by the inhabitants, and in good condition ; 1,079 were private streets and courts, none of which were wholly paved, sewered, or flagged ; many of them, in bad weather, were almost impassable, and in some cases the railway companies had absolutely refused to allow their horses and lurries to pass over them. Unavoidable accidents, delay, annoyance, and expense, not to be ascertained, were the results.

The borough was greatly in need of public sewers, as may be supposed from the fact that the town council have borrowed money under the last-mentioned Act for the construction of main sewers, $6\frac{1}{2}$ miles in length, which are far from being sufficient for the full requirements of the borough. The sewers then in existence were not of a satisfactory character, either in size, depth, construction, or direction.

Though this condition of things is far from being remedied, the Table below, stating the works executed during the last 12 months, will show that the council have undertaken the work in an earnest and energetic manner, and that within a reasonable period the town will be greatly improved.

With regard to the description of labour employed in the execution of these works, and of those in the public park, Table No. 1, shows the number of skilled and unskilled workmen engaged at the dates specified ; and though it is found necessary, for the direction of the cotton operatives, to employ skilled men in the cutting of trenches for sewers, especially in bad ground, yet I can bear witness to the patience, the perseverance, and the actual skill the operatives have displayed in carrying out work so trying to untrained men, and feel convinced that, should the necessity for their employment in this particular manner exist much longer. no distinction will have to be made between the skilled and unskilled workmen.

In the number of skilled workmen included in the last return, 10 are paviors, 22 flaggers, 4 bricklayers, 7 gangsmen, 10 stone getters, and 60 labourers.

Table No. 2 shows the quantities of the various works executed, exclusive of those in the park ; the number of men includes those employed in the park ; and the amount of money expended includes that expended for materials and labour alone in the park, and in the carrying out of the other works.

Preston.

Notes on Preston, and the Public Works Act.

Before the adoption of the Public Works Act, the Local Board had executed main sewerage works at a cost of 49,414*l.*; also private street improvements, namely, sewering, levelling, and paving, 265 unadopted streets, at a cost of 26,477*l.*; they had also drained 13,973 houses, at an average cost of 1*l.* 15*s.* each ;* making a total exceeding 100,000*l.* expended upon sanitary works alone. They had, moreover, expended nearly 100,000*l.* in extending the waterworks which were purchased in 1853 for the sum of 135,225*l.*

Notwithstanding the great extent to which improvement works in Preston had thus been carried, the Local Board were the first to avail themselves of the advantages offered by the Public Works Act. Desirous, in the first place, of providing, as far as possible, employment for the indigent cotton operatives, they were, moreover, desirous of completing the sanitary arrangements of the town, under the valuable provisions of the said Act. With these objects in view, on the 11th of August 1863 they applied for 28,500*l.*, to enable them to make additional street improvements, and to lay out two public parks comprising about 150 acres ; and on the 7th of October 1863 they applied for a further loan of 19,739*l.*, to complete the private street improvements. All these works are now in progress, the expenditure up to the present time having been about 24,000*l.* : namely, for improvements in public streets and roads, 9,500*l.* ; private street improvements, including formation of new streets on the corporation estates, 11,300*l.* ; and for laying out public parks, 3,200*l.* Nearly one half of these amounts has been paid in wages, and the remainder for materials.

The greatly increased demand for paving sets, flags, and other materials, has retarded the progress of the works herein referred to.

The number of men at present employed under the Public Works Act is 320; and as only one of the public parks has hitherto been in hand, and as the corporation are now in a position to commence work upon the other (containing 120 acres), more men will shortly be employed.

The works now in progress are all works of permanent utility, but their accomplishment would have been deferred till a more convenient season had it not been for the timely assistance rendered by means of the Public Works Act.

Stockport.

Borough Surveyor's Office, Stockport,
11*th January* 1865.

Particulars of the Public Works executed within the borough of Stockport, the amount of money expended, and a statement of facts relative to the quantity of material used, and to the labour employed, both skilled and unskilled, up to the 5th of January 1865.

The total length of brick and pipe main sewers executed is 4¾ miles and 648 feet ; number of street and house draining junctions inserted, 1,065 ; branch drains, ¾ mile and 540 feet ; 312 gullies, 61 manholes, 49 ventilating shafts, flushing valves, and lampholes, at a cost of 19,068*l.* 14*s.* 2½*d.*, together with a sum of 2,373*l.* 0*s.* 7*d.*, laid out in general street improvements, purchase of property, &c. ; making a total cost of 21,441*l.* 14*s.* 9½*d.* expended since the adoption of the Public Works Act in this borough.

The size of the sewers varies from three feet to two feet egg-shaped in brickwork to nine inches ; pipes in glazed earthenware. The sewers are laid at an average depth of 15 feet below the surface of the streets ; in many instances in quicksands and other treacherous ground.

The materials used have been of the best quality, and in all cases, in the construction of brick sewers, radiated bricks have been adopted, built in hydraulic lime and Portland cement, with inverts of glazed earthenware.

The average daily number of skilled and unskilled labourers employed during the whole period of the prosecution of these works has been 280 men, and out of this number only an average of 12 were skilled, the remainder being, with very few exceptions, cotton operatives.

The average earnings of the skilled men were 3*s.* 10*d.* per day, and of the unskilled 2*s.* 2*d.* per day.

I also submit the following particulars, showing how the money has been expended :—

| Total | £21,441 | 14 | 9½ |

In conclusion, I have much pleasure in bearing testimony to the admirable manner in which the cotton operatives have executed their work, and to the good order and regularity existing amongst them.

(Signed) Alexander Taylor,
Borough Surveyor.

I am enabled entirely to confirm the report of Mr. Taylor, Borough Surveyor, as to the conduct of the operatives employed upon the public works at Stockport, and generally to observe that the works in that borough have been carried out in a most satisfactory manner. The ultimate result must be greatly to improve the sanitary condition of Stockport. There yet remains a large amount of work to be done, including outfall works, and those connected with the disposal of the sewage. Plans and particulars of these are in preparation, and will shortly be submitted to the town council.

Wigan.

Local Board of Health, Engineer's Offices, Wigan,
19*th January* 1865.

Report upon the operation of the Public Works Acts (1863–64) in Wigan.

The public works carried out under the provisions of the above Acts in Wigan are exclusively of a surface character, and refer to paving and flagging only, as the following quantities will show, viz.:—

|---|---|---|---|
| Kerb or side stones | - | - | 5,060 lineal yards. |
| Channel - | - | - | 4,371 „ |
| Block or squared stones paving | | - | 15,696 superficial sq. yds. |
| Boulder paving - | - | - | 6,013 ditto ditto |
| Flagging | - | - | 6,338 ditto ditto |

|---|---|---|---|
| The amount paid for labour is - - | 2,574 | 4 | 0 |
| Ditto - ditto carting - - | 764 | 12 | 3 |
| | 3,338 | 16 | 3 |
| Materials - - - - | 5,339 | 15 | 10 |
| Total - - | £8,678 | 12 | 1 |

About four tenths of the amount paid for labour has been paid to the factory operatives. I do not find much difficulty now in securing a supply of squared paving blocks, kerb and channel stones, but considerable difficulty in obtaining the necessary quantity of flags; in consequence our flagging is greatly behindhand.

The factory operatives, as a whole, have conducted themselves in a most exemplary manner, and I believe I can say that their attention, during working hours, has met with the approval of the ratepayers of Wigan generally.

The paving works are being carried on as quickly as materials can be obtained, and many of our streets, which were last winter unpaved and knee-deep in mud, are now well paved, and in a good sanitary condition; of course there are others that require attention as soon as it is possible to get at them. Many marked improvements have been made in widening and otherwise improving our streets, and probably no town in the kingdom, of the same importance, required so much to be done; much, however, remains to be done hereafter.

These works, for increasing the supply of water to this town, were commenced in October 1863, and are progressing as favourably as could be reasonably expected.

I have for many years past urged upon the Local Board the necessity of carrying out these works, but the wet years of 1860, 1861, 1862, 1863, produced such an enormous flow of water into the present reservoir, that my calculations were considered by many members of the Local Board as fallacious; however, the drought of last year proved that there was undoubtedly a necessity for increased storage. When completed we shall have a storage of 38,000,000 cubic feet of water. The estimated cost of the works now in progress is 32,000*l.*, and a little over half this amount has been already expended. Owing to the peculiar character of the work, I have not been able to employ as many factory operatives as might have been expected, above one half of the estimate being absorbed by iron castings, masonry, and brickwork, all requiring skilled labour for their production. The number of men now employed on the works, by day wages, is 140, and includes masons, bricklayers, carpenters, smiths, carters, and others; of this number 49 are factory operatives, earning on average, 2*s.* 9*d.* per day, a few of the handiest men earning 3*s.* per day ; none less than 2*s.* 8*d.* per day. Within the last four months about a dozen of the factory operatives have left the works, having obtained work at the collieries and other places, where I presume they are earning better wages. With very few exceptions the factory operatives have behaved well ; and I feel sure a goodly number of them will never return to work in the mills unless the millowners can tempt them by giving higher wages.

The physical condition of the factory operatives is much improved, a glance is sufficient to show this—produced, no doubt, in a great measure, by the men working in the open air, instead of in the hot suffocating cotton mill.

The public now seem alive to the wisdom of the legislature in providing the means, at a moderate rate of interest, for carrying out public works of a beneficial character, particularly sanitary works, the present high rate of interest in the open market having no doubt materially added to the burdens of many local boards ; and it is very desirable that the legislature should continue the powers given to the Poor Law Board, or some other proper authority, to advance loans to local boards at such a rate of interest as will not cause any loss to the taxpayers of the kingdom generally.

It is gratifying to be able to say that all the works carried out under the provisions of this Act have met with the approval of our Local Board and with the public of Wigan also.

SIR, Manchester, 28th June 1864.

I BEG to present you with the following report on the state of the Cotton Manufacturing Districts which are included within the following 27 Unions, viz. :—

|---|---|---|
| 1. Ashton-under-Lyne. | 10. Fylde, The. | 19. Preston. |
| 2. Barton-upon-Irwell. | 11. Garstang. | 20. Prestwich. |
| 3. Blackburn. | 12. Glossop. | 21. Rochdale. |
| 4. Bolton. | 13. Haslingden. | 22. Saddleworth. |
| 5. Burnley. | 14. Lancaster. | 23. Salford. |
| 6. Bury. | 15. Leigh. | 24. Stockport. |
| 7. Chorley. | 16. Macclesfield. | 25. Todmorden. |
| 8. Chorlton. | 17. Manchester. | 26. Warrington. |
| 9. Clitheroe. | 18. Oldham. | 27. Wigan. |

The total net rateable value of the 27 Unions named was, in the year 1861, 6,036,659*l.*

The population of these Unions was, in the year 1861, 1,984,955.

| For the week ended the 18th instant, the guardians of these 27 Unions relieved 88,261 paupers - | 88,261 |
| For the week ended the 28th ultimo, the several Local Committees of Charity within the same Unions aided 32,450 persons who were not paupers - - - - - - | 32,450* |
| Total - - - | 120,711 |

Or 6·1 per cent. on the population of 1861.

| For the week ended the 6th of December 1862 (when the pauperism of these districts reached its maximum) the guardians relieved 271,983 paupers - - - - - - | 271,983 |
| For the week ended the 27th of December 1862, the several local committees of charity aided, within the same Unions, 236,310 persons who were not paupers - - - - - | 236,310 |
| Total - - - | 508,293 |

Or 25·6 per cent. on the population of 1861.

There is, therefore, now a decrease of 387,582 persons who were either receiving parochial relief, or were aided by Local Committees of Charity, or 76·2 per cent., as compared with the period at which the distress had reached its maximum.

The number of paupers relieved by the guardians for the week ended the 18th June 1861, was 47,243, or 2·4 per cent. on the population of 1861.

* In addition to these numbers, 19,971 persons relieved by the Guardians, and included in the above number of 88,261, received also supplemental relief from the Local Committees.

The total number of persons at present relieved is 120,711, which is 155·5 per cent, in excess of the normal state of pauperism of the district.

For the week ended the 26th of December 1863, the total number of able-bodied men who received out-door relief from the guardians of these 27 Unions was 13,352 ; for the week ended the 18th instant, the total number of able-bodied men who received out-door relief from the guardians of these 27 Unions was 5,303. There is, therefore, now a decrease of 8,049 able-bodied men in the receipt of out-door relief, or 60·3 per cent. as compared with the week ended the 26th of December last; while the decrease on the total pauperism of the district for the week ended the 18th instant, as compared with the week ended the 26th of December last, was at the rate of 34·1 per cent.

| For the week ended the 18th instant, the cost of out-door relief administered by the guardians was | 5,213 |
| The average weekly expenditure, by the several committees of charity during the month ended the 28th ultimo was | 4,302* |
| Total | 9,515 |

|---|---|
| For the week ended the 6th of December 1862 (when pauperism had reached its maximum), the cost of out door relief administered by the guardians was | 18,728 |
| For the week ended the 27th December 1862, the Local Committees of Charity expended in relief | 24,743 |
| Total | £43,471 |

There is, therefore, now a decrease in the weekly expenditure by the guardians and by the Local Committees of Charity of 33,956*l.*, or 78·1 per cent., as compared with the period at which the distress had reached its maximum.

The present weekly expenditure by the guardians in out-door relief (viz. 5,213*l.*) is at the rate of 271,076*l.* per annum, or $10\frac{3}{4}d.$ in the pound on the total net rateable value of the property within the district, and the expenditure by the local committees (viz. 4,302*l.*) is at the rate of 223,704*l.* per annum, or $8\frac{7}{8}d.$, in the pound on the total net rateable value of the district.

The total of the present weekly expenditure, therefore, both by the Guardians and by the Local Committees, viz., 9,515*l.*, is at the rate of 494,780*l.* per annum, or 1*s.* $7\frac{5}{8}d.$ in the pound, on the total net rateable value of the district, while the weekly expenditure in December 1862, viz., 43,471*l.* was at the rate of 2,260,492*l.* per annum, or 7*s.* $5\frac{1}{8}d.$ in the pound on the total net rateable value of the district.

The amount expended by the guardians in out-door relief for the week ended the 18th June 1861, was 2,310*l.*, which is at the rate of

* This weekly sum includes 940*l.*, being the amount of supplemental relief afforded to persons who are also relieved by the Guardians.

120,120*l.* per annum, or $4\frac{3}{4}d.$ in the pound on the total net rateable value of the district.

The present weekly expenditure by the Guardians and by the Local Committees, viz. 9,515*l.*, is, therefore, 311*l.* 9*s.* per cent. or 1*s.* $2\frac{7}{8}d.$ in the pound on the total net rateable value in excess of the usual rate of expenditure in out-door relief within the cotton manufacturing districts.

I annex a Table (No. I.) which will show you, under 15 different headings, the exact present condition of each of the 27 distressed Unions in the cotton manufacturing districts, both as regards pauperism and its cost, and which will also give you a statement of the burdens which they now bear in the aggregate, as compared with those which they bore in the corresponding periods of 1863 and 1861.

It must be borne in mind, however, that the employment of the cotton operatives, and the consequent diminution of pauperism in the cotton manufacturing districts is materially affected by the aspect of affairs in America; and I have now to inform you that the progress of trade in these districts has lately been much influenced thereby.

An intense interest exists as to the result of the great battles being now fought in Virginia, for it is admitted by common consent as it were, that both sides are putting forth their utmost strength. There is a strong conviction in Lancashire, that the last campaign is being fought; that the crisis of the war is at hand, and it is supposed that the whole character and condition of affairs in Lancashire will be instantly changed by peace in America. But the tidings thence are still of uncertain and undecided character, and the issue of the campaign is still problematical; nor will either Northerner or Southerner admit that either party would yield, if worsted in it. Yet it is felt that a decided victory or a reverse will have a marked influence on the disposition of the North to continue the war; and it is also felt that either incident will produce new views as to the stability of the present prices of cotton, and create an immediate course of action in precise conformity with the prevailing conviction.

Thus, the uncertainty of the results of the battles in America contract the transactions of business, and influence the course of trade.

There are, however, some reasons to raise a hope that the direct result of peace in America will not be productive of the very important and speedy embarrassments and complexities which are anticipated, for some men say that there is no real ground for the presumption that the Southern crops are still stored there in their wonted abundance; on the contrary, they affirm that it is admitted that a considerable portion of these crops have been very freely used and destroyed in constructing fortifications, or that they have been burnt, or are rotten, and that the remaining portions are in the hands of speculators, or are pledged for public loans of money, and are not in the possession of the growers. There are circumstances which appear to be calculated to secure a high price for the available balance of the American crops, for certainly they will be brought into the British market cautiously and discreetly, and, as usual, with a careful calculation both as to the immediate security and the future protection of their very highest prices. Nevertheless, it is said that manufacturers, dealers, and merchants are still as anxious as they have hitherto been to hold as little stock as possible, and to delay as long as they can all operations in goods for distant markets where those goods would arrive long after the telegraph had reported the reduced rate of prices which is expected. In the meantime the value of cotton yarns and of cotton goods is fully maintained, and many think that if there is no material change in American affairs this value will yet be higher, and will be sustained throughout the year.

But there is another view of this important subject which should be brought under your consideration. There are merchants in Manchester who have been lately advised by their confidential correspondents that there are yet between two and three millions of bales of raw cotton in America; for that during the war three crops have been partially unconsumed, and that the Southern States are now growing crops which will return a yield equivalent in amount to that which has hitherto been exported and consumed, and further, that those States will endeavour to the utmost of their ability to keep up their stock of cotton as closely as possible to its original standard.

In addition to this, it is also confidently stated that the Federals will this year produce about 500,000 bales of cotton on their own soil.

If peace is established in America, and if these statements are facts, it is predicted that the present price of American cotton must forthwith fall one-half in the event of peace.

The opinion is general throughout the cotton trade that a European war, in which England was a belligerent, would have the effect of reproducing, to a great extent, the circumstances of the cotton famine. So long as the Dano-German war is localized, as at present, and the commerce of England is not menaced by hostile cruisers, its immediate effect upon the English cotton trade will be inconsiderable; indeed, it may be said that its influence will only be felt in proportion as the policy of England becomes indefinite.

Of the European customers of our cotton trade the Germans are among the most considerable buyers, and, in addition to the stagnation invariably caused by war, the character of the German military forces is such that a large levy causes a peculiar disturbance to the industry of that country. But, so far as the English cotton trade is concerned, the probable consequence of the Dano-German war, so long as it remains limited to the present belligerents, will be merely to increase their demand for manufactured goods, and to lessen very considerably their consumption of yarns for manufacture.

The variations of the money market during the past three months have tended to repress speculation, but they have not had the effect of reducing the price of raw cotton.

This is shown by the following circumstances:—For the week ending April 8th, the bank rate of discount was 6 per cent., and the price of middling Orleans cotton 26$\frac{3}{4}$d. per lb., while the cotton market was sluggish, with a declining tendency; by the week ending May 5th, the rate of discount had risen to 9 per cent., and the price of middling Orleans cotton had risen to 28*d.* per lb., with a firm market and an unchecked demand. On the 3d June, the bank rate of discount had fallen to 7 per cent., and the price of middling Orleans cotton had risen to 28$\frac{1}{2}$d., while still later, upon the 27th of June, the bank rate of discount had fallen to 6 per cent., and the price of cotton had risen to 29$\frac{1}{2}$d., with a firm market.

The inference from these comparisons is that a high rate of discount suppresses but cannot subdue the tendency to rise in the price of cotton, consequent either upon an active demand for manufacturing purposes, or upon a change in political affairs. The very uncertain future, however, of the money market has a decidedly prejudicial effect upon the cotton trade. Indirectly, indeed, it has the advantage of checking speculation ; but this benefit is very small compared with the great hindrance which is thus caused to commercial transactions involving large payments at a future date.

The subject of the supply of raw cotton and the price paid for it is of extreme importance to Lancashire. In 1863 several estimates of the supply for 1864 were prepared by men whose position gave weight to their opinions, and amongst the most competent authorities in this matter was Mr. Edmund Ashworth, who estimated the supply of cotton which might reasonably be expected in 1864 at above 2,675,000 bales. At the time when these estimates were made, differences of opinion prevailed ; now, however, diversity of conviction on the subject is brought within narrower bounds, and it is satisfactory to me to be enabled to report to you that Mr. Edmund Ashworth's estimate of supply, which I had the honour of submitting to your consideration on the 4th of last January, will certainly be more than realized.

But at the same time it is my duty to inform you that there are not wanting men of high position in the trade, amongst others Messrs. Whitworth and Brothers, who have no hesitation in now publicly stating that the total amount of money which will be thus paid will be 97,698,083*l.* for a supply (including stock on the 1st January 1864) of 3,312,500 bales of the raw material. Such men point with confidence to the fact that during this year and up to the 24th instant, 1,273,425 bales have been imported into England, and they will assure you, not without proof, that the largest receipts of raw cotton usually take place in the last half of the year, and that thus in the last half of the year 1863, an average of 34,000 bales per week was received against an average of 29,000 bales per week in the first half of the same year.

These are figures of great significance, for they are an assurance that the capabilities of the new sources of supply may be depended upon with confidence. How the world has been roused into an active exertion for the production of cotton will be seen by the flow of British capital into Egypt and India, and into China and the Bahamas and Bermudas, during the first quarters of 1862 and 1864, for imported cotton.

In the first quarter of 1862, 1,117,377*l.* was paid to Egypt ; in the corresponding quarter of 1864, 3,673,504*l.* was paid. In the first quarter of 1862, 908,867*l.* was paid to British India ; in the corresponding quarter of 1864, 4,317,131*l.* was paid. In the first quarter of 1862, 32*l.* was paid to China ; in the corresponding quarter of 1864, 939,637*l.* was paid. In the first quarter of 1862, nothing was paid to the Bahamas and Bermudas ; in the corresponding quarter of 1864, 821,005*l.* was paid ; and the statement of Sir Henry Bulwer, at a banquet recently given to the English ambassador on his return to Constantinople, will not be forgotten : "Turkey," said Sir Henry Bulwer, "has merely to go on for the next two years as she has done for the last two, and her productions will be of more value than those of the United States ever have been."

It is true that the strain on the resources of England is, at present, severe ; but surely benefits for the future will be realised through the sacrifices of to-day, for Lancashire will not again return to her former condition of dependence upon the Southern States, which has been the fertile source of so much calamity and so much wretchedness, but will take every legitimate step to secure the cotton trade against the recurrence of such a disaster as another famine.

For the last six months the consumption of cotton fabrics has far exceeded that which occurred in the corresponding period of last year; and if peace is secured on the continent, and a rich harvest is realised at home, it is more than probable that for the remainder of this year there will ensue a greater demand for cotton fabrics than that which prevailed during the latter half of the year 1863.

It is thought by many who are most conversant with the subject that the power of the world to consume cotton goods is increasing more rapidly than its producing power; and if this is true, the prevailing impression that the present high price of cotton cannot be maintained is as yet certainly not confirmed. But in framing estimates of future consumption, it is essential to remember that the principal part of the cotton goods now supplied are manufactured out of short stapled and inferior cotton, and that these goods, therefore, are of so poor a character as to need rapid renewal; and further it must be borne in mind that the ability of the consumers of these goods to pay high prices for them is supported both by the costliness of cotton abroad, and by the cheapness of food at home.

In order to exemplify clearly the character of some of the goods which will certainly require renewal at an earlier date than formerly, I beg to quote the following sentences from a letter which has been handed to me, the publication of which is authorised by the writer, who is himself a manufacturer :—

"It is impossible, where the manufactured article is regularly washed, for it to wear so well as the same goods when made out of American cotton, owing to the shorter length of the fibre. Owing to greatly increased labour now spent in preparing the Surat cotton for the different processes of manufacture, very good and serviceable goods can be and are made;" but "as prices have advanced, merchants have gradually substituted lighter cloths of exactly the same width and length as they formerly sent; in our own case, we used to do a large trade in calicoes that for a certain length weighed 7 lbs; now cloths are being sent in place of them weighing 4 lbs. and $4\frac{1}{2}$ lbs."

I conclude this report by informing you that the progress in the receipts of raw cotton has resulted in the enlarged employment of the cotton operatives; for on the 30th of April 1863, 192,527 persons were in full work in the mills, while at the corresponding date of this year, 265,990 persons were in full work, and at the latter end of last month, 281,194 persons were in full work in the mills.

The number of cotton operatives resident in the cotton manufacturing districts has greatly decreased; on the week ended the 28th of March 1863, the Local Committees of Charity reported that the number of these operatives was 536,672, but on the week ended the 28th of May 1864, they reported the number to be 471,714, so that the total number of operatives appears to have decreased by 67,467.

I am, &c.

COTTON MANUFACTURING DISTRICTS.—The REPORT of H. B. FARNALL, ESQ., Special Commissioner, to the Right Honourable C. PELHAM VILLIERS, M.P., President of the Poor Law Board.

Poor Law Board, Whitehall,
1st February 1865.

SIR,

YOU are well aware that the crisis of the distress in the Cotton Manufacturing Districts was at its maximum in December 1862.

The greatest number of persons who were relieved by the Guardians, or who were aided wholly by the Committees of Charity, in one week of the month above named, was together 508,293 ; but on the week ended the 7th of January 1865 the number of persons so relieved or aided was together 138,968.

There is, therefore, now a decrease of persons so relieved or aided amounting together to 369,325, as compared with the period when the crisis was at its maximum.

The highest amount of weekly expenditure in out-door relief, both by the Guardians and by the Committees of Charity, in December 1862, was 43,471*l.* ; but the expenditure in out relief, both by the Guardians and the *Committees of Charity, for the week ended the 7th of January 1865, was together 10,521*l.*

There is, therefore, now a decrease in the weekly expenditure by the Guardians and by the Committees of Charity of 32,950*l.*, as compared with the period when the crisis was at its maximum.

The diminution of distress is to be ascribed to the improvement in the cotton trade, to the success of the Public Works Act, and to the fact that many of the cotton operatives have sought and obtained other employment elsewhere.

There are now 241,367 cotton operatives in full work, but in January 1864 only 210,739 were in full work ; there are now 72,457 cotton operatives working short time, but in January 1864 there were 125,856 working short time.

There can be no doubt that the uncertainty which prevails as regards the American war influences the course of the cotton trade, and curtails its transactions, so that its progress is constantly checked, and the more rapid diminution of pauperism is therefore prevented.

At the close of December last there was a confident assurance that the year 1865 would commence with an active business in all the departments of the cotton trade ; it was known that the markets of the world were deficient in cotton goods, and it was also known that extensive orders were in Manchester, and therefore it was presumed that the condition of the cotton market would not be unsatisfactory during the month of January ; but on the 30th of December it was announced that the amount of cotton in Liverpool exceeded the estimate by 113,000 bales.

The prices of cotton fell immediately, and public opinion as to the status of cotton was changed as immediately.

It is impossible to state, with any accuracy, what the future course of this trade may be ; opinions as to the demand for cotton goods, at present prices, are very conflicting, and there are so many contingencies attendant on that point that no conclusive opinion upon it can be safely expressed.

* The expenditure by the Committees of Charity here adverted to is for relief alone, and is the average weekly expenditure during last December, when the last returns were made.

If a battle is reported to have been fought and won in America, the cotton market is immediately unsettled, for peace is instantly anticipated, and business is almost suspended.

Upon the fall of Fort Fisher being announced the cotton market was paralysed, and the price of cotton fell quickly; but these falls in prices, together with the small stocks of goods, should, under ordinary circumstances, lead to a far larger consumption of cotton.

Upon the whole it is considered that there is no real reason for this extreme depression of the cotton trade, and it is anticipated that if prices fall much lower a reaction must ensue.

I may state upon reliable authority, that the supply of cotton for 1865 will be sufficient to give every cotton operative five days full work per week during the year; but it is always to be remembered that the condition of the cotton market will rule the employment of the cotton operatives.

I am, Sir,
Your obedient Servant,
H. B. Farnall,
Special Commissioner.

(1.) Metropolitan Houseless Poor Act, 1864, 27 & 28 Vict. c. 116. —Circular Letter from the Poor Law Board to Boards of Guardians.

Poor Law Board, Whitehall, S. W.,
4th August 1864.

Sir,

I am directed by the Poor Law Board to forward a copy of the Act passed at the close of the last Session, 27 & 28 Vict. c. 116., which provides for distributing the charge of the relief of certain poor persons in the metropolis during the ensuing winter in a more equal manner over the whole Metropolitan District.

The class of poor referred to are destitute wayfarers, wanderers, and foundlings, relieved during the hours from 8 o'clock at night until 8 o'clock in the morning.

The Board, in transmitting a copy of the Act for the information of the Guardians, entertain no doubt that every desire will be felt by them to give full effect to its provisions, and they will be glad to be informed of the nature and extent of the arrangements which the Guardians propose to make with the view of securing the objects of the Legislature, which were to provide, under such regulations as would not encourage vagrancy, sufficient shelter and food for the houseless poor at night during the severities of the winter season.

(2.) An Act to make provision for distributing the charge of relief of certain classes of poor persons over the whole of the Metropolis. 27 & 28 Vict. c. 116.

Whereas it is expedient that provision should be made for distributing the charge of the relief of certain poor persons in the Metropolis during the ensuing winter otherwise than is now lawful: Be it therefore enacted by the Queen's most Excellent Majesty, by and with the advice and consent of the lords spiritual and temporal, and commons, in this present Parliament assembled, and by the authority of the same.

1. That after the twenty-ninth day of September next the Guardians of every Union or Parish situated wholly or partly within the district to which the Metropolis Local Management Act applies may, subject to the orders and regulations of the Poor Law Board, make out a separate account of the money expended by them daily in the relief of destitute wayfarers, wanderers, or foundlings during the hours from eight o'clock at night until eight o'clock in the morning, and submit the same to the auditor appointed to audit their accounts at the usual times of audit, who shall duly examine the same, and shall certify the amount which he shall find to have been legally expended in and about such relief under his hand; and if the Poor Law Board shall have certified that proper wards or places of reception have been provided by such Guardians, the said Guardians may thereupon make application in writing to the Metropolitan Board of Works for reimbursement of the amount so certified by the auditor.

2. The said Metropolitan Board of Works shall forthwith pay the amount so certified to the Guardians making the application out of the funds in their possession from time to time raised under the provisions of the said Metropolis Local Management Act, and the amount so paid shall be deemed to be part of the expenses for which the said Board are empowered to make assessments under the said Act, and the said Guardians shall apply the sum received in aid of the Poor Rate of their Parish or the common fund of their Union, as the case may be, and shall account for the same accordingly.

3. The relief to which this Act shall apply shall include food and articles of necessity supplied by the said guardians, or by their relieving or other officer, or by any Metropolitan police constable authorized by them in such behalf, and also the cost of lodging or shelter hired or temporarily provided for any such person, but not money given to him.

4. Where the Guardians shall have provided proper wards or other places of reception for this class of poor, and the same shall have been approved of by the Poor Law Board, they may include as part of the expense incurred by them in the relief of these poor persons such sum in respect of each pauper as the Poor Law Board shall from time to time allow for the cost and expense of temporarily providing and maintaining such wards or other places.

5. Where no adequate accommodation exists, the Guardians shall provide within their respective Unions or Parishes such wards or other places of reception for destitute wayfarers and foundlings as the Poor Law Board, having regard to the number of persons likely to require relief therein respectively, shall direct. In default of making such provision, and until the same has been made, the Guardians of the Union or Parish so making default shall not be entitled to the benefit of this Act.

6. The provisions of this Act shall not apply to any expenditure for relief incurred after the half year which will expire at Lady Day one thousand eight hundred and sixty-five.

7. The several words used in this Act shall be construed as in the Act of the fourth and fifth William the Fourth, chapter seventy-six, and the subsequent Acts explaining and extending the same, and the provisions thereof not inconsistent with anything herein contained shall be incorporated herewith.

8. This Act may be cited for all purposes as the "Metropolitan Houseless Poor Act, 1864."

Poor Law Board, Whitehall, S.W.,
26th October 1864.

Sir,

On the 4th of August last the Poor Law Board addressed to the Guardians of the several Unions and Parishes within the Metropolis a circular Letter, directing attention to the provisions of the Metropolitan Houseless Poor Act, 1864, passed during the last Session, and requesting to be informed of the nature and extent of the arrangements which the Guardians proposed to make with the view of securing the objects of the Legislature in passing that measure.

The Board have recently received several communications requesting information on various points connected with the Act, and it appears desirable, therefore, that they should state, for the guidance of the Guardians generally, their views upon the chief matters which have been brought under their notice.

In the first place, it is important to observe that the poor persons included within the operation of the Act are destitute wayfarers, wanderers, and foundlings, being the class of paupers provided for by the 11 & 12 Vict. c. 110. s. 1., and thereby rendered chargeable upon the common fund of Unions. As the present statute only refers to paupers relieved during the night, the Board think that there will seldom be much difficulty in deciding what cases come within its provisions. The objects to be relieved will be houseless persons, but the Board think it right to observe that they were advised by counsel on a question arising under the former statute, that no person could be considered as a destitute wayfarer or wanderer within its meaning if he applied for relief in a Parish where he was legally settled.

The Act does not extend to the resident poor, who ought always to be received into the Workhouse in the usual manner, and should never, except under some peculiar circumstances, be admitted into the ordinary Vagrant wards.

In the next place, it is proper to remark that the relief for which the Guardians will be entitled to be reimbursed is such only as shall have been administered between the hours of 8 o'clock at night and 8 o'clock in the morning.

But it is a condition, before obtaining reimbursement under the Act, that the Poor Law Board shall have certified that proper wards or other places for the reception of the classes in question have been provided by the Guardians.

Without undertaking to prescribe with full detail what provisions should be made, the Board desire to offer the following observations on the subject:—

With regard to the nature of the accommodation, they consider it necessary that there should be at least two separate wards, one for males and another for females and young children.

There should be a yard containing a bath-room and water-closet attached to each department, and in the yard of the male department a shed should be provided for the vagrants to work in.

The most convenient form for a vagrant ward is, perhaps, a parallelogram, and each ward, besides being of sufficient capacity with respect to width and height to accommodate the number of persons required to sleep in it, should be fitted up with a sleeping platform or barrack bed, of adequate depth along each side of it, with a conveniennt gangway down the middle. The platform should be divided by means of boards, and the space allotted to each person should be at least two feet three inches wide. Above the head of each platform there may be a shelf the whole length of the room, and divided into corresponding spaces for the deposit of clothes.

The ventilation should be effected by means of openings at proper intervals, and placed as near the ceiling as practicable on each side of the room.

Means should be provided for heating the wards in severe weather, either by hot-water pipes, gas or other stoves. Hot-water pipes will be found preferable to open fire-places or stoves.

The bedding, which should be sufficient for warmth, may consist of clean straw, or cocoa fibre, in a loose tick, with a rug or rugs, for each person, but for the women and children some additional covering should be provided.

Where the admissions are likely to be numerous, the wards for each sex should be placed under a superintendent, a male for the men, and a female for the women, and the Board consider that a reasonable allowance for the necessary remuneration of such superintendents would properly fall within the terms of section 4. of the Act.

Without more precise information than they now possess, the Board are unable to lay down any exact rule as to the extent of accommodation which should be provided in each Union or Parish, but they may state generally that the wards should be large enough to receive such a number as, having regard to the peculiar circumstances of the locality, and the maximum number of applications on ordinary occasions, would be likely to require relief.

If any excess over the ordinary number of applicants occasioned by unforeseen circumstances should arise, so that the accommodation provided by the Guardians should be inadequate, and the Guardians should have to provide temporary accommodation for such cases, by making arrangements for their reception in lodging houses, the Board would not recognize any such lodging house as within the provisions of the Act unless it were registered, and thus brought under the inspection of the police.

The food supplied to the inmates of the Vagrant wards should be sufficient for their actual necessities, but not such as, either in quantity or quality, would tend to increase the number of applicants or encourage imposture.

The Board consider it expedient that a task of work should be required from each able-bodied person relieved, in return for his food and lodging, in conformity with the 5 & 6 Vict. c. 57. s. 5., and where the Guardians have not prescribed a task of work the Board recommend that they should at once do so, and forward their resolution to the Board for approval.

The Board are enabled to state as the result of their experience that in those Unions where a task of work has been systematically exacted, in pursuance of that statute, vagrancy has sensibly diminished.

In many Unions, however, a practice has crept in of dispensing with the task of work when the vagrant prefers to leave the Workhouse without receiving an allowance of food in the morning. The Board consider this practice very objectionable, and calculated, as the result shows, to encourage vagrancy. A task of work suited to the age, strength, and capacity of the pauper should always be exacted, whether food be required in the morning or not, and a notice should be hung up in some conspicuous place near the entrance to the wards, that any person refusing to perform such task will be liable to be imprisoned under the Act lastly referred to, and kept to hard labour for one calendar month as an idle and disorderly person.

The Board likewise consider it very advisable that the persons of vagrants should be cleansed on admission, according to the regulations of the Workhouse. Care must of course be taken that no person who appears to be in such a state of health as to be likely to suffer from being placed in a bath should be subjected to that treatment.

The Board think it expedient that a separate admission and discharge book should be kept by the Master of the Workhouse, or under his supervision, for this class of paupers, in which book the following particulars should be recorded; viz., the date and hour of admission and discharge; the name, presumed age, and occupation of each pauper; where the pauper slept on the preceding night, and where he or she is going to; and the quantity and cost of the food or other relief supplied to each person within the hours prescribed by the Act.

At the same time it must be recollected that no relief in money given to any such person can be reimbursed under any circumstances.

The Board, having thus stated generally their views with reference to the provision which should be made for the relief of the classes in question, trust that the Guardians will experience no difficulty in speedily making such arrangements for that purpose as will enable the Board to certify that proper wards or places of reception, under suitable regulations, have been provided, in conformity with the intention of the legislature.

The Metropolitan Houseless Poor Act, 1864, 27 & 28 Vict. c. 116. —Report from H. B. Farnall, Esq., Poor Law Inspector, to the Poor Law Board.

Poor Law Board, Whitehall, S.W.,
30th December 1864.

Sir,

I have the honour to submit to you the following remarks on the subject of the Houseless Poor of the Metropolis, and of the Act of last session (the 27 & 28 Vict. c. 116.) known as the "Metropolitan Houseless Poor Act."

In 1863 returns were obtained by your direction from the several Metropolitan Unions and Parishes showing the extent of the accommodation provided for destitute vagrants and wayfarers, and the numbers who either received or who were refused a night's lodging during the first week of each of the months of January, March, May, and August 1863.

It appeared from these returns that in the aggregate accommodation was provided in the several Metropolitan Workhouses for 997 persons, but that the accommodation was very unequally distributed.

The conclusion which you formed on examining the returns was, that in some Unions the provision for vagrants and wanderers was sufficient, while in others it was manifestly inadequate, so that a serious and unequal burthen was thrown on the former as compared with the latter.

The attention of the Poor Law Board had on several occasions been previously directed to the same subject, and the Board had frequently referred to the defects in the mode of administering relief to vagrants and houseless poor in the Metropolitan District, and had endeavoured to induce Boards of Guardians to discharge the obligation which rested on them in regard to this class of poor.

These considerations induced you to issue a minute to the Boards of Guardians of the Metropolis, dated December 23d, 1863.

In that minute you remark, "It is a fundamental principle of the "Poor Law that every destitute person, without reference to the "question of settlement or residence, is primarily entitled to relief "where he is actually destitute, and it is the duty of the Guardians "to see that all necessary and reasonable arrangements are made for "affording to every such person the requisite relief, whether in food, "clothing, medical attendance, or lodging."

You then informed the Guardians that the obligation upon themselves and their officers to afford the requisite relief to all really destitute applicants was imperative, and could not be evaded.

Thus the requirements of the existing law, and the best means of discharging the obligations which it imposed, were clearly pointed out, and you relied on the Boards of Guardians and their officers to give practical effect to your minute.

In the last session the "Metropolitan Houseless Poor Act" was passed. That Act did not introduce any new principle, but it removed all inducements to restrict admissions into their vagrant wards from a desire on the part of Boards of Guardians to be relieved from bearing an undue share of the cost of maintaining vagrants. This the Act effected by enabling Boards of Guardians to be refunded by the Metropolitan Board of Works whatever cost they might incur.

I have satisfaction in being able to state that almost all the Metropolitan Boards of Guardians have heartily co-operated in endeavouring to carry out the objects of the Act, and that there is now only one Board of Guardians which has failed to provide special accommodation for destitute vagrants and wanderers.

The following 39 Unions and separate Parishes are within the Metropolitan District, viz.:

Bethnal Green.
Chelsea.
Clerkenwell, St. James.
Fulham.
St. George, Hanover Square.
St. George-in-the-East.
St. Giles-in-the-Fields and St. George Bloomsbury.
Hackney.

Holborn.
St. Mary, Islington.
St. James, Westminster.
Kensington.
City of London.
East London.
West London.
St. Luke, Middlesex.
St. Margaret and St. John, Westminster.
St. Martin-in-the-Fields.
St. Marylebone.
Mile End Old Town.

St. Pancras.
Poplar.
Shoreditch, St. Leonard.
Stepney.
The Strand.

Bermondsey.
Camberwell.
St. George-the-Martyr.
Lambeth.
Newington.
St. Olave's.
Rotherhithe.
St. Saviour's.
Wandsworth and Clapham.
Greenwich.
Lewisham.

The Poor Laws are administered in these places by 39 separate Boards, composed of 1,215 Guardians of the Poor, of whom 130, being County Magistrates, are ex-officio Guardians of the Poor. There are 41 Workhouses in the District (the Parish of St. George Hanover Square and the Parish of St. Margaret and St. John Westminster possessing respectively two Workhouses, each Parish using one Workhouse for the reception of destitute vagrants). There are 82 Masters and Matrons of Workhouses, and 96 Relieving Officers. The Guardians of the West London Union provide accommodation for destitute vagrants in lodging houses, as the Workhouse of that Union is being taken down, it having been purchased for the purposes of a railway.

There are thus 37 Workhouses within the Metropolitan District, in each of which there are wards specially dedicated for the reception of destitute vagrants and wanderers, and in the aggregate these wards will now accommodate fully 1,400 persons. Thirty of these wards contain all necessary and sufficient arrangements for affording requisite relief, and 21 of the wards have been lately enlarged. I consider that seven of these wards are still inadequate, although I am aware that the accommodation which even these afford has enabled the Guardians to admit all who have applied for admission. In the case of one only of these vagrant wards has admission been refused, so far as I am aware, in consequence of their being full.

During the first week of December 1863, 3,408 beds were occupied in the vagrant wards of the Metropolitan District, but during the corresponding week of this present year 4,655 beds were so occupied.

The greatest number of beds occupied in one night in the first week of December 1864 was 712, and the lowest number 607.

A task of work suited to the age, strength, and capacity of the persons admitted is exacted in 28 of the Workhouses, the Boards of Guardians considering it expedient that a task of work should be required from each able-bodied person relieved, in return for his food and lodging, in conformity with the 5 & 6 Vict. c. 37. s. 5.

In nine of the Workhouses a task of work was not exacted at the beginning of this month ; but, in accordance with the recommendation of the Poor Law Board, this subject is now under the consideration of the Boards of Guardians, and at my visits to several of these Boards I have endeavoured to show the Guardians that the dispensing with the task of work is calculated to encourage vagrancy.

(1.) Union Assessment Committee Act, 1862, Supplemental Valuation Lists.—Circular Letter from the Poor Law Board to Assessment Committees.

Poor Law Board, Whitehall, S.W.,
1st March 1864.

Sir,

I am directed by the Poor Law Board to state that they have been consulted on several occasions as to the meaning and effect of the following words in the 14th Section of the Union Assessment Committee Act, 1862 :—" Subject to any order, as herein-after referred to, " which may be made by the Committee, the overseers of each parish

" in the Union shall, within three calendar months after the appoint" ment of such Committee, make a list of all the rateable hereditaments
" in such Parish, with the annual value thereof respectively, in so " much of the form shown in the Schedule annexed to the Act Sixth
" and Seventh William the Fourth, Chapter Ninety-six, as is set out
" in the Schedule to this Act."

The Board understand that the overseers were required by this Section to make out the valuation lists within three months after the appointment of the first Committee under the Act, and that this requisition does not apply to subsequent years when the Committees are renewed. Hence, if the Overseers have sent their valuation lists to the Committee, and the same have been examined and returned approved, the Overseers are not, in the opinion of the Board, required to send in new lists within three months after the renewal of the Committee.

But the Board think it very desirable that every Committee who shall have completed the revision of the valuation lists of their Union should, either at the commencement of their year of office or at some other time, according to their own judgment, examine the valuation lists, and determine whether it will be requisite that supplemental lists should be made in respect of any of the Parishes in their Union, according to the provisions of Section 26 of the Act.

If they think proper to adopt this suggestion, they may probably find it convenient to give notice of the days when they will make the examination, so that persons interested in the lists may have an opportunity of appearing before them, and drawing their attention to matters which may require to be investigated or altered.

I am, &c.

Sir,

I am directed by the Poor Law Board to remind the Board of Guardians of your Union that they are required at the first meeting of the Guardians after the annual election to renew the appointment of the Assessment Committee of the Union; consequently the time for such renewal has arrived.

I am also to transmit to the Guardians a form in which the Board think the annual report which, under the 12th Section of the Union Assessment Committee Act of 1862, the Guardians are required to make to this Board may be conveniently furnished.

(4.) Union Assessment Committee Amendment Act, 1864.—Circular Letter from the Poor Law Board to Boards of Guardians.

Poor Law Board, Whitehall, S.W.,
17th August 1864.

Sir,

I am directed by the Poor Law Board to draw the attention of the Guardians to the amendments made by the Act of the last session, 27 & 28 Vict. c. 39., termed "The Union Assessment Committee Amendment Act, 1864."

The subjects of the Act are as follows:—To provide for appeals against poor rates; to secure more exact valuations of property by valuers; to afford to certain public companies notice of the rateable value of their property; to remove the disqualification of Justices in reference to this subject; to provide for the expenses incurred by Overseers under these Acts; to enable loans to be effected to meet the expenses of valuations; to require certain information to be supplied annually to the Clerks of the Peace; to enable maps or plans to be made by the Committees; and to impose penalties upon Overseers for certain defaults under the Acts.

1. It is enacted, that before any appeal shall be heard by any sessions against a poor rate made for any Parish contained in the Union, the appellant shall give twenty-one days' notice in writing of the intention to appeal, and the grounds thereof, to the Assessment Committee.

It is then provided that, after the 1st of this month, no person shall appeal to any sessions against a poor rate made in conformity with the valuation list approved of by such Committee, unless he shall have given to such committee notice of objection against the list, and shall have failed to obtain such relief in the matter as he deems just.

The Statute continues to require the Committee to hear such objection, after notice given, at any time, in the manner prescribed by the previous Act with respect of objections, and to amend the list, though it shall have been approved of and no subsequent list shall have been transmitted to them.

If they amend it they shall give notice to the Overseers, who shall thereupon alter their then current rate accordingly.

Section 2. enables the Assessment Committee to appear as respondents in the appeal against the poor rate, provided they obtain the consent of the Board of Guardians, after notice shall have been sent to every Guardian. The appearance is to be made in the name of the Guardians of the Union.

Section 3. provides for the payment, by the Guardians of the Union, of the costs incurred by the Committee in and about the appeal.

The fourth section requires the valuer appointed by the Assessment Committee to make his valuation in writing, to show the particulars of the several hereditaments comprised therein, and the amounts at which he has valued the same respectively, and to sign such valuation.

This is to be open to inspection as the minute book of the Committee, and copies or extracts may be taken therefrom.

As regards railway, telegraph, canal, gas, and water companies, section 5. requires that the Assessment Committee shall, in certain cases, give notice of the sum or sums set down in the list of the rateable value of the property purporting to be occupied by such companies in any Parish respectively.

Some question having been raised as to whether Justices who are ex-officio Guardians of the Union can sit at the sessions and act as Justices in any appeal against the poor rate of a Parish contained in such Union, by reason of their liability as ratepayers to contribute to the common fund of the Union, the 6th section removes this disqualification both at the Quarter and the Special Sessions.

The Guardians will remember that the 5 & 6 Vict. c. 57. sect. 15. removes the objection which might have been urged as to the Justice being also a party to the appeal.

The next section, namely, the 7th, provides for the expenses which the Overseers may incur in the execution of the Acts; and the Board recommend the Guardians to take such means as they shall find most convenient for communicating this provision to the Overseers of the Parishes in the Union.

It is enacted that when the Overseers incur any expense in making out the valuation or supplemental list, or in revising or valuing any of the rateable hereditaments of such Parish, under the provisions of the Union Assessment Committee Act, 1862, with the consent of the vestry, given by express resolution, after due notice, they may charge such expense (so far as the same may be authorized by the vestry) upon the poor rate.

If no vestry meeting be held, or no decision be arrived at, on the subject, then they may charge the expense, to the extent to which the Assessment Committee shall allow, upon the poor rate.

It is, however, provided, that as regards the valuation of the property, no expense shall be so charged upon the poor rate, unless the consent of the Committee shall have been given previously to the same being made.

The Overseers should be cautioned not to have any property valued until they shall have applied to the Committee for their consent to such valuation being made. The Committee will thus exercise a control over the parish officers, and prevent their incurring unnecessary expense in procuring valuations at much cost.

The Assessment Committees, in many Unions, have found it necessary to have complete and minute valuations made of parishes subject to their supervision, and such valuations are frequently not to be obtained without considerable expense. Under the late Act this expense was to be borne by the current rates, although the benefit of a good valuation may extend to the ratepayers in many succeeding years.

It has therefore been deemed advisable to enable this charge to be spread over a certain number of years, as in the case of valuations which have been made under the Statute 6 & 7 Will. 4. c. 96.

The 8th section accordingly empowers the Guardians of the Union, with the order of the Poor Law Board, to borrow the requisite amount to pay for the cost of a valuation ordered by the Assessment Committee, so that the loan shall be repayable by five equal annual instalments. The loan is to be repaid by the Parish or by the common fund, according as the one or the other is liable to bear the charge of the valuation itself.

As confidence is reposed in the result of the labours of the Assessment Committees, in effecting fairness and uniformity in the valuations of rateable property in their respective Unions, a provision has been introduced, in the 9th section, to require the clerk of the Assessment Committee to communicate to the Clerk of the Peace of the county annually, in the month of December, the totals of the gross estimated rental and the rateable value of the property included in the valuation lists of the several Parishes in the Union, either original or supplemental. This information will facilitate the proceedings of the Justices at their quarter sessions, when they make and assess the county rate.

Some complaints have been made that the Assessment Committees have occasionally found themselves unable to conduct their proceedings satisfactorily, by reason of there being no maps, or none to be relied upon, in some Parishes. There was no provision in the recent Act to enable them to be procured, and the Statute 6 & 7 Will. 4. c. 96. s. 3. was not always applicable.

This default has been met by the 10th section, which empowers the Assessment Committee, where there is no map or plan of any Parish available for their use, or sufficient for their purposes, with the consent of the Board of Guardians, after due notice, and with the order of the Poor Law Board, to appoint a person to make such map or plan, at the cost of the common fund or of the parish, as the Poor Law Board shall direct.

The Board presume that this power, thus conferred upon the Committee, will be exercised with great care and after serious consideration. The expense of an accurate map is generally very great, and it will not be proper that it should be incurred unless there be real substantial ground for the assistance which a map of a Parish is found to render to persons engaged in valuing the several hereditaments in it.

As regards the incidence of the charge, the Board cannot lay down any rule at present to guide their discretion, and shall have to consider the circumstances of every case submitted to them, as it appears that they will have to ascertain whether the benefit is mainly supplied to the Union at large or to the particular Parish.

The last provision is contained in section 11., which deals with the conduct of the Overseers, and renders every Overseer liable to a penalty of five pounds, upon a summary conviction, who wilfully omits to make the declaration required to be made by the Act of 1862, or makes the same falsely, knowing the same to be untrue.

This declaration, as the Guardians will remember, is to the effect that the rate has been compared with the valuation list made under that Act in force in the Parish, and that the hereditaments are rated according to the value appearing therein.

The Act concludes by incorporating the provisions of the former Act with it, and supplying a short title to it.

The Board have thus explained the provisions of this important Statute, and submit this letter to the careful attention of the Guardians and the Assessment Committee.

27th September 1864.

Sir,

I am directed by the Poor Law Board to forward to you a copy of the Act passed in the last Session of Parliament, 27 & 28 Vict. c. 39., for the amendment of the Union Assessment Committee Act of 1862.

The Board desire to refer you to section 7, which provides for the expenses to be incurred by the Overseers of Parishes in carrying these Acts into execution, and they wish you to communicate this provision to the Overseers of the several Parishes who attend your next audit, and give them due caution to observe the Act in future.

The Board also desire that you should give your attention to the poor rates which shall be brought before you, and ascertain whether, in cases where the valuation lists have been finally approved, the rates have been made with the declaration prescribed by section 28 of the Act of 1862.

As it may assist you in ascertaining in what Unions the valuation lists have been approved, the Board have directed a copy of the enclosed parliamentary return* to be forwarded to you, though it does not of course extend to the present time.

The Board will be glad to receive from you at the end of the audit any observations which you may be willing to make as to the observance of the new measure on the part of the parish officers, and the progress made by the Assessment Committees in carrying the Acts into execution.

Whereas it is expedient to amend the the Union Assessment Committee Act, 1862, in regard to appeals against poor rates, and to make further provisions for securing correct and uniform valuations of the property liable to be assessed to the relief of the poor : Be it therefore enacted by the Queen's most excellent Majesty, by and with the advice and consent of the lords spiritual and temporal, and commons, in this present Parliament assembled, and by the authority of the same :

1. Before any appeal shall be heard by any special or quarter sessions against a poor rate made for any Parish contained in any Union to which the Union Assessment Committee Act, 1862, applies, the appellant shall give twenty-one days notice in writing previous to the special or quarter sessions to which such appeal is to be made of the intention to appeal, and the grounds thereof, to the Assessment Committee of such Union : provided that after the first day of August next no person shall be empowered to appeal to any sessions against a poor rate made in conformity with the valuation list approved of by such Committee, unless he shall have given to such Committee notice of objection against the said list, and shall have failed to obtain such relief in the matter as he deems just, and which objection, after notice given at any time in the manner prescribed by the said Act with respect to objections, the Committee shall hear, with full power to call for and amend such list, although the same has been approved of, and no subsequent list has been transmitted to them, and if they amend the same shall give notice of such amendment to the Overseers, who shall thereupon alter their then current rate accordingly.

2. The Assessment Committee of such Union may, with the consent of the Guardians of such Union, after notice shall have been sent to every Guardian, appear as respondents to such appeal, but in the name of the Guardians of such Union, in like manner, and with the same incidents, and subject to the same liabilities, and entitled to the same remedies and rights, as in the case of persons other than the Overseers to whom notice of appeal may be given.

* Return No. 576, Session 1864.

3. The costs which the Committee may incur in consequence of becoming respondents to such appeal, or of having received notice thereof, shall, if not recovered from the appellants, as well as any costs the Committee may be ordered to pay to the appellants, be paid by the Guardians, and charged to the common fund of the Union, unless the court before whom such appeal is heard shall direct that such costs, or any part thereof, shall be charged to the Parish the rate of which is appealed against.

4. Where a valuer is appointed by the Assessment Committee he shall make his valuation in writing, showing the particulars of the several hereditaments comprised therein, and the amounts at which he has valued the same respectively, and shall sign such valuation, which shall be open to inspection in like manner and with the same incidents with respect to the taking of copies or extracts as the minute books of the Committee.

5. Within fourteen days after the transmission to the Assessment Committee of any valuation or supplemental valuation list, the Committee shall give notice to every railway, telegraph, canal, gas, and water company named in such list as the occupier of any property included therein, and not having any office or place of business in the Parish to which such list relates, of the sum or sums set down as the rateable value of the property purporting to be occupied by such company or companies, and such notice may be served by being transmitted through the post to the principal office of the company, or one of their principal offices when there shall be more than one.

6. No Justice of the Peace shall be disqualified for acting in the determination of any appeal against a poor rate at any quarter or special sessions by reason of such Justice being rated, or being liable to be rated, in some other Parish in the Union than that for which the rate appealed against is made.

7. When the Overseers of any Parish incur any expense in making out any valuation list or supplemental list, or in revising or valuing any of the rateable hereditaments of such Parish, under the provisions of the Union Assessment Committee Act, 1862, with the consent of the vestry, given by express resolution, after due notice, they may charge such expense, so far as the same may be authorized by the vestry, upon the poor rate; and if no vestry meeting be held, or no decision arrived at on the subject, then to the extent which the Assessment Committee shall allow: provided that, as regards the valuation of the property, no expense shall be so charged upon the poor rate unless the consent of such Committee to the procuring of such valuation by the Overseers shall have been given previously to the same being made.

8. If the Assessment Committee order a valuation, with the consent of the Board of Guardians, to be made of all the rateable hereditaments of any Parish, the Guardians of the Union may, if they think fit, apply to the Poor Law Board for an order to enable them to borrow the requisite amount to pay the cost of such valuation; and if the said Board shall issue their order the said Guardians may borrow the same, and charge the poor rates of the several Parishes in the Union with the repayment of the same, by not more than five equal annual instalments; and where the Parish for which the valuation is made shall, by reason of any provision in the said Union Assessment Committee Act or this Act, be liable to pay the cost of such valuation, the said Guardians shall charge the annual instalments, and the interest payable therewith, to such Parish, and may recover the same as and with the usual contributions.

9. The clerk of every Assessment Committee shall send annually in the month of December copies of the totals of the gross estimated rental and rateable value of the property included in the valuation lists of the several Parishes within the Union, and where such totals have been altered by any Supplemental valuation list or lists then of such totals as altered, to the Clerk or respective Clerks of the Peace of the county or counties within which such Parishes respectively may be situate.

10. If there be no map or plan of any Parish available for the use or sufficient for the purposes of the Assessment Committee, the Committee may, with the consent of the Guardians, after notice as aforesaid, and under the authority of an order of the Poor Law Board, appoint a competent person to make a map or plan of such Parish, and the cost thereof shall be charged either to the common fund, or to the Parish, as may be directed by the Poor Law Board.

11. Any Overseer who wilfully omits to make the declaration required to be made by the Union Assessment Committee Act, 1862, or makes the same falsely, knowing the same to be untrue, shall be liable for every such offence to a penalty not exceeding five pounds, upon a summary conviction for the same before two Justices of the Peace.

12. The provisions of the Union Assessment Committee Act, 1862, shall, so far as the same are not contrary hereto, be incorporated herewith, and the terms used herein shall be construed in like manner as in that Act.

13. This Act may be cited as "The Union Assessment Committee Amendment Act, 1864."

IRREMOVABILITY: RESIDENCE in SETTLEMENT PARISH, 27 & 28 VICT. c. 105.—CIRCULAR LETTER from the POOR LAW BOARD to BOARDS of GUARDIANS.

Poor Law Board, Whitehall, S. W.,
4th August 1864.

SIR,

I AM directed by the Poor Law Board to inform the Guardians that by an Act of the last Session, 27 & 28 Vict. c. 105., which recited the 1st Section of the Act 24 & 25 Vict. c. 55., and that doubts existed as to the meaning of a part of the Section, and that it was desirable to remove the same, it is enacted, that in the case of any poor person theretofore chargeable or thereafter becoming chargeable in any Parish comprised in a Union not being the Parish of his settlement, the period of time during which he shall have resided in the Parish of the settlement, if in the same Union, shall not be excluded in the computation of the time of residence required to render him exempt from removal under the Acts 9 & 10 Vict. c. 66. and 24 & 25 Vict. c. 55.

Provision is made, however, that nothing therein contained shall apply to any order of removal made and executed before the passing of the Act.

The Board believe that the inconveniences which have arisen in consequence of the decision of the Court of Queen's Bench in the late case of the Overseers of Great Salkeld v. Plumpton Wall, reported in 10 L. T. (N. S.) 524, 12 W. R. 875., will be removed by this Act.

(1.) Superannuations (Union Officers), 27 & 28 Vict. c. 42.—Circular Letter from the Poor Law Board to Boards of Guardians.

Poor Law Board, Whitehall, S. W.,
11th August 1864.

Sir,

I am directed by the Poor Law Board to communicate to the Guardians the provision which has been made in the last Session of Parliament by the Statute 27 & 28 Vict. c. 42. for the granting of superannuation allowances to officers of Unions and Parishes.

The 1st Section enacts that the Guardians of any Union or Parish, or the trustees or overseers of any Parish appointed or incorporated under a Local Act, may, with the consent of this Board, grant to any officer whose whole time has been devoted to the service of the Union or Parish, and who shall have become incapable of discharging the duties of his office with efficiency, by reason of permanent infirmity of mind or body, or of old age, upon his resigning or otherwise ceasing to hold his office, an annual allowance not exceeding in any case two thirds of his then salary, whether computed according to a fixed sum or to a poundage, and shall charge such allowance to the same fund as that to which such salary would have been charged if he had continued in his office.

Section 2 provides that this allowance shall be payable to or in trust for such officer only, and shall not be assignable nor chargeable with his debts or other liabilities.

Section 3 limits the cases in which allowances can be made in respect of age to officers who shall have completed the full age of 60 years, and shall have served as an officer of some Union or Parish for 20 years at the least.

Section 4 prevents the Board of Guardians from proceeding without due consideration and caution in any case, as it provides that no grant shall be made without one month's previous notice, to be specially given in writing to every Guardian of the Union or Parish, and to every member of the Board of Trustees or Overseers (as the case may be), of the proposal to make such grant, and the time when it shall be brought forward.

Lastly, the words used in the Act are to be interpreted in the manner prescribed by the Statute 4 & 5 Will. 4. c. 76., and the subsequent Acts amending or explaining the same.

Hence this Act will apply to females as well as to males; and the term officer will, according to the 109th Section of that Statute, extend to any Clergyman, Schoolmaster, Medical Officer, Treasurer, Collector, Assistant Overseer, Governor, Master or Mistress of a Workhouse, or any other person who shall be employed in any Parish or Union in carrying the Poor Law Amendment Act, or the laws for the relief of the poor, into execution, and whether performing one or more of the above-mentioned functions, provided the whole time of such officer shall have been devoted to the service of the Union or Parish.

Assistant Secretary.

(2.) An Act to provide for Superannuation Allowances to Officers of Unions and Parishes, 27 & 28 Vict. c. 42.

Whereas it is expedient that provision should be made to enable superannuation allowances to be granted to officers of Unions and Parishes who become disabled by infirmity or age to discharge the duties of their offices: Be it therefore enacted by the Queen's most excellent Majesty, by and with the advice and consent of the lords spiritual and temporal, and commons, in this present Parliament assembled, and by the authority of the same, as follows:

1. That the Guardians of any Union or Parish, and the Trustees or Overseers of any Parish appointed or incorporated under a Local Act, may, at their discretion, with the consent of the Poor Law Board, grant to any officer whose whole time has been devoted to the service of the Union or Parish, and who shall become incapable of discharging the duties of his office with efficiency by reason of permanent infirmity of mind or body, or of old age, upon his resigning or otherwise ceasing to hold his office, an annual allowance not exceeding in any case two thirds of his then salary, whether computed according to a fixed sum or to a poundage, and shall charge such allowance to the same fund as that to which such salary would have been charged if he had continued in his office.

2. This allowance shall be payable to or in trust for such officer only, and shall not be assignable nor chargeable with his debts or other liabilities.

3. No officer shall be entitled to such allowance on the ground of age who shall not have completed the full age of sixty years, and shall not have served as an officer of some Union or Parish for twenty years at the least.

4. Orders for Supplies to Workhouses.—Circular Letter from the Poor Law Board to Boards of Guardians.

Poor Law Board, Whitehall,
28th November 1864.

Sir,

I am directed by the Poor Law Board to state that the applications made to them by Boards of Guardians for their orders to extend the time for the payment of claims disclose to the Board the existence of much laxity in respect of the ordering of goods for the Workhouse, and the performance of small repairs to it, or to the furniture in it.

They find that the orders are very frequently given without directions from the Board of Guardians, and the bills are frequently presented for payment without the previous knowledge of the Guardians as to the orders for the work, or supplies which form the subject matter of such claims.

The Board desire to refer to Article 41. of the General Consolidated Order—Fifthly—which is as follows :—

" They shall read the report of the state of the Workhouse or " Workhouses, examine all books and accounts relative to the relief " of the paupers of the Union, and give all needful directions con- " cerning the management and discipline of the said Workhouse or " Workhouses, and the providing of furniture and stores, and other " articles."

Article 208, No. 24, which prescribes this duty to the Master—

" To take care that the wards, rooms, larder, kitchen, and all other " offices of the Workhouse, and all the utensils and furniture thereof, " be kept clean and in good order ; and as often as any defect in the " same, or in the state of the Workhouse, shall occur, to report the same " in writing to the Guardians at their next ordinary meeting."

And Article 209. of the same Order, which is in these terms :—

" The Master shall not, except in case of necessity, purchase or " procure any articles for the use of the Workhouse, nor order any " alterations or repairs of any part of the premises, or of the furniture " or other articles belonging thereto, nor pay any monies on account " of the Workhouse, or of the Union, without the authority of the " Guardians, nor apply any articles belonging to the Guardians " to purposes other than those authorized or approved of by such " Guardians."

In the General Order of Accounts, Article 14, No. 3, requires the clerk to keep the "Order Check Book" in the following manner :—

" This book shall be kept according to the Form numbered 14, the " leaves of which shall contain all orders given by the Guardians for " provisions, stores, repairs, and for other articles or work, and notes " of such orders and forms of the invoices to accompany commodities " supplied, or to be delivered when work is done ; such orders, when " signed by the clerk, together with the form of invoice, shall be " detached from the said book, and issued to the tradesmen or other " persons dealt with or employed, and such notes, certified by the " clerk's initials, shall be retained in the said book."

If these regulations are duly observed, the irregularities to which the Board have referred above cannot occur, and the Board request the Guardians to bring them under the notice of their officers, and to impress upon them the necessity of their being strictly attended to for the future.

The Board take this opportunity of stating, that if applications be made to them for their order to extend the time for the payment of such claims, when the same has been accidentally delayed, they desire to be furnished with the invoices for the goods supplied or work done, extracted from the Order Check Book, or with extracts from the Minutes of the Guardians, containing the directions for ordering the same to be supplied or executed, as the case may be.

Receipts and Expenditure in 1862, 1863, and 1864.

The Returns, in a contracted shape, are exhibited in the next Table, for the last three years, with the rate per head, on the estimated population, of the amount levied as Poor's Rate, and of the amount expended in relief:—

Large proportion of expenditure for purposes unconnected with relief.

The greater part of the expenditure, described in the last Table as for "All other Purposes," consists of payments which have no connexion whatever with relief to the poor. This part of the Poor Rate Expenditure, which is foreign to the object originally contemplated in the enactment of the rate, has greatly increased since the passing of the Poor Law Amendment Act in 1834, in consequence of the imposition of new and the augmentation of old charges. The next Table exhibits, separately, all the charges referred to, so far as the returns permit. The heaviest item is the disbursement in respect of the "County, Hundred, or Borough Rate, or Police Rate."

Considerably more than one third of the whole Poor Rates now levied are expended for purposes unconnected with relief to the poor. Besides the charges here shown, there are some others paid out of the Rate, but which are not discriminated, such as the expenses incurred for sanitary purposes, and the cost of providing new burial grounds.

The principal heads of expenditure, which constitute "Relief to the Poor," are shown in the next Table, together with the average price of wheat for the three years.

Medical Relief.

The column in the Return, which succeeds that of "Total Expenditure," contains the expense of Medical Relief only; this consists of salaries to the Medical Officers; extra Medical Fees paid to them under the General Consolidated Order; also, the cost (if any) of medical and surgical appliances, and drugs. The sums in this column are not additional to those given in Column 4. § A, of the Return; because, the various items of Medical Relief are included in sub-columns (e) or (f), as forming a portion of the "Relief to the Poor:" the "Medical Relief" is printed separately, as indicating an important and special subject of Poor Law administration.

| For 1861–62 - - - - | £242,200 |
| 1862–63 - - - - | 248,286 |
| 1863–64 - - - - | 253,204 |

School Districts.

Twenty-six Unions and single Parishes, chiefly Metropolitan, are combined into School Districts; the contributions which each Union makes to the treasurer of its district are included in the other items of relief, and, as such, entered in the proper columns of the Poor Rate Return; this, then, like the Medical Relief, does not represent any additional expenditure, having been heretofore properly included in the amounts printed opposite to the respective Unions concerned.

The sums contributed by each Union to the School District; and, the sums expended by each district and for each Union during the parochial year 1863–64, are contained in the subjoined Table :—

No. 27.

In-maintenance and Out-relief.—Remarks on the Returns of In-maintenance and Out-door Relief, Half Year ended Lady-day 1864. [No. 431 (c. I.) Session 1863.]

Number of Unions returned.

The Returns of In-maintenance and Out-door Relief, printed at pp. 16–59*, have been received from 654 Unions and single Parishes under Boards of Guardians; but two of that number, namely, Shrewsbury, and Montgomery and Pool, give the cost of In-maintenance only.

The amount expended in the 654 Unions and Parishes during the half year was, for—

| In-maintenance. | Out-door Relief. | Total. |
| £ 559,712 | £ 1,691,259 | £ 2,250,971 |

The population of the places referred to was 19,874,530, according to the Census of 1861; the entire population of England and Wales being 20,066,224.

Irremovable Paupers.

The sum expended for Irremovable Paupers can be shown for 610 Unions and single Parishes only; as the other places keep no separate account of their disbursements in respect of this class of poor.

The 610 Unions and Parishes contain about 17-20ths of the entire population of the Kingdom; the sum expended in them for relief during the half year was, in respect of—

| | In-Maintenance. | Out-Door Relief. | Total. |
|---|---|---|---|
| | £ | £ | £ |
| Irremovable Paupers - | 111,813 | 597,876 | 709,689 |
| Other Paupers - - | 305,863 | 952,507 | 1,258,370 |
| Total - | 417,676 | 1,550,383 | 1,968,059 |

The cost of relief to the Irremovable Paupers was 36·1 per cent. on the cost of relief to both classes during the half year; but during the half year ended at Lady-day 1863, the ratio was 37·7 per cent.; so that the proportion has fallen 1·4 per cent., comparing the former period with the latter.

Expenditure, Lady-day half years 1863 and 1864.

The following Table is a comparative statement of the expenditure for the half years ended at Lady-day 1863 and 1864, in 654 Unions and single Parishes.

The amounts for the half years ended at 31st March, were, in—

Comparative Expenditure in Divisions.

Comparing the expenditure for In-maintenance and Out-door Relief of the Lady-day half year, 1864, with that of 1863, it will be found there was a decrease of 214,004*l.*, or 8·7 per cent.; and it will be seen by the next Table, that there was an increase of expense in one Division only.

* Note.—No Monthly Account is kept of the Export of Foreign and Colonial Produce.

WEEKLY RETURNS OF PAUPERISM FOR THE YEAR ENDING JANUARY 1865, AND FOR THE CORRESPONDING WEEKS OF THE PREVIOUS YEAR.

[No. 431. (A. XI.), Session 1863, and No. 507. (A. to A. IX.), Session 1864.]

Memorandum as to the Arrangement of the Weekly Returns of Pauperism.

The Returns of the Number of Paupers relieved on the last day of each Week do not include the "Lunatic Paupers in Asylums and Licensed Houses," nor the number of "Vagrants" relieved. These classes form only a small portion of the entire pauperism of the country. According to the latest Returns (1st January 1863), the number contained in the two classes was 2·2 per cent. of the total pauperism.

The Pauper Lunatics in Asylums are not generally subject to variations in number to the same degree as the other classes of Paupers, and the number of Vagrants relieved by the Unions throughout the country has become too small to need a return so frequently as once a week. These considerations led to the exclusion of the two classes.

There are at present 14,886* parishes, inclusive of the Scilly Islands, in England and Wales maintaining or liable to maintain their own poor: returns of pauperism are received weekly in respect of 14,681 of that number; 205 parishes, incorporated under Gilbert's Act, or still under the provisions of the 43d Elizabeth, make no return of the number of paupers which they relieve.

The Returns are arranged under eleven divisions. The Union-counties which fall under each are shown in the following view:—

Quarterly Statement as to Pauperism.—Lady-Day 1864.

(Paupers in Lunatic Asylums and Vagrants not included.)

The Return now published completes this portion of the Series for the parochial year 1863-64. The four following Tables are given in continuation of those prefixed to the monthly publication for December last.

The Tables are—

1st. England and Wales; the pauperism in the consecutive weeks of the quarter.
2d. ——————— the comparative pauperism of the quarter.
3d. North Midland, North Western, and York Divisions; the comparative pauperism of the quarter.
4th. The Metropolis; the comparative pauperism of the quarter.

1. In the 1st Table each week is compared with the one immediately preceding it. The last week of the parochial year is less than the last week of the Christmas quarter by 21,059 paupers.

The paupers in 1864, as compared with those in 1863, have decreased 81,177, or 7·65 per cent.; but compared with 1862 there was an increase of 21,688 or 2·26 per cent.

 The Numbers given for 1863 and 1864 respectively, differ slightly from the Totals entered in the Returns for January, February, and March; this arises from the circumstance of Pontefract, Tadcaster, Holbeck, and Hunslet being excluded from Table II., as those places were not in the Returns for 1862.

3. The third Table comprises the three divisions of England and Wales in which the principal manufactures are carried on. Taking the returns of paupers relieved on the last day of the last week of March, the numbers were—

|---|---|
| In 1862 - - - - - | 261,643 |
| „ 1863 - - - - | 376,406 |
| „ 1864 - - - - - | 287,448 |

The decrease in 1864, compared with 1863, was 88,958 or 23·63 per cent.; but in comparison with 1862 there was an increase of 25,805 or 9·86 per cent.

Quarterly Statement as to Pauperism.—Midsummer 1864.

(Paupers in Lunatic Asylums and Vagrants not included.)

The present Return completes the Monthly Series for the Quarter ended at Midsummer 1864. The four following Tables are given in continuation of those prefixed to the monthly publication for March last.

The Tables are—

1st. England and Wales; the pauperism in the consecutive weeks of the quarter.

2d. ——————————— the comparative pauperism of the quarter.

3d. North Midland, North Western, and York Divisions; the comparative pauperism of the quarter.

4th. The Metropolis; the comparative pauperism of the quarter.

1. In the first Table, each week, compared with its predecessor, shows a decrease in the number of paupers: 981,764 were the numbers relieved in the last week of March (Lady-day); but in the fourth week of June (Midsummer) they had fallen to 874,724, which is a decrease of 107,040, or 10·90 per cent. less at Midsummer than Lady-day.

Table I.—England and Wales.—Consecutive Statement.

The paupers in 1864, as compared with those in 1863, have decreased 95,780 or 9·88 per cent.: but compared with 1862 the decrease is 17,809, or 2·00 per cent.

 The Numbers given for 1863 and 1864 respectively, differ slightly from the Totals entered in the Returns for April, May, and June; this arises from the circumstance of Holbeck, Hunslet, and Bramley being excluded from Table II., as those places were not in the Returns for 1862.

3. The third Table comprises the three divisions of England and Wales in which the principal manufactures are carried on. Taking the returns of paupers relieved on the last day of the last week of June, the numbers were—

|---|---|
| In 1862 - - - - | 253,396 |
| „ 1863 - - - - | 318,447 |
| „ 1864 - - - - | 235,869 |

The decrease in 1864, compared with 1863, was 82,578 or 25·93 per cent.; but in comparison with 1862 the decrease was 17,527 or 6·92 per cent.

Quarterly Statement as to Pauperism.—Michaelmas 1864.

(Paupers in Lunatic Asylums and Vagrants not included.)

The present Return completes the Monthly Series for the quarter ended at Michaelmas 1864. The four following Tables are given in continuation of those prefixed to the monthly publication for June last.

The Tables are—

1st. England and Wales; the pauperism in the consecutive weeks of the quarter.

2d. ——————————— the comparative pauperism of the quarter.

3d. North Midland, North Western, and York Divisions; the comparative pauperism of the quarter.

4th. The Metropolis; the comparative pauperism of the quarter.

1. In the first Table each week is compared with the one immediately preceding it: 874,724 were the numbers relieved in the last week of June (Midsummer); but in the fourth week of September (Michaelmas) the numbers were 864,730, which is a decrease of 9,994, or 1·14 per cent. less at Michaelmas than Midsummer.

 The Numbers given for 1863 and 1864 respectively, differ slightly from the Totals entered in the Returns for July, August, and September; this arises from the circumstance of Bramley, Holbeck, and Hunslet being excluded from Table II., as those places were not in the Returns for 1862.

3. The third Table comprises the three divisions of England and Wales in which the principal manufactures are carried on. Taking the returns of paupers relieved on the last day of the last week of September, the numbers were—

| „ 1864 - - - - | 230,634 |

The decrease in 1864, compared with 1863, was 60,449, or 20·77 per cent.; but in comparison with 1862 there was a decrease of 85,507, or 27·05 per cent.

Quarterly Statement as to Pauperism, Christmas 1864.

(Paupers in Lunatic Asylums and Vagrants not included.)

The Return now published completes this portion of the Series for the year 1864. The four following Tables are given in continuation of those prefixed to the monthly publication for September last.

The Tables are—

1st. England and Wales; the pauperism in the consecutive weeks of the quarter.

2d. ——————————— the comparative pauperism of the quarter.

3d. North Midland, North Western, and York Divisions; the comparative pauperism of the quarter.

4th. The Metropolis; the comparative pauperism of the quarter.

1. In the first Table, each week is compared with the one immediately preceding it. The last week of the year is higher than the last week of the Michaelmas quarter by 63,674 paupers.

The paupers in 1864, as compared with those in 1863, have decreased 32,174, or 3·35 per cent.; but compared with 1862 the decrease was 178,142, or 16·12 per cent.

 The numbers given for 1863 and 1864 respectively differ slightly from the Totals entered in the Returns for October, November, and December; this arises from the circumstance of Bramley Union, Holbeck, and Hunslet being excluded from Table II., as those places were not in the Returns for 1862.

3. The third Table comprises the three divisions of England and Wales, in which the principal manufactures are carried on. Taking the returns of paupers relieved on the last day of the last week of December, the numbers were—

|---|---|
| In 1862 - - - - - | 423,062 |
| „ 1863 - - - - - | 289,105 |
| „ 1864 - - - - - | 258,350 |

The decrease in 1864, compared with 1863, was 30,755, or 10·64 per cent.; but in comparison with 1862 the decrease was 164,712, or 38·93 per cent.

Remarks on the Return of Insane Paupers, chargeable on the 1st January 1864. (No. 431. (E.) Sess. 1863.)

Source of Information.

1. The Statistics of Pauper Insanity contained in this paper have been compiled from the lists of "Lunatics, Idiots, and other Persons of Unsound Mind" who were chargeable to the Poor Rates on the 1st January 1864. These lists are made out annually by the Clerks to the Guardians, and transmitted to the Poor Law Board, in compliance with the 16 & 17 Vict. c. 97. s. 64., and in the form prescribed by Schedule D. of that Statute.

Places returned.

2. Returns have been received from 661* Unions and Single Parishes under Boards of Guardians; the Population of these places, according to the Census of 1861, is 19,949,755. The number of Insane Paupers chargeable to the Poor Rates in those places on that day is shown below :—

| Number of Paupers on 1st January 1864. | Whereof were Insane Paupers. | Namely :— | |
|---|---|---|---|
| | | Lunatics. | Idiots. |
| 1,011,753† | 37,576 | 27,590 | 9,986 |

Thus 3·7 per cent. of the pauperism on the 1st January last is ascribable to Insanity; the Lunatics being 2·7 per cent., and the Idiots 1·0 per cent.

Proportion of the Sexes.

3. In regard to the sexes, 16,471 were Males, and 21,105 Females :—

| Insane. | Males. | Females. | Total. |
|---|---|---|---|
| Lunatics - - | 11,891 | 15,699 | 27,590 |
| Idiots - - | 4,580 | 5,406 | 9,986 |
| Total - | 16,471 | 21,105 | 37,576 |

Insane Paupers, 1st January 1864.

4. In the next Statement the number of Lunatic and Idiot Paupers are shown for each Division of England and Wales, with the total number of Paupers of all classes relieved on the same day.

* Inclusive of Eight Gilbert's Incorporations.

† Exclusive of the paupers in Seven of the Gilbert's Incorporations, from which the Poor Law Board do not receive this information. The number of Insane paupers, however, in these places was, on 1st January last, 82, of whom 54 were returned as "Lunatics," and 28 as "Idiots."

No. 43.

Remarks on the Industrial Statistics of 1861.

The Industrial Statistics of 1861.

Industrial Statistics.

The publication of the Occupations Census of 1861 has rendered it necessary to effect a change both in the form and the matter of the "Industrial Statistics," which, since 1857, has formed part of the series of papers periodically laid before Parliament by the Poor Law Board under the title of "Poor Rates and Pauperism."

New classification of the Occupations of the People.

An explanation of the classes under which the occupations of the people in 1851 were arranged has prefaced the previous numbers of this series, and therefore need not be repeated. The classification of 1861 differs in several important particulars from that previously employed by the Commissioners of the Census. The new system can be best explained in the words of its author,* premising that, in Dr. Farr's Report on the "Classification of Producers," the lowest groups, termed "Sub-Orders," are marked with a small Arabic numeral (2); that, these Sub-Orders are gathered up into "Orders," marked by a larger numeral (2); and, that the Orders are collected into "Classes," marked by a Roman figure (II.)

CLASSIFICATION OF PRODUCERS.

I.—Professional Class.

"This great class includes those persons who are rendering direct service to mankind, and satisfying their intellectual, moral, and devotional wants.

"The three first Orders consist of civil servants, national or local; the army and navy; the learned professions, with their immediate subordinates; literary and scientific men, as well as artists in the widest sense.

"The first Order (1; 1) includes the members of the Government, and the civil service; (2) the police and other local officers; and (3) the East India and Colonial Service.

"The army (2; 1) and navy (2; 2) are in the service of the Government; and are intimately connected with it in all states. And the clergy in the Established Church, as well as the lawyers in the courts of justice, are in official subordination to the Sovereign; but the great majority of the members of these professions are neither nominated nor paid by the Crown. Like the medical, the literary, and the scientific professions, which were at one time included in the Church, and were supported by its livings, the clergy and lawyers assert their independence, and are, therefore, made separate sub-orders. So are authors, artists, musicians, actors, teachers, and scientific men. Nearly all the members of the class are paid directly for their services; and these services have no intermediary, being rarely fixed in any commodity. The pay varies in each Order, and it is either proportional to the time (salary, wages, pay), the job (fees), or the quality and quantity of work done (piecework)."

Order 1. Persons engaged in the General or Local Government of the Country.

„ 3. Persons engaged in the Learned Professions or engaged in Literature, Art, and Science (with their immediate Subordinates).

II.—Domestic Class.

"The persons in this Class are all employed, if they are employed at all, in houses. Some supply simply service, others with it supply board and lodging (Order 5.) They are paid wages (servants), or they are paid for the board and lodging and attendance which they supply, The publicans and beersellers are so much associated and so often confounded with hotel and innkeepers that they are retained in the same Order; although the Order dealing in 'drinks' may claim them. The wife and grown-up children (Order 4.) perform at home for the bulk of the population the same duties as the persons in Order 5.; but they are not paid directly in money for their services, as they form a part of the natural family; consequently they are distinguished in a separate Order. The very young children properly belong to the non-productive class, and they may there constitute a section; scholars and other children are learning the elements of their future occupations; but until that occupation is determined they remain in the same Order as their mothers."

Order 4. Persons engaged in the Domestic Offices or Duties of Wives, Mothers, Mistresses of Families, Children, Relatives (not otherwise returned).

III.—Commercial Class.

"The merchant buys any article like tea abroad, transports it to England, and there sells it. He performs the like operation at home. But as a merchant he effects no change in any of the commodities in which he deals. He buys and sells, and is paid for his services by a varying but rated profit on the goods.

"The carrying order convey commodities, passengers, and messages by land or water, from one place to another. They also warehouse goods. They are paid for their services in fares, freight, and charges, which bear some proportion to the weight, bulk, and other properties of the goods. They are all in Order 7, and are closely related to the Order preceding; hence the two Orders (6–7.) together may be called the Commercial Class."

Order 6. Persons who buy or sell, keep or lend, Money, Houses, or Goods of various Kinds.

IV.—Agricultural Class.

"We now come to a great class which is employed in producing grain, fruit, grass, animals, and other products from the soil. They may be called Growers; for their products grow and are obtained from the living kingdoms of nature. The heads of the Class are paid, not directly for their services, but indirectly in the price of the products which they sell in the market or elsewhere. Thus the price of a quarter of wheat includes the pay of the services of all the persons employed in its production as well as the cost of the tools and machines, including the land, by means of which it is produced and brought to market. Agricultural servants and labourers are paid in wages which the farmers advance. The persons engaged in gardens or woods are in separate Sub-orders.

"The men in Order 9. are employed in catching, training, or dealing in living animals of various kinds. They are the representatives of the hunters of the early stages of civilization, and may be considered an appendage to the previous pastoral and agricultural class, so forming Class IV., which thus includes hunting tribes, the pastoral clans, and the agricultural people of the world."

Order 8. Persons possessing or working the Land, and engaged in growing Grain, Fruits, Grasses, Animals, and other Products.

V.—Industrial Class.

"This is the Class of makers or artisans. They deal in matter that is either no longer living, or that never lived. They alter the form, texture, or composition of the materials in which they work, so as to produce a great variety of goods, instruments, and machines. Their pay and profits are charged in the price of commodities; the wages of the workmen being advanced by their masters.

"This Class is grouped according to the materials, distinguishing those derived from the three kingdoms of nature.

"The first Order (10.) of the Class includes artisans, making products of various materials, derived from the three kingdoms, such as coaches, ships, workshops, factories, houses, and their furniture or other contents.

"Then follow the persons engaged in the textile fabrics (Order 11.) Wool, silk, cotton, flax, and hemp are durable and divisible; their manufacture admits of the sub-division of labour and the application of machinery. The workers in these materials are the essentially manufacturing class. In a Sub-order (4.) are the artisans who convert the manufactured fabrics, and some other matters, into dress.

"Human food, drinks, and stimulants, derived from the animal and vegetable kingdoms, occupy a distinct Order (12.), sub-divided into three Sub-orders.

"Then follow (13.) the persons chiefly or exclusively working and dealing in other animal substances than food (14.), those working and dealing in vegetable substances, and (15.), those working and dealing chiefly in minerals and metals. The first Sub-order of the latter Order (15.) includes the mining population of every kind; the other thirteen Sub-orders include the chief workers in the metals and minerals, beginning with coal, and ending with steel."

ORDER 10. Persons engaged in Art and Mechanic Productions, in which Matters of various Kinds are employed in combination.

VI.—INDEFINITE AND NON-PRODUCTIVE CLASS.

(Orders 16, 17, and 18.)

"The last Class includes the numbers returned in a vague way, so as to scarcely admit of classification among either the professional, the domestic, the commercial, the agricultural, or the industrial classes.

"It embraces the totally distinct Orders of general labourers (16.), persons of property returned as of no occupation (17.), and persons supported by the community (18.) Many of the persons in Orders 16. and 17. properly belong to the other classes.

ORDER 16. Labourers and others—Branch of Labour undefined.

„ 18. Persons supported by the Community, and of no specified Occupation. Other Persons of no stated Occupation or Condition.

The relation of the new to the old classification is briefly exhibited by the following Synoptical Table :—

Selected Occupations.

In considering the occupations of the people in connexion with pauperism, the first class has been rejected, because, although it participates in the general welfare of the country, it experiences the vicissitudes of trade less directly than the others; and the last class, because it is indefinite, and therefore but little adapted to form any useful term of comparison within the field of pauper statistics. The ratio per cent. of persons aged 20 years and upwards ascribable to each of the six classes of occupations for all the Unions has, in the present instance, been computed for every Union by the Commissioners of the Census. The ratios of the four selected classes are printed opposite to the respective Unions in the following pages; at the same time, the special designation of the chief industries pursued in the various Unions according to the Census of 1851, has been retained in the place it originally filled in these Returns.

Ratio of Occupations.

The absolute as well as the proportional numbers of the adult population under the six industrial classes are shown in the subjoined table for each Division and for each Union-County, as published in the third volume of the Census of England and Wales.

2. In connexion with the summaries in the preceding table, the two diagrams which were given in the last Annual Report in order to represent more distinctly the fluctuations of in-door and out-door relief for a period of five years past, are repeated in the present Report, with an additional line for the year 1864–65.*

The following tables represent in figures the maximum, minimum, and average daily numbers shown in each of the two diagrams for the whole series of six years:—

3. It will be observed that the annual period exhibited in these summaries of the weekly returns is not identical with the financial year which ends on the 29th September, but consists of fifty-two weeks ending about the end of February in each year—that is to say, shortly before the date of each Annual Report; and this part of the Report thus includes information to the latest possible date.

The first in the series of six years is the year 1859–60, and this exhibits the lowest amount of pauperism and expenditure which has occurred in Ireland since the famine period, and was, in fact, the last of a long series of favourable years.

The series of unfavourable seasons began with the autumn of 1860, when a blight affecting a considerable part of the potato crop took place, and there was at the same time a serious failure of the oat crop.

The result was a great rise in the prices of food, especially of the ordinary food of the working classes. Such, however, were the resources arising from several years' previous prosperity, that very little distress showed itself during the spring and summer of the succeeding year 1861.

The extreme wetness of the summer and autumn of 1861 resulted not only in a further failure of the crops, but in what was called in the turf districts a fuel famine, a calamity which had never occurred to the same extent since the disastrous season of 1816, when it was followed by an epidemic of fever in 1817, involving 1,500,000 patients, and 60,000 deaths.

* See Diagrams facing page 20.

In the spring and summer of 1862 there was a degree of distress among the small occupiers of land far beyond the degree indicated by the Poor Law returns of that season, although a considerable increase in the relief lists in comparison with 1860 had now taken place. The occupiers of more than a quarter of an acre of land were at this time excluded from Poor Law relief; but in the month of August following the Quarter Acre section was repealed.

The autumn of 1862 presented the third and perhaps worst season in the series; and a corresponding pressure on the workhouses is observable in the returns through the spring and summer of 1863.

4. Between that time and the present time two favourable seasons have intervened, and the corresponding effects are clearly traceable on the in-door diagrams and in-door summaries for 1863–64 and 1864–65.

In regard to the decrease of the number of inmates in the workhouses during the last two years, it must be borne in mind that during the whole of that time there has been a progressive tendency to increase going on in the hospital and infirmary department of the workhouses through the operation of those sections of the recent Act 25 & 26 Vic. cap. 83, which legalized the admission of patients, poor though not destitute, and even of paying patients, to the sick wards of the workhouses.

Thus at the most recent date included in the returns the difference of the total number of inmates in comparison with the number at the same date last year forms a decrease of 1,902; but there are at same date 2,194 fever patients in comparison with 1,919, and 158 paying patients in comparison with 134 last year.

5. Although the improved circumstances of the country are marked by a corresponding decrease in the number of workhouse inmates, the out-door relief diagrams and summaries show a still ascending series. We explained in the 3rd and 4th paragraphs of the last Annual Report our expectation that an increase of out-door relief would take place annually, on account of the tendency to a change of opinion in the Guardians of many Unions, in which in-door relief only had hitherto been given, as to the safety and propriety of granting out-door relief in certain classes of cases allowed by the law. The statistics of the last two or three years confirm the view expressed by us so far back as 1862 (see paragraphs 13 and 14 of the Annual Report of that year), to the effect that the fluctuation of in-door relief alone must be looked to as affording for some time to come a correct indication of the comparative condition of the poorer classes in this country.

6. Looking, therefore, to this, the most material branch of the Poor Law statistics, we find that notwithstanding the operation of the recent enactments extending the law of hospital relief, and notwithstanding an increase of contagious disease during the last twelve months, which will hereafter be more particularly noticed, there is a decrease of the number of workhouse inmates observable in the summaries of the last two years; and at the present date that decrease is going on more decidedly than at any time previously during the two years in question. There is every reason, therefore, so far as those statistics are concerned, to hope that the interruption occasioned by three successive bad seasons to the advancing prosperity of Ireland is fast ceasing to operate on the condition of the indigent classes.

7. In order to enable ourselves to take a wider and more general view of the circumstances of the population at large, we have recently obtained from the Poor Law Inspectors reports somewhat out of the limits of the official business of the department; which reports, however, we venture to place in the Appendix,* as showing, in reference to the whole surface of the country, the views of a class of observers well informed, from the nature of their avocations, regarding the comparative condition, not only of the poor, but of the agricultural and commercial classes generally. The knowledge possessed by the present Poor Law Inspectors is of a highly practical character, extending in almost every case to the state of the country for the last eighteen or twenty years; and the general result derivable from their statements is that the great progress made in the material prosperity and civilization of Ireland during that period is now again very distinctly on the advance after its recent interruption.

8. It is here worthy of remark that in the two adverse years of 1862 and 1863 great exertions were made locally by private subscriptions for the relief of distress in the western counties, and a great many relief committees appointed to dispense the funds so provided. In those two years also very considerable sums were remitted in aid of those local funds by two charitable associations acting in Dublin; the Mansion House Committee and the Relief Committee of the Society of Friends. The former appears from its reports, one of which is of very recent date, to have dispensed in the course of the two years, 1862 and 1863, no less a sum than £30,000. The Society of Friends commenced operations in 1862 with a small balance remaining of a sum raised by them during the famine, exceeding £150,000, of which a large part had been contributed by Friends residing in the United States. A report just published by the Dublin Committee of Friends shows that the balance mentioned, added to the proceeds of the sale of their Model Farm in Mayo, and a few thousand pounds collected by a new subscription in 1863, enabled them in the course of 1862 and 1863 to dispense a total sum of £11,191 in the shape of meal and fuel or money to the distressed districts. The fact that neither of these two charitable associations attempted to resume operations after the harvest of 1863, is a significant one in reference to the improved state of the population.

The following extract from the Report of the Friends' Committee is interesting, as showing the view taken by them of the present situation of the country, in reference to such operations as those conducted by them in 1862 and 1863:—

"Eighteen years have passed since the Relief Committee was called into existence by the fearful sufferings resulting from the failure of the potato crop in 1846. The task we then undertook has been fulfilled. The funds thus intrusted to us have been dispensed, as also the additional contribution already adverted to. We now feel that the proper time has arrived for breaking up the organization which was then formed. The circumstances of Ireland have been greatly changed within the past eighteen years. The population is largely diminished, and is no longer dependent on the potato for support. The means provided by law for the relief of destitution are now fully organized. The relief afforded by the Poor Law is much less liberal than in England, but it is at least sufficient to afford a refuge from actual starvation. The associations which were formed for the relief of the distress in 1846 were imperatively called for by the circumstances of that time, but their continued existence is unnecessary. It is even injurious, because it holds out an inducement to ask for assistance when it is not really needed, and tends to break down that spirit of independent self-reliance which it is most important to foster and encourage. Unless again called for by the occurrence of some extraordinary calamity, it would be impossible to obtain any general contribution for the relief of distress in Ireland. Henceforward the inhabitants of every district must support themselves by their own industry, or must become a charge on the property of their neighbours."

9. The emigration from Ireland during the last year, looked at in connexion with the emigration in the last few preceding years, has the appearance of a movement which is likely to be sustained for some time to come, if not in equal force, at least in sufficient force to diminish still more the population of the island. It is estimated by the best authority on this subject, the Registrar-General, that since the Census of 1861 the population has further diminished by no less than 135,000 persons.

Under an enactment which was passed in 1849 for the purpose of promoting emigration, not of destitute persons only, but of poor persons generally, who might be willing to emigrate, various sums have been from time to time expended by vote of the Guardians of Unions, with the consent of the Commissioners. The following statement will show how very small an amount of emigration has been effected under the provisions referred to, and by the aid of the poor rate, in comparison with that which is known to have been effected during the same period from private resources.

10. Migration from Ireland to Great Britain is not assisted by any public fund; the Irish poor rates not being legally applicable to that purpose, nor even to the assistance of English or Scotch falling destitute in Ireland and wishing to return to their own country. Though now somewhat interrupted by the cotton famine, and by the emigration to America, migration from Ireland across the channel is never likely to cease so long as the wages of labour are higher in Great Britain. The increased facility afforded for such migration by steam conveyances is, to say the least of it, as great as that which is afforded by the same for passing from one part of Great Britain to another; and the means of intercourse between the two islands may therefore be now regarded almost as if the channel did not exist. As these facilities are likely to increase, and the Irish, therefore, in England will come more and more within the action of the Poor Laws in that country, it seems desirable again to draw attention to the present state of the law of removal from England to Ireland, the more so as the proposed transfer of the charge incurred by removal of paupers and litigation of settlements from the parish to the union in England is not unlikely to result in a more active use of the power of removal from England to Ireland.

11. We place in the Appendix a continuation of the correspondence which has taken place on the working of the Removal Amendment Act, 26 & 27 Vic. cap. 89;* whence it will be seen that those provisions of that statute which were intended to secure a continuous and safe custody of the person removed until arrival at the place of ultimate destination in Ireland, and to protect women and children from exposure on the decks of steamers during the inclement season of the year, have been frequently violated or evaded by the English removing authorities; more especially, as pointed out in our last Report, by those connected with the unions and parishes of the metropolis.

12. This tendency in the metropolitan district appears traceable not so much to any greater disposition on the part of the authorities to disregard the enactments of the law as to the practice which prevails there, and not, we believe, elsewhere in England, of intrusting the execution of warrants of removal to irresponsible persons, who contract for the due performance of this very serious and delicate public duty at so much per head, and open depôts in London for the reception and detention of Irish subjects with the view of extracting the greatest profit they can from their deportation to Ireland. Various evils arising from this system are pointed out in the correspondence; and we beg especially to draw attention to the emphatic language in which the late law adviser, Mr. Sergeant Sullivan, has commented on the practice in question; and likewise to the defective state of the law itself, which renders it very difficult to make the parties infringing its provisions amenable to justice either in England or Ireland.

13. With regard to the section which authorizes the Poor Law

* Appendix A. IV., page 47.

Commissioners in Ireland to appeal against illegal removals from England, we have to observe that the power is expressly limited to cases in which the parties were not removable to any part of Ireland, and affords no redress in those cases in which the removal has been made to a wrong union, a case of very frequent occurrence. We gave notice of appeal, since the passing of the Act, in only two cases ; in one with complete success. The party removed had a well-known settlement in England, and the order was abandoned and the pauper taken back. The other case was one of irremovability by continuous residence of long standing; and this had been attempted to be set aside by a collusive change of the pauper's residence to an adjoining union for a few hours. In this case the appeal was abandoned by us in order to avoid the risk of defeat on the pauper's ceasing to become chargeable.

14. Although we feel no desire to see introduced into Ireland a system of removal like that established in England and Scotland, we cannot quit the subject without again drawing attention to the injustice of maintaining a system which is applicable only in favour of Great Britain on the one side, and to the disadvantage of Ireland on the other.

15. We now submit the statistics relating to the collection of the poor-rate, the poor law relief expenditure, and the number relieved, in-door and out-door, for the year ended 29th September, 1864, in comparison with the same for the preceding year:*—

|---|---|---|---|---|---|---|---|---|---|---|---|
| | | In-Maintenance and Clothing. | Out-Relief. | Cost of Relief in Blind and Deaf and Dumb Asylums and Extern Hospitals. | Salaries and Rations of Officers. | All other Expenses. | Total. | In Workhouse. | Out-door. | In Blind and Deaf and Dumb Asylums. | Total. |
| | £ | £ | £ | £ | £ | £ | £ | | | | |
| 1863, | 723,843 | 380,737 | 18,373 | 4,829 | 96,222 | 105,820 | 605,981 | 288,285 | 28,911 | 428 | 317,624 |
| 1864, | 744,894 | 366,732 | 21,473 | 5,694 | 97,654 | 104,912 | 596,465 | 264,147 | 31,266 | 422 | 295,835 |
| Increase, | 21,051 | – | 3,100 | 865 | 1,432 | – | – | – | 2,355 | – | – |
| Decrease, | – | 14,005 | – | – | – | 908 | 9,516 | 24,138 | – | 6 | 21,789 |

It will be seen that in this comparison of the results of the two financial years we do not include the last six months comprised in the statistical tables in the earlier paragraphs of this report; and that the decrease of pauperism and expenditure has relation to the twelve months only, which followed immediately upon the favourable harvest of 1863. From the present prices of food, and the steady decrease of pauperism, a further considerable reduction of expenditure in relief may now be confidently anticipated for the year which will end on the 29th September, 1865.

16. The following series of returns are in continuation of similar ones given in our last Annual Report.

* The poundage of the total expenditure in relief on the total valuation of Ireland, was for the year 1862–63, 11½*d.* in the pound, and for the year 1863–64, 11¼*d.* in the pound. The percentage of persons relieved on the present population was for the latter year, 5·2 calculated on the total number relieved during the year, but only 1·2 calculated on the average daily number in receipt of relief.

* All sums due from Unions in Ireland under the Consolidated Annuities Act had been levied and paid over before the close of the year 1863; there will be no further sums therefore to enter under this head in future years.

It will be seen from the last table that, notwithstanding the decrease of pauperism and relief expenditure under the Poor Law Acts, there is a net increase in the total expenditure amounting to £17,696; a new charge having arisen for the first time of £22,196 under the Births, Deaths, and Marriages Registration Acts, and an increase of £5,699 under the head of Medical Charities, mainly due to the operation of the Compulsory Vaccination Act.

17. It is shown in the last table that the season of the lowest amount of mortality in workhouses comprises the months of September, October, and November; and the same is probably true of the mortality in the population at large. It was therefore with no little anxiety that we observed, in the year 1864, this period to be marked by an unusual amount of fever, and that of a worse type than has prevailed perhaps at any time since the famine. In the event of any serious epidemics breaking out in the country, it seemed likely that they would attain their greatest height in those months of the spring season, viz., March and April, in which fever has usually most prevailed. We therefore, in the beginning of December, issued to the guardians of unions a circular* intended to warn them of the possibility of a pressure upon the fever hospitals attached to the workhouses, and calling on them to adopt in due time every proper precaution to meet the contingency, if it should arise. We are now, however, enabled to report that, with the exception of a small number of unions, chiefly those comprising populous towns, as Cork, Belfast, and Limerick, there has been, so far, no very serious increase of patients in the workhouse fever hospitals, and that the probability of any epidemic taking place is now greatly diminished.

18. The following tables, which exhibit some further particulars in relation to the expenditure in relief, are derived from the Abstracts of the audited Union Accounts:—

PROCEEDINGS under the MEDICAL CHARITIES ACT; the Act of 1858, "To make further provision for the practice of Vaccination in Ireland;" and the Act of 1863, "To further extend and make compulsory the practice of Vaccination in Ireland."

19. We beg leave next to submit to your Excellency the report of our proceedings under the above-mentioned Acts.

In the table contained in the next paragraph is exhibited a summary of the relief afforded under the Medical Charities Act for each of the last ten years ending September 30th, in each province and in the whole of Ireland; distinguishing the cases prescribed for at the dispensaries from the more serious cases attended at the patients' homes.

20. A comparison of the numbers of each class of patients relieved in the two last years in this table gives a result differing considerably from what we had occasion to remark on a similar comparison in last year's Report. Thus it appears that a smaller number of patients have been relieved at the dispensaries during the last than the preceding year in Ulster, Munster, and Leinster, and a greater number relieved in Connaught only. Of the patients attended at their homes, the number has been greater for the last than the preceding year in Ulster and Munster, and less in Leinster and Connaught. For the whole of Ireland the number of patients attended at the dispensaries has been less for the last than the preceding year by 6,649, and the number of those attended at their homes has been greater by 4,868; producing for the second time since the commencement of the operation of the Medical Charities Act an inconsiderable diminution in the total number of cases relieved under it.

The total number of cases annually relieved under this Act has progressively increased for the thirteen years it has been in operation, except in the years ended September 30th, 1860 and 1864. The increase in question, in presence of the diminishing population of Ireland, is very remarkable, and attributable mainly, so far as we

21. In the Appendix will be found, as usual, the detailed statement of the amount of medical relief afforded for the last year in the table in each of the 716 Dispensary Districts in Ireland, distinguishing the cases attended at the dispensaries from those attended at the patients' homes.

22. The following table exhibits the annual expenditure under the Medical Charities Act for the ten years ended the 29th of last September, for each province and for all Ireland. In addition to this expenditure, the table shows for the last five years that incurred under the Act of 1858 for the further promotion of vaccination, and for the last year the expenditure under the Act of 1863 to further extend and make compulsory the practice of vaccination in Ireland. The increased expenditure observable in the last five years, compared with the first five in the table, has been occasioned principally by the operation of the two last-mentioned Acts.

It appears from this table that there has been an increased total expenditure under the three Acts just mentioned for the year ended September 30th, 1864, compared with the preceding year, amounting to £5,699; the increase being very uniformly distributed amongst the four provinces.

23. The next table sets forth the total expenditure for the year ended September 29th, 1864, under the Medical Charities Act and the Vaccination Extension Acts of 1858 and 1863, and exhibits, as usual, the amount of expenditure under the six heads specified in the table.

Expenses under the Medical Charities Act, year ended 29th September:—

|---|---|---|
| 1. Medicines and medical appliances, | £21,091 | £20,552 |
| 2. Rent of Dispensary buildings, | 7,097 | 7,139 |
| 3. Books, forms, stationery, printing, and advertising, | 1,497 | 1,247 |
| 4. Salaries of Medical Officers, | 69,005 | 67,841 |
| 4. Salaries of Apothecaries, | 2,272 | 2,161 |
| 5. Fuel, porters, and incidental expenses, | 5,599 | 5,555 |
| Expenses under Vaccination Act:— | | |
| 6. Vaccination fees and other expenses:— | | |
| Fees to Medical Officers, £7,683 | 8,344 | 4,050 4,711 |
| Other expenses, 661 | | 661 |
| | £114,905 | £109,206 |

Under the second and third heads in this table an inconsiderable diminution of expenditure has taken place during the last year. Under all the other heads there has been an increased expenditure; inconsiderable, however, except under medicines and medical appliances, salaries of Medical Officers, and vaccination fees to Medical Officers; the expenses under which have been greater respectively for the last than the previous year by £539, £1,164, and £3,633. The first of these items of increase is satisfactorily explained by adverting to the circumstance that although for the last compared with the preceding year, there was a diminution in the number of patients prescribed for at the dispensaries, this was nearly balanced by an increase in the number of those treated at their homes; and it is obvious that a considerably greater average expenditure on medicines and medical appliances must be necessary for the treatment of these than for that of the same number of patients suffering under the slighter complaints treated at the dispensaries. As regards the third and largest item of increased expenditure, it has been occasioned by the greater amount of vaccinations performed during the year; and, indeed, falls considerably short of what is due to the Medical Officers on account of the very large increase of vaccination which has taken place under the operation of the Compulsory Vaccination Act of 1863.

24. The average poundage on the Poor Law Valuation of Ireland, to provide for the total expenditure under the Medical Charities and Vaccination Acts for the last year was 2·16*d.*, which is slightly above that for the previous year, which was 2·08*d.*

25. During the year 1864 very few alterations have been made in the Dispensary Districts, or in the arrangements for carrying out the medical relief of the sick poor. In the Ballinrobe Union two electoral divisions were transferred from the Cong Dispensary District to the Ballinrobe District, with a view to secure easier access to medical relief for the sick poor of these and two similarly situated electoral divisions of the Ballinrobe Dispensary District. These four electoral divisions lie along the west side of Lough Mask, which nearly separated them from the eastern portions of the districts to which they belonged; and before the recent alteration some of the poor inhabitants of these divisions were fully twelve miles distant from the respective residences of their Medical Officers. At the time of the transfer the four electoral divisions in question were formed into a sub-district of the Ballinrobe Dispensary District; a dispensary depot was provided near the centre of the sub-district, and a second Medical Officer was appointed for the Ballinrobe District, with the condition that he should reside in some central situation convenient for the sick poor of the sub-district. The distance of the most remote parts of the sub-district from the Medical Officer's residence is not more than five or six miles.

26. A second Medical Officer has been appointed in the Bushmills Dispensary District also. Two towns, Bushmills and Portrush, with each a considerable poor population, lie at the opposite extremities of the district, and the residence of the Medical Officer being at Bushmills, the sick poor of Portrush and its neighbourhood suffered in consequence much inconvenience before the appointment of the second Medical Officer. This has been remedied by the appointment of the second Medical Officer, with the condition that he shall reside at Portrush. Midwives have been appointed during the past year in five additional Dispensary Districts, and a second midwife has been appointed in the Fethard District of the New Ross Union. There are now forty-nine Dispensary Districts in which midwives have been provided. The number of members of Committees of Management has been increased last year in sixteen districts, principally with the intention of affording greater facilities to the sick poor for procuring tickets for dispensary relief.

27. An alteration was made by sealed order in the qualification required for Dispensary and Workhouse Medical Officers in last November, the object of which was to enable Licentiates of the Apothecaries' Hall, Dublin, possessing also diplomas in surgery and certificates of competency in midwifery, to hold the office of Dispensary or Workhouse Medical Officer. The circumstances under which this alteration took place are mentioned in the Circulars to the Guardians of Unions and to the Dispensary Committees which accompanied the Orders.*

28. In the next table is given the number of vaccinations performed by the Dispensary Medical Officers under the Medical Charities Act for the first six years in the table; for those since 1858 under the same Act and the Act of that year for the further promotion of vaccination; and lastly, for the first nine months of 1864, the number of successful vaccinations under the Acts just mentioned, and the Act of 1863, to further extend and make compulsory the practice of vaccination in Ireland.

29. The comparison of the numbers in this table for the last two years demonstrates that the Act for compulsory vaccination of 1863 has already attained a remarkable amount of success. The vaccinations performed by the Dispensary Medical Officers in the last year in the table (during nine months of which successful cases only were registered) exceed the highest number of successful and unsuccessful cases reached in any previous year since the enactment of the Medical Charities Act by 51,399; and exceed the number of vaccinations, successful and unsuccessful, for 1863, by 85,300. There is reason to believe that the large excess of vaccinations for the last over the previous years was in a considerable measure owing to a misapprehension on the part of the peasantry and the poor in towns, who were under the persuasion, in many parts of the country, that the penalty imposed by the compulsory vaccination Act for neglect of vaccination applied to persons of all ages, no less than to children born since the 1st of January, 1864. So far as the large increase of vaccinations has arisen from this cause, it is not within the scope of the provisions of the Compulsory Vaccination Act; and it may be anticipated, that in future years this source of increased vaccination will fail, as the discovery is made that the compulsory vaccination applies only to children born since January 1st, 1864. The annexed table, in which these last cases are distinguished from the others, enables us to arrive at a just conclusion in regard to the true operation of the compulsory Act.

|---|---|---|---|
| | Cases of Children born since 1st Jan., 1864. | Other Cases. | Total. |
| | 1. | 2. | 3. |
| Ulster, . . . . . | 8,238 | 58,556 | 66,794 |
| Munster, . . . . | 6,996 | 40,759 | 47,755 |
| Leinster, . . . . | 7,397 | 43,272 | 50,669 |
| Connaught, . . . . | 2,723 | 23,869 | 26,592 |
| Total, Ireland, . | 25,354 | 166,456 | 191,810 |

The total in column 2 of this table exceeds by above 26,000 the number of all vaccinations, successful and unsuccessful, in any former year since the passing of the Medical Charities Act; although, for the last nine months of the year, it includes cases of successful vaccination only, and does not include the vaccinations of children born since the 1st of January, 1864. It appears that each province has contributed in pretty fair proportion to this large increase, from which we may infer the operation of some general cause, and we are aware of none—except the misapprehension just adverted to—calculated to produce this result. The total vaccinations in column 1 (25,354) of children born since January 1st, 1864, may seem at first sight unsatisfactorily small on putting it in contrast with the number of births registered in the same nine months to which these vaccinations belong, the births registered having amounted to 102,923; but it should be borne in mind that, on September 30th, 1864, only the children born within the first three months of the year fell under the operation of the Compulsory Vaccination Act, the penalties for neglect not taking effect till six months after the birth of the child; and further, we can assert that it is probable that these 25,354 vaccinations exceed those of children under the age of one year for the whole year ended September 30th, 1863; for we have reason to believe, that up to January, 1864, the number of vaccinations of children under one year of age was considerably less than one-fourth of the total number vaccinated in each year. We are therefore well satisfied with the amount of success that has attended the compulsory Act, as indicated by the number of infants vaccinated. It is certainly essential to its permanent success that the poor over all Ireland should be impressed with the belief that if the parents, or persons in charge of infants of six months old, have not had them vaccinated, and submitted for inspection on the eighth day after, there is a reasonable certainty that the penalty enacted by the 8th section of the Act will be inflicted. Accordingly, in all cases of default that come to our knowledge, we direct the Medical Officers to report them to the Boards of Guardians, whom we call upon, at the same time, to institute proceedings for the enforcement of the penalty through the Clerk of the Union or a Relieving Officer, the Medical Officer being summoned as a witness to prove the default. In the great majority of instances we have found the Boards of Guardians to undertake willingly the duty imposed on them by the Compulsory Vaccination Act of prosecuting defaulters. Hitherto the Boards of Guardians of Loughrea, Claremorris, Tobercurry, and Galway only, have shown an indisposition to perform their part in giving effect to the benevolent intentions of the Legislature; and we trust that our remonstrances will induce them to follow the example of other Boards in enforcing measures intended, and eminently calculated, to preserve human life. So far as has come to our knowledge, in every case of prosecution, the Justices have inflicted a penalty where wilful neglect on the part of the parents, or others in charge of the unvaccinated infants, was proved.

29. In the Appendix will be found, as usual, the table exhibiting the numbers of cases of scarlatina, small-pox, and fever, attended by the Dispensary Medical Officers during the year ended September 30th. The number of cases of small-pox reported for the last exceeds that of the preceding year, the numbers being 1,965 and 1,486. But owing to a desire on the part of the peasantry, prevailing in many localities, to conceal cases of small-pox from the Medical Officers, lest the reporting of them should lead to the detection and prosecution of itinerant inoculators of small-pox, whose practice they approve of, and with whom they maintain a sort of defensive alliance, we do not consider the Dispensary Registers are to be relied on as indicating the true amount of the disease existing at any particular time.

With respect to scarlatina and fever, a smaller number of cases of each has been attended for the year ended 29th September, 1864, than for the year preceding. The numbers of cases of fever reported for 1860, 1861, 1862, and 1863 rose continuously; having been for these years, respectively, 10,822, 12,386, 19,736, and 23,732. For last year the number was 21,586. For the last quarter of 1864, however, the returns, so far as they have been furnished, show a decided increase of fever in the dispensary districts, the numbers being 7,125 for the last quarter of 1864, against 4,566 for the corresponding quarter of 1863. We were induced by the increasing prevalence of the disease to address a circular, already mentioned, to the Guardians of unions, calling their attention to the subject, and pointing out measures, the adoption of which would tend to check or prevent the spread of the disease. For the first five or six weeks of the present year the number of cases of fever continued steadily to increase, and the disease became in a few localities alarmingly prevalent; but we are happy to be able to state, that at the present time it appears to be once more decidedly declining.

DEPARTMENTAL ARRANGEMENTS.

30. Under this head we have to express to your Excellency our sorrow at the removal from amongst us, by accidental sudden death, of our late colleague, Mr. Edward Senior, whose loss is not only deeply felt in the Department, but has called forth a very general expression of regret on the part of the public. The vacancy thus made in the office of Commissioner has been filled up by the appointment of Mr. Richard Montesquieu Bellew.

We have the honour to be,

Your Excellency's obedient faithful servants,

ORDERS AND CIRCULARS OF INSTRUCTIONS ISSUED BY THE COMMISSIONERS; CORRESPONDENCE, &c.

I.—ORDERS.

General Order relating to the Qualifications of Medical Officers of Workhouses.

To the Guardians of the Poor of the several Unions named in the schedule hereunto annexed; to the Clerk or Clerks to the Justices of the Petty Sessions held for the division or divisions in which the townlands and places comprised within the said Unions are situate; and to all other persons whom it may concern:

Whereas, in exercise of the powers given to us by the Acts in force for the relief of the destitute poor in Ireland, we, the Commissioners for administering the Laws for Relief of the Poor in Ireland, by a General Order under our seal, bearing date the tenth day of October, 1862, did order, direct, and declare, that, except as was thereinafter provided, the qualifications of every medical officer of a Workhouse, who might thereafter be appointed in any Union in Ireland, should be as follows, that is to say:—

No. 1. He shall have obtained a degree in medicine, or a diploma or license to practise medicine, from some college or other body that may be authorized to grant a diploma or license to practise medicine in Great Britain or Ireland, also a diploma in surgery or a license to practise surgery from some college or other body that may be authorized to grant a diploma or license to practise surgery in Great Britain or Ireland, and also a certificate from some board or court of examiners, or other body duly authorized to grant the same, of his possessing a competent knowledge of midwifery.

No. 2. He shall have reached the age of twenty-three years.

And whereas, doubt exists whether the said above recited qualification includes a licentiate of the Apothecaries' Hall, Dublin, registered as such under the provisions of "The Medical Act" (1858), which Act declares every person so registered to be entitled, according to his qualification or qualifications, to practise medicine or surgery, or medicine and surgery, as the case may be, in any part of Her Majesty's dominions, and it is therefore expedient to make further regulations in that behalf:

Now, therefore, we do hereby order, direct, and declare, that the qualification of every medical officer of a Workhouse who may be appointed after the date hereof in any Union in Ireland, shall be either as in the said order is declared, or shall be as follows, that is to say:—

No. 1. He shall be a licentiate of the Apothecaries' Hall, Dublin, and shall have obtained a diploma in surgery or a license to practise surgery from some college or other body that may be authorized to grant a diploma or license to practise surgery in Great Britain or Ireland, and also a certificate from some board or court of examiners, or other body duly authorized to grant the same, of his possessing a competent knowledge of midwifery.

No. 2. He shall have reached the age of twenty-three years.

And we do hereby confirm every part of the said above recited order of the tenth day of October, 1862, which shall not be inconsistent with the provisions of this order.

II.—CIRCULARS.

No. 1.—Expenses under the Acts for registering Births and Deaths, and Marriages.

Poor Law Commission Office, Dublin,
May 3, 1864.

Sir,

The Commissioners have received communications requesting information as to how the expenses of the Acts for the Registration of Births, Deaths, and Marriages are paid in England; and as they have reason to think that these inquiries have been occasioned by a circular which has been issued by the Belfast Board of Guardians to all the Unions in Ireland, the Commissioners think it right to state, for the Guardians' information, that the expenses in question are paid in England as in Ireland —partly from the poor rates and partly from the general taxes; the expense of providing the Register offices and of the fees for registering the Births, Deaths, and Marriages, being that portion which falls on the poor rate in both countries;—thus in the Poor Law accounts for England, for the year ended 25th March, 1862, the sum of £67,633 appears under the head "Payments on account of the Registration Act," viz.:—Fees to "Clergymen and Registrars; outlay for Register offices, books, and forms." In Scotland a separate assessment is made to meet these expenses on the property liable to poor rate.

By order of the Commissioners,

B. Banks, Chief Clerk.

To the Clerk of each Union.

No. 2.—Maintenance of Deserted Children.

Poor Law Commission Office, Dublin,
May 30, 1864.

Sir,

The Commissioners for administering the Laws for Relief of the Poor in Ireland desire to draw the attention of the Board of Guardians to those provisions of the Act for the abolition of Vestry Cess in Ireland (27 Vic., c. 17) which relate to the maintenance of Deserted Children.

By the second section of the Act it is provided that, from and after the passing of the Act, it shall not be lawful for any Vestry in Ireland to appoint Overseers of Deserted Children, and that all other powers exercised by Vestries with respect to the charge, maintenance, and education of Deserted Children, shall wholly cease and determine; and by the 6th section, parts of various Acts relating to the subject (including the 109th section of the 6 & 7 Wm. IV., c. 116, and the 44th section of the 7 & 8 Vic., c. 106, which authorized Grand Juries to make presentments for the maintenance of Deserted Children) are repealed.

The 3rd section enacts as follows:—"From and after the passing of this Act, the several Acts in force for the relief of the Destitute Poor in Ireland shall be and are hereby declared to be applicable to all cases of Destitute Deserted Children which are now relieved or relievable under the Acts relating to Parish Vestries, or under the Grand Jury Act, or any other Act for the relief of Deserted Children."

By order of the Commissioners,

B. Banks, Chief Clerk.

To the Clerk of each Union.

No. 3.—Removal of Irish Poor from England and Scotland.

Poor Law Commission Office, Dublin,
June 21, 1864.

Sir,

Adverting to the Circular Letter of the 16th November, 1861,* in which the Commissioners suggested that in every case of removal from England, certain questions should be put to the pauper on arrival at the workhouse, the Commissioners for administering the Laws for Relief of the Poor in Ireland desire to state that, from the changes which have taken place in the law relating to the removal of poor persons to Ireland since the date of that circular, and which were communicated to the Board of Guardians in the Circular Letters dated the 14th March and 25th August, 1863, the Commissioners have thought it advisable to revise the suggested heads of inquiry, and they transmit herewith a list of the questions which they now recommend to be asked in each case.

The object of these questions is to ascertain, as far as practicable, whether the removal has been a legal one, in order that the appropriate remedy may be sought for in any case in which the removal has been illegal.

In case of illegal removal from England a right of appeal now exists; and although no such right has been given in the case of Scotch removals, it is desirable that the suggested inquiries should be made in reference to removals from Scotland as well as from England.

By order of the Commissioners,

B. Banks, Chief Clerk.

To the Clerk of each Union.

Heads of Inquiry.

1. Date of warrant or copy (send copy if received)?
2. Date of embarkation?
3. Name of the port at which the embarkation took place?
4. How sent; as a deck passenger or otherwise?

9. How long had the pauper resided in such place before leaving Ireland?
10. Where was the pauper residing in England or Scotland when he became chargeable? Give the name of the Union, and also of the parish or township, if possible.
11. How long had he resided there?
12. If less than three years, give as accurately as possible the particulars of previous residence for at least three years, stating in all cases, if possible, the name of the Union, and of the parish or township.
13. If the pauper is a widow, when did her husband die?
14. If the pauper is a married woman, deserted by her husband, how long is it since the desertion took place?

In either of the last-mentioned cases the following questions should be asked:—

18. How long had the parent resided there?

No. 4.—Registration of Parliamentary Voters—Clerk's Duties.

Poor Law Commission Office, Dublin,
June 29, 1864.

Sir,

The Commissioners for administering the Laws for Relief of the Poor in Ireland transmit to you herewith a copy of an Act (27 & 28 Vic., c. 22) to amend the laws which regulate the registration of Parliamentary voters in counties in Ireland.

The Commissioners desire to call your attention to the provisions of the 2nd and 9th sections of the Act, under which you will be required, in the event of new or altered polling districts being or having been established, to furnish some additional information to that which is now required to be given under the Parliamentary Voters Act. The 15th section of the Act also contains some provisions to which the Commissioners think it right to direct your attention, in regard to your attendance at the Revision Courts and the production of documents.

By order of the Commissioners,
B. Banks, Chief Clerk.

To the Clerk of each Union.

No. 5.—Duties of Relieving Officers in Cases arising under the 2nd sec. of 25 & 26 Vic., c. 83.

Poor Law Commission Office, Dublin,
October 3, 1864.

Sir,

The Commissioners for administering the Laws for Relief of the Poor in Ireland request the attention of the Board of Guardians to the enclosed paper, entitled "Instructions to Relieving Officers on certain points of duty arising under the 2nd section of 25 & 26 Vic., cap. 83, which prohibits the Guardians from relieving persons occupying more than a quarter of an acre of land, otherwise than in the workhouse."

In the course of a recent inquiry into the case of a man, seventy-six years of age, suffering under rheumatism and dropsy, who was in occupation of an acre of bog-garden, and who died after several months of severe privation without receiving any relief, it was found that misapprehension on some points existed on the part of the Guardians and the Relieving Officer, and interfered to some extent with the due administration of relief; and the Commissioners now issue the instructions referred to in order to provide against the occurrence of similar misapprehension in like cases in other Unions.

The Guardians will have the goodness to see that each Relieving Officer is furnished with a copy of the instructions referred to, for which purpose a sufficient number of copies is enclosed.

By order of the Commissioners,
B. Banks, Chief Clerk.

To the Clerk of each Union.

Instructions to Relieving Officers on certain points of duty arising under the 2nd section of 25 & 26 Vic., cap. 83, which prohibits the Guardians from relieving persons occupying more than a quarter of an acre of land otherwise than in the Workhouse.

It has already been stated in a Circular of the Commissioners, dated 15th June, 1863,* that, notwithstanding the enactment above quoted, the provisional powers of the Relieving Officers, in regard to cases of sudden and urgent necessity, are equally applicable in cases of persons holding a quarter of an acre of land as in other cases of sudden and urgent necessity.

* Seventeenth Annual Report, page 21.

It is now to be further pointed out that the prohibition of out-door relief in such cases applies only to the occupier himself, and that if his wife, or any member of his family, falls within any of the classes enumerated in sec. 1 of 10 Vic., cap. 31, as capable of receiving out-relief, the Guardians can relieve such person either in or out of the Workhouse.

It is not now necessary that the occupier of more than a quarter of an acre of land should cease to occupy the land in order to obtain relief.

Should an occupier of more than a quarter of an acre apply for relief, the Relieving Officer is bound to submit the application to the Board of Guardians, as in the case of any other applicant, and not to deal with it on his own authority, unless it be a case of sudden and urgent necessity, in which he can exercise his provisional power in the first instance, and bring the case before the Guardians afterwards.

The words "sudden and urgent necessity" have been construed in a recent case as not admitting the exercise of the provisional power of the Relieving Officer in cases of destitution which have been of long standing.

This construction the Commissioners consider to be erroneous. They have always interpreted the words "sudden and urgent necessity" to apply to every description of case in which there was a necessity for affording relief promptly and immediately; and they believe that this acceptation of the words has been almost universally acted upon. The recent occurrence of a case in which the non-exercise of the provisional power was accounted for by the fact that the distress had existed in the same degree for a long time previously, makes it desirable to caution Relieving Officers against the erroneous construction referred to. Their plain duty is to exercise their power in every case in which it may appear to them that a "necessity" exists for its prompt and immediate exercise.

No. 6.—Transfer of Dangerous Lunatics to Asylums.

Poor Law Commission Office, Dublin,
November 18, 1864.

Sir,

The attention of the Commissioners for administering the Laws for Relief of the Poor in Ireland has been drawn to the circumstance that where lunatic inmates of Workhouses have become, or have been supposed to be, dangerous, Boards of Guardians have in some instances resorted at once to the provisions of the law which enable Justices, on due information, to commit dangerous lunatics to gaol, instead of making application to the authorities of the lunatic asylum for the district, in order to obtain admission for the patient.

The Commissioners are of opinion that in all cases of this kind, where it is practicable, application for admission should, in the first instance, be made to the authorities of the lunatic asylum, stating the particulars of the case; but at the same time they think that in the event of such an application being refused or postponed for want of room, the necessary steps should be taken to effect removal to gaol, as a place of safer custody than the Workhouse, pending admission to the asylum.

This appears to be the view taken by the Inspectors of Lunatic Asylums on the subject, who in a Memorandum submitted to the Under Secretary of the Lord Lieutenant, and referred to the Commissioners for consideration, state as follows:—

"When a case of insanity requiring, in the opinion of the Medical Officer, asylum treatment occurs in the Workhouse, a communication should immediately be made to the Resident Medical Superintendent of the District Lunatic Asylum informing him of the particulars of the case, when, should it appear from the facts stated to be a proper one for admission, and if there should be at the time a vacancy available in the institution, the lunatic will be immediately received; but in no case should committal to gaol be resorted to unless as a last resource, and when there is no room in the asylum."

The Commissioners recommend the Guardians to act in accordance with this view in all future cases in which it is practicable, and to avoid, as far as possible, having informations sworn with a view to the committal of lunatics to gaol, until they have endeavoured, unsuccessfully, to obtain admission for them to the asylum.

By order of the Commissioners,
B. Banks, Chief Clerk.

To the Clerk of each Union.

No. 7.—Qualification of Medical Officers.

Poor Law Commission Office, Dublin,
November 30, 1864.

Sir,

The Commissioners for administering the Laws for Relief of the Poor in Ireland forward herewith copies of two General Orders, which they have issued, amending the General Orders dated 10th October, 1862, which prescribe the qualification of Medical Officers of Workhouses and Dispensaries in Ireland.*

The claim of the Governor and Company of Apothecaries' Hall, Dublin, to have their Licence considered a sufficient medical qualification has been for some time past under the consideration of the Commissioners.

In support of the claim it has been represented to the Commissioners that the Medical Council, established under the Medical Act of 1858, have declared their opinion that the registered Licentiate of Apothecaries' Hall, Dublin, is entitled to practise medicine in any part of Her Majesty's dominions; and that, in accordance with that opinion, the Secretary of State for War has come to the conclusion that those Licentiates should no longer be debarred from presenting themselves for examination for appointments in the army.

Under these circumstances the Commissioners have determined to admit Licentiates of Apothecaries' Hall, Dublin, possessing at the same time the diploma of surgeon and a midwifery certificate, to compete for appointments under the Poor Law and Medical Charities Acts; and the Law Officers of the Crown in Ireland having advised that the terms of the Orders of the 10th October, 1862, do not include the Licence of Apothecaries' Hall, Dublin, it has become necessary to amend those Orders accordingly.

By order of the Commissioners,

B. Banks, Chief Clerk.

To the Clerk of each Union.

No. 8.—Precautions against Epidemic Fever.

Poor Law Commission Office, Dublin,
December 6, 1864.

Sir,

The Commissioners for administering the Laws for Relief of the Poor in Ireland beg to draw the attention of the Board of Guardians to the fact that at the present time, and for several weeks past, cases of fever, and of a very dangerous type in some localities, have been more frequent in the country than at any time during a long series of years past.

The season is now approaching when the inmates of Workhouses, of whom so many are usually admitted in sickness, may be expected to reach their highest number during the year; and when, accordingly, there is the most danger to be apprehended of the spread of dangerous contagious disease, both within the walls of the Workhouse and outside.

Although the Unions may be few in which serious cause for alarm has yet manifested itself, it appears to be of much importance that in every Union there should be as perfect a state of preparation as possible, to meet the contingency of an outbreak of epidemic fever.

Almost every Union in Ireland is now provided with a fever hospital, situate on the Workhouse premises, serving not only as a protection against contagious disease to the establishment itself, but as an hospital available for the population comprised in the Union; and it is desirable that the Medical Officer of the Workhouse should be called on to state officially to the Guardians whether he is perfectly satisfied with the arrangements existing to meet a possible outbreak of fever, or if not, to place before the Guardians any requisitions for the adoption of further precautions which he may feel it to be his duty to make.

The Guardians will not confine themselves to the provision of such requisites as may be wanting in their hospitals and infirmaries, but turn their attention also, and with increased vigilance, to the consideration of any measures which may require to be taken in order to maintain a good sanitary condition in the general body of inmates in the Workhouse.

The existing state of the sewerage, ventilation, and cleanliness of the building in every part should undergo minute examination, and be remedied where found defective. The stocks of bedding and clothing should be kept up in a state of sufficient abundance and of such quality as to secure warmth and comfort to every class, especially to the aged and infirm and young children.

Another security against the attack of disease is to remove, as far as possible, all tendency to depression of spirits on the part of the inmates, and to promote cheerfulness by every available means; such as affording continuous employment of the classes to whom employment is suitable, and a proper amount of recreation and exercise to all.

In all these matters the Workhouse Visiting Committee has well-defined duties to perform, which cannot be neglected without peculiar danger, under existing circumstances, to the sanitary state of the Workhouse.

The removal in due time, and in proper conveyances, of persons attacked by dangerous contagious disease to the Workhouse fever hospital, or other fever hospital, if any such exists, within the Union, is an object which should be pursued with the utmost care and assiduity by the Guardians and their officers, and more especially the Relieving Officers, and the members and medical officers of the Dispensary Committees.

It is probable that any prejudice which may have been created against the Workhouse hospitals in the minds of the poor by the use of indiscreet language on the part of persons having influence over them, may, by due exertion, in the time of approaching danger, be dispelled.

Even in times of comparative security many lives are known to have been lost by the operation of unfounded prejudices created by the use of such language as that referred to; and it is not unreasonable to hope that under less favourable circumstances the beneficent provision made by the Legislature for the sick and destitute poor may be exhibited to them in a light no longer adverse to their availing themselves of relief in the hour of necessity.

It is not out of place on this occasion to remind the Guardians of their powers and duties under the Nuisances Removal and Diseases Prevention Act, and to refer them, for a full exposition of their powers and duties, to the Circular addressed to them on the 19th October, 1852, and to the copy of that Circular which is printed at page 74 of the Appendix to the Commissioners' Second Annual Report under the Medical Charities Act.

By order of the Commissioners,

B. Banks, Chief Clerk.

To the Clerk of each Union.

Sir,

The Commissioners for administering the Laws for Relief of the Poor in Ireland transmit herewith, for your information and guidance, a copy of a Circular Letter (142 M/64), which they have addressed to the Boards of Guardians of the several Unions in Ireland, drawing their attention to the prevalence of fever in some localities, and to the importance of making timely preparations to meet the possible contingency of an outbreak of epidemic fever.

By order of the Commissioners,

To the Medical Officer of each Workhouse.

No. 10.—Maintenance of Deaf and Dumb, or Blind, in Asylums.

Poor Law Commission Office, Dublin,
January 10, 1865.

Sir,

The Commissioners for administering the Laws for Relief of the Poor in Ireland desire to state that, from inquiries which have recently been addressed to them, it appears that the precise limits of the powers of Boards of Guardians in regard to the sending young persons to asylums for the maintenance of the deaf and dumb, or blind, are not, in all cases, fully understood; and the Commissioners think it desirable, therefore, to draw attention to the 14th section of the Act 6 & 7 Vic., cap. 92, by which the powers in question are conferred. The section in question is in the following terms:—

"And be it enacted that the Guardians of any Union may send any destitute poor deaf and dumb or blind child under the age of eighteen to any institution for the maintenance of the deaf and dumb, or blind, which may be approved of by the Commissioners, with the consent of the parents or guardians of such child, and may pay the expense of its maintenance there out of the rates raised under the authority of the said first recited Act."

It will be seen by the above quoted section that it is not necessary, as has been sometimes supposed, that the person to be sent to the asylum should be, or have previously been, an inmate of the Workhouse, or that the sanction of the Commissioners is necessary in each individual case, the only conditions imposed being the following:—

1. That the child shall be a destitute poor child.
2. That, at the time of sending any such person to the institution, he or she shall be under the age of eighteen years.
3. That the institution shall be one approved of by the Commissioners.
4. That the parents or guardians of the child shall be consenting parties.

In regard to the first of the above-mentioned conditions, the Guardians are the sole judges, in each individual case that may come before them, of the question whether the child can be regarded as a destitute poor child within the meaning of the Act, and a fit object for the description of relief contemplated.

By order of the Commissioners,

B. Banks, Chief Clerk.

To the Clerk of each Union.

CORRESPONDENCE.

III.—Reports from Poor Law Inspectors relative to the State of the Country and the Condition of the Poorer Classes.

1. From Mr. R. Hamilton, dated February 18, 1865.

(District comprising the Counties of Donegal and Fermanagh, and portions of the Counties of Antrim, Cavan, Londonderry, Monaghan, and Tyrone.)

It is universally admitted that the harvest of last year was most productive, and the yield of grain and potatoes greater than for many years past; consequently there is abundance of good and wholesome food for the population.

There is a great diversity of opinion as to the present condition of the farming class in my district, attributable to the size of their holdings, and the quality of their land; but on the whole, I have no hesitation in saying, they are better off now than they have been for some years past.

In the counties Tyrone, Londonderry, and Fermanagh, and where the holdings are large, I find the condition of the farmers much improved. Rents have been better paid, and the whole tone and spirit is hopeful and cheerful: there appears a general steady advance in the system of tillage, while the breed of cattle is rapidly improving. But in the county of Donegal, and wherever the holdings are small, and the owners depending altogether on tillage, I find the reports of the condition of the farming class not so favourable: rents have been badly paid, and the people are suffering from an accumulation of debt incurred during previous bad seasons. The low price of agricultural produce has pressed severely on these people, and rendered it difficult for them to meet their liabilities; but they have a good supply of food and fuel available for their use, and I look on their present difficulties as merely temporary.

The balances left in the banks in this district do not indicate any change in the condition of the farming class; but this may be attributed to the fact, that the farmers who can afford to do so are holding over their produce (especially flax) in the hope of a rise in prices.

There does not exist at present, nor do I anticipate any extraordinary destitution in any part of my district. There seems to be a good prospect of employment, and wages are quite as high as they have been, whilst the necessaries of life are unusually low, so that the people amongst whom destitution generally arises are more comfortable now than they have been of late years.

There has been epidemic disease in some few parts of my district; but I attribute it more to defective sanitary arrangements in a few towns and villages, than to any want of proper food. With these exceptions my district has been healthy.

2. From Dr. Knox, dated February 18, 1865.

(District comprising portions of the counties of Antrim, Armagh, Cavan, Down, Londonderry, and Monaghan.)

Remarks on the state of the country (Ireland), deduced from lengthened personal observation in Ulster, and more especially its north-eastern portion, including the counties of Antrim, Down, Armagh, Monaghan, and parts of Londonderry and Tyrone, as well as from inquiries instituted in reliable quarters.

State generally.—The conclusion I have arrived at is, that for more than a quarter of century, with occasional checks and fluctuations common to all communities, there has been a gradual, but progressive improvement in the circumstances and condition of the people. One of these checks arose from the failure of the potato crops, and the famine and epidemic fever of 1846–7 ; another more recent arrest of the prosperity gradually succeeding the very trying period referred to was caused by the unusual sequence of three wet seasons and unfavourable harvests in the years 1861, 1862, and 1863. But subsequently to the years mentioned, improvement has again taken place to a very perceptible degree ; and on the whole, within my sphere of observation above referred to, the condition of the people, in place of being in a state of retrogression, is one of gradual advancement on the whole.

This conclusion is advanced with considerable confidence, being grounded on the results of observation of the circumstances of the country under various aspects, which may be referred to as follows in detail.

State of Agriculture.—Within the last thirty years improvement, to some extent in the science, and in a very obvious degree in the practice of farming, has taken place. Extensive drainage, promoted by private enterprise, and encouraged by the Legislature, and the aid of parliamentary grants ; the introduction and extending growth of green crops, especially of mangel-wurzel and turnips, to which the importation of guano, and the manufacture of various new and hitherto unknown artificial manures largely contributed ; the improvement in every description of live stock, especially of sheep, swine, and horned cattle, as well as in all kinds of farming implements, and the increased skill exibited in using them, all testify to the advancement which has taken place in the state of agriculture. Improved descriptions of cattle have been introduced at very considerable expense by many of the landlords, who have made selections with this object in view from the best breeding stocks in Scotland and England ; and the taste for improved farming has been fostered by the establishment of the North-East Agricultural Society, and various minor farming societies, and the institution of cattle and farming implement shows. A society has also been established in Belfast, "The Chemico-Agricultural Society" of Ulster, with the object of diffusing a knowledge of the chemistry and scientific principles of agriculture.

Condition of the Farming Classes.—This was, questionless, deteriorated by the three bad seasons alluded to ; but an improvement quite perceptible has again taken place in the past year. In proof of this it may be stated that the rents, not recently diminished, but rather increased, are generally well paid up, and in many properties never better than at the present time. Of this I am assured, in addition to my own observation, by the concurring testimony of various reliable informants. As regards the condition of the farming classes, considerable complaint is made of the low prices of cereal produce ; and it is undeniable that grain crops of all descriptions are considerably lower of late years, as a general rule, than they were formerly. Wheat is so low as to have become unremunerative, and its cultivation within my range of observation has consequently diminished—oats, and more recently flax, having taken its place in rotation on the farming scale. To the extent of the reduction in the price of the cereal crops, the produce of the cultivator may be admitted to have diminished ; whilst the cost of their production, from the increased rate of labour, has considerably increased. The price of oats, as that of wheat, has also fallen, but not to the same extent ; and I have seen it lower than at present for several years in succession, long prior to the repeal of the Corn Laws—8*d.* in place of 9*d.* per stone, as at present, having been the highest rate of the market. But granting the profits of the farmer to be reduced by the depression in the grain market, the compensating circumstances must not be overlooked. The extended growth of flax, far exceeding in the past year that even of the previous or any other year, has materially improved the condition of the farmer ; indeed the increase of this crop has been so great that the old means of preparing it for market have become quite inadequate, and new scutching-mills have been erected, or they are in course of erection, in all directions. Other compensating circumstances for the low price of grain are the highly remunerative prices of butter and pork, which are staple articles of production, and largely contribute to the realization of the rents in this part of the country. The fattening of cattle is also remunerative, both from the high price of beef and the necessary production of the richest description of manure, whilst grazing and the rearing of young stock are at present highly profitable, horned cattle being dearer probably than at any anterior period. The price of mutton, and greatly increased value of wool consequent on the American civil war and scarcity of cotton, have also been an increased source of profit to no inconsiderable extent. On the whole, therefore, I think the condition of the farming interest has improved, especially as the increased price of manual labour has to some extent been neutralized by the adaptation of improved machinery to agricultural purposes in the hands of the more extensive farmers.

State of the Labouring Population.—This must be considered favourable, as there is abundant occupation, at high wages as compared with former periods, for all who are disposed to work ; whilst the provisions which enter most largely into their consumption are good, cheap, and abundant. Bread, oatmeal, flour, Indian meal, and potatoes, as well as tea and sugar, are all to be had at much lower prices than formerly ; whilst the wages, whether of domestic servants, agricultural labourers, or artizans, are greatly increased, being certainly one-third, and in some cases double what they were at no very distant period ; the result of the introduction of steam having been to equalize both the price of labour and of produce in the different markets of the kingdom. And in estimating their condition, the legal provision made for their support when disabled by misfortune, sickness, or old age, by the introduction of the poor laws, and the compulsory and improved system of medical relief, ensured to them by the Medical Charities Act, are not to be overlooked.

State of Trade and Manufactures.—Trade generally has recently improved, and may be described as brisk, not only in Belfast, the heart of the province, but also in other towns. In Belfast the increase of steam weaving and spinning mills has been extraordinary, and they are at present fully employed, and realizing very large profits, whilst they afford remunerative occupation to a very considerable proportion of the community. Shop-business has also recently improved, whilst the lodgments of money on deposit receipts in the banks are stated to have increased in place of being diminished.

The amount of steam-shipping in Belfast has considerably augmented, and a large increase been thereby effected in the cross-channel trade ; whilst no inconsiderable amount of capital has been invested in the extension of railways, the receipts of which are again improving. Houses of improved and enlarged construction have recently increased in numbers, very much in Belfast, and in varying degrees in other places. The linen trade also is in a prosperous state in the various localities where it has been established, and in itself alone contributes in no immaterial degree to the employment of a large number of the people in remunerative labour, and of course to their means for living in comfort.

The Health of the People may, on the whole, be described as good. Fever, no doubt, has prevailed in various localities to greater or less extent, but not at all in that wide-spread and destructive form too well known in Ireland in former years ; and it is equally prevalent, if not more so, in Scotland and England ; and at any rate it is not, I conceive, to be attributed to any circumstances of the people, but rather to inappreciable atmospheric causes. It is also, I believe, rather subsiding than extending; and so far as the workhouses are considered tests of destitution, the numbers, so far as I have observed, are either not increased or in many instances considerably diminished, contrasting the present with the corresponding period of the two last years; and even the existing numbers shall probably decrease as the advance of spring and the increased demand for agricultural labour shall tend to draw them away to remunerative employment.

On the whole, my observations fully warrant the belief that the state of the country, or of this part of it at all events, has improved, and that it is improving; and afford no countenance to the opinion that it is in an unsound or unsatisfactory condition in a financial point of view; although in some districts the population may have decreased, owing to extensive emigration.

3. From Dr. Brodie, dated February 17, 1865.

(District comprising portions of the counties of Galway, Leitrim, Mayo, Roscommon, and Sligo.)

In reply to yours, dated 11th instant, I beg to state that I have since endeavoured to obtain the most reliable information in my district with regard to the points therein set forth.

First, rents are better paid this year than they have been for the past few years. In general they have been well and punctually met. A better system with respect to rent-paying is becoming general through the country. Landlords do not allow arrears to accumulate, and the tenants are anxious, if possible, to meet their rents at the appointed times.

There is some, but not much improvement in farming. Save in a few instances, there cannot be said to be an application of capital and knowledge to improve farms and increase the productive power of the soil. In many cases, however, there is more attention bestowed upon the cultivation of turnips. There is still a tendency to increase the size of holdings, and to convert tillage lands into pasture. Even with comparatively small holders there is less attention to tillage, and more effort to become rearers of calves and sheep.

The middle and large class of farmers are certainly better off this year than they have been for years past. The prices obtained for cattle, sheep, and wool, must have left them large profits.

The occupiers of from twenty to fifty acres of land have also improved. These combining tillage with pasturage have shared in the profits of the latter, whilst a better harvest has also helped them on.

The smaller holders of land, depending on tillage alone, can hardly be said to be doing well, although their condition is much improved by the plentiful potato crop of last summer. Oats have paid badly, but the pigs reared have helped to compensate for the low price of corn.

So far as I have been able to learn, the deposits in the banks cannot be taken as a criterion of the prosperity of the farming class. The bankers with whom I have conversed could not, they told me, determine by this standard. It would appear that spare capital is laid out in taking and stocking additional land.

The trade of small money lenders, called "gambeen men," is much on the decline; and although, upon the one hand, it may be looked upon as showing a distrustful spirit, I regard it as a hopeful sign of energy and self-reliance. I am of opinion that the small land-holders who have struggled through the past years, and have not made up their minds to emigrate, are animated by a more industrious, frugal, and persevering disposition. There is also this year a great decrease in the number of civil bills for recovery of small debts. The process-server of Swineford informed me on yesterday that while at this period last year he had served 125 civil bill processes for the then approaching sessions, this year he had not served one.

In the rural districts there is much less destitution than for the past three years. Potatoes are plentiful, of good quality, and cheap, not exceeding 3*d.* per stone. Oatmeal is also cheap, so much so that little Indian meal is now being used.

The condition of the labouring class is not, however, improved. The high price of cattle and sheep, and the low price of agricultural produce, have diminished the demand for labour—at least, in an equal ratio to the increase that would have arisen from emigration.

There is a good deal of poverty in towns. The social changes occurring in the rural districts are adverse to the prosperity of the towns. The decrease of population and of tillage have seriously diminished the resources upon which the towns have hitherto relied, and no descriptions of manufacturing industry have yet supplied the deficiency.

The movement to increase the cultivation of flax has not yet reached the proportions which would affect the prospects of the town population depending on employment for bread, nor are there yet any signs of flax cultivation and manufacture being so largely developed as to effect a sensible improvement.

There have been some outbreaks of fever in some localities, but nothing like an epidemic. The only disease that has appeared in an epidemic form is measles, which has been almost entirely confined to children. The fever has been generally confined to towns; and from the class of persons attacked, it is evident that it has not been attendant upon destitution. In the Galway Fever Hospital there are now only twenty cases, and the admissions for the past three months have been fewer than for the same period in the preceding years. The persons treated for the past quarter were policemen, tradesmen, farm and domestic servants, and labourers exposed to severity of weather, &c.

In this locality, having the name of suffering from so much distress, the disease prevailing has been no greater than could be expected amongst its population.

The state of the Workhouse Infirmary affords evidence of the same state of things; so that, measured by disease, destitution does not exist to an abnormal extent in this district.

4. From Dr. King, dated February 17, 1865.

So far as I have been able to ascertain, the rents have been fairly paid this year.

I am not aware of any improvements in farming having been adopted. The farmers do not appear to have made larger lodgments than usual with the bankers. Farmers having grazing land have sunk the principal portion of their money in stock, which pays very well; and the small farmers, in consequence of the abundance of the potato crop lowering the price of grain, have not any money to lodge. Yet they are able to feed pigs, to pay their rent tolerably well, and to procure clothing for their families; for, notwithstanding the high price of clothing material, the peasantry in general are better clad than they have been for some years past.

The number of applicants for admission to the Workhouses has been less than usual this year. In the institutions under my charge there are at the present moment 200 less inmates than at a corresponding date last year, and outside the Workhouses I have not heard of any death from destitution.

In over-populated towns where there is little employment for the people, such as Galway, there is at all periods of the year more or less distress.

Food is cheap; potatoes can be obtained from $2\frac{1}{2}d.$ to $3d.$ a stone, and in some localities for even less.

There has been and is a good deal of fever scattered through the country, but manifesting itself principally in towns such as Sligo, Ballina, Boyle, &c., but generally yielding to well-directed sanitary measures. In many instances the surrounding rural districts have been comparatively free from the disease.

In some localities fever has been prevalent, but it can scarcely be regarded even in those places as epidemic, and certainly not as originating from want of food or from a destitute condition of the people.

The only disease of an epidemic nature prevalent at present is measles.

In many of the districts where a number of cases of fever are recorded as having occurred, and where the Registrars affirm that all the deaths which have taken place in the district have been registered, the mortality is below the average in a similar population in England and Wales during the absence of epidemic disease. For example, the average number of deaths in England and Wales is 2·3 per cent.; the population of the Ballina Dispensary District is 23,369, which at the above rate would give 134 for the quarter ending the 31st of December last, whereas the number of deaths registered is only 88.

Further Letter from Dr. King, dated February 18, 1865.

In my letter of yesterday I expressed an opinion that the fever at present prevailing in Ireland was not referable to want of food or to destitution. It now occurs to me that it would be well to offer some opinion as to the probable cause which has led to the spread of the fever endemic in this country.

I have remarked that this usually occurs after a long drought, such as we had last summer. On such occasions a considerable quantity of organic matter dries upon the ground, which, if there were rain, would have been flooded away. On the accession of rain this matter undergoes decomposition, and thus generates miasm, which, if the rain be not abundant, is only carried towards but not into the rivers, and accumulating around them, lights up existing fever into increased activity.

In corroboration of these views I would instance my own district, in which fever is more intense in towns through which rivers run than elsewhere; for example, in Limerick, Ennis, Boyle, Sligo, &c.

Perhaps this may appear to you too theoretical, but it is a theory based on practical observation.

5. From Mr. Robinson, dated February 17, 1865.

(District comprising the counties of Dublin and Louth, and portions of the counties of Antrim, Armagh, Cavan, Down, Kildare, King's county, Meath, Monaghan, Tyrone, and Wicklow.)

In accordance with the wish expressed in your letter of the 11th instant, I would offer the following observations relative to the state of that part of Ireland comprised in my district, which consists, as you are aware, of fifteen unions in Leinster and six in Ulster.

I will first allude to the condition of the farmers, and I have every reason to believe that they are better off now than they have been for three years past. Small farmers, depending mainly upon the oat crop, have not, I understand, derived as much benefit as others from the harvest of last year, in consequence of the very low price of corn; but there are few of that class in this part of Ireland, and the information that has reached me fully justifies me in asserting that there is, in general, a decided improvement in the position of the farmers in the counties through which my district extends.

The bank deposits of the farmers in the north have increased this year, which may be attributed to the prosperous state of the linen trade, and to the fact that many of the flax growers have made largely this season; and the improvement which I consider has taken place in the condition of the farmers, both in Ulster and Leinster, has been indicated in the manner in which rents have been paid, as I have learned from gentlemen who have large agencies in almost every county in my district that the last rents due have been well paid, and more easily collected than in the two former years.

Emigration is still going on, and I think would increase if American affairs were more settled; this will, no doubt, ultimately make a material alteration in the rate of wages. But, although there is at present a tendency towards a rise, there has not of late been any very important change in that respect; and I think this may be attributed to the fact that the demand for labour, which would naturally be affected by the emigration, is in some measure diminished by the conversion of tillage farms into grazing land, and to the growing desire manifested by farmers to make this change whenever they have it in their power to do so. This must, of course, lessen the employment given in the country, and counterbalances to some extent the effect which the emigration otherwise would have on the rate of wages; but, although there has been no sensible alteration very lately in the amount paid to labourers, they are better off this year than they have been for some time past, as they are more abundantly supplied with the necessaries of life at a cheaper rate, provisions are low in price, and potatoes are plentiful and of good quality.

With reference to your inquiry as to the destitution in my district, I could not give you any information as to the numbers relieved which you have not already in your office; but I may state, that in the part of Ulster which is in my charge, the number of persons receiving relief is somewhat less than at this time last year; while in Leinster there has been a slight increase. This increase in Leinster may, I think, be attributed principally to the severity of the weather this winter; the South Dublin Workhouse is quite full, which is mainly owing to the number of applications for relief received from the aged and infirm, and to the fact that the workhouse is becoming more and more an institution to which the sick and infirm resort for hospital treatment.

As far as I am aware, I believe that my district is free from any epidemic disease, and I do not think that the few instances in which temporary local distress occasions an unusual demand for relief afford grounds for doubting the correctness of the conclusion I have been enabled to arrive at, that there is an improvement this year in the general condition of the country.

6. From Mr. Bourke, dated February 18, 1865.

(District comprising the county of Clare, and parts of the counties of Galway, Kilkenny, King's county, Limerick, Queen's county, and Tipperary.)

In the district with which I am best acquainted, comprising the counties of Limerick, Clare, and Tipperary, I believe the circumstances of all classes to be considerably better than at the corresponding period of last year.

Large farmers, in addition to the advantages derived from the excellent harvest of 1864, have realized good profits on stock of all kinds, on butter and on hay; and I have no hesitation in expressing my opinion that it has been a good season for them, and has enabled them to replace in bank some of the funds withdrawn during the preceding years.

As to the small farmers, I can say no more than that I am disposed to think the late good harvest has arrested their decline, which had received so great an impulse during the last two or three years. They depend almost exclusively upon the profits derived from tillage, and at present prices these cannot be considerable. The condition of this class, therefore, continues very needy, and their position very insecure.

As far as I have had the means of ascertaining rents have been fairly paid by both classes; and I am informed that the amount of business transacted in the principal shops throughout the towns in my district has been far greater than at the same period last year.

The ordinary processes of cultivation have been much improved in Ireland of late years, though the farming, generally speaking, is still very inferior; but I must observe that this is not usually the fault of the tenant alone. He does not enter upon his land in a state in which it can be well farmed. Drainage, fencing, and other landlord's improvements, are required on a large scale, and I do not observe that they have been recently more extensively undertaken than before.

During the past year flax was largely grown in these counties; and, notwithstanding some disappointments arising from unskilful preparation, has proved a profitable crop. I look upon it as of great importance. Under proper management it will always prove remunerative, and especially suited to the small farmer, to whom it opens the way for maintaining himself upon a small extent of land; whilst, if produced in sufficient quantities, it cannot fail to increase the general wealth by attracting manufacturing capital, and extending the linen trade from the north to the south.

As regards the extent of destitution, the union returns will probably furnish better evidence than I can give. But I may say, that in the city of Limerick alone throughout this district, has there been any strong representation of the distress of the poor; and at the last meeting of the Board of Guardians a resolution was passed calling the attention of the county and city members to it. It is no unfair commentary upon this resolution to mention, that though a special committee of the guardians had been sitting during the previous week to select fit objects for outdoor relief amongst the classes entitled to it by law, only 28 families, representing 96 individuals, were recommended, at a total cost of £3 4*s.*; and though at the first rumour of out-door relief, applications had been made to the Relieving Officer on behalf of about 2,000 people, the number of admissions to the workhouse on last Wednesday were only 22, and there are still vacancies for about 200.

Upon the whole, therefore, though I firmly believe there is great distress just at present amongst the tradesmen and labourers in Limerick, I cannot admit that it is more intense than is usual at this season of the year. On the contrary, as it springs from the ordinary scarcity of employment at this season, and is accompanied by a more than ordinary cheapness and abundance of food, the necessities of the partially employed should be less than upon other occasions.

Fever has been so prevalent in Limerick and other towns in this district that it may be said to have been epidemic. But it did not arise amongst the lower orders, nor confine itself to their sphere. On the contrary, the middle classes have, in my opinion, suffered the most, and it cannot, therefore, be taken as any evidence of want. The union hospitals have been invaluable in the assistance offered to fever patients; and, notwithstanding the natural reluctance of many to enter a workhouse hospital, they have been much resorted to, and the patients most successfully treated.

In conclusion, I think I have nothing further to observe than that the present aspect of rural affairs seems favourable. Cattle seem to have been well wintered, and to be thriving; what little autumn wheat has been sown looks promising; and the weather is, upon the whole, not unfavourable to agricultural operations.

7. From Dr. Hill, dated February 18, 1865.

(District comprising the counties of Longford and Westmeath, and portions of the counties of Carlow, Cavan, Kildare, King's County, Meath, Queen's County, Roscommon, and Wicklow.)

So far as I have had an opportunity of forming an opinion, and confining my remarks to the poor law unions in the province of Leinster, I believe the farmers to be better off now than they have been for several years past. The improvement, generally, is perhaps not great, but the change is in the right direction. The small farmers are beginning to raise their heads above the difficulties which were accumulated upon them by a succession of unfavourable seasons, though many of them are still in debt to the neighbouring shopkeepers. It is admitted that the last harvest was a good one, but the profits of the farmer have not been proportionally large, owing to the low prices of nearly all the chief products of agriculture. This circumstance, however, has rendered those articles of food which are chiefly consumed by the poor—such as potatoes and oatmeal—very cheap, and in this respect has bettered the condition of the labouring classes more than that of the farmers. Oatmeal of good quality is furnished by contract to Boards of Guardians at from £9 to £10 per ton, and excellent potatoes can be purchased in most of the country markets at from three pence to four pence per stone.

I have not heard any complaints as to the failure of rents this season; and on some estates, with the agents of which I am acquainted, they have been better paid of late, that is, up to November last, than they were a year or two ago. I may add, that the poor rates for the current year have, as yet, been collected without difficulty.

I am unable to offer you any information as to the state of the bankers' balances, whether or not the lodgments from the farmers have increased.

In farming, I think there has been a gradual improvement, though not to the extent that might be desirable. Agricultural societies through the country have effected much good, and their benefits are extending. The cultivation of flax, promoted by the well-directed efforts of local societies, has been a success in many parts of the country where it had seldom or never been tried before; and it is anticipated that the acreage under this crop will, during the coming season, considerably exceed that of the last.

In regard to destitution, I believe that, with the exception of some parts of the west of Ireland, there is no unusual pressure of want felt by the poor this winter. Provisions are cheap and plentiful, and the supply of fuel is abundant and of good quality. At this period of the year, when employment is scarce, the workhouses are usually pretty full; and the severity of the weather during the last few weeks has somewhat increased the number of paupers relieved in the workhouses, as compared with the number relieved at the corresponding period of last year. In the twelve unions which I visit as Poor Law Inspector, the total number of paupers in the workhouses on the 30th January, 1864, was 4,638, and on the 28th January of this year, 4,732, showing an increase of 94. But the increase was in the number of infirm persons and children admitted; the number of able-bodied inmates on the 30th January, 1864, having been 1,465, while the number of that class in the workhouses on the 28th January last was 1,393, showing a decrease of 72.

The sanitary condition of the country during the last few weeks, as compared with the corresponding periods of former years, is about the average. In Dublin, fever and small-pox have been more prevalent and more fatal this winter than for several years past, and during the last three months a larger number of cases of fever than usual have occurred in the unions of Carlow, Enniscorthy, and Mountmellick; but in other localities in my district of inspection, the poor are free from epidemic disease.

On a general view of the present state of the country, I think it contrasts favourably with that of last year and of several previous years, and affords good grounds for hope that the improvement will be steadily progressive.

8. From Mr. W. J. Hamilton, dated February 17, 1865.

(District comprising the county of Wexford, and portions of the counties of Carlow, Kilkenny, Queen's County, Tipperary, Waterford, and Wicklow.)

I believe there are few countries better provided than Ireland is, and has been for some years past, with statistics on almost every subject, and I will merely state in general terms what I believe to be the present condition of this part of Ireland. I may, perhaps, be permitted to observe, that for about three or four years previous to the famine of 1846, during which I served on the staff in the then S.W. military district, I was in the habit from time to time of travelling over much of the country which has since been, or now is, included in my present district, as Poor Law Inspector, and that this is my fourteenth winter in charge of the Waterford district.

You may, perhaps, have gathered, from my reports and observations from time to time, that while I have never made light of the trials this country has had to pass through, and is still passing through, I have always been hopeful, and not unmindful of progress—slow and almost imperceptible as it has been at times—I am one of those who think that the country has been on the whole advancing, by a painful process I admit, sometimes faster, at others more slowly towards a more healthy state of affairs than the famine of 1846 brought forcibly and prominently to light. I do not think that this progress is difficult to see at the present time, though there are many who cannot, and some who will not see it, the country has shown wonderful vitality under greater difficulties than now threaten. Like many persons who having been very sick from a complication of disorders, and at length begin to pick up strength, it does not like to see the improvements, which must be very slow and gradual, too much insisted on; and whatever opinion may be advanced, there will be no lack of symptoms and arguments to prove that it is too hopeful or too desponding. I, for one, am very much disposed to give credit to the masses for the manner in which, on the whole, they encountered a succession of bad harvests from 1859 to 1863—harvests which ruined many, completed the ruin of others, pressed sorely on others, and generally retarded improvements which would otherwise have gone on more rapidly.

The harvest of 1864 in this part of Ireland was, as regards potatoes, abundant; grain, scarcely an average, taking one crop with another; green crops, indifferent; but it was a sufficiently good harvest to keep many from sinking who would otherwise have gone down, and to justify me in saying, that if it had not been for the losses of preceding years it would have been a year of comparative prosperity. I believe that, even as it is, farmers generally, the larger farmers especially, are in easier circumstances this year than they were last; at no former period have rents been better paid. I have heard no complaints whatever on this head. Poor rates have never been better paid; they have promptly met their engagements with the banks; and, as a rule, their balances in bank exceed those of last year. My experience leads me to say that the larger class of farmers live better, dress better, are better educated, treat their dependents better, are more intelligent and more useful members of society in every way, than was the case generally not many years ago.

I fear that, in a financial point of view, the small farmers have not much improved, if at all, and that the condition of many of the occupants under, say ten acres, is very little if at all above that of the labourer with one quarter of an acre on a well-managed estate. Indeed I know that on some estates the latter is in a more enviable position. Whether, under more favourable circumstances than the small farmers have had to contend with for the last few years, their position generally will improve, depends, as in the case of the larger farmers—but more particularly in theirs—on other considerations in addition to good harvests. Where there is intelligence, industry and sobriety, and ordinary good-will between landlord and tenant, and that each fulfil their respective duties, I see nothing to prevent a degree of comfort to the holder of even a few acres such as has been attained on estates that I could name in every county in my district.

With respect to the labouring classes, all descriptions of food used by them have been abundant and cheap this year, excepting milk. It is past now the most trying time of the year. Though unhappily there are always to be found, and more especially so in unions where the Guardians give outdoor relief, some miserable cases who linger on outside the workhouses in the hope of compelling the Guardians to give them outdoor relief, I believe that the workhouses afford as true an index as is possible of the just claims of destitution on the ratepayers; and gauging the destitution by this test, I would say there is nothing to cause any alarm as to the increase of destitution in the few and unimportant instances in which the numbers in the workhouses in this district exceed the numbers at this time last year. On the whole district the increase would be about three per cent., including fever cases. The increase is merely temporary, and is owing to the extended use happily made of the medical aid and assistance afforded in the workhouse infirmaries, and fever hospitals; and I may state that as a rule the number of infirm, and sick, and legitimate objects for relief has not for some years back constituted so large a proportion of the entire number relieved as it does at present in this district.

Fever of a bad type has been prevalent in three or four localities, but there have been others very free from it. Where timely advantage was taken of the fever hospitals, the mortality has been small. At present there are about 280 cases of fever in the fever hospitals in my district, the population of which was in 1861, 439,403.

I would say that, on the whole, the labouring classes are better paid, more continuously employed, better dressed, and better fed, than even prior to the recent bad harvests; and though the depressed state of employers has been more or less felt by the labouring classes, still their reduced number from emigration has prevented the great disproportion there would otherwise have been from the excess of supply over demand, an excess which still exists at certain seasons and renders the labourers' existence more precarious and struggling than it ought to be. All that I can say further is, that there have been fewer out of employment than in former years, chiefly because there are fewer to be employed. It is quite the exception with an Irish labourer to seek union relief when he can get work, and I sincerely wish there was more of it for them.

In the vicinity of rivers a remunerative source of employment at salmon fishing will soon be open. I shall not be surprised if in those localities during the spring and harvest seasons the demand for able-bodied men should somewhat exceed the supply.

As regards improvement in farming, I think the reports of the local farming societies, which societies exist in almost every union in my district, leave no ground for doubt on this subject; it may be that the improvement has been slow, and it cannot be denied that there are few localities where there is not still room for profitable outlay, to an amount that would afford constant employment for years for every labourer in the country. However this is a subject on which I need not enter further. In many localities the improvement of all kinds of stock is highly creditable; during 1862 and 1863 in particular, there were large exports of stock, young stock especially—farmers were obliged to sell here, and there was a demand for that kind of stock in England. Last year, owing to a scarcity of grass in England, there was not the demand; the farmers here reared a greater number of calves than they had ever done previously, and I daresay the loss of traffic in this respect, so much complained of by the railways, will not be long finding its level.

The farmers' balances in banks have as a rule increased. I have ascertained by personal inquiry at thirteen banks in different portions of my district, that this is the case, the decrease having been in one town only.

And now I will say a few words as to the state of the towns. I look upon it that the state of almost every town in this district, whether as regards the shopkeepers, tradesmen, hotels, railways, steam ships, &c., depends to a great extent on the harvests, and it cannot be wondered at, that with such a succession of losses to the agricultural interests, and the fact that there are fewer mouths to feed, fewer to clothe, fewer to carry, the towns generally have either retrograded or are at a stand-still, and that there has been great and general depression, prosperity being the exception. I fear it will be long before some of the towns in my district very sensibly feel any improvement. While undoubtedly discontent, disaffection, drunkenness, improvidence, and other drawbacks exist to a greater or lesser extent here and there, I do not think that any such sketch as I have attempted to give you of the present state of the country would be just were I to make use of any such colours. I will only say that I know the colours are there, but I see no necessity for using them.

9. From Mr. Horsley, dated February 18, 1865.

(District comprising the county of Kerry, and portions of the counties of Cork and Limerick.)

Since the receipt of your letter of the 11th instant, I have made diligent inquiries regarding the present state of the country (so far as my district is concerned), as compared with its condition in the years 1861, 1862, and 1863-4; and I am glad to inform you that proprietors, land agents, respectable farmers, bankers, and other well-informed persons, unite in stating what I had already, from my own observation, been led to believe, that during the past year a great stride has been made towards prosperity by all classes of the community.

The farmers, owing to the high prices given for cattle, sheep, pigs, butter, wool, and other farm produce, taken in conjunction with the fact that the late potato crop was more abundant and sound than in any previous year since 1845, have been enabled not only to meet their rents without requiring bank accommodation, but have also very generally discharged their long owing debts to the dealers in meal and other traders.

An agent over a very large landed property, where the holdings are, generally speaking, very small, and where in previous years considerable distress and poverty usually prevailed at this season, writes to me thus:—"They (the tenants), are paying rents and arrears willingly. They have had prices for cattle, pigs, and butter beyond anything we have almost ever known. I have not had a single complaint."

Other agents, proprietors, and well-informed commercial persons to whom I have spoken on the subject, hold similarly favourable language with regard to the improvement in the condition of the farming classes.

So far as I have been able to learn, both extensive and small farmers are in good spirits; and there has been certainly some progressive improvement in regard to their style of farming, and in the amount of energy brought to bear upon it.

A comparatively new branch of agricultural industry in this part of the country, namely, cultivation of flax, was tried on a small scale with fair success last year; and I understand that this crop will be much more generally and largely sown this year.

I cannot afford you much information as to whether farmers have larger balances to their credit with their bankers this year than last, but I know it to be the case in one bank; the banker, however, partly attributes this circumstance to the fact of the bank's allowing an abnormal rate of interest on deposit, and even on current accounts, owing to the high rate of discount charged by the Bank of England.

Of course I need hardly point out that in a purely agricultural and pastoral district such as mine is, the welfare of the shopkeepers and skilled artisans in the towns and villages within it is bound up very much in the prosperity of the farmers and labouring classes, and that a good year for the latter must be a correspondingly good one for the former.

There can be no doubt that the condition of the labouring classes has improved pari passu with that of the farming classes. All the kinds of food commonly used by them have been extremely, indeed abnormally cheap; and the large amount of emigration which has taken place during the last three years has tended to relieve the market of superabundant labour, so that these two circumstances taken together have not only placed the classes in question in a better position in regard to the necessaries and comforts of life, but also in regard to the amount of wages and receipt of regular employment.

There is comparatively very little destitution in my district this year, and there would have been still less had it not been that several helpless families, having been temporarily abandoned by the supporting heads who have emigrated, have been forced to fall upon the poor rates for support.

The sanitary condition of the population in my district is upon the whole very satisfactory. There has been certainly during the past year a good deal of fever, of a somewhat severe type; but so far as I could learn, it did not originate among the very poor, and was not so fatal among them as among persons in comparatively good circumstances.

No epidemic disease that I am aware of prevails at present in any part of my district.

10. From Mr. O'Brien, dated February 18, 1865.

(District comprising portions of the counties of Cork, Limerick, Tipperary, and Waterford.)

My district consists of fifteen Poor Law Unions, extending over the counties of Cork (East and West), Waterford, Tipperary, and Limerick, and contains (Census of 1861) a population of 548,990. In estimating the relative condition of these unions now, and during recent years, I shall apply the following tests:—

1. The Poor Law Statistics of the Unions.
2. The state of the several retail trades mainly dependent on the agricultural population for their prosperity.
3. The condition of the tenant-farmers, as indicated by their mode of living, style of farming, and punctuality in the payment of their rents, &c., &c.
4. The amount of deposits held by the different banks, as far as this can be ascertained.

1. Poor Law Statistics.—For convenience of reference, I shall here exhibit in a tabular form the nature and extent of the relief afforded, &c., in my district, on Saturday the 4th instant, and the corresponding date of each of the four preceding years, viz.:—

| | Total No. in Workhouses. | No. of Sick. | No. on Out-door Relief. | No. of Deaths per week. | General average cost per head weekly. |
| | | | | | s. d. |
| 4th February, 1865, . | 8,022 | 2,499 | 960 | 47 | 2 1 |
| „ 1864, . | 8,382 | 2,448 | 889 | 31 | 1 11½ |
| „ 1863, . | 8,777 | 2,440 | 490 | 38 | 2 0⅕ |
| „ 1862, . | 8,241 | 2,417 | 65 | 35 | 2 2⅔ |
| „ 1861, . | 6,967 | 2,319 | – | 28 | 2 4⅔ |

From this it will be seen that the comparative increase over previous years in the number of workhouse inmates, which commenced in 1861, continued to advance up to 1863, when the maximum point was reached, and that since then the tendency has been steadily downwards.

The decrease this year, in my district, would have been much more striking had it not happened that, in the case of the Cork Union, the pressure for relief has been greater than in either 1863 or 1864, owing partly to the extensive prevalence of epidemic disease in the city during the winter.

In the great majority of the rural unions the decrease has continued uninterrupted, and in one (Dungarvan) has been such as to deserve a passing notice here. In that union there had been a steady increase in the numbers relieved, from 366 in workhouse, with none on out-door relief, in 1861, to 549 in workhouse, with 71 on out-door relief, in 1864. This year, however, the number in workhouse is only 355, with 30 on out-door relief; thus giving, in one year, the very considerable decrease of 35 per cent. in the number of workhouse inmates, and of 60 per cent. of those on out-door relief.

It will be seen, however, that the yearly decrease which has thus marked the total number of workhouse inmates since 1863 is not only not observable as regards the number of sick, but that, in their case, the tendency has been precisely the other way—a result which is principally to be ascribed, I think, to the growing favour with which our workhouse hospitals are daily coming to be regarded by the sick poor of the country generally, but, also, in a great measure, this particular year, to the somewhat extensive prevalence of epidemic diseases*—as fever, scarlatina, and small-pox—in many, even of the rural unions, but still more in the large towns, such as Cork ; and the same circumstance may be taken as explaining the increased death-rate which the table exhibits, for 1865, as compared with the corresponding periods of the four previous years.

These epidemics are now, however, happily abating, and will probably disappear altogether within the next couple of months.

2. State of Trade, &c.—It is quite certain that, during the past three years a most serious depression in business, followed by numerous individual cases of bankruptcy and embarrassment, has prevailed in almost every part of my district, amongst the several classes of traders, such as grocers, drapers, &c., dealing in those commodities which are in common use amongst the rural population.

Three causes affecting them have been in operation.

1. A large loss of customers, occasioned by the emigration drain.

2. A great diminution of business, created by the waste, from failure in the crops, of the farmers' ordinary means of purchasing ; and 3rdly. Bad debts, resulting from the inability of the farmers to meet their engagements.

Of this state of things all that can as yet be affirmed, I think, is that a reactionary tendency has begun to manifest itself this year.

Considerable progress has, I believe, been made by the farmers, since the last harvest, in clearing off the liabilities of the previous years ; and I also believe that the business transactions of the present year, between the farmers and traders, have been of a far safer and better description, partaking more of a cash and less of a credit character, than previously prevailed. In one locality a very extensive and intelligent trader, both in soft goods and in groceries, informed me that, while giving far less credit than heretofore, his books this year exhibited an increase of sales of 10 per cent. in his drapery business, and of 20 per cent. in his groceries, over the same period in 1864.

This case is, perhaps, too favourable to be taken as a general average one ; but it is one of those things that must necessarily vary much in different localities, and, even amongst different traders, in the same place.

3. The condition of the Farmers, &c.—In referring to the condition of the farmers at the present time it is necessary to distinguish between those still possessing stock, &c., and those who are now either wholly or mainly dependent upon tillage.

Of the former—the better class—I think it may be safely affirmed, as a general rule, that their condition is a thriving and improved one, and that, as far they are concerned, the prices of the various kinds of stock, and of wool, milk, butter, &c., have gone far to counterbalance any losses they sustained in tillage.

In the case, however, of the latter, or poorer class, things stand very differently ; and, in their regard, I am of opinion the utmost that can be said is that a decided check has, this year, been given to the downward tendency which was becoming so alarmingly manifest during the three previous years.

The heavy losses sustained by this class, from 1861 to 1863, successively, involved them deeply in debt, both with the local banks and with private parties, for clothing, provisions, seed, &c. ; and, to enable them to support their families, such stock as they previously possessed had to be disposed of altogether ; while the rearing of young stock was rendered totally impracticable, and pig feeding—so long a large source of profit to the poorer class of farmers—almost everywhere declined.

This downward tendency of things has certainly been arrested during the present year, and, in addition, some slight progress upwards has, perhaps, been also already made; but it should be borne in mind that the relief afforded by the last harvest was, after all, only partial, not complete: oats—the principal grain crop in my district—was but a light one, in head and straw; wheat, though a good deal better, was not remunerative, owing to the low price it realized; hay was also a light crop—probably a third under an average; and green crops generally were unusually light and unproductive.

The potato crop, however—indisputably the best obtained for many years—went far to make amends for all, and has, I think, already told sensibly both on the present condition and on the future prospects of the farmers. It has altogether removed the drain they were previously exposed to in the purchase of food for daily use; and considerable progress has, I believe, been, in consequence, already made in clearing off old debts.

I shall also, as another consequence, be much surprised if the returns for this year are not found to exhibit a marked increase, both in the quantity of young stock reared, and the number of pigs fattened, by the class in question.

An extensive agriculturist in this county, who has for some years been in the habit of taking in stock, as graziers, from the small farmers in his neighbourhood who traded in this way, lately permitted me to examine his books; and the result so strikingly illustrates the great increase in the quantity of young stock reared this year, by the class of farmers referred to, as compared with two years ago, that I will here take leave to quote the figures, viz.:—

| | Sheep. | Cows. | Two-year-old Heifers. | Yearlings, and under. |
|---|---|---|---|---|
| November, 1862, . | 179 | 84 | 43 | 78 |
| „ 1864, . | 143 | 49 | 30 | 420 |

It will be seen from this that the number of yearlings and calves reared in this case has been more than five times greater than it was in 1862; and it must be obvious that if anything even remotely resembling this increase should prove, as it seems reasonable to expect, at all general in the country, it will, in itself, constitute a very material element of wealth to the owners during the coming year.

The increase in the number of pigs in the country this year has also been strikingly great, and forms another hopeful element in the future prospects of the class of farmers I have now been referring to, whose main dependence must however unhappily continue to be the state of the elements when the critical time returns.

Taking the manner in which rent has been paid this year as a criterion of the state of the country, I believe the fact to be, that wherever land is held fairly for the value, and the tenants have not been purely dependent upon tillage, the rents have this year, on the whole, been well and punctually paid.

I had, within the past week, an opportunity of discussing this subject with an extremely practical and intelligent land agent, who collects a yearly rental of nearly £19,000. He showed me his books, from which I observed that he had commenced the collection of the last September gale early in January, and that his weekly receipts had since then ranged regularly between £1,000 and £1,500. He informed me that he had never experienced less difficulty or heard fewer complaints from the tenants in receiving the rents, and that he expected to close all before the 25th of March, leaving little or no arrear.

In giving this instance, however, I must add that the estate in question is a particularly well circumstanced one, and upon the whole very fairly let; and I am far from believing that other agents, who are differently circumstanced in these respects, however active, have been or could have been at all equally successful.

On the contrary, I am persuaded that, wherever land is held at a high rent, and wherever tillage has been the only resource of the tenantry, it is certain that heavy arrears must have accumulated during the past three years, and in such cases the rents cannot be, and will not be at all paid up in the manner described in the instance I have quoted. At the same time I believe that even in these cases, the receipts of the present year will be found generally to contrast favourably with those of 1864.

The style of living of the farming classes has not undergone any material alteration in this country in recent years; but as even the best circumstanced amongst them aim at little improvement in that way, no inference can be drawn from this circumstance, either one way or the other.

Compared with some years ago there can be no doubt, I think, that the general style of farming now pursued, and the class of stock in the country, exhibit a considerable improvement, but the only very recent change observable has been the rather vigorous effort made this year to promote the growth of flax. The too general want, however, of suitable machinery for scutching, and the absence of markets sufficiently near at hand for the sale of the produce when prepared, have in most instances operated seriously against the success of this movement; and unless local enterprise is found sufficient to remove these defects, I apprehend that it is not likely to be very generally or zealously followed up.

4. Bank Deposits.—The amount of deposits held from the farmers by the different banks is always an excellent index to the general condition of the former; but it is unfortunately one of those points on which it is most difficult to procure precise information, as it appears to be contrary to banking rules to communicate the amount of deposits held at particular branches.

So far as I have been able to gather, from persons whose opportunities should make them competent judges of this, I incline to the belief that from 1861 to 1864 there was, in the agricultural districts, a sensible and gradual decline in the amount held by the banks in this way.

I have heard this decrease variously estimated at 20, 25, and 30 per cent., and I do not doubt the accuracy of this calculation.

During the present year it is believed that the amount has again, for the first time, begun to rise, more or less, almost everywhere; but the precise rate of any increase that has taken place has, of course, varied with, and been largely governed by, the character and circumstances of each particular locality. It is generally, and probably not inaccurately, supposed that the increase in question represents from 10 to 15 per cent. over last year; and it is obvious that even a smaller increase than this—taking place concurrently with a general diminution of the debts previously contracted by the farmers, and with the increased punctuality in the payment of rents already adverted to—might be fairly regarded as at least some indication of a gradual return to a healthier and more prosperous state of things.

I find I have extended this letter far beyond the limits I had prescribed to myself when commencing it; but without going fully into detail, I found it impossible to convey to you all the information which appeared to be desired, and you will be able to exercise your own discretion in selecting from the entire so much of the materials as you may deem to be useful for the purpose in view.

IV. CORRESPONDENCE ON THE SUBJECT OF THE REMOVAL OF POOR PERSONS FROM ENGLAND TO IRELAND.

CASE of MARGARET REGAN,* removed from Stepney Union to Skibbereen.

CASE of MARGARET O'BRIEN,† removed from Kensington to Kilmallock.

No. 1.—LETTER from the UNDER SECRETARY OF STATE for the HOME DEPARTMENT to the UNDER SECRETARY of HIS EXCELLENCY the LORD LIEUTENANT.

SIR, Whitehall, June 16, 1864.

With reference to your letter of the 4th March last, I am directed by Secretary Sir George Grey to transmit to you for the information of the Lords Justices, a copy of a letter from the Poor Law Board, enclosing a copy of the report of their Inspector, Mr. Farnall, on the circumstances attending the removal of Margaret Regan from the Stepney Union to Skibbereen.

I am, sir, your obedient servant,

H. WADDINGTON.

Major-General Sir Thomas Larcom, K.C.B.,
Dublin Castle.

ENCLOSURES in foregoing.

LETTER from the POOR LAW BOARD to the SECRETARY OF STATE for the HOME DEPARTMENT.

Poor Law Board, Whitehall, S.W.,
SIR, June 14, 1864.

I am directed by the Poor Law Board to state with reference to Mr. Bruce's letter of the 10th March last, that they have caused an inquiry to be made by their Inspector, Mr. Farnall, into the circumstances attending the removal of Margaret Regan from the Stepney Union to Skibbereen, in Ireland.

The Board enclose for the information of Secretary Sir George Grey, a copy of Mr. Farnall's report, and of the deposition of Mr. Frost, the person employed by the Guardians to conduct the removal of Irish paupers, and also the printed document therein referred to.

The Board do not understand that the actual legality of the removal of Margaret Regan is called in question; it is, however, apparently considered a hardship that she should have been removed. This the Board have to observe was a point upon which the Guardians of the Stepney Union were entitled, as the law stands, to exercise their own judgment, and it was also one upon which the justices who made the order of removal in their petty sessions could themselves have exercised their own discretion as to granting the order.

The Board are not aware that they can take any further steps in this case, and they return the documents connected with it to you herewith.

I have, &c.,

H. Waddington, esq., Home Office.

MR. FARNALL'S REPORT referred to in the foregoing LETTER.

Poor Law Board, Whitehall, S.W.,
MY LORDS AND GENTLEMEN, June 6, 1864.

In accordance with your instructions I instituted an official inquiry on the 2nd instant, at the Board Room of the Stepney Guardians, into certain alleged irregularities on the part of the Guardians named, in removing paupers from their Union to Ireland.

On this occasion most of the Guardians were present, attended by their Clerk, and Mr. Frost who removes the paupers adverted to for the Stepney Guardians was also present.

I annex the deposition of Mr. Frost, taken on oath before me, relative to this matter; and I also annex a printed paper, showing the payments which Mr. Frost receives for removing paupers to Ireland from the Stepney Union, to both of which I beg to direct your attention.

* See Seventeenth Annual Report, Appendix A. III., pp. 62, 69.

A reference to Mr. Frost's deposition will show you that he provides covered accommodation between decks for females and children removed by him to Ireland for the Stepney Guardians, between the 1st October and the 31st of March, and further that he sends conductors with paupers so removed to the ports for which they sail in Ireland, and that at those ports other conductors of his meet them, and convey them to their destination.

The same deposition will show you that Mr. Frost paid for cabin accommodation for Mary Regan, a pauper, whom he removed to Skibbereen, in the month of October; but you will observe that Mr. Frost admits that the conductor whom he sent on the occasion with Mary Regan and other paupers got intoxicated after he had delivered Mary Regan at the Skibbereen Workhouse.

In conclusion, I beg to inform you that I have inspected three of the Irish steam-boats on board of which Mr. Frost removes paupers to Ireland, and that each of these vessels contain cabin accommodation, which Mr. Frost hires for the purposes adverted to.

I think it right to add that the cabin accommodation, with the exception of that in the Dublin boats, although weather tight, gives no sleeping berths, and is of a close and dark character, and there is no separation of the sexes in it; but that nevertheless it is the accommodation which the Irish poor people themselves always use when coming to England on their own account.

I have the honor to be, my Lords and Gentlemen, your obedient servant,

To the Poor Law Board.

Depositions referred to in foregoing Report.

Board Room, Stepney Workhouse,
June 2, 1864.

The deposition of John Frost, taken on oath before me, H. B. Farnall, Poor Law Inspector, who says:—

I am the agent of the Stepney Board of Guardians for the removal of Irish paupers from that Union to Ireland. I have been agent for this purpose for the last fifteen years. I do not now remove anything like the number of Irish paupers whom I used to remove. The paper which I have now in my hands shows the terms on which I remove Irish paupers from this Union [paper put in]. These paupers are always removed in steam-boats. The Dublin boats have first, second, and third class accommodation for passengers; the Cork boats accommodate first and third class passengers only; the Limerick boats also accommodate first and third class passengers. I am fully aware of the provisions of the 24th and 25th Vic., cap. 76, and I know that from the 1st of October to the 31st March, if I remove any Irish woman or child under the age of fourteen, that I cannot remove them as deck passengers, and I also know that I must send some person with the Irish paupers whom I remove. If I remove an Irish pauper between the 1st of October and the 31st of March to Dublin by one of the Dublin boats, I pay a second class fare for each. It may happen perhaps once in fifty times that they cannot take one of these paupers as a second class passenger, and if that is so I send them as third class passengers. If I remove a pauper to Cork or Limerick, I send them as third class passengers; but I must explain that in order to meet the requirements of the law, so that these paupers may not be deck passengers, but be under cover, I make an arrangement with the Cork Company to pay an extra charge for the winter months named, which extra charge entitles them to be put under cover. The ordinary fare to Cork for a third class passenger is 12*s.* 6*d.*, and I pay 1*s.* 6*d.* more for the extra accommodation.

The Dublin boats in which I pay second class fares have the requisite accommodation. I rarely use the Limerick boat; it is twelve months, I should say, since I have used it; but if I do so I take care these paupers should go under cover. I have made an arrangement with the Cork Company for the barrack room during the winter months. The average length of passage is from Thursday at 8 A.M. to Saturday. There is no sleeping accommodation obtainable, nor is there any division of the sexes. On board the Dublin boats the sexes are divided. When I send paupers by the Dublin boat I generally send them second class in winter, and then there is bedding, but sometimes they are not fit to be taken as second class passengers. I have three conductors to take these people over to Ireland, and they go the whole way with them to the port from which they sail, and then over to their destination; but on the other side of the water I have regular agents who send on conductors with the paupers to the Union Workhouse.

George Legon is one of my conductors; he is about twenty-five, and unmarried; he has acted for me about two years. I consider him to be a sober man; but I know that unfortunately he got too much whisky after he had conveyed Margaret or Mary Regan to the Skibbereen Workhouse. I think that he is so well conducted that I continue to employ him. I remove Irish paupers for all the Parishes and Unions in Middlesex, and for parts of Surrey and Kent, and I have done this in Middlesex for twelve years, and for the parts of Surrey for fifteen years. I remember a young woman being removed from Stepney to Skibbereen in October. She arrived at Skibbereen on the 19th October; her name was Margaret Regan, so she said; but I believe her name is Mary Regan, and George Legon was with her, and I think there were eight or ten more whom he then conducted to Ireland. She went by a Cork boat, and I paid the extra fee of 1*s.* 6*d.* for her; and if she had chosen, she might have remained under cover. George Legon is now in the north of Ireland. I cannot recollect the name of the boat that Regan went over in, but when Legon returns, I will let you have the name of the boat.

GENTLEMEN,

I return you my sincere thanks for your support in the removal of the Irish and Scotch paupers during the last fourteen years, and hope by a faithful discharge of the duties devolving upon me to merit a continuance of the same.

In furnishing you with a statement of my charges to the different ports in Ireland and Scotland, I beg to state that, as the recent Act of Parliament 26 and 27 Vic., cap. 89, requires that paupers ordered to be removed to Ireland shall be conveyed to the Workhouse of the Union in Ireland mentioned in the Warrant for Removal, that I purpose to charge 2*d.* per mile for each pauper, and each conductor from the port in Ireland to such Union Workhouse, and the like charge for the return of the conductor from the Union Workhouse to the port, and also the sum of 3*s.* a day for the maintenance of the conductor during such journey, the same not to exceed two days, and 10*s.* for conductor from London to any port in Ireland, the same being the only addition to the old scale of charges, which is as follows:—

No. 2.—LETTER from the COMMISSIONERS to the UNDER SECRETARY of HIS EXCELLENCY the LORD LIEUTENANT.

Poor Law Commission Office, Dublin,
June 22, 1864.

SIR,

The Commissioners for Administering the Laws for Relief of the Poor in Ireland return to you herewith the file of papers referred to them on the 18th instant, relating to the case of Margaret Regan, who was removed from the Stepney Union to Skibbereen.

The Commissioners had hoped, as stated in their letter of the 5th March last, that legal proceedings in reference to the mode of conducting the removal of Irish-born poor from some of the Metropolitan Unions in England, under warrants of removal to Ireland, might have been avoided, but as the course hitherto pursued seems likely to be continued, they now think it desirable to obtain, if they can, a judicial decision on the question of the legality of the course adopted in the removals conducted through the agency of Mr. Frost; and with this view, as well as to punish what they consider to have been criminal misconduct on the part of Mr. Frost, the Commissioners have instructed their solicitors to institute a prosecution against him in the case of Margaret O'Brien, who was removed from the parish of Kensington to Kilmallock in the month of December last, and who died two days after her arrival; her death having been, in the opinion of the Medical Officer of Kilmallock Workhouse, accelerated by the circumstances of her removal.

By order, &c.,

B. Banks, Chief Clerk.

To General Sir Thomas Larcom, K.C.B., &c.,
Dublin Castle.

No. 3.—Letter from the Commissioners to Messrs. Geale and Dwyer, Solicitors.

Poor Law Commission Office, Dublin,
June 22, 1864.

Gentlemen,

The Commissioners for Administering the Laws for Relief of the Poor in Ireland request your attention to the case of Margaret O'Brien, who was removed from the parish of St. Mary Abbotts, Kensington, to Kilmallock Union, under a warrant dated the 2nd December last, and who died two days after her arrival in Ireland.

The particulars of the case will be found detailed in papers given in the Appendix to the Commissioners' last Annual Report (a copy of which is forwarded herewith) pages 56 to 62.

You will observe that Margaret O'Brien stated before her death that she was sent from London as a deck passenger, contrary to the provisions of the 6th section of the Act 24 and 25 Vic., c. 76; and on this point the Commissioners desire to refer you to their letter to the Under-Secretary of the Lord Lieutenant, dated the 5th March last, which will be found at page 53 of the report.

By a communication from England, in reference to another case, which has been transmitted to this department by General Larcom, it would appear probable that Mr. Frost's agency for the deportation of Irish-born poor from London will be carried on as heretofore; and it appears very desirable, therefore, that the question whether the accommodation provided by him on board the boats plying between London and Cork is a sufficient compliance with the 6th section of the 24 and 25 Vic., c. 76.

If it is not, the sending of Margaret O'Brien as a deck passenger on the 10th December last, was an illegal act on the part of Mr. Frost; and there is evidence to show that her death was accelerated by her being so sent in the state of health in which she made the passage.

The offence, under such circumstances, would appear to be an indictable one, and the Commissioners presume from Sergeant Sullivan's recent opinion regarding proceedings against persons violating the 6th section of the 24 and 25 Vic., c. 76, that Mr. Frost can, where the process is by indictment, be made amenable to justice in Ireland, and they are desirous that a prosecution should take place, not only for the punishment of Mr. Frost for his conduct in the case of Margaret O'Brien, but in order to determine by a judicial decision whether women and children sent, as Mr. Frost himself describes them to be sent, on board the Cork steamers are, in construing the Act of Parliament, to be considered as deck passengers or not.

The nature of the accommodation provided is described in the letter of the 5th March last, above referred to, in a quotation from a report made to the Commissioners by Mr. O'Brien; and in a report recently made to the Poor Law Board in England by Mr. Farnall, one of the Inspectors of that Board, it is described as follows:—

"I have inspected three of the Irish steam-boats on board of which Mr. Frost removes paupers to Ireland, and each of these vessels contain cabin accommodation, which Mr. Frost hires for the purpose adverted to. I think it right to add, that the cabin accommodation, with the exception of that in the Dublin boats, although weather-tight gives no sleeping berths, and is of a close and dark character, and that there is no separation for the sexes in it."

The question being one of general importance in the administration of the Poor Law, the Commissioners have thought it right to instruct you, as their solicitors, to conduct this prosecution on their behalf, and at once to obtain, if necessary, the advice of counsel as to the necessary evidence and the mode of procedure. It is of much importance that no delay should occur, and that the case should be tried at the next assizes if possible, as the season referred to in the 6th section of the Removals Act will recommence on the 1st October next.

It may be right to observe that the Commissioners identify Mr. Frost's agency in this case, not only by his own admission contained in the correspondence, but also by the fact that the man by whom Margaret O'Brien was delivered at the Kilmallock Workhouse, is known to be one of the persons employed by him in the removal of paupers, and will, if made a witness for the prosecution, be able to prove the facts of the case which arose in England, after the delivery of the woman into the custody of Mr. Frost.

A copy of correspondence of a later date than that published in the Commissioners' report in reference to the case of Margaret O'Brien, is enclosed, comprising the account given by the Board of Guardians of the parish of Kensington, and by Mr. Frost, of the circumstances of the case.

By order of the Commissioners,

B. Banks, Chief Clerk.

To Messrs. Geale and Dwyer, Solicitors,
Talbot-street.

Copy Correspondence enclosed in foregoing Letter.

Poor Law Board, Whitehall, S.W.,
February 13, 1864.

Sir,

I am directed by the Poor Law Board to forward to the Guardians of the Parish of St. Mary Abbotts, Kensington, the enclosed copy of a letter addressed by the Commissioners for administering the Laws for Relief of the Poor in Ireland to Sir Robert Peel, and its enclosures, relative to the circumstances under which a young woman named Margaret O'Brien was removed to Ireland from the Parish of St. Mary Abbotts, Kensington, and died two days after her arrival.

These documents have been transmitted to the Board by direction of Secretary Sir George Grey, and the Board request that they may be furnished with an explanation of the circumstances under which the removal took place, particularly as to sending this young woman to Ireland in the state of health she was in, and as to her having been sent as a deck passenger in the month of December last.

I am, sir, your obedient servant,

S. Cornell, esq., Clerk to the Guardians of the Poor of the Parish of St. Mary Abbotts, Kensington, 16, Whiteheads Grove, Chelsea, S.W.

Parish of St. Mary Abbotts, Kensington.

Kensington,
February 23, 1864.

My Lords and Gentlemen,

I am directed by the Board of Guardians of the Parish of Kensington to acknowledge the receipt of your letter of the 13th instant, No. 4757/1864 C, with the papers which accompanied it, relative to the case of Margaret O'Brien.

They desire me to inform you that when she applied to them on the 2nd of December last, they offered her admission into the Workhouse.

This offer, however, she did not wish to accept, but was desirous of being passed to Ireland; and as she did not complain of illness, or appear to be unwell, she was passed accordingly. They paid Mr. Frost, of High-street, Wapping, £3 10*s.* for removing her; and they never supposed she was a deck passenger, for Mr. Frost stated in his receipt, a copy of which is hereto appended, that she was passed in conformity with the provisions of the statutes, the 24 and 25 Vic., c. 76, and the 26 and 27 Vic., c. 89. A letter has been written to him requesting him to inform the Guardians whether she was a deck passenger, and if so, why she was thus conveyed to Cork. His answer has not been yet received, but when it comes to hand the Guardians will again communicate with the Poor Law Board on the mattter.

I have the honor to be, my Lords and Gentlemen,

Your most obedient servant,

The Poor Law Board, &c., &c.

Copy of Mr. Frost's Receipt.

46, High-street, Wapping.

Received the 7 day of December, 1863, of the Constable of the Parish of Kensington, in the County of Middlesex, with the pauper, Margaret O'Brien, sent according to Act 24 & 25 V., c. 76, and 26 & 27 V., chap. 89, including conductor and mileage, the sum of three pounds ten shillings, which I hereby undertake to refund, pursuant to contract, on failure of her being sent to Kilmalock, in Ireland. £3 10*s.*

John Frost.

Poor Law Board, Whitehall, S.W.,
February 27, 1864.

Sir,

I am directed by the Poor Law Board to acknowledge the receipt of your letter of the 23rd instant, in reply to their letter of the 13th instant, relative to the case of the pauper, Margaret O'Brien, now deceased, who was removed from the Parish of St. Mary Abbotts, Kensington, to Ireland.

The Board observe that it is stated by you that as Margaret O'Brien "did not complain of illness, or appear to be unwell, she was passed accordingly;" and the Board wish to know what steps were taken by the Guardians, or the officer acting under their authority, in regard to the removal of this poor person, to satisfy the Magistrate when the order of removal was applied for that the pauper was in such a state of health as to justify the removal, and whether the Guardians had any, and if so, what knowledge of the case before the removal took place.

I am, sir, your obedient servant,

S. Cornell, esq., Clerk to the Guardians of the Parish of St. Mary Abbotts, Kensington, 1, Devonshire-terrace, Kensington, W.

Kensington,
March 5, 1864.

My Lords and Gentlemen,

I am directed by the Board of Guardians of the Poor of the Parish of Kensington to acknowledge the receipt of your letter of the 27th ultimo, No. 6799/1864 C, wherein you inquire "what steps were taken by the Guardians, or their officer acting under their authority, in regard to the removal of Mary O'Brien, to satisfy the Magistrate when the order of removal was applied for that she was in such a state of health as to justify the removal, and whether the Guardians had any, and if so, what knowledge of the case before the removal took place."

They desire to state that they took no steps to ascertain the state of her health when she was taken before the Magistrate, as she did not complain of being ill, and as they believed, from her appearance, that she was in good health; neither had they any knowledge of her case before her removal, as she did not accept the Board's offer of admission into the Workhouse.

The Guardians have received a letter from Mr. Frost, the contractor for the removal of the Irish poor, in which he states she was not sent as a deck passenger, but that he paid the extra fare for accommodation below the deck.

A copy of his letter is appended hereto.

I have the honor to be, my Lords and Gentlemen,

Your most obedient servant,

To the Poor Law Board.

Copy of Mr. Frost's Letter.

46, High-street, Wapping,
February 29, 1864.

Sir,

In reply to your communication of the 20th instant, respecting Mary O'Brien, I beg to state that the pauper named was not sent as a deck passenger; the extra fare for accommodation below the deck of the passage boat was paid by me, and the pauper was accompanied by my conductor.

From Cork the pauper referred to was forwarded by rail to Kilmallock, and I most emphatically deny the charge that any inattention on my part could have accelerated the death of the unfortunate woman.

I am, sir, your obedient servant,

J. Frost.

No. 4.—Letter from Messrs. Geale and Dwyer to the Commissioners.

18, Talbot-street,
June 25, 1864.

Sir,

In accordance with the desire of the Commissioners for Administering the Laws for Relief of the Poor in Ireland, expressed in your letter of the 22nd instant, relative to the removal from London in December last of the poor woman, Margaret O'Brien, who died some days afterwards, we beg to say that we have submitted the papers on the subject to Mr. Sergeant Sullivan, as to the necessary evidence and the best mode of procedure to make the parties who may be considered guilty of a violation of the provisions of the Poor Removal Act referred to in the particular case amenable to justice.

We are, sir, your obedient servants,

Geale & Dwyer.

B. Banks, esq., Chief Clerk.

No. 5.—Letter from the Commissioners to Messrs. Geale and Dwyer.

Poor Law Commission Office, Dublin,
June 27, 1864.

Gentlemen,

The Commissioners for Administering the Laws for Relief of the Poor in Ireland acknowledge the receipt of your letter of the 25th instant, relative to the case of Margaret O'Brien, who was removed from London to Kilmallock, from which it appears that the papers relating to the case are now before Mr. Sergeant Sullivan.

The Commissioners forward to you herewith the report of the Select Committee of the House of Commons on Irremovable Poor (1860), which contains (pages 277 to 292) the evidence given by Mr. Frost on the subject, and which shows that he is pursuing precisely the same course still as that which was legislated against in the amendment Acts subsequently passed.

The Commissioners submit, as their own view, that what Mr. Farnall, in the papers already before you, has called cabin accommodation, is no such thing; being nothing more than a hole under deck, with neither light, fire, ventilation, or sleeping place, and with no separate room for females; which therefore could not properly be used by them, and which, in fact, they do not, according to their own statements, generally consent to use.

By order of the Commissioners,

B. Banks, Chief Clerk.

To Messrs. Geale and Dwyer,
Solicitors, Talbot-street.

No. 6.—Queries submitted to Mr. Sergeant Sullivan, with his Opinion thereon.

1. Whether the mode of deportation by means of the contractor, Mr. Frost, who is intrusted with the removal, but who does not personally accompany the pauper to the place of destination indicated by the warrant, but who sends the paupers across the water with a person who hands them over to another, is a sufficient compliance or not of the 4th section of the Act 24 & 25 Vic., cap. 76; if not, would he be liable to be indicted for misdemeanour, under the 4th section 26 & 27 Vic., cap. 89?

2. Can the accommodation provided by Mr. Frost on board the boats for women and children during the prohibited period, in the "barrack" or "soldiers' room," be considered as a sufficient compliance with or a violation of the 6th section 24 & 25 Vic., cap. 76?

3. In case of a violation of the 6th section of said last Act, can the person guilty of violating it (supposing him to be resident in England), be made amenable in Ireland; and if so, how? The offence by the Act being declared to be "deemed to have been committed at the port where the poor person shall be landed."

4. And you will please to advise, having regard to all the circumstances, whether a prosecution in Ireland will lie against Mr. Frost, or any other person, in respect of the case of Margaret O'Brien, either for manslaughter or otherwise; and whether the evidence is sufficient, as detailed in the Commissioners' report, to sustain such proceedings. If not, to give such advice and directions as regards such further evidence as you may consider requisite, and the nature of the case require.

June 25, 1864.

Copy Sergeant Sullivan's Opinion.

I have kept these papers a considerable time, as the questions involved are of very great importance, and I wished to give my best attention to them. There can be no doubt that the true intention of the Acts referred to is that the person to whom the removal warrant is delivered for execution should himself hold the pauper in continuous custody, and deliver him or her at the destination indicated by the warrant; and that the system of contract which has been pursued in England has resulted in a violation of the spirit of the Acts. The 3rd section of the 8 & 9 Vic., cap. 117, which by the 2nd section of the 26 & 27 Vic., cap. 89, is declared applicable to Ireland, contemplates beyond any doubt the person to whom the warrant is delivered carrying continuously the pauper to the place at which he or she is to be delivered; but the only offence which is, expressly at all events, provided against is the wilful desertion of the pauper, as mentioned in the 4th section of the last-mentioned statute, and having regard to this enactment I entertain the gravest doubts whether as against Mr. Frost or his agents any indictment could be sustained, even though he or they transmitted the pauper from hand to hand in the progress of the journey. The legislation seems to me defective in this, that it does not expressly declare that the non-delivery in person by the individual to whom the warrant may be delivered of the pauper therein named at the specified place of destination, shall be a misdemeanour or offence, unless such delivery be prevented by the illness either of the person charged with the execution of the warrant or the pauper, or other inevitable accident. A clause to this effect would bring about the result which the Commissioners desire; and I must say that having read their report referred to in the foregoing statement, I think that such result is much to be wished for. The grossest irregularities may and probably will occur, if a system is persisted in which allows the pauper to be brought over to this country in the manner in which it has been hitherto done.

2. The accommodation could not be considered a violation of the section of the Act referred to. The provisions of this Act simply point to a prohibition of the deck passage, and do not require any particular sort of accommodation otherwise; however objectionable to female passengers the place referred to may be considered, it appears to me that it involves no breach whatever of the law.

3. This is a point of considerable difficulty, but upon the best consideration I think that, in strictness, an indictment for a misdemeanour could be sustained, and that the summary remedy given by the 5th section of the 26 & 27 Vic., cap. 89, is cumulative; and that where the summary remedy cannot be resorted to by reason of the offender quitting this country, the remedy by indictment could be resorted to upon having informations sworn in this country, and a warrant issued, backed for execution in England, and the offender being held to bail to appear to take his trial in Ireland, at the assizes for the county in which the landing of the pauper, carried contrary to the statute, may have taken place. This proceeding, however, should not be resorted to save in a very grave case.

4. In my opinion, no prosecution could be successfully sustained in reference to the case of Margaret O'Brien, whether in reference to the statutes or to the Common Law doctrine of manslaughter. She appears to have been kindly treated on the journey, and I do not think that it could even be successfully established that she was carried as a deck passenger. The warrant itself was legal, and it is quite possible that the appearance of the woman was quite deceptive when it was issued.

Edward Sullivan.

No. 7.—Letter from the Under-Secretary of His Excellency the Lord Lieutenant to the Commissioners.

Dublin Castle, July 20, 1864.

Gentlemen,

Referring to your communication of the 22nd ultimo, relative to the cases of Margaret Regan and Margaret O'Brien, I am directed by the Lord Lieutenant to request that you will report to me the result of the proposed proceedings in the case of Margaret O'Brien, when completed, that it may be communicated to Secretary Sir George Grey.

I am, Gentlemen, your obedient servant,

No. 8.—Letter from the Commissioners to the Under-Secretary of His Excellency the Lord Lieutenant.

Poor Law Commission Office, Dublin,
July 27, 1864.

Sir,

The Commissioners for Administering the Laws for Relief of the Poor in Ireland acknowledge the receipt of your letter of the 20th instant, requesting, by direction of His Excellency the Lord Lieutenant, that the result of the proposed proceedings in the case of the late Margaret O'Brien, who was removed from the parish of St. Mary Abbotts, Kensington, to Kilmallock, may be reported to you when the proceedings are completed, in order that it may be communicated to Secretary Sir George Grey.

In compliance with this request the Commissioners now desire to inform you that they have obtained Sergeant Sullivan's opinion on several points relating to the intended prosecution, and they forward herewith a statement of the queries submitted to him, and of the replies.

The reply given by Sergeant Sullivan to the first query accords with the opinion expressed in the letter of the Commissioners of the 5th of March last, to the effect that Mr. Frost's mode of deporting Irish-born subjects to Ireland, by entrusting the execution of the warrant to successive persons, instead of executing it himself, is a systematic violation of the spirit of the provisions of the Acts 8 & 9 Vic., c. 117, sec. 3, and 26 & 27 Vic., c. 89, sec. 2 ; but that from the defective language of the statutes, there is a grave doubt whether an indictment could be sustained against Mr. Frost or any of his agents.

From the replies to the 2nd, 3rd, and 4th queries, it appears that Sergeant Sullivan is of opinion that the provision of such a place of retreat for deck passengers as the barrack-room on board the London and Cork steam-boats is described to be, is a sufficient compliance with that section of the statute which prohibits any woman or child being sent as a deck passenger between the 1st October and the 31st March in each year, and that therefore there is no ground for instituting any prosecution against Mr. Frost in respect of a violation of this part of the statute.

Assuming the correctness of this opinion, on which the Commissioners intend to act in reference to the present case of Margaret O'Brien, they submit that in this respect also the existing legislation is defective, and ought to be remedied, so as to secure to females and children a bona fide protection from the severities and hardships of the deck passage during the inclement season of the year.

By order of the Commissioners,

W. D. Wodsworth, for Chief Clerk.

To General Sir Thomas Larcom, K.C.B., &c.,

Case of Mary Lynch, removed from the Strand Union to Millstreet.

No. 9.—Letter from the Commissioners to the Under-Secretary of His Excellency the Lord Lieutenant.

Poor Law Commission Office, Dublin,
September 13, 1864.

Sir,

Adverting to previous correspondence on the subject of Mr. John Frost, of Wapping, in Middlesex, the agent employed by metropolitan unions and parishes for the deportation of Irish-born paupers to Ireland, the Commissioners for Administering the Laws for Relief of the Poor in Ireland have the honour to submit to their Excellencies the Lords Justices, the enclosed copies of reports from their Inspector, Mr. Horsley, on the case of Mary Lynch and her three children, who had been placed in the usual manner in charge of Mr. Frost, for removal to Ireland by the Guardians of the Strand Union.

It appears from these reports, and the papers accompanying them, that Mr. Frost received the warrant of removal on the 21st July last, and placed it in the hands of his servant, George Legon, for execution, and that on the arrival of the party at Cork, George Legon got drunk, and applied to his own use the money given him to convey the woman and children from Cork to the place of destination named in the warrant; and that, under these circumstances, a Mr. Fitzgerald, of Cork (the London agent's agent in that city), having no official authority so to act, paid the fare of Mary Lynch and her children to Millstreet, where they became destitute, and where they are now receiving relief in the workhouse.

It is to be observed that the man George Legon is the person referred to in the correspondence at pages 65 and 66 in the Appendix to the Annual Report for 1864, as having been on a similar occasion arrested for drunkenness in the town of Skibbereen, and of whom Mr. Frost, in his statement at page 68, speaks as follows in explanation of that occurrence :—

"All these women (six), were in the charge of Legon on board the boat. Legon has been in my employ at different times about five years, and I never heard any complaint against him before. I am sorry that he misconducted himself in Ireland, but it does not appear that he was intoxicated until after he had performed all his duties there."

It seems greatly to be regretted that, notwithstanding the frequency of the complaints made as to the manner in which Mr. Frost conducts the deportation of Irish-born subjects to Ireland, the metropolitan unions and parishes should continue to employ his agency, instead of confiding the care of the persons compulsorily removed by them to trustworthy officers of their own, as is elsewhere done in England, by which course very little more expense would be incurred, and far greater security provided for safe transmission to the proper union in Ireland. This practice would at the same time be found strictly in accordance with that provision of the statutes which requires a continuous custody to be maintained by the person to whom the warrant is originally delivered for execution.

Mr. Sergeant Sullivan, whose advice the Commissioners have obtained on this subject, thus expressed himself in an opinion dated 12th July last, on a case submitted to him by Messrs. Geale and Dwyer on behalf of the Commissioners—

"There can be no doubt that the true intention of the Acts referred to is, that the person to whom the removal warrant is delivered for execution should himself hold the pauper in continuous custody, and deliver him or her at the destination indicated by the warrant, and that the system of contract which has been pursued in England has resulted in a violation of the spirit of the Acts." He further observes in the same opinion, that "the grossest irregularities may, and probably will occur, if a system is persisted in which allows the pauper to be brought over to this country in the manner in which it has hitherto been done."

The man Legon was sent by the magistrates to the Cork Bridewell for the misconduct above described; and in addition to the imprisonment decreed him on that account, seven days appear to have been added, on the ground of contempt of court for his insolent demeanour to the convicting Magistrates.

The Commissioners have directed their solicitors to prosecute George Legon for a misdemeanour, in wilfully deserting Mary Lynch and her children, under the 4th section of the 26th and 27th Vic., cap. 89.

It is feared that Mr. Frost himself is beyond the reach of punishment for his continued employment of so untrustworthy a person as Legon in such a service. His immunity in this respect is due to the fact that he is not responsible to any superior authority for the proper performance of the service, and also to the circumstance, that the provisions of the Act are so defectively framed as not to admit of any legal proceedings being taken against him.

The Commissioners therefore submit to their Excellencies' consideration the propriety of causing the present case to be brought under the notice of the Secretary of State for the Home Department, as a further illustration of the system pursued in the metropolitan unions and parishes, of employing an irresponsible agent for the removal of persons placed under warrants of removal to Ireland.

By order of the Commissioners,

B. Banks, Chief Clerk.

To General Sir Thomas Larcom, K.C.B.,
Dublin Castle.

Enclosures in Foregoing.

Report from Mr. Horsley, Poor Law Inspector, to the Commissioners.

August 5th, 1864.

Gentlemen,—Adverting to the Commissioners' communication of the 1st instant, I have the honour to state that on yesterday I inquired into the circumstances attending the removal of a pauper named Mary Lynch and her three children from the Strand Union, London, to Millstreet Union, in the county Cork; and I now transmit herewith, for the information of the Commissioners, the sworn depositions of the woman in question, and beg leave to make the following report with reference thereto:—

Neither Mary Lynch nor her children appear to have acquired, by residence or otherwise, irremovability from the Strand Union; and the order for their removal to Millstreet Workhouse seems to have been made according to law; but I think the person employed to carry the order into effect is liable to a prosecution for misdemeanour under the provisions of section 4 of 26 and 27 Vic., cap. 89, inasmuch as he did not accompany the parties further than Cork, on their journey from London to Millstreet, but distinctly abandoned them at the first-mentioned place, having left them without food, or the means to purchase it, for four and twenty hours, so that Lynch, as will be seen from the accompanying pawn-ticket, was forced to pledge her shawl to obtain the means of procuring food for herself and her children, till she could reach her ultimate destination.

From the description given to me by Lynch, I believe the person who accompanied her from London to Cork to have been George Legon, who, it may be recollected, when employed on a similar mission, was arrested for drunkenness in the town of Skibbereen, and whose misconduct on that occasion was communicated to his employer, Mr. John Frost, of Wapping, London.

I return to office herewith the papers sent to me for the purposes of the inquiry, and have to request that the pawn-ticket attached to the depositions of Mary Lynch may be returned to me when done with, in order that I may restore it to her.

I have the honour to be, gentlemen, your very obedient servant,

S. Horsley.

To the Poor Law Commissioners,
Poor Law Office, Dublin.

Minutes of Evidence accompanying the foregoing Report.

Mary Lynch being duly sworn, saith—Thirteen years ago I was married in the city of Cork to Daniel Lynch. About five years ago I and my husband went to London. I got into bad health, and he and I came back to this country in about twelve months afterwards, and in about a year after that went back to London. I again got into bad health, and went into Whitechapel Workhouse, and was removed from that union to Millstreet last April twelvemonths; and I remained in the workhouse here till the 18th of May last, when I returned to London, and went to my husband in Gulson-street, Whitechapel. He remained with me for one week and then deserted me and our children, one of whom subsequently died, and was buried by the parish authorities of Whitechapel Union. Three weeks after I had been deserted by my husband I went to Brentford to try and get work, and failing to earn enough to support myself and my three children, I was obliged to go into the Strand Workhouse from the house of a friend who lived in Drury-lane, and after I had been a fortnight in that workhouse I was taken before a Magistrate at Bow-street Police-court, and an order was made for my removal, together with my children, to Millstreet Workhouse. On the 21st of July last Mr. John Frost, of Wapping, took me on board the steam-boat Dodo, which sailed on that day for Cork. Mr. Frost gave me in charge to a young man, whose name I do not know, to take me to Millstreet Workhouse. When we arrived at Cork Mr. Fitzgerald provided us with a lodging for the night, and on the following morning Mr. Fitzgerald could not find the young man who had come over in the steam-boat in charge of us. At last he discovered him in the bridewell, where he had been put in consequence of his having got drunk. It turned out that this young man had spent the money with which he had been entrusted to pay for our conveyance to Millstreet, and he was in consequence sentenced to a month's imprisonment in Cork Gaol. Mr. Fitzgerald paid our railway fare to Millstreet, but did not accompany us on the journey or take us to Millstreet Workhouse. We arrived in Cork from the Dodo steamboat on a Sunday night, at six o'clock, and on the following day Mr. Fitzgerald sent us on to Millstreet by the half-past five o'clock afternoon train. I slept in the town of Millstreet on that night, and entered the workhouse on the following day. I got no food for myself or children, either from Mr. Fitzgerald or anyone else, on the day we left Cork for Millstreet, and I was forced to pledge my shawl on the morning of that day, in Cork, to buy food.

My husband is a tailor by trade, and when I went back to London on the last occasion I found that he had taken up with a woman, a widow, who, since her husband's death, has had two illegitimate children, and I do not know where he now is, but I think he is still in England. He never obtained a settlement in any parish in England, as he was always wandering about, and changing his residence from one part of London to another.

Further Report from Mr. Horsley.

Gentlemen, August 11, 1864.

Adverting to the Commissioners' letter of the 8th instant, I have now the honour to supply the additional information sought for by the Commissioners in regard to the removal of Mary Lynch and her three children from the Strand Union, London, to the Millstreet Union Workhouse.

The Commissioners will observe, from the accompanying minutes of evidence given by Mr. John Fitzgerald, of 6, Devonshire-street, Cork, and from the certificate of the Petty Sessions Clerk at Cork, annexed hereto, that, as I had supposed, George Legon was the person employed by Mr. Frost, of Wapping, to convey Lynch and her children to Millstreet Workhouse. I ascertained at Cork yesterday that Legon's misconduct was not confined to his having got drunk whilst on duty, but that he had misappropriated the money intrusted to him, and behaved so insolently to the Magistrates who fined him for drunkenness that they committed him to gaol for seven days for contempt of court. Mr. Frost's conduct in again employing such a person as Legon after what occurred in regard to him last year at Skibbereen, is most reprehensible, and should, I think, be represented to the Guardians of the Poor of the Strand Union.

The Commissioners will further observe that the statements of Mary Lynch and of Mr. Fitzgerald, in reference to her treatment after her arrival at Cork till she reached her ultimate destination, are directly at variance, and that there must have been false swearing on the part of one or other of the two parties. It is clear, however, that Lynch pawned her shawl for some purpose or other before leaving Cork for Millstreet, and there was nothing in her demeanour when giving her evidence on the 4th instant to lead me to suppose that she wished to deceive me on any point. She made no complaint against Mr. Fitzgerald; but said that Legon had never gone near her or her children, or attended to them in any way, on the voyage from London to Cork.

I think Mr. Fitzgerald's reason for not going himself with the Lynch's to Millstreet is important—namely, that Legon had the removal warrants, and that he (Fitzgerald), therefore, had no authority to act in the matter.

I have the honour to be, gentlemen, your very obedient servant,

S. Horsley.

I return the papers sent for my information and for the purposes of the inquiry.—S. H.

Minutes of Evidence forwarded with foregoing Report.

William Fitzgerald, of No. 6, Devonshire-street, Cork, being duly sworn, saith—I know George Legon as being sometimes employed by Mr. Frost, of Wapping, in conveying paupers, on removal warrants, from England to this country. He conveyed Mary Lynch and her three children to Cork from London, on the 24th of July last, and should have gone on with them the next day to Millstreet Workhouse, I having furnished him with money for the purpose, including his own expenses there and back. He got drunk on the 24th of July last, however, in the evening, and was taken up and put into bridewell. I had given him the money for the travelling expenses of himself and the Lynch's on that evening, for the purpose of his going with them on the following morning to Millstreet. The Lynch's were delivered up to me by Legon on the arrival of the steam-boat from London, on the 24th ultimo, and I furnished them with lodgings. They had plenty of food with them. Mary Lynch had four loaves of bread and groceries on the morning of the day she went to Millstreet, and that food was given to her by Mr. Frost. When Legon did not come to the Lynch's lodgings on the morning of the 25th ultimo, I tried to find out where he was, and at last discovered him in bridewell.

I had to go myself to Youghal on that morning with an English pauper, and on my return from Youghal I found the Lynch's still at the lodgings which I had provided for them the night before, and I took them in the afternoon to the Dublin terminus in Cork, and having paid their fare, sent them on to Millstreet. Legon had the removal warrants, and I, therefore, could not accompany the Lynch's myself to Millstreet. He was the party authorized and employed to convey them to Millstreet Workhouse. I gave Mary Lynch, at the railway station, 1*s.* 6*d.* in money, after furnishing her with the railway tickets.

No. 10.—Letter from Messrs. Geale and Dwyer, Solicitors, to the Commissioners.

Offices, 18, Talbot-street,
September 26, 1864.

Sir,

Referring to our letter in this matter of the 17th instant, we beg leave to state, for the information of the Commissioners for Administering the Laws for Relief of the Poor in Ireland, that George Legon having been arrested in London under the warrant issued against him at Cork, as stated in our letter, was conveyed to the latter place on the 17th instant, and brought up before Magistrates on remand, on the 20th instant, when, after hearing the evidence of the several witnesses, he was committed to take his trial before the Recorder of Cork, on Friday last, and the matter having been then proceeded with, the accused was, after a close and full investigation, convicted of the charge, and sentenced to pay a fine of £2, or in default to be imprisoned for three weeks from date of his committal. In the course of the investigation it appeared, that although the accused was guilty in law of a violation of the statute, yet as it was not of a very deliberate nature, the Recorder passed a light sentence.

The importance of the case, as it seems to us, consists in the fact of its being the first instance of an attempt to enforce the provisions of the existing law as applicable to cases of wilful desertion of Irish paupers by the persons sent over in charge of them before they arrive at their place of destination. From the defective state of the law upon the subject the difficulties of obtaining a conviction are almost insuperable, and in any event involve an expense altogether disproportioned to the utmost penalty which can be awarded in the event of the prosecution being successful. Considerable difficulty presented itself in proving that the accused was employed in the execution of a warrant "duly issued" under the Acts (4th section 26th and 27th Vic., 89), the original warrant not being forthcoming, and the statute not declaring the copy given to the pauper on removal, or that sent by post to the Clerk of the Irish union, to be sufficient evidence of the original. In the present case, after some discussion, the Court admitted the latter copy as secondary evidence; but cases may arise in which this could not be done, and in which it might be necessary to bring over witnesses from the English police courts to prove the issuing of the warrant; and even this might fail, unless such witness should voluntarily attend, as no means exist of compelling them to do so. We forward a paper, the Cork Reporter, which contains a correct account, so far as it goes, of the proceedings before the Recorder, as also an "article" on the subject.

We are, sir, your obedient servants,

GEALE & DWYER.

Case of John Cohen and family removed from St. George, Hanover-square, to Dublin.

No. 12.—Letter from the Commissioners to the Chief Secretary of His Excellency the Lord Lieutenant.

Poor Law Commission Office, Dublin,
October 26, 1864.

Sir,

Adverting to the Commissioners' letter of the 13th ultimo,* and to previous communications on the subject of the arrangements made by the Metropolitan Boards of Guardians in England for the deportation of Irish-born paupers to this country, and especially to the mode in which those arrangements are carried out through the agency of Mr. John Frost, of Wapping, under contracts entered into by him for that purpose, the Commissioners for Administering the Laws for Relief of the Poor in Ireland transmit to you herewith, for the information of their Excellencies the Lords Justices, a copy of a report which they have received from their Inspector, Mr. Robinson, relative to the removal of a man named John Cohen, with his wife and five children, from the parish of St. George, Hanover-square, to the South Dublin Union, together with the documents which accompanied it.

It will be seen by these documents, that Peter Reynolds, a man in Mr. Frost's employment, was sent over in charge of Cohen and his family, and also of a man who was ordered to be removed to Banbridge, and a woman, who was to be removed to Drogheda; that on arriving in Dublin on the morning of Sunday, the 16th instant, he left the family, and the man who was to be removed to Banbridge, in a lodging-house in Marlborough-street, and arranged for the whole party to occupy one room; that he did not return to them until between eleven and twelve o'clock next day, having been taken up by the police on Sunday for being drunk, and sentenced next morning to be fined 2*s.* 6*d.*, or be imprisoned for forty-eight hours. The woman who was to be removed to Drogheda, escaped from Reynolds on Sunday morning; and there appears to have been nothing to prevent the other parties escaping likewise, had they chosen to do so. On Monday morning, Reynolds transferred the custody of Cohen and his family to a man named John Kelly, by whom they were taken to the South Dublin Union Workhouse; Reynolds himself proceeding, it is supposed, to Banbridge with the other pauper.

The Commissioners respectfully submit, that the circumstances of this case, the imprisonment and fining of Reynolds for drunkenness while in charge of the paupers, his proposal to lodge John Cohen and his wife and children in the same bed-room with another man, a stranger to the family, who was also under his charge, and the escape from his custody of the woman who was to go to Drogheda, are further proofs of the expediency of the metropolitan parishes employing trustworthy officers of their own, in accordance with the existing state of the law, instead of intrusting the duty of executing the removal warrants to an irresponsible person like Mr. Frost.

By order of the Commissioners,

B. Banks, Chief Clerk.

To the Right Hon. Sir Robert Peel, bart., M.P.,
Dublin Castle.

Report from Mr. Robinson enclosed in foregoing Letter.

Dalkey, October 24, 1864.

Gentlemen,

I have to acknowledge the receipt of your letter of the 21st instant, in which you direct me to examine John Cohen on oath, as to the circumstances of his removal from London to the South Dublin Union, and I now beg to forward to you his evidence on the subject.

It appears that an order having been obtained by the authorities of St. George's Parish, London, for his removal to the South Dublin Union, he and his family were placed in charge of John Frost, on the 7th instant, and remained at his house till the 12th instant, on which day they were put on board the Dublin steamer, and sent to Ireland in the custody of a man named Peter Reynolds, who is one of Frost's agents.

This Peter Reynolds had also charge of a man who was to be removed to Banbridge Union, and of a woman who was to be removed to Drogheda Union.

On arriving in Dublin on the morning of Sunday, the 16th instant, Reynolds left Cohen and his family, and the man who was going to Banbridge, in a lodging in Marlborough-street, and did not return to them till between eleven and twelve o'clock on the following day. From information I have obtained at the police office, and which corroborates Cohen's statement on the subject, I find that Peter Reynolds was taken up by the police on Sunday, the 16th instant, for being drunk, and sentenced next morning to be fined 2*s.* 6*d.*, or forty-eight hours' imprisonment. On Monday morning when Reynolds returned to the lodging in Marlborough-street, he sent Cohen and his family to the South Dublin Workhouse with a man named John Kelly, and it is believed that he then proceeded to Banbridge.

The woman who was to be removed to Drogheda escaped from Reynolds in Dublin on Sunday morning.

John Kelly is a man who had before been employed by Frost in the removal of paupers, and by a letter which he gave me, and which I forward to you, you will observe that Frost sent Reynolds money through him, and requested him to conduct some of the persons removed, if Reynolds required assistance.

John Kelly corroborates Cohen's statements as to what occurred after he arrived in Ireland.

I have the honour to be, gentlemen, your obedient servant,

Henry Robinson.

The Poor Law Commissioners.

Minutes of Evidence forwarded with Mr. Robinson's Report.

John Cohen having been duly sworn, states—When I was about five years old I was taken from Dublin to England by my aunt, with whom I lived, my father and mother being dead. My aunt told me that I was born in James's-street, Dublin. We went to the north of England, and when I was about fifteen years old my aunt married, and went to America, and I have since that time supported myself by my own labour. In June last I came to London, having lived for nearly four years in Deptford, Woolwich; and I was working as a day labourer in London when I met with an accident, which obliged me to go into Whitechapel Hospital. I was living then in St. George's Parish, Hanover-square, and when I went to the hospital, my wife and children had to go into the St. George's Workhouse.

When I recovered I went into the workhouse for a night, and wanted to take my family out next day, but I was not allowed to do so, and I was taken before Mr. Nayers, the Pass-master, who wrote down the particulars as to my place of birth and previous residence. Two days after I was taken before the Magistrates, who asked me whether what Mr. Nayers had taken down was all right, and I said it was, but that I could not swear from my own knowledge as to where I was born. On that evening (the 7th instant) I was sent to Frost's house, who kept me and my family to the following Wednesday, and on that day Frost put us on board the Dublin steamer, and left us in charge of Peter Reynolds, who was to accompany us to Dublin. Peter Reynolds did not belong to the ship, but is one of Frost's agents. Reynolds had charge also of a woman, who was ordered to Drogheda Union. I do not recollect the name, but I saw the warrant; and he also had charge of a man, who was to be taken to Banbridge Union.

On the journey we were kept in the second class cabin, and we arrived in Dublin on Sunday morning last, at ten o'clock; and Reynolds took me and my family, and the man who was going to Banbridge, to a lodging in Marlborough-street, No. 16, and left us there. Reynolds agreed to pay 2*s.* for the accommodation of us all; but I gave the landlady 6*d.* not to put the man into the same room with my wife and children, which she was going to do.

The woman who was to go to Drogheda was not with us, and Reynolds told me she had escaped from him on the quay. I did not see Reynolds till next day, and I could have got away with my wife and children if I liked, but I did not wish to do so, thinking it better to come into the workhouse as I had no means.

When I first left the steamer, I was looking about for a lodging, and saw a man on the quay, and asked him if he could direct me. This man was Kelly, and when I told him my story, he said we were the persons he was looking for, and that he had a letter from Frost about us. I told him Reynolds had come with us, and I saw him give Reynolds a letter from Frost, containing 10*s.* for expenses; and I saw Reynolds give Kelly 2*s.*, which he said Frost had sent to him.

I saw no more of Kelly till next morning, and he came to our lodging at eight o'clock, and waited till Reynolds came, as he said he wanted to make a settlement with him. At about half-past eleven o'clock Reynolds came, and said he did not come to us the night before, as he had got drunk and locked up, and paid 1*s.* fine.

Reynolds then said that he was going on to Banbridge, and that he was hurried, being late, and moreover that he did not like to come near this workhouse, and he asked Kelly to bring us here.

He gave Kelly our warrant and 1*s.*, which Kelly asked for to get some beer coming here, and which he spent in porter and apples for the whole party.

He then left us at this workhouse.

I believe Kelly is one of Frost's agents, for Frost told me one of his men would meet us in Dublin, and make us very comfortable; and Reynolds told me that Kelly was the man who would meet us. John Kelly lives at 16, Mabbot-street.

No. 13.—Letter from the Commissioners to the Board of Guardians.

Poor Law Commission Office, Dublin,
October 26, 1864.

Sir,

Adverting to the letter addressed to you on the 21st instant on the subject of the removal of John Cohen, with his wife and five children from the parish of St. George, Hanover-square, to the South Dublin Union the Commissioners for Administering the Laws for Relief of the Poor in Ireland desire to inform you that they have now received Mr. Robinson's report, and that although there is no reason to conclude that the family was not legally removable, the mode in which the removal was effected appears to have been highly objectionable and improper.

The execution of the warrant appears to have been instrusted to Mr. John Frost, of Wapping, who contracts with most of the metropolitan unions for the removal of paupers. Cohen and his family, with two other paupers, a man who was to be removed to Banbridge, and a woman who was to be removed to Drogheda, were placed on board the Dublin steamer, in London, in custody of a man named Reynolds, who is in Mr. Frost's employment. On arriving in Dublin on the morning of Sunday, the 16th instant, the woman who was to be removed to Drogheda escaped from the custody of Reynolds, and it appears there was nothing to prevent the others escaping also had they thought fit to do so. Reynolds then left Cohen and his wife and five children, and the man who was going to Banbridge, at a lodging-house in Marlborough-street, arranging for the whole party (including the man, who was a stranger to Cohen's family) to occupy the same room—an arrangement which was only prevented by Cohen's being enabled to make a small payment to the landlady to induce her to place the man elsewhere.

Reynolds did not return to the party until between eleven and twelve o'clock the next day, having been taken up by the police on Sunday for being drunk, and the following morning sentenced to a fine of 2*s.* 6*d.*, or forty-eight hours' imprisonment.

On returning to the party Reynolds appears to have transferred the custody of Cohen and his family to a man named John Kelly, by whom they were taken to the South Dublin Workhouse, Reynolds proceeding, it is supposed, to Banbridge with the other pauper.

The Commissioners have communicated the particulars of the case to Her Majesty's Government, as a confirmation of previous complaints made by them regarding the system of contract between the metropolitan unions and parishes and Mr. John Frost, as agent for the deportation of Irish-born subjects in Ireland.

By order of the Commissioners,

B. Banks, Chief Clerk.

Sir, Mount-street, November 10, 1864.

I beg to acknowledge the receipt of your letter, No. 40790 C, together with its enclosures, relating to the removal of John Cohen, his wife and five children, to Ireland; and as the Board do not meet until next week I thought it desirable, in order to avoid delay, to institute an immediate inquiry into the case, and sent for Mr. Rogers, our Removing Officer, and instructed him to read the letters, and let me have his remarks thereon in writing, which he has done, and I now respectfully enclose a copy of the same for the information of the Poor Law Board.

I have the honour to remain, sir, your obedient servant,

St. George, Hanover-square, Board Room,
Sir, Mount-street, November 10, 1864.

I have read the papers from the Poor Law Commissioners in reference to the removal of John Cohen, his wife and five children, from this parish to the Dublin South Union.

The man's sworn statement concerning his admission to and residence in this workhouse is a tissue of falsehoods. The pauper, with his wife and children, were admitted as tramps on the night of the 23rd September; the following morning he stated that he had no home, and wished to remain and be passed to his place of settlement—Ireland.

He was thereupon sent to the assistant overseer, who received his application, and gave an order at once for the admission of himself and family into the workhouse. On the 3rd ultimo I examined Cohen as to his settlement, and found he belonged to the Dublin South Union, and he then expressed his desire to be passed there with his family. On the 5th ultimo the case was reported by me to the Board, and an order made for his removal. On the 7th ultimo Cohen was sworn to his examination at the Marlborough-street Police Court, before Mr. Tyrwhitt, after the same had been carefully read over and explained to him, and afterwards taken by me to Mr. Frost, at Wapping, in a cab. Cohen upon no occasion objected to be sent to Ireland; on the contrary anxiously desired it. Had he wished to leave the workhouse with his family at any time, he would have been permitted so to do, and I particularly told him so upon the day the order was signed by the Magistrate. With respect to the mode of executing such orders, I beg to observe that if a removal officer from every parish in the metropolis in each case should be obliged to conduct the same the expense would necessarily be very great, and the time occupied considerable, and that Mr. Frost is the recognised agent for the metropolitan parishes for this purpose, and which is known to and sanctioned by the Poor Law Commissioners. I beg further to state that no poor are ever passed from this parish to Ireland against their will, but always at their own desire.

I am, sir, your obedient servant,

Poor Law Board, Whitehall, S.W.,
Sir, November 14, 1864.

I am directed by the Poor Law Board to acknowledge the receipt of your letter of the 10th instant, with its enclosure, relative to the removal from the parish of St. George, Hanover-square, to Ireland, of a pauper, John Cohen or Choan, and his family.

The Board request that you will lay their communication of the 9th instant before the Guardians at their next meeting.

At the same time the Board desire to state, with reference to the remarks contained in the letter of Mr. Rogers as to the employment of Mr. Frost, that although they are aware that Mr. Frost is employed by many metropolitan Boards of Guardians to undertake the conduct of the removal of poor persons to Ireland, they have not given any sanction to such an arrangement.

The Board have not interfered in any case between the Guardians and the agents whom they employ in carrying into execution the directions of the statutes relating to the removal of poor persons to Ireland. It rests with the Guardians to make the best arrangements they can for that purpose, and they are responsible for the conduct of the agents whom they employ. If Mr. Frost does not properly fulfil the engagement which he enters into with the Guardians (and the circumstances detailed in the present correspondence lead to the inference that he does not) the Guardians should seek for some other agent to conduct this particular business.

I am, sir, your obedient servant,

St. George, Hanover-square, Board Room, Mount-street,
SIR, November 17, 1864.

The Governors and Directors of the Poor, at their meeting yesterday, had before them the letter from the Poor Law Board, No. 40790 C, dated the 8th instant, with its enclosures, with reference to the removal of a pauper named John Choan, with his wife and five children, to the South Dublin Union, the Clerk's reply thereto, and also a further letter from the Poor Law Board, No. 41789 C, dated the 14th instant, on the same subject. The Board fully considered the whole matter, and having ascertained that the facts mentioned in Mr. Rogers' statement, forwarded with their Clerk's letter on the 10th instant to the Poor Law Board, as regards the paupers' admission into the workhouse, and subsequent removal to Ireland, are correct, the Board are unanimous in opinion that no irregularity has been committed by their removing officer in this case; and I am further directed to add that the Board will consider the suggestion contained in your communication, "as to seeking some other agent than Mr. Frost to conduct the particular business of removing paupers to Ireland."

I have the honour to remain, sir, your most obedient servant,

No. 15.—LETTER from the COMMISSIONERS to the UNDER-SECRETARY of His EXCELLENCY the LORD LIEUTENANT.

Poor Law Commission Office, Dublin,
SIR, December 10, 1864.

In returning to you the file of papers relating to the removal of John Cohen, with his wife and five children, from London, which you referred to them on the 5th instant, the Commissioners for administering the Laws for Relief of the Poor in Ireland desire to acquaint you, for the information of His Excellency the Lord Lieutenant, that they have communicated to the Board of Guardians of South Dublin Union the opinion expressed by the Poor Law Board to the Guardians of St. George, Hanover-square, regarding Mr. Frost's conduct in this case, and the promise made by the Guardians to consider the suggestion of the Poor Law Board to employ some other agent.

The Commissioners think it right at the same time to observe, that the objections which have been advanced in this and other cases to the deportation of Irish paupers by irresponsible agency, apply not merely to Mr. Frost, but to the system itself, which has been thus characterized by Mr. Sergeant Sullivan, in an opinion given on a case submitted to him on behalf of the Commissioners by their solicitors :—

"There can be no doubt that the true intention of the Acts referred to is, that the person to whom the removal warrant is delivered for execution should himself hold the pauper in continuous custody, and deliver him or her at the destination indicated by the warrant, and that the system of contract which has been pursued in England, has resulted in a violation of the spirit of the Acts. The 3rd section of the 8th and 9th Vic., c. 117, which by the 2nd section of the 26th and 27th Vic., c. 89, is declared applicable to Ireland, contemplates beyond any doubt the person to whom the warrant is delivered carrying continuously the pauper to the place at which he or she is to be delivered; but the only offence which is, expressly at all events, provided against, is the wilful desertion of the pauper, as mentioned in the 4th section of the last-mentioned statute; and having regard to this enactment, I entertain the gravest doubts whether as against Mr. Frost or his agents any indictment could be sustained, even though he or they transmitted the pauper from hand to hand in the progress of the journey. The legislation seems to me defective in this, that it does not expressly declare that the non-delivery in person by the individual to whom the warrant may be delivered of the pauper therein named at the specified place of destination shall be a misdemeanor or offence, unless such delivery be prevented by the illness either of the person charged with the execution of the warrant, or the pauper, or other inevitable accident. A clause to this effect would bring about the result which the Commissioners desire; and I must say that, having read their report referred to in the foregoing statement, I think that such result is much to be wished for. The grossest irregularities may, and probably will occur, if a system is persisted in which allows the pauper to be brought over to this country in the manner in which it has been hitherto done."

By order of the Commissioners,

B. Banks, Chief Clerk.

To Major-General Sir Thomas Larcom, K.C.B., &c.,

No. 16—Letter from the Poor Law Board to the Secretary of State for the Home Department.

Sir, Poor Law Board, 24th December, 1864.

I am directed by the Poor Law Board to acknowledge the receipt of your letter of the 16th instant, enclosing a copy of a further communication received from the Irish Government by Secretary Sir G. Grey respecting the removal of John Cohen and his family from the parish of St. George, Hanover-square, to Ireland.

The Board direct me to express their regret that there should be any complaint made as to the proceedings of Boards of Guardians in the metropolis in carrying into execution the provisions of the law for the removal of Irish poor.

The Board endeavour to impress upon the Guardians the necessity of making proper arrangements for carrying out the provisions of the law regulating the transport of this class of poor persons to Ireland; and they trust that, notwithstanding the practical difficulties which surround the subject, such measures will be adopted by the Guardians as will have the effect of greatly lessening the causes for complaint, if not of removing them altogether.

I am, sir, your obedient servant,

CASE of ELIZA WALSH removed from GREENWICH UNION to DUBLIN.
CASES of MARY MORIARTY and JULIA HANNON, removed from GREENWICH UNION to CORK.

No. 17.—LETTER from the COMMISSIONERS to the CHIEF SECRETARY of HIS EXCELLENCY the LORD LIEUTENANT.

Poor Law Commission Office, Dublin,
SIR, November 17, 1864.

The Commissioners for administering the Laws for Relief of the Poor in Ireland transmit to you herewith, for the information of His Excellency the Lord Lieutenant, copies of two reports which they have received from their Inspector, Mr. Robinson, on the subject of the removal of a poor woman named Eliza Walsh, with three young children, from the Greenwich Union, in England, to the North Dublin Union. A copy of the deposition of Eliza Walsh, taken by Mr. Robinson, is also enclosed.

The circumstances under which the removal was effected involve a violation both of the 4th section of the 26th and 27th Vic., c. 89, and also of the 6th section of the 24th and 25th Vic., c. 76, which prohibits the removal of women and children as deck passengers between the 1st October and the 31st of March, and appear also to have entailed considerable hardship and suffering on the woman and her children; and the Commissioners therefore submit the case to His Excellency, with a view to such inquiry being made in England as may appear necessary.

By order of the Commissioners,

B. BANKS, Chief Clerk.

To the Right Honorable Sir Robert Peel, bart.,
M.P., &c., &c., Dublin Castle.

ENCLOSURES in foregoing LETTER.

REPORT from MR. ROBINSON, Poor Law Inspector.

Dalkey, November 14, 1864.

GENTLEMEN,

I have the honour to inform you that, in accordance with the instructions contained in your letter of the 7th instant, I have inquired into the circumstances connected with the removal of Eliza Walsh and her three children from Greenwich Union to this country, and I now forward to you the woman's evidence on oath upon the subject.

It appears that, although she cannot name the place of her birth, she lived for many years in North Dublin Union, and left that union about two years before she went to England.

In May, 1861, she removed from Newcastle to Deptford, where her husband was employed, and in June, 1863, her husband deserted her. She states that she resided in the same street in Deptford from May, 1861, to October last, a period of about three years and five months; but that in the year 1863 she was relieved in the Workhouse of Greenwich Union for five weeks. In July last she also obtained outdoor relief on one occasion.

On the 11th ultimo she again made application for relief, and the relieving officer, Mr. Joseph Patte, obtained an order for her removal to North Dublin Union, and she was placed on board the Dublin steamer on the 15th ultimo. She arrived in Dublin on the 19th ultimo, and on presenting herself at the North Dublin Workhouse, with two of her children, on the 24th ultimo, she was admitted, and is now an inmate of that establishment.

Her removal was effected in a manner which was illegal, and the order to transmit her to Ireland appears, by her own statement, to have been carried out with very little care or consideration for the wants or comfort of the woman and her three young children. The person responsible for her removal violated the provisions of 26th and 27th Vic., cap. 89, which requires that the person employed in the execution of the removal warrant shall convey the person named in the warrant to the place of destination, Eliza Walsh having been sent to London in charge of a pauper inmate of the Greenwich Workhouse, and left in London on board the Dublin steamer; and the 6th section of 24th and 25th Vic., cap. 76, has also been infringed by the removal of the woman and her three children, aged eight years, five years, and seven months, as deck passengers, from London to Dublin, on the 15th of October.

The insufficient arrangements for the care and protection of this family appear, by the woman's evidence, to have resulted, in the first place, in their being compelled to wander about the streets of London, at night, for more than three hours, in charge of a pauper man looking for lodgings, her children, as she says, "trembling with cold," and in the next place in their having been exposed to much suffering from wet and cold on the deck of the steamer, during a journey which lasted for four nights and part of five days. She states that her clothes and the clothes of her children were quite insufficient to keep them warm; and she thus describes their state on board the steamer: "Neither I nor my children had a bed the whole time, and the rain on Tuesday came in on us, and wet me and the children. The deck was teeming with wet on the Tuesday, where we had to lie, and my children and I suffered very much from wet and cold."

I have the honour to be, Gentlemen, your obedient servant,

Henry Robinson.

The Poor Law Commissioners.

Further Report from Mr. Robinson.

North Dublin Union.

Dalkey, November 16, 1864.

Gentlemen,

With reference to my report to you of the 14th instant, on the subject of the removal of Eliza Walsh and her children from Greenwich Union to this country, I beg to inform you that having written to London to the office of the London and Dublin steamers, to inquire whether the woman and her children were paid for as deck passengers on the 15th ultimo, and what was the amount paid for their journey, I have this day received the enclosed letter, by which you will see that 20*s.* was the sum paid for them as deck passengers.

The deck fare from London to Dublin is 10*s.* for an adult, and it is probable therefore that the infant in arms came free, and that the other two children were paid for at half fare.

I have the honour to be, Gentlemen, your obedient servant,

Henry Robinson.

The Poor Law Commissioners.

Deposition of Eliza Walsh.

North Dublin Union.

Eliza Walsh, having been duly sworn, states—I cannot say where I was born, but I was brought up in Dublin, and lived in the north side of the town till within two years of the time I went to England. About two years before I went to England, I went to the Royal Hospital (south side), and lived there till I went to England. I went to England about thirteen years ago, and was married in Liverpool to an Irishman, who went to England at the same time. About four years ago my husband went to work at Deptford, from Newcastle, where we were then living, and in May, 1861, he sent for me and the children, and we went to him to Deptford. He used to work in an iron foundry. In June, 1863, my husband went away to work, and left me, and I did not know where he was, and I had to go into the Greenwich Workhouse, and stayed there five weeks; and as the Relieving Officer wanted to pass me home, I left the workhouse, and when I left they gave me 1*s.* 6*d.* and two loaves.

I remained out till July last, and then applied for relief, and got 1*s.* 6*d.* and three loaves, and was told I would be sent to Ireland; and for fear of being sent away I did not apply again till about four weeks ago, on a Tuesday, October 11th. On the following Thursday, October 13th, I went before the Board at Greenwich, and was taken into the workhouse till the Dublin boat left London.

On the day I applied for relief, October 11th, Mr. Patte, the Relieving Officer, took me before the Magistrates, and I was sworn as to my place of birth and residence in Ireland. This was on the Tuesday, and I was not again taken before the Magistrates.

I always lived in the same street in Deptford while I was there. I did not see Mr. Patte after the Thursday I was before the Board; and on Friday, the next day, October 14th, at seven o'clock at night, a pauper man came for me to take me to London, and I spoke to the assistant matron, Mrs. Flower, about the bad clothing my children had, and she told me to speak to Mr. Patte. The pauper man told me I would see Mr. Patte on board in London.

The schoolmistress saw me dressed, and I did not see the Master, Matron, or Porter, and a pauper nurse saw me out of the gate.

I had very bad clothes of my own, and the schoolmistress gave me an old shawl. My eldest boy, aged eight, had nothing but a bad jacket and an old trousers, no waistcoat, and a very bad shirt, and a little overall, and an old cap, and he was barefooted.

My second child, a girl, aged five, had very little clothing, and very bad, and not enough to keep her warm.

The baby, aged seven months, had very little clothes, and nothing on his feet.

We took the train from Deptford to London Bridge, and arrived there before eight o'clock, and had to walk about, with the children and the pauper man, till near twelve o'clock, before we found a lodging. The children were trembling with cold, and we got nothing to eat for myself or the children till we found the lodging.

Next day, Saturday, October 15th, the man took us down to the quay to the Dublin steamer; and I asked to see Mr. Patte, but could not; and I and my children had to come over in the clothing I have described, which was quite insufficient to keep any of us warm.

The man arranged for my passage with the mate, and gave me 5*s.* and 4 oz. of tea, 2 lbs. of sugar, and about 3 lbs. of beef, and 5 loaves of bread; and he gave me the removal order, and told me not to lose it. He did not give me in charge to anyone.

I tried to get into the cabin and spoke to the mate, and I was not allowed; and I had to spend the whole time with the deck passengers under the cover of the place the horses are kept. I was treated the same way as the other deck passengers. Neither I nor my children had a bed the whole time, and the rain on Tuesday came in on us, and wet me and the children. The deck was teeming with wet, on the Tuesday, where we had to lie, and my children and I suffered very much from wet and cold.

I had to pay the cook for letting me cook my meat. We arrived in Dublin on Wednesday afternoon, October 19th, and wandered about the town till Saturday, till I found my mother-in-law; and I had to pawn my skirt and petticoat, and shawl. My mother-in-law kept my eldest boy, and I came here with the two younger children on Monday, October 24th, and we were admitted.

In reply to your favour of 11th instant, I beg to say that Mrs. Walsh and children went hence, as stated, and that a party called on board the steamer with them before the ticket clerk arrived, and left in charge of the chief officer 20*s.* to pay their fares (i.e.) for herself and the two elder children on deck.

No. 18.—LETTER from the COMMISSIONERS to the BOARD of GUARDIANS of North Dublin Union.

Poor Law Commission Office, Dublin,
November 16, 1864.

SIR,

Adverting to the Resolution of the Board of Guardians of North Dublin Union on the 2nd inst., on the subject of the removal of Eliza Walsh and her three children from Greenwich Union, in England, to the North Dublin Union, the Commissioners for administering the Laws for Relief of the Poor in Ireland, transmit to you herewith, to be laid before the Board of Guardians, a copy of Eliza Walsh's statement, taken on oath by Mr. Robinson, regarding the circumstances of her removal, from which it appears that she resided in Deptford from May, 1861, up to the time of her removal in October last, and that her husband deserted her in June, 1863. Her removal appears to have been effected in a manner which was illegal, and the order of removal was carried out with very little care or consideration for the wants or comfort of the woman and her three young children. The person responsible for her removal, violated the provisions of the 4th section of the 26 and 27 Vic., c. 89, which require that the person employed in the execution of the removal warrant, shall convey the person named in the warrant to the place of destination. Eliza Walsh having been sent from Greenwich to London in charge of a pauper inmate of Greenwich workhouse, and left by him in London on board the Dublin steamer, without being placed in charge of any person, the 6th section of the 24 and 25 Vic., c. 76, has also been infringed by the removal of the woman and her three children, aged respectively eight years, five years, and seven months, as deck passengers, after the 1st of October.

The insufficient arrangements for the care and protection of this family appear to have resulted in the first place in their being compelled to wander about the streets of London for more than three hours, late at night, in charge of a pauper man, looking for lodgings; her children, as she says, "trembling with cold;" and in the next place, in their having been exposed to much suffering from wet and cold on the deck of the steamer, during a journey which lasted for four nights and part of five days. She states that her clothes and the clothes of her children, in which they were sent from Greenwich workhouse, were quite insufficient to keep them warm; and she thus describes the state of herself and children on board the steamer—"Neither I nor my children had a bed the whole time, and the rain on Tuesday came in on us and wet me and the children. The deck was teeming with wet on the Tuesday, where we had to lie, and my children and I suffered very much from wet and cold."

It is the intention of the Commissioners to bring this case under the notice of Her Majesty's Government, with a view to enable inquiry to be made regarding the particulars of the case, if it should be considered necessary to do so, in England.

By order of the Commissioners,

B. Banks, Chief Clerk.

To the Clerk, North Dublin Union Workhouse,
North Great Brunswick street.

No. 19.—Further Letter from the Commissioners to the Chief Secretary of His Excellency the Lord Lieutenant.

Poor Law Commission Office, Dublin,
Sir, November 25, 1864.

Adverting to the Commissioners' letter of the 17th inst., on the subject of the removal of a poor woman named Eliza Walsh with three young children from the Greenwich Union to the North Dublin Union, the Commissioners for administering the Laws for Relief of the Poor in Ireland, desire to state for the information of His Excellency the Lord Lieutenant, that they have consulted their solicitors as to whether, under the circumstances disclosed in the papers, a prosecution could be sustained against any of the parties to the transaction; and the Commissioners now enclose, for His Excellency's information, a copy of a letter which they have received from their solicitors on the subject.

According to the view taken by Messrs. Geale and Dwyer, founded to some extent on an opinion given in a similar case by Sergeant

Sullivan, the present state of the law appears to be inadequate to meet such cases.

By order of the Commissioners,

B. Banks, Chief Clerk.

To the Right Hon. Sir Robert Peel, bart, M.P., &c., Dublin Castle.

Copy Letter from Messrs. Geale and Dwyer, Solicitors, enclosed in foregoing.

Offices, 18, Talbot-street, Dublin,
Sir, November 22, 1864.

Referring to your letter of the 18th inst. as above, forwarding papers relating to the removal by the Board of Guardians of the Greenwich Union in England, of Elizabeth Walsh and her three children, from that place to Dublin, in the month of October last, unaccompanied by any person in charge of them, and as deck passengers, and requesting us to state whether, under the circumstances, a prosecution could be sustained against the Relieving Officer or any other party to the transaction.

We beg to state that, in addition to the non-observance by the Guardians of the terms of the warrant of removal, there have been in the case two flagrant breaches of the Poor Removal Acts—one for the desertion of the pauper in question, and the other for sending her and her infant children to Ireland as deck passengers within the period prohibited by the Legislature.

As regards the first breach, we consider, although the matter is not free from doubt, that Mr. Patte, the Relieving Officer, has rendered himself liable to the penalty imposed by the 4th section of the 26 and 27 Vic., c. 89, and that an indictment would lie against him in England where the offence was committed, but to sustain it would be a matter of considerable difficulty in many respects, and involve much expense, as the pauper woman should be sent to London as a material witness in the case.

With respect to the violation of the law as regards the deck passage, we do not see how the penalty which has been incurred could, under the circumstances, be recovered. By the 5th section 26 and 27 Vic., c. 89, the offence is deemed to have been committed at the port of landing; and as the offenders in this case reside in England, they cannot be made amenable to answer the charge in Dublin, to which port the pauper woman and her family were sent.

The course followed by the Board of Guardians at Greenwich in this matter, shows in the clearest possible way how easy it is to evade the law, almost, if not altogether, with impunity, and render the Poor Removal Acts wholly nugatory, at least so far as they were intended to protect the destitute poor who may be liable to deportation thereunder.

We are, Sir, your obedient servants,

Geale and Dwyer.

To B. Banks, esq., Chief Clerk.

No. 20.—Letter from the Commissioners to the Under Secretary of His Excellency the Lord Lieutenant.

Poor Law Commission Office, Dublin,
Sir, December 8, 1864.

Adverting to the previous correspondence regarding irregularities connected with the removal of poor persons from England to Ireland, the Commissioners for administering the Laws for Relief of the Poor in Ireland have the honour to state, for the information of His Excellency the Lord Lieutenant, that they have recently received reports from Mr. O'Brien, the Poor Law Inspector of Cork district, from which it appears that the removal of several destitute persons from the Greenwich Union has been conducted without regard to the legal enactments on the subject, and the Commissioners are desirous of bringing two cases, in which inquiry has been made on oath, under His Excellency's notice.

Copies of Mr. O'Brien's reports and of the minutes of evidence taken in the instances referred to, are enclosed herewith.

In the first case, that of "Mary Moriarty and her four children," it will be seen that a warrant of removal was obtained on the 16th November, by the Guardians of Greenwich Union, directing that she should be conveyed to Mill-street Union, and should be delivered by the Removing Officer at the Mill-street Workhouse.

Instead of this being done, she was put on board a steamer at Woolwich, unaccompanied by any Removing Officer, and on her arrival at Cork had no resource but to apply for relief there, which she at once obtained for herself and four children.

Independent of the wilful desertion of the woman by the Removing Officer, there were other hardships inflicted on her and her children in the manner of her removal as a deck passenger, though with the use of some accommodation, termed the "Barrack Room." For this, as the Commissioners are advised, no legal remedy is available, but for the distinct violation of the 4th section of the Act 26 and 27 Vic., c. 89, the Board of Guardians of Cork Union are about to proceed for the penalty named in the section, the Cork Union having been illegally burthened with the relief of the family.

In the second case, that of "Julia Hannon and her infant child," a warrant of removal was obtained on the 29th ultimo, by the Guardians of Greenwich Union, directing that she and her child should be delivered at the workhouse of "Killarney" Union, erroneously described in the warrant (which is in an obsolete form) as containing "the Port of Cork." The woman and child were put on board a steamer at Wapping, by a person who, it is stated, is employed in the Greenwich Relieving Officer's office, and left there by him, contrary to the provisions of the Act above quoted.

In this case, as in that of Mary Moriarty, the pauper was compelled to apply for relief at the Cork Union Workhouse, where she now is; and the Commissioners will make the facts known to the Board of Guardians, with a view to their considering the propriety of proceeding in this case also, for the penalty which has been incurred by the Removing Officer.

There are three other persons referred to in Mr. O'Brien's report on Julia Hannon's case, who were likewise deserted by the Greenwich Removing Officer, and who may yet become a burthen to the Cork Union or some other to which they do not belong, owing to the violation of the law by the officers employed by the Board of Guardians of Greenwich Union; and as their course of proceeding, in removal cases, appears to be systematically and deliberately carried on, the Commissioners now make the circumstances known to Her Majesty's Government in Ireland, so as to enable them to be brought under the notice of the proper authorities in England, if it should be thought desirable to do so.

By order of the Commissioners,
B. Banks, Chief Clerk.

To General Sir Thomas Larcom, K.C.B.,
Dublin Castle.

Enclosure.

Report from Mr. O'Brien, Poor Law Inspector.

Millstreet Union, Cork,
November 28, 1864.

Gentlemen,

While attending at the workhouse to-day, my attention was drawn to the case of a woman named Mary Moriarty, belonging to Millstreet Union, and who, together with four young children, was admitted to this workhouse last night, at about 9 o'clock, P.M. I deemed it best to make inquiry into the facts of this case at once, and now submit herewith for your consideration both the removal warrant presented by her here, and the sworn declaration of Mary Moriarty.

The order, it will be seen, directs that Mary Moriarty and her four children, aged respectively 11, 9, and 5 years, and 8 weeks, should be delivered at the Millstreet Workhouse. Instead of this being done, however, it appears that a person named Joseph Moore, an Assistant Relieving Officer in the service of the Guardians of the Greenwich Union, merely placed her and her children on board the Cormorant steamer, bound for Cork, at Woolwich, on Thursday last. Mary Moriarty states that she received from Moore (through the hands of another removal case) an adequate supply of tea, sugar, and bread, but that she was throughout the voyage (from Thursday to yesterday evening) exposed, without covering of any kind, on the deck of the steamer, the "barrack room" having been, she states, filled with soldiers and sailors; and on reaching Cork, she states the mate of the vessel handed her the removal order, telling her the police would put her in the way of getting a night's lodging, but that he had received nothing for her.

To the police she accordingly did apply, and on being directed by them to Mr. Lane, the Cork Relieving Officer, he at once procured a car for her and her children, and despatched them to the workhouse, where they were immediately admitted, and now remain. Having regard to the serious infractions of the law involved in this case, as represented by Mary Moriarty, I deemed it necessary, on my return home from the workhouse, to go on board the London steamer on yesterday, the Cormorant, and ascertain the correctness or otherwise of her story. I pursued inquiry while the facts were yet fresh, and the result has been to confirm the statement made by Mary Moriarty in every particular.

The officers of the Cormorant informed me that a man, whose name they did not learn, placed this family, and also a man named Timothy Hurley, on board at Woolwich, paying for their passage the extra sum of 2*s.*, always paid by Mr. Frost in such cases. That he, at the same time, handed over to the officer the two removal warrants granted in the cases, with a request that they might be given to the parties on reaching Cork; and that he then immediately hurried from the steamer, without giving further instructions of any kind.

I further find that eighteen soldiers and one soldier's wife came by the Cormorant on this occasion to Cork, and that there were also several sailors on board; but I learn that it is only soldiers who can, of right, claim the use of the "barrack room."

It is not alleged that Mary Moriarty received any intimation that she was entitled to the use of this or any other covered cabin; but the ticket clerk says he told Hurley (the other removal case) that they could go there if they wished. It is manifest, however, that even if Mary Moriarty had been specially invited to the use of this cabin, and if her presence there had not been objected to by the other occupants of it, she would naturally and properly even then shrink from availing herself of it under the circumstances stated; and it appears from the statement of Hurley to Mary Moriarty, that even he was deterred by the presence of so many soldiers and sailors from taking advantage of this protection against the weather.

I have the honour to be, Gentlemen, your most obedient servant,

DEPOSITION of MARY MORIARTY referred to in foregoing REPORT.

Cork, November 28, 1864.

MARY MORIARTY, sworn and examined—I am a native of Millstreet, and went with my husband, who was a labourer, to reside at Woolwich, about four years ago. I lived at Woolwich with my husband up to about two months ago, when he left me to look for work. I had then to apply to the parish for relief for myself and my four children; and I was allowed 2*s.* 6*d.* and three loaves of bread weekly.

I got this relief from Mr. Wade, the Relieving Officer. I was told in the beginning I would be sent to Ireland; and on last Wednesday week, 16th November, I was taken before the Magistrate for this purpose, by Mr. Moore, the Assistant Relieving Officer.

On Thursday last Mr. Moore brought me and my four children, with a man who was at the same time sent over to Ireland by him, in a small boat, to meet the steamer for Cork, on board of which he placed us, and then left himself.

The man who was removed with us, handed me a parcel of tea, and sugar, and bread, which Moore, he said, gave him for me. I got no paper from Mr. Moore, and no instructions as to what I was to do when I arrived in Cork.

During the whole of the voyage over my children and I were on the deck of the steamer. No one belonging to the vessel told me there was any other place for me to go to; but the man that was with me said there was a warm place below that he would go to himself only it was full of soldiers and sailors. I saw the soldiers myself. I could not say how many of them there were there—twenty of them there.

We reached Cork about five o'clock yesterday evening, about dark. When we arrived, a boy told me the captain's mate wanted me. I went to him, and he handed me the paper (removal warrant) I handed in here. I asked him if he had anything for me, and he said not. I asked him what I would do, and he told me to go to the police, and that they would get me a night's lodging. I did go to the police, who directed me to where the Relieving Officer (Mr. Lane) lived.

I went to Mr. Lane, who immediately gave me a ticket of admission to the workhouse, and sent us here in a car; we were at once admitted on arriving at the workhouse. I wish to go to Millstreet, but I have no means of going there. We had a good deal of rain during the voyage, and we had no cover except the boards overhead on which the captain walks.

FURTHER REPORT from MR. O'BRIEN, Poor Law Inspector.

Cork, December 6, 1864.

GENTLEMEN,

I have the honour to submit to you the particulars of another case of removal from the Greenwich Union, which has this day come under my notice.

I forward herewith the removal order delivered by the woman Julia Hannon herself at the workhouse here on yesterday, directing her removal to Killarney, and also her sworn deposition, which I this day considered it right to take.

I visited the steamer the Ibis, by which Julia Hannon and her infant were sent over, and I find that her statement is strictly correct.

She does not know the name of the man who placed her on board the steamer at Wapping: but she states he is a regular assistant, employed in the office of the Relieving Officer for Deptford, Mr. Patte, and that she would be able at once to identify him.

The mate of the steamer has confirmed the statement of Julia Hannon, that this man at first only paid deck fare for her, but that on a policeman who was present being appealed to, he obliged him to pay the extra charge made for the use of the "barrack room."

The mate subsequently and very humanely gave the poor woman and her infant the use of his own cabin on the voyage.

I have no doubt the Cork Guardians will at once institute a prosecution in this case, which, coupled with that of Mary Moriarty, reported on last week, makes in all seven persons who were removable to other unions, but who have, owing to the violation of the law by the Greenwich Board and their officers been now rendered chargeable on the rates of this.

It appears from Julia Hannon's statement, confirmed also by the officers of the steamer, that three women named Wilde, belonging to Dingle Union, were passed over by the Greenwich Board with her, and that they were, like her, unaccompanied by any officer, but were furnished with the necessary funds to take them on to their destination.

It is clear, however, that had these parties chosen to remain in Cork, there was nothing whatever to prevent them doing so, and there is even as yet nothing whatever to show that they may not have to be relieved either in Cork or some other union besides that of Dingle.

I have the honour to be, Gentlemen, your most obedient servant,

WILLIAM P. O'BRIEN.

DEPOSITION of JULIA HANNON, referred to in foregoing REPORT.

Cork, December 6, 1864.

JULIA HANNON, sworn and examined—I am a married woman, and my age is twenty-two. I was born in Killarney, but lived as a servant in Tralee for the last three or four years. I got married there to a man named Edward Hannon.

He went to England about six months ago, and about four months ago I went also to England in search of him. I took up my residence in England at Deptford. I did not find my husband there as I expected. I supported myself out of my own money there, up to the time when my confinement was coming on, and I then had to go into the Greenwich workhouse.

I went into the workhouse on Monday, the 24th October, and on the next day I gave birth to the child now in my arms. I remained in the workhouse for about three weeks, and then left it; but in a few days after I was again obliged to apply for admission. The Relieving Officer, Mr. Patte, refused to let me in, but he brought me before the Board at Greenwich, and they directed that I should be passed on to Ireland.

This was on Thursday. Mr. Patte then gave me a loaf of bread and 1*s.* 6*d.*, and the following Wednesday I was taken before the court at Greenwich, and was examined as to my place of birth. Mr. Patte told me that evening to be at a coffee shop in Deptford, at six o'clock next morning, and that a man who acts as an assistant in his office would meet me there. I met this man next morning, that was last Thursday, he gave me my breakfast, and then took me to Wapping, and placed me on board the steamer. I don't know this man's name. He was an old man that I often saw in Mr. Patte's office, and I would know him again. When on board he gave me some beef (raw), tea, sugar, and bread. He gave me quite enough for the voyage; he also gave me 2*s.* 6*d.; he did not tell me what I was to do with this money; but he gave me a paper, which he told me I was to hand to a relieving officer when I reached Cork, and that he would send me on to Killarney. He left me on the deck as a deck passenger; but on my telling this to a policeman, he (the policeman) followed the man and made him pay 3*s.* extra fare.

The mate of the steamer then took charge of me, and gave me the use of his own cabin during the voyage.

In the same steamer with me a woman, named Wilde, and two grown-up daughters were also sent over from the Greenwich Union, by a man belonging to Mr. Weekes, the Relieving Officer. Mrs. Wilde told me that this man gave her £3 15*s.*, to pay their expenses to Dingle. No officer came over in charge of these women.

I slept in lodgings on arriving at Cork on Sunday evening, and yesterday being directed by a policeman to the Relieving Officer, I was admitted to the workhouse.

I would have wished to go on to Killarney if I had the means. I spent the 2*s* 6*d*. I got on board on Sunday and yesterday, in paying for my lodging and food.

No. 21.—Letter from the Commissioners to the Under Secretary of His Excellency the Lord Lieutenant.

Poor Law Commission Office, Dublin,
December 23, 1864.

Sir,

Adverting to their letter of the 8th instant, the Commissioners for administering the Laws for Relief of the Poor in Ireland have the honour to state, for the information of His Excellency the Lord Lieutenant, that they have received a report from their Inspector, Mr. O'Brien, communicating the progress made up to the present time in the proceedings instituted by the Board of Guardians of Cork Union in reference to the case of "Julia Hannon," who with her infant child was deserted by the agent of the Removing Officer of Greenwich Union intrusted with her conveyance to the Killarney Union Workhouse.

A copy of Mr. O'Brien's report is enclosed herewith, from which it will be seen that informations have been taken against the person who deserted Julia Hannon, and that the case is returned to the Middlesex Sessions on next Monday week.

The case appears to have engaged a good deal of attention when the particulars came before the Magistrate by whom the informations were granted; and Mr. O'Brien very justly remarks that it will be much to be regretted if the responsible paid officer of the Board of Guardians of Greenwich Union should succeed in screening himself from the official as well as any legal consequences of his act, by the employment of such an agent as he appears to have resorted to in this case, and directing him to violate the law by merely placing the woman on board the steamboat.

By order of the Commissioners,

B. Banks, Chief Clerk.

To General Sir Thomas Larcom, K.C.B.,
Dublin Castle.

Copy Report from Mr. O'Brien, enclosed in foregoing letter.

Gentlemen, Cork, December 22, 1864.

Referring to former communications on the subject of the recent removal of Julia Hannon and child from Greenwich Union, I take leave to enclose for your information a copy of a letter I have received by this evening's post from Mr. Babington, the Guardians' solicitor, respecting the progress made with the prosecution up to the present time.

It will be much to be regretted if the responsible officer of the Greenwich Board is suffered to screen himself from the official as well as the legal consequences of his act, by the employment of such agents as he appears to have resorted to in this case.

I have the honour to be, Gentlemen,

W. P. O'Brien.

To the Poor Law Commissioners.

Copy Letter from Mr. Babington to Mr. O'Brien.

Tavistock Hotel, Covent Garden, London, W.C.,
December 21, 1864.

My Dear Sir,

I am happy to inform you that I got information taken to-day against the man who deserted Julia Hannon. Unfortunately he is an old man of seventy, and is himself a pauper in the workhouse. I could reach the Relieving Officer, Patte, under a late Act, for aiding and abetting in a misdemeanor, but I require Patte's evidence to commit the man who deserted.

The informations are returnable to the Middlesex Sessions, which will not be until next Monday week. Curran must remain over with the pauper until then, and will instruct him to leave her in the Greenwich Union. The Magistrate who presided at the close of the case designated it as the most flagrant violation of an Act of Parliament that ever came before him, and requested that the Board of Guardians should be made aware of what their officers were guilty of, as also the Magistrate who took the informations, of the manner in which his warrant was executed, which I promised to do, and intend waiting on the Guardians to-morrow.

I am, yours faithfully,

Thomas Babington.

No. 22.—Letter from the Under Secretary of State for the Home Department to the Chief Secretary of his Excellency the Lord Lieutenant.

Sir, Whitehall, February 8, 1865.

With reference to your letters of the 19th November and 10th December last, and their enclosures (herewith returned), I am directed by Secretary Sir George Grey to transmit to you, to be laid before his Excellency the Lord Lieutenant, as received from the Poor Law Board, the enclosed copy of a correspondence which has taken place between that Board and the Guardians of the Greenwich Union, relative to the removal from that union to Ireland of Eliza Walsh, with her three children, and several other destitute persons.

I am directed by the Poor Law Board to forward, for any observations which the Guardians of the Greenwich Union may desire to make thereon, a copy of a letter and its enclosures, which have been transmitted to the Board from the Home Office, relative to the removal to Ireland of a pauper named Eliza Walsh, and her three children.

I am directed by the Poor Law Board to call your attention to the letter which they addressed to you on the 2nd instant, enclosing a copy of a letter and its enclosures, which they had received from Her Majesty's Secretary of State for the Home Department, relative to the removal from the Greenwich Union to Ireland of a pauper named Eliza Walsh, and her three children.

The Board regret that they have not yet received any reply to their letter, and they request to be furnished with the observations of the Guardians of the Greenwich Union on the case with the least possible delay.

I am, sir, your obedient servant,

Poor Law Board, Whitehall, S.W.,
Sir, December 20, 1864.

I am directed by the Poor Law Board to forward herewith a copy of a letter and its enclosures, which they have received from Her Majesty's Secretary of State for the Home Department, relative to the cases of several poor persons who have been removed to Ireland from the Greenwich Union.

The Board have already called attention to the case of Mary Walsh, which was brought under their notice by the Home Secretary, and they regret to be obliged to communicate with the Guardians respecting the cases now in question, in which the statements forwarded appear to show that there has been great neglect of the provisions of the law in regard to the removal of poor persons to Ireland from the Greenwich Union.

The Board request the immediate attention of the Guardians to this communication, and they wish to be furnished with their observations on the subject as soon as possible.

I am, sir, your obedient servant,

S. Saw, esq., Clerk to the Guardians, Greenwich Union, 20A, Upper Park-street, Greenwich, S.E.

Greenwich Union, Greenwich, S.E., January 5, 1865.

My Lords and Gentlemen,

I am directed by the Guardians to acknowledge the receipt of your letters of 2nd and 20th ultimo, No. 44,229/1864, and also your letter of 20th ultimo, No. 47612/1864, together with the copies of correspondence, reports, &c., enclosed therein, in reference to alleged irregularities on the part of Relieving Officers of this union in the mode of removing paupers to Ireland, and in reference thereto to state that the Guardians have made inquiries as to the removals therein mentioned, and have ascertained as follows:—

1. As to the case of Eliza Walsh and children—the Relieving Officer (Mr. Patte) states that he sent his assistant (Mr. Young) on the Wednesday before the day of sailing to the office of the steam packet, to pay passage money and inquire if the paupers could be put on board the night before sailing, but he was told they must embark same morning, and the passage money be paid on board. To ensure their being in time, he sent his messenger (Sherman), whom he considered trustworthy, to London with the paupers, about seven in the evening, before sailing, directing him to procure lodging for the night, and embark them in the morning as cabin passengers. The messenger states that lodgings were procured about ten o'clock, and not twelve, as stated by Walsh. The Assistant-Matron and Nurse at the union house state that Elizabeth Walsh had the clothing returned to her she entered the house in, with some additions from the house stores, and that she was told to apply to the Relieving Officer if anything more was required. Her clothing was not suitable for travelling in cold weather. The season, however (October 15), was mild. The boy, aged eight, said by Walsh to have been barefooted, had boots on when he left the house, but the messenger says that the boy threw them away when he got outside. The nurse positively asserts that the baby had woollen socks, and a pair of boots put over them before leaving the house. The provisions given to Walsh were as stated by her, except that the beef was six and three-quarter pounds instead of three. The messenger, on his return to the Relieving Officer, stated he had paid 25*s.* for passage money, and had seen Walsh and her children placed under cover. The deck fare would appear to be 20*s.*, and the 5*s.* extra would cover the charge for the barrack-room or fore-cabin, it appearing that Mr. Frost, who contracts for the removal of most of the Irish poor from London, pays 2*s.* per head for adults, besides deck fare, for this accommodation. The captains of the steamers object to carry paupers in the after-cabin; and one of the Relieving Officers of this union was told some months back by the captain of an Irish steamer, "You may pay chief cabin fare if you like, but rest assured your paupers are not going into that cabin with my other passengers."

The place of destination of Eliza Walsh being Dublin, there does not appear to be any substantial reason why a person should have been sent to Ireland merely to enable her to find out the Dublin workhouse more quickly than she had, though perhaps in strictness the law required it. She seems to have preferred searching for her mother-in-law to going straight to the workhouse (vide her deposition before Mr. Robinson, Irish Poor Law Inspector, taken 9th November last); and the 5*s.* she had in money from Mr. Patte, with the provisions, would, and no doubt did, provide her with food and lodging until she found her relative.

2. As to the case of Julia Hannon and child. In this case the pauper was paid for as a passenger in the barrack-room or fore-cabin; and furthermore, the mate materially gave her accommodation in his own cabin, so that no violation of the law regarding the period of removing paupers as deck passengers can possibly be alleged. Owing to an impression on the part of the Relieving Officer (Mr. Patte) that the pauper could be forwarded to her destination by the parochial authorities in Ireland (if she fell chargeable there) at the expense of this union, he made no provision for her to go beyond Cork, except giving her 2*s.* 6*d.* in money.

3. As to the case of Mary Moriarty and children. The Assistant Relieving Officer (Mr. Moore) was obliged to put the paupers on board at Woolwich in a small boat, and when on board was so much hurried by the captain (probably to prevent delay) that he inadvertently omitted to give the paupers the necessary sum to take them on to Millstreet, as directed by the Relieving Officer (Mr. B. Wates), the distance between Millstreet and Cork being easily and cheaply accomplished by rail. The mode of conveying the paupers on board was also similar to that adopted by Mr. Frost, the fare for the barrack-room or fore-cabin being paid.

4. As to the cases generally. The result of the foregoing inquiries clearly shows that from mistaken ideas on the part of the Relieving Officers that the Guardians at the port of arrival could, if the paupers became chargeable there, send them on at the expense of this union; no arrangements were made for any person to accompany them, and the result has been that Moriarty and Hannon became chargeable to the Cork Union. From subsequent information it seems that Moriarty and her children took their discharge from the Cork Workhouse a few days after their admission, and Hannon was almost immediately sent over to England as a witness for the prosecution against the messenger, John Sherman.

The Guardians readily admit that the Relieving Officers have acted irregularly in the course they have pursued, in not sending a person to accompany the paupers to their destination; and they regret that the Cork Union should have been temporarily burthened thereby. In compliance with a request made to them in a letter from Mr. Babington, Solicitor of the Cork Union, they have re-admitted Julia Hannon and her child to the workhouse of this union, with a view to her being legally removed to Killarney; and they have given such directions to their Relieving Officers as will effectually prevent any similar irregularity in future.

From the foregoing inquiries it further appears that the fare paid for the passage of the paupers was in all cases equal to that paid by Mr. Frost, and the paupers therefore entitled to the same accommodation; and if in any case they actually travelled as deck passengers, the blame is due to the officers of the ship in not supplying the accommodation paid for.

It may perhaps be asserted that the evidence collected by Mr. Robinson as to the passage money paid for Walsh, does not agree with the statement of the messenger, Sherman, the former tending to show that deck fare only was paid, whilst Sherman asserts that he paid 5*s.* more, which would be barrack-room or fore-cabin. Whatever may be the fact as to the fare paid, the Relieving Officer states most positively he told Sherman to pay cabin fare, and if any error was committed on this point it was through Sherman's inadvertence.

The directions given by the Guardians will, there is no doubt, prevent the possibility of any mistake occurring of a like kind again.

In conclusion I am directed to add that if any further information in their power be required, the Guardians will readily furnish it on hearing again from you.

I have the honour to be,

My Lords and Gentlemen,

Your most obedient humble servant,

(Signed), Samuel Saw,
Clerk to the Guardians.

Poor Law Board, Whitehall, S.W.,
January 10, 1865.

Sir,

I am directed by the Poor Law Board to acknowledge the receipt of your letter of the 5th instant, in which you furnish them with the result of the inquiries which have been made by the Guardians of the Greenwich Union in reference to the alleged irregularities on the part of the Relieving Officer of that union, in the mode of removing to Ireland the paupers referred to in the Board's letters of the 2nd and 20th ultimo.

The Board request that you will inform them what directions the Guardians gave as to the obtaining the orders of removal in each of the cases referred to, and that you will furnish the Board with a copy of any minute which may have been made by the Guardians in regard to each case.

The Board also wish to know how the Guardians have understood the statutes 24 and 25 Vic., c. 76, sec. 4, and 26 and 27 Vic., c. 89, sec. 1, as regards the conveyance of the paupers to the place of their ultimate destination in Ireland, and what general directions, if any, they gave to their Relieving Officer upon the subject.

I am, Sir, your obedient servant,

(Signed), H. Fleming, Secretary.

Samuel Saw, esq., Clerk to the Guardians of the Greenwich Union, Greenwich, S.E.

Greenwich Union, Greenwich, S.E.,
January 28, 1865.

My Lords and Gentlemen,

I am directed by the Guardians to acknowledge the receipt of your letter of 10th instant, and in reply thereto, to state that the directions given by the Guardians as to obtaining orders of removal in the cases of the Irish paupers referred to in your letters of 2nd and 20th ultimo, consisted of an entry being made by order of the Board "to be removed to Ireland" opposite the case in the "Relief Order Book" and "Application and Report Book," under the head of "other orders of the Board (if any)."

The Guardians are advised that the intention of section 1 of 26 and 27 Vic., c. 89, was to repeal the power given by section 4 of 24 and 25 Vic., c. 76, to the magistrate to order the conveyance of Irish paupers to the Workhouse of the Union containing the port nearest to the place of their ultimate destination, but it does not appear that section 5 of 24 and 25 Vic., c. 76, which enables the Guardians of the Union containing the port, to forward the paupers to their ultimate destination at the expense of the Union obtaining the order, has been expressly repealed, and the Relieving Officers, who, according to the practice in this union, obtain the orders of removal and superintend their execution, appear to have held the belief that the power thus given by section 5 still existed.

I am further directed to state that some years ago the justices of the county of Kent made regulations under 8 and 9 Vic., c. 117, sec. 4, appointing Mr. Gill, of Swan-lane, City, to effect the removal of Irish poor under orders; but Mr. Gill has been long dead, and the Guardians are not aware that any person has been appointed by the justices in his stead, neither have the Guardians given any directions to the Relieving Officers to employ a person to accompany the paupers to the place of their destination; but it having come to the knowledge of the Guardians, from the recent correspondence, that in the cases of Hannon and Moriarty, the paupers, from the omission of the Relieving Officers to supply them with funds to reach their destination, had become chargeable to the union containing the port of Cork, and the Guardians of the Cork Union having stated through their solicitor, that they had no power to send paupers to their destination under such circumstances, the Guardians of this Union have decided not to order the removal of any other Irish paupers until more complete arrangements can be satisfactorily made to convey them to the place of their ultimate destination.

In conclusion I have to add that the omission just referred to as having occurred on the part of the Relieving Officers, is stated by them, and believed by the Guardians, to have been quite exceptional, as explained in my letter of 5th instant; and it may be mentioned as confirmatory of this, that no other instances have been brought to the notice of the Guardians of this union of any pauper removed by them becoming chargeable to any other union than that to which the removal was directed by the magistrate's order.

I have the honour to be, my Lords and Gentlemen,
Your most obedient humble servant,

Whitehall, S.W.

Poor Law Board, Whitehall, S.W.,
Sir, February 6, 1865.

I am directed by the Poor Law Board to acknowledge the receipt of your letter of the 28th ultimo, in reply to the inquiries in their letter of the 10th ultimo, with reference to the removal of poor persons to Ireland from the Greenwich Union.

The Board direct me to state that they consider that under the recent Acts it is incumbent upon the Board of Guardians of the unions in England where they obtain a warrant for the removal of an Irish pauper to a union in Ireland, to take care that such pauper is duly conveyed to the place specified in the warrant, and that he is so conveyed in the custody of some person competent to see to his safe delivery at such place.

The Board therefore trust that the Guardians of the Greenwich Union will henceforth make arrangements for this purpose, so that there may be no repetition of such serious complaints in reference to the removal of the Irish poor from their union, as lately formed the subject of investigation at the Middlesex Court of Quarter Sessions.

I am, Sir, your obedient servant,
(Signed) W. G. Lumley, Assistant-Secretary.

Case of James Kearney removed from Brentford Union to Kells.

No. 23.—Letter from the Commissioners to the Chief Secretary of His Excellency the Lord Lieutenant.

Poor Law Commission Office, Dublin,
Sir, November 26, 1864.

The Commissioners for administering the Laws for Relief of the Poor in Ireland have the honour to state for the information of His Excellency the Lord Lieutenant, that their attention having been called by the Board of Guardians of Kells Union to the removal of a man named James Kearney, from Brentford Union, in England, to the Kells Workhouse, which removal the Guardians considered to be illegal on the ground that the man was sent to this country unaccompanied by any responsible officer, the Commissioners directed their Inspector, Mr. Robinson, to inquire into the circumstances of the case.

The Commissioners transmit herewith a copy of Mr. Robinson's report of the inquiry and of the evidence taken thereat, from which it will be seen that James Kearney was born in the Kells Union, and that he joined the Irish Constabulary in the year 1855, and subsequently (in 1858) enlisted in the 5th Lancers, and was discharged from that regiment at Chatham, about two years ago, owing to his having a bad chest; that being unable to work, from ill-health, he entered the workhouse of Brentford Union, and was removed therefrom to the Kells Workhouse under warrant dated the 2nd instant.

It appears from Kearney's evidence that he was under medical treatment from the time he entered the Brentford Workhouse to the date of his removal to Ireland; and although it is stated in the deposition signed by him in England, when about to be removed, "that the state of health of himself is such that he will not be liable to suffer any bodily or mental injury by removal to Ireland," he states in his evidence before Mr. Robinson, that he was not asked by the Magistrates whether he was ill; that nothing whatever was said to him in the court-house or office about the state of his health; and that when he signed the deposition he did not know that it contained anything relating to his health; that the paper was not read to him at any time, and he did not know what was in it.

It further appears from his evidence that although the Medical Officer of the Brentford Workhouse told him a couple of days before leaving that he should have a cabin passage, and the Master of the workhouse told him on the morning he left that he had a cabin passage, no such passage was provided for him by Mr. Frost, the London Deportation Agent, to whose custody he was transferred for removal; but he remained on the deck of the steamer without sufficient clothing from eight o'clock on Wednesday morning to the following Saturday night, with the exception of a short time when he went down to a place under the deck, which was full of soldiers, and in which he could not remain owing to tobacco smoke, which affected his breath, and that he suffered very much from cold; and considers his complaint has been worse from the effects of the journey. One of his lungs, according to the evidence of the Medical Officer of Kells Workhouse, was diseased; and from Kearney's appearance the Medical Officer stated his opinion that the exposure to cold on the deck of the steamer was sufficient to endanger his life.

The Commissioners have informed the Guardians that, admitting the man to have been legally removable from Brentford Union, his removal was effected in an illegal manner, inasmuch as he was not accompanied by, or placed in charge of, any person on his passage to Ireland; and assuming his statement to be true, his removal in the state of health in which he was known to be by the officers of Brentford Union, without their taking effectual steps to secure for him a cabin passage, was in the opinion of the Commissioners an act of great inhumanity, and very likely at this season of the year to have been fatal to life, although not an infringement of the provision which relates to a deck passage.

The Commissioners submit this case for his Excellency's information in reference to previous correspondence regarding Mr. Frost's agency, and in the hope that such further inquiry may be made in England into the circumstances of the case as may be considered necessary.

By order of the Commissioners,

B. Banks, Chief Clerk.

To the Right Honorable Sir Robert Peel, bart., M.P., &c., Dublin Castle.

Enclosures.

Copy Report from Mr. Robinson.

Gentlemen, Dalkey, November 23, 1864.

I have the honour to acknowledge the receipt of your letter of the 18th instant, and in compliance with the instructions contained therein, I now beg to forward to you the evidence on oath of James Kearney, as to the circumstances connected with his removal from Brentford Union to this country.

I also enclose a letter I have received from the office of the London and Dublin Steam Packet Company on the same subject.

James Kearney was born in Kells Union, and having lived for only two years in Brentford Union, was legally removable to Kells Union,

It appears, however, that when he was discharged from Brentford Workhouse he was suffering from disease of the lungs, and he was removed in a manner calculated to increase that disease, and, as the Medical Officer of Kells Workhouse states, to endanger his life.

He alleges that he went into Brentford Workhouse, being unable to work from ill-health, and that he was in the infirmary, and under medical treatment, from the time of his admission to the time of his removal to Ireland. He says he was under medical treatment when he was taken before the Magistrates, but that he was not asked whether he was ill, and that he did not know the contents of the paper he signed (which is attached to the removal order), and was not aware that it contained anything about his health, the paper not having been read to him at any time.

He states further that both the Medical Officer and Master of Brentford Workhouse told him he should have a cabin passage, and that the Relieving Officer who obtained the removal order, and who accompanied him to London, also said, when he left him in London, that he was entitled to a cabin passage, and that if he did not take care "they would do him out of it."

This Relieving Officer left him in London, on the 1st instant, with Mr. Frost, who put him on board the Dublin steamer next day; but instead of providing the cabin passage promised to the man, Mr. Frost only paid 10s. for a deck passage for him, and he came to Dublin as a deck passenger, passing three nights and part of four days in that manner. He says that there was a place between decks to which he had access, but that there was no fire in it, and that he had no bed during the journey; and that this place being full of soldiers, and the tobacco smoke affecting his breath, he could not remain there.

I may remark that a cabin passage includes a bed, and that the amount (10s.) paid by Mr. Frost for Kearney was the ordinary deck fare. I am informed by the agents of the Steam Packet Company in Dublin that the place which Kearney says he had access to is a covered place of shelter for deck passengers, for which nothing is charged beyond the ordinary deck fare, and in which beds are not provided.

Kearney states that he had bad clothes and no great coat, that he suffered much from cold, and thinks his complaint has been worse since he came over, from the effects of the journey.

Dr. Kellett, the Medical Officer of Kells Workhouse, has sworn that Kearney's right lung is diseased, and that, judging from his state when he arrived at Kells, he considers that a journey on a deck of a steamer, and exposure to cold, was sufficient to endanger his life, and that he is now much better; but that he was on his arrival in a miserable state from the effects of cold and exposure.

Kearney asserts that he was not placed in any person's charge on board the steamer, but that on arriving in Dublin he was met by a man in Mr. Frost's employment, named John Kelly, by whom he was taken to Kells on the 7th instant.

I have the honour to be, Gentlemen, your obedient servant,

Henry Robinson.

The Poor Law Commissioners.

Minutes of Evidence referred to in foregoing Report.

James Kearney having been duly sworn, states—I was born at Cookstown, in Kells Union, and left Ireland in 1859. I joined the Constabulary in 1855, and enlisted in the 5th Lancers in 1858, and went with that regiment to England in 1859. I left the regiment in Chatham about two years ago, having been discharged for a bad chest. On being discharged I went to Brentford, and went into the workhouse there at the end of September last. I was obliged to apply for relief, being unable to work from ill health. I was in the infirmary of the workhouse, and under medical treatment during the whole time I was in the workhouse, and was in the infirmary and under the care of the Medical Officer up to the day I was discharged to be sent here.

On the Saturday before I was discharged I was taken before the Magistrates (October 29th), and examined as to my place of birth.

I was sent to the Magistrate's office by the Master of the workhouse, with a pauper boy to show me the way. I was not asked by the Magistrate whether I was ill, and I did not tell him I was ill and under medical treatment.

I met Mr. Pressick, the Relieving Officer, at the office, and he told me to go to the Court-house where he met me, and where I was examined as to my place of birth.

The doctor of the workhouse spoke to me about coming over a couple of days before I was taken to the Court-house, and he said I should have a cabin passage in the steamer, and the morning I was coming away the Master also told me I had a cabin passage. I do not know whether the Medical Officer gave any certificate as to my state of health.

On the following Tuesday (November 1st), Mr. Pressick, the Relieving Officer, took me by train to London, and gave me up to Mr. Frost. I remained at Mr. Frost's till next day, and he put me on board the Dublin steamer.

When Mr. Pressick left me in London he told me I was entitled to a cabin passage, and that if I did not take care they would do me out of it.

Mr. Frost did not give me in charge to any one in the steamer, and in the evening I told the captain of the steamer I thought I was entitled to a cabin passage, and he said I was only entitled to a deck passage, and I had to remain on the deck the whole way.

I was from eight o'clock on Wednesday morning to Saturday night on the deck of the steamer, and was exposed, with nothing over me during the whole journey except for a short time occasionally when I went down to a place under the deck, which was full of soldiers, and where I could not stay on account of the smoke which affected my breath. I had no bed the whole time. One day it rained very hard and I got wet. Mr. Frost gave me four loaves and a piece of cheese, two ounces of coffee, and half a pound of sugar, and that was all I had to eat on the journey, but I had not a very good appetite, and did not care for more. I had no money, and I had bad clothes, having only a coat and waistcoat, shirt and trousers, and bad shoes, and a cap and neckcloth; I had no great coat. I suffered very much from cold, and think my complaint has been worse since I came over, from the effects of the journey.

On getting to Dublin John Kelly came on board, and told me he was one of Mr. Frost's men, and he took me to a lodging, and kept me and fed me till Monday, when he brought me here in the train (November 7th). He gave me sufficient food, and I was comfortably lodged when I was with him.

There was nothing to prevent my going between decks to where the soldiers were if I liked, but I could not bear the smoke. There was no fire in that place, but there were seats round it, which were covered with the soldiers' packs.

When I signed the paper I now see, I did not know what was in it, and did not know that it contained anything about my health. The paper was not read to me at any time, and I did not know what was in it.

Nothing whatever was said in the court-house or office to me about my state of health.

JAMES KEARNEY.

Sworn before me, this 19th of November, 1864.

HENRY ROBINSON, Poor Law Inspector.

EDWARD KELLETT, esq., M.D., Medical Officer of the Kells Workhouse, having been duly sworn, states—I saw James Kearney the night he arrived here, and I at once took him into the infirmary, where he has remained ever since, and he is still there under medical treatment. One of the lungs is diseased—the right lung. From the state he was in when he was put under me, I consider that a journey on a deck of a steamer, and exposure to cold in any place was sufficient to endanger his life. He is now much better; but when I first saw him he was in a miserable state from the effects of cold and exposure. I am of opinion that if he had been provided with a cabin passage, and a bed, he might have come over to this country without danger, but that both those were indispensable to his safety.

My Lords and Gentlemen,

I am directed by the Guardians to acknowledge the receipt of your letter of the 9th instant, 45,701/C, 1864, as to the removal of a pauper named Kearney to Ireland, and to inform you that they have directed inquiries to be made relative thereto, and as soon as those inquiries have been completed they will communicate thereon to the Poor Law Board.

I have the honour to be, my Lords and Gentlemen, your most obedient servant,

The Poor Law Board, &c.

Brentford Union, Brentford, W.,
December 22, 1864.

My Lords and Gentlemen,

I am directed by the Guardians of this union, in reply to your letter of the 9th instant No. 45,701/C, 1864, to inform you that they have inquired into the circumstances as to the removal of James Kearney from this union to Ireland, and the following are the facts as far as they can ascertain :—

The pauper was admitted into the workhouse of this union on the 3rd October last, and was placed in the infirmary by order of the medical officer, he suffering from a chest affection, and was afterwards discharged therefrom ; that the pauper expressed a desire to be removed to Ireland, stating he thought his native air would be of benefit to him, and the medical officer gave a certificate that he might be removed.

That on the 29th October he was taken to the office of the clerk to the Justices for the purpose of an order being taken out for his removal. That when at the office he was expressly asked if he desired to be removed to Ireland, it being the practise in this union that should a pauper express his unwillingness to be removed no order is attempted to be taken out ; that he stated in reply he wanted to be sent home, and the order was accordingly prepared, and the same was read over to him, and he signed it and made no objection thereto.

That after the order was made the pauper returned to the workhouse, where he remained until the 1st November last, upon which day he left in company with one of the Relieving Officers of the union. Prior to the pauper leaving the Master of the Workhouse observing his clothes to be bad supplied him, in addition to the clothes he was wearing, with a good pilot coat and a pair of trousers, which the pauper put on over his own, and expressed to the Master, on leaving, his thankfulness for the same, and went cheerfully away. The Medical Officer and Master of the Workhouse both distinctly deny having told the pauper that he was to have a cabin passage, inasmuch as neither of them knew the regulations; but a cabin passage was provided, as will be seen hereafter.

The Relieving Officer, in pursuance of the order of removal, conveyed him to London and placed him in charge of Mr. Frost, the London Deportation Agent, and paid the passage money for a fore cabin, conductor, mileage to port and back, and one day's keep of conductor, as appears by Mr. Frost's acknowledgment. That when he was so left in charge of Mr. Frost by the Relieving Officer he had on the same clothes as he left the workhouse with, and which the Guardians consider were sufficient to protect him on a passage to Ireland. Although the Guardians were not bound to provide a cabin passage for an adult male they felt, looking at the period of the year, that this was a case in which they could fairly extend their powers and provide such accommodation for the pauper.

The Deportation Agent states he did leave the pauper in the care of a competent person, and showed the pauper his quarters, fore cabin.

The Guardians of the Kells Union lay particular stress upon the conduct of the Deportation Agent, and if his conduct is in any way reprehensible the Guardians regret it; but it has always been the conduct of this union, as far as they can, to act with kindness to all paupers, and they must express their opinion that their conduct in this case has not been different—the pauper was received into and attended in the infirmary; his wishes were carried out as to being removed to Ireland; he was furnished with additional and proper clothing for the journey, a proper cabin passage was paid for him, and a conductor, &c. The Guardians are sorry if the health of the pauper might have been injured by the conduct of the Deportation Agent; but it is evident the pauper has not related the whole of the circumstances, especially to the additional clothing furnished him, or what became of them. The Guardians of this Union have the reputation of behaving liberally and kindly to the poor, and they trust the conduct of the removal of this pauper will not remove that opinion.

I have the honour to be, my Lords and Gentlemen, your most obedient servant,

No 25.—Letter from the Commissioners to the Under Secretary of His Excellency the Lord Lieutenant.

Poor Law Commission Office, Dublin,
Sir, February 2, 1865.

The Commissioners for administering the Laws for Relief of the Poor in Ireland return, with thanks, the file of papers which you referred to them on the 29th ult., relating to the removal of a man named James Kearney from Brentford Union, in England, to the Kells Workhouse; and the Commissioners desire at the same time to observe that the statement contained in the letter from the Clerk of the Brentford Union varies in some essential particulars from the sworn statement of the pauper. If the arrangements for Kearney's removal, as described by the Guardians of Brentford Union had been carried out, there would probably have been no material ground of complaint; but the Commissioners submit that those arrangements were not carried out, and that, consequently, the man was removed not only in an illegal manner but in a manner calculated to endanger life.

It is stated by the Guardians that the Relieving Officer placed the pauper "in charge of Mr. Frost, the London Deportation Agent, and paid the passage money for a fore cabin, conductor, mileage to port and back, and one day's keep of conductor, as appears by Mr. Frost's acknowledgments;" and further, that "the Deportation Agent states he did leave the pauper in care of a competent person, and showed the pauper his quarters, fore-cabin;" and further on it is stated that "a proper cabin passage was paid for him and a conductor," &c.

The Commissioners infer from these statements that Mr. Frost placed the pauper in charge of the steward, or some officer of the vessel, as it is clear that no person was sent with him to Ireland; and the Poor Law Board have already expressed their opinion in another case, that the adoption of such a course was not in accordance with either the letter or the spirit of the statutes relating to Irish poor removals; but the point to which the Commissioners wish particularly to direct attention is that which relates to the cabin passage. It is true that the Guardians were not legally bound in this case to provide a cabin passage, but they, nevertheless, paid for a cabin passage, and have Mr. Frost's acknowledgment to that effect; and yet, notwithstanding that a cabin passage was paid for, the man was sent as a deck passenger, as appears not only by his own sworn statement, but also by the letter from the agent of the Steam Packet Company, dated the 22nd November, which will be found with the evidence, and is to the following effect:—"In reply to your favour of yesterday, I beg to say that Mr. Frost paid for one pauper on the 2nd instant (I presume it must have been the man you name), 10*s*." Ten shillings it will be observed is the ordinary deck fare.

The Commissioners submit for His Excellency's consideration the propriety of causing some further inquiry to be made on this point.

By order of the Commissioners,

B. Banks, Chief Clerk.

Case of Mary Maguire removed from the West Derby Union to Dublin.

No. 26.—Copy of Warrant of Removal forwarded to the Commissioners by the Board of Guardians of South Dublin Union.

County of Lancaster, } to wit. } The examination of Mary Maguire, aged fifty years, taken on oath before us, the undersigned, two of Her Majesty's Justices of the Peace in and for the said county, and petty sessions assembled at Liverpool, in the said county, this 22nd day of October, in the year of our Lord 1864, who on her oath saith that, according to the best of her knowledge and belief, she was born in the county Fermanagh, in that part of the United Kingdom called Ireland, which she left about sixteen years ago, and that she hath no settlement in that part of the United Kingdom called England, and is not otherwise exempt from removal, and hath actually become and is now chargeable to the West Derby Union, in the county of Lancaster, and that the state of her health is such that she will not be liable to suffer any bodily or mental injury by removal to Ireland.

To the Guardians of the Poor of the West Derby Union, in the County of Lancaster, and to the Guardians of the Poor of the South Dublin Union, in the City of Dublin, in Ireland.

County of Lancaster, to wit. } Whereas complaint is now made by the Guardians of the Poor of the said Union of West Derby, in the county of Lancaster, unto us, the undersigned, two of Her Majesty's Justices of the Peace in and for the said county, in petty sessions assembled, at Liverpool, in the said county of Lancaster, that Mary Maguire, aged fifty years, a person born in Ireland, hath become and is now chargeable to the said Union of West Derby. And whereas, upon examination of the said Mary Maguire, taken upon oath before us (which examination is hereunto annexed), it doth appear to our satisfaction that she is of the reputed age of fifty years, and was born in Ireland, and that she hath not a settlement in England, and is not otherwise exempt from removal. And whereas we have been unable to ascertain in what place in Ireland the said Mary Maguire was born or last resided therein, for the space of three years; and it doth appear to us that the city of Dublin, in Ireland, is the most convenient place to which the said Mary Maguire, under the circumstances, can be removed. And whereas we have duly examined the said Mary Maguire as to the state of her health, and are satisfied that she is in such a state of health as not to be liable to suffer bodily or mental injury by removal to Ireland under this warrant.

These are therefore to require you, the Guardians of the Poor of the West Derby Union, to cause the said Mary Maguire to be safely conveyed from and out the said Union of West Derby, to the said Union of South Dublin, in Ireland, to be delivered at the Workhouse of the said Union of South Dublin.

Given under our hands and seals this 22nd day of October, in the year of our Lord 1864.

13. If the pauper is a widow, when did her husband die?—Never married.

No. 28.—Observations of Mr. Robinson, Poor Law Inspector.

I questioned this woman, and she told me that she was born at Callow-hill, in county Fermanagh, but says she could not swear whether she mentioned Callow-hill when questioned in England as to her place of birth, though she stated then that she was born in county Fermanagh, and could not say in what union, as "she knew nothing of unions."

The inquiry in England as to her place of birth, appears to have been very superficial, as she stated to me, without hesitation, that she was born at Callow-hill. It would seem probable that advantage was taken of her inability to name the union in which she was born, to send her to South Dublin Workhouse.

No. 29.—Letter from the Commissioners to the Board of Guardians.

Poor Law Commission Office, Dublin,
Sir, November 7, 1864.

The Commissioners for administering the Laws for Relief of the Poor in Ireland, acknowledge the receipt of the removal warrant and usual statement of particulars relating to the removal of Mary Maguire from the West Derby Union to the Workhouse of South Dublin Union; the warrant directing her removal to South Dublin Union (under the authority of the proviso to the 2nd section of the 24 and 25 Vic., c. 76) on the ground that the place of birth or last continuous residence of the pauper in Ireland could not be ascertained; and in reference thereto the Commissioners desire to state that there appears no reason to doubt that the pauper was legally removable to Ireland, and there is therefore no appeal against the removal. They think, however, that the Board of Guardians have just grounds of complaint at being burthened with the support of the pauper, in consequence of the want of due inquiry on the part of the removing authorities in England, it being manifest from the pauper's statement to Mr. Robinson, that she was perfectly well aware both of the place of her birth, and of her last continuous residence in Ireland.

By order of the Commissioners,
B. Banks, Chief Clerk.

The Clerk, South Dublin Union.

No. 30.—Letter from the Chief Secretary of His Excellency the Lord Lieutenant to the Commissioners.

Dublin Castle,
Gentlemen, November 19, 1864.

I transmit herewith, by direction of the Lord Lieutenant, a letter and its enclosure, which have been received from the Guardians of the South Dublin Union, relating to the case of a woman named Mary Maguire, who was removed to the Workhouse of that Union from the West Derby Union.

And I am desired to request that you will inform me whether you consider it necessary that His Excellency should make any representation to the English Poor Law Commissioners on the subject; and whether the practice complained of is of frequent occurrence.

I am also to request that the enclosures may be returned.

I am, gentlemen, your obedient servant,

ROBERT PEEL.

The Poor Law Commissioners, &c.,
Custom House.

LETTER from CLERK of SOUTH DUBLIN UNION enclosed in the foregoing LETTER.

South Dublin Union,
SIR, November 12, 1864.

By direction of the Board of Guardians of this Union, I have the honour to forward to you herewith, a copy of a letter addressed to them by the Poor Law Commissioners, in reference to the case of a woman named Mary Maguire, who was removed from West Derby Union to the Workhouse of this Union.

In directing your attention to this case, I am desired to state that similar ones are of very frequent occurrence, and to solicit your interposition with Her Majesty's Government in England, with a view to prevent the inconsiderate transmission of paupers from that country to Ireland.

I have, &c.,

GEORGE HEPBURN, Clerk of the Union.

To the Right Honorable Sir Robert Peel, bart., Chief Secretary for Ireland, Dublin Castle.

No. 31.—LETTER from the COMMISSIONERS to the CHIEF SECRETARY of HIS EXCELLENCY the LORD LIEUTENANT.

Poor Law Commission Office,
SIR, November 24, 1864.

The Commissioners for administering the Laws for Relief of the Poor in Ireland, acknowledge the receipt of your letter of the 19th instant, transmitting, by direction of His Excellency the Lord Lieutenant, a copy of a letter and its enclosure, received from the Board of Guardians of South Dublin Union, relating to the case of a woman named Mary Maguire, who has been removed to the workhouse of that union from West Derby Union, the warrant for removal directing her conveyance to South Dublin Union (under the authority of the proviso to the 2nd section of the 24 and 25 Vic., c. 76), on the ground that the place of birth or last continuous residence of the pauper in Ireland could not be ascertained; and you request to be informed whether the Commissioners consider it necessary that His Excellency should make any representation to the English Poor Law Commissioners on the subject, and whether the practice complained of is of frequent occurrence.

In reply the Commissioners desire to state, for the information of His Excellency, that they think that the Board of Guardians of South Dublin Union have just reason to complain of being burthened with the support of a pauper who ought to have been removed to another union, which union might easily have been ascertained had proper inquiries been made by the removing authorities in England.

The Commissioners enclose a copy of the removal warrant and of the usual statement obtained in Ireland from paupers who have been removed, on their presenting themselves at the workhouse, together with a copy of the observations of Mr. Robinson, Poor Law Inspector, thereon, he having questioned the pauper after her admission.

The Commissioners think that these papers show that no proper effort was made by the authorities in England to ascertain the birthplace or place of last residence of Mary Maguire, and they submit therefore that some representation on the subject should be made to the Poor Law Board in England, with a view to protecting the Dublin Unions and other port unions to which there is direct steam communication from England, from being unfairly burthened with the support of paupers who ought, if removable, to be removed at the charge of the English authorities elsewhere.

In regard to the inquiry whether the practice complained of is of frequent occurrence, the Commissioners desire to observe that the number of removals (such as the present removal purports to be) under the 2nd section of the 24 and 25 Vic., c. 76, appears to have increased lately, but from the nature of the case, are not likely to be very numerous, being limited to removals in which the party removed has not been twelve months absent from Ireland, and to cases in which the justices cannot ascertain the place of birth or last residence in Ireland. The Commissioners have not, however, had any other case brought under their notice in which a removal has been made ostensibly under that section, but in which, as in the present case, the pauper would have been shown to be removable to a different union had proper inquiry been made. If a want of due inquiry, as in the present case, on the part of the Guardians and removing Justices, be permitted to pass without notice, the number of such cases may be very largely increased, and the Guardians of port unions (to which the removing authorities find it most convenient to remove paupers) will be very unfairly burthened.

The file of correspondence which accompanied your letter is returned herewith.

By order of the Commissioners,

B. Banks, Chief Clerk.

To the Right Hon. Sir Robert Peel, bart., M.P., &c., Dublin Castle.

No. 32.—Letter from the Under Secretary of State for the Home Department to the Chief Secretary of the Lord Lieutenant.

Sir, Whitehall, March 8, 1865.

I am directed by Secretary Sir George Grey to inform you, with reference to your letter of the 28th November last, and subsequent correspondence, that, as it appeared that the complaint in the case of Mary Maguire, who was removed from the West Derby Union to Ireland, resolved itself into one of negligence on the part of the Justices who issued the warrant of removal, he called upon them for a report upon the case, and I am to transmit to you herewith, to be laid before His Excellency the Lord Lieutenant, copies of a letter, and its enclosure, which have been received from the Justices in reply.

I have, &c.,

H. Waddington.

To the Right Hon. Sir Robert Peel, bart., M.P., &c., Irish Office.

Enclosure 1 in the foregoing Letter.

Letter from the Justices who granted the Warrant.

Sir, Liverpool, February 15, 1865.

In reply to your letter of the 9th ultimo, we have to inform you that we have directed inquiries to be made respecting the case of Mary Maguire, a pauper who was removed from the West Derby Union to Ireland by an order, and we enclose the reply of the Clerk of the West Derby Union, and return the copy correspondence.

Your obedient servants,

The Right Hon. Sir George Grey, &c.

Enclosure 2.

Letter from the Clerk of the West Derby Union to the Justices who granted the Warrant.

14, Clifton-square, Liverpool,
Gentlemen, February 8, 1865.

I have perused the letter addressed to you from the Office of the Secretary of State, dated the 9th ultimo, enclosing copy of a correspondence between His Excellency the Lord Lieutenant of Ireland and the Poor Law Commissioners of Ireland, with copies of other documents relating to the case of Mary Maguire, who was removed to the South Dublin Union under your order dated 22nd October last, and beg to offer the following observations on the subject.

The pauper, who is a simple minded woman, and unable either to read or write, was questioned by me at great length as to the name of the place of her birth in Ireland. She spoke of some place in Ireland as the place at which she was born, but from her pronunciation of the word, its orthography or approximate orthography could not be ascertained from the sound, even with the aid of a list of unions and townlands published by the Poor Law Board; and as she distinctly and repeatedly said that she had not had a continuous residence in any place in Ireland for the space of three years, except in the place in which she was born, there was no alternative but to make the order under the proviso contained in the 2nd section of the 24 & 25 Vic., cap. 76.

In all cases of applications for warrants under the Irish removal statutes, the greatest care is taken to ascertain correctly the place to which the pauper can legally be removed; and the Guardians of the West Derby Union and their officers were actuated by no other motive than that the law should be carried out in its integrity.

A considerable number of orders of removal from the West Derby Union have been made under the last-named statute, to which no demur or appeal has been made except in one instance, in which an order was made on the Roscommon Union, instead of the adjoining Union of Strokestown, and the Guardians of the West Derby Union on having the error pointed out to them, immediately abandoned the order. This inaccuracy arose from circumstances exactly parallel to those of the case now in question.

I regret that Mr. Robinson, who occupies the important position of Poor Law Inspector, should have attributed to the authorities of the West Derby Union a desire to obtain an illegal, and even fraudulent removal, as contained in the last paragraph of his observations on his examination of the woman. There is nothing to justify such an imputation, especially as he states that the pauper could not swear that she even mentioned the place of her birth when questioned in England. Taking Mr. Robinson's report to be conclusive as to facts, it appears that a mistake, and a very probable one, has been made, which the Guardians of the West Derby Union will be glad to rectify in any way the Poor Law Commissioners in Ireland may point out; but there is not the least ground for imputing to either the Guardians or the Magistrates any want of diligence or care in carrying into effect the powers with which they are invested.

It is said that in a dispute, the party who can get in the first word possesses an advantage, and I am strongly inclined to believe that some such motive has been in operation in this matter. The conduct of the Master of the Workhouse of the South Dublin Union on the occasion of the removal of the pauper Mary Maguire, was most outrageous. He not only insulted the officer entrusted with the conveyance of the pauper at the workhouse, but actually followed him to the railway station, and gave him in charge to a police officer, for no other crime than that of executing in the most inoffensive mode, a warrant granted by two of Her Majesty's Justices of the Peace; and I had, upon hearing of his conduct, entertained serious intention of making a formal complaint of the said officer's conduct to the Guardians of the South Dublin Union.

I have, &c.,

(Signed) William Cleaver,
Clerk to the West Derby Union.

To William D. Holt and James H. Macrae, esqrs.

No. 33.—Observations of Mr. Robinson, Poor Law Inspector.

In answering Sir George Grey, the Magistrates merely forward the letter of the Clerk of West Derby Union as their explanation of the circumstances under which Mary Maguire was removed to South Dublin Union. It would appear, therefore, that the woman was sent to Dublin because on her examination by the Clerk of West Derby he found, as he states, that from her pronunciation of the name of the place where she was born, "its orthography, or approximate orthography, could not be ascertained from the sound."

There was no difficulty in ascertaining from the woman when she came to Dublin that she was born in Callowhill, in the county Fermanagh; and though she could not name the union in which Callowhill is situated, she has described so accurately its position, and its distance from two large post towns, that I have without any trouble ascertained that it is in Lisnaskea Union.

I repeat, therefore, that I think the inquiry in England as to Mary Maguire's place of birth must have been very superficial; and I think the South Dublin Guardians have very just grounds of complaint, inasmuch as they have been burthened since October, and are still burthened, with the support of a person who ought to have been removed to Lisnaskea Union.

I think it would be right, and only fair to the Master of the South Dublin Workhouse, to send him, either through the Board of Guardians or through me, a copy of that part of the letter of the Clerk of West Derby Union, which refers to him, and which I have marked in pencil from A to B, in order that he may have an opportunity of making any observations he pleases on the very serious charge contained in that statement.

Henry Robinson.

No. 34.—Letter from the Commissioners to the Board of Guardians.

Poor Law Commission Office, Dublin,
March 22, 1865.

Sir,

With reference to the correspondence which has taken place on the subject of the removal of Mary Maguire from the West Derby Union to Dublin, in the month of October last, the Commissioners for administering the Laws for Relief of the Poor in Ireland desire to acquaint you, for the information of the Board of Guardians of South Dublin Union, that the Justices by whom the warrant of removal was issued having been called on by Secretary Sir George Grey for a report on the case, a copy of the letter addressed by them to Sir George Grey, in reply, with a copy of a letter from the Clerk of West Derby Union on the subject, have been forwarded to the Commissioners, and the Commissioners now enclose copies of those documents for the information of the Board of Guardians.

The Commissioners desire to draw the special attention of the Board of Guardians to the latter part of Mr. Cleaver's letter, which contains a complaint of the conduct of the Master of the workhouse, and the Commissioners request that the Guardians will be so good as to obtain from the Master, and forward to them, any explanation he may have to offer on the subject.

The Commissioners have already communicated the papers to Mr. Robinson, and have received from him a further assurance that there was no difficulty in ascertaining from the woman when she came to Dublin, that she was born in Callowhill, in the county Fermanagh; and he adds that though she could not name the union in which Callowhill is situated, she described so accurately its position, and its distance from two large post towns, that he has without any trouble ascertained that it was in Lisnaskea Union.

By order of the Commissioners,

B. Banks, Chief Clerk.

No. 35.—Extract from Minutes of Proceedings of the Board of Guardians of the 6th April, 1865.

South Dublin Union.

Moved by Mr. Byrne; seconded by Mr. MacCready—

That the following be adopted as the reply of the Board to the Poor Law Commissioners' letter, No. 5249:—

That the Board of Guardians, in reply to letter No. 5249, dated 22nd March, 1865, enclose for the information of the Poor Law Commissioners copy of the Master's report, copy of queries, and copy of Medical Officer's certificate, relating to the case of Mary Maguire, and trust that more circumspection will in future be observed in the transmission of Irish paupers to Dublin by the authorities of the West Derby Union; and that they be requested to pay over to the credit of this union the costs and charges which have been expended on the pauper in question.

No. 36.—Statement of Master of the Workhouse referred to in foregoing Minute.

Gentlemen,

With reference to that part of the letter of the Clerk of the West Derby Union, in which he states "that I not only insulted the officer at the workhouse, but actually followed him to the railway station," I beg to state that I did not see the officer at the workhouse. The party was taken in by the Assistant Master, who assures me that he treated the officer with the greatest politeness.

About two hours after the officer had gone away, having put the usual queries to Mary Maguire, I found without any difficulty whatever from her statement that she was born in Callowhill, county Fermanagh; and believing that she had been wrongly sent to this union, I brought the matter under the notice of the Thursday's Board, who met that day, and was directed by them to meet the Warrant Officer at the railway station, King's-bridge (I was aware that he was to return to Dublin by the four o'clock train, as he had told the Assistant Master he would do so), and inform him that Mary Maguire had been improperly sent to this Union, and to give her in charge to him for transmission to her proper union.

In pursuance of the Board's order I went to the station, met the officer, and delivered to him the Board's order. He refused to take her, and stated "he delivered her according to his warrant, and he would not have anything to do with her." I called the attention of the police constable who was at the station to the circumstance, who stated he could not interfere to prevent the officer deserting the woman in Dublin. I again told the Warrant Officer he ought to take the woman back or to her legal union in Fermanagh. He again refused. I then inquired from him his name, which he gave. He then went away, and I sent the woman back to the workhouse. I beg most emphatically to state that I did not directly or indirectly attempt to hand over the officer to a policeman.

I have further to add that when Mary Maguire was being examined by Dr. Jennings, he asked her "had she told the place of her birth to the English Board of Guardians," and bursting into tears she replied that she had done so as clearly as she now was telling him, and that they only laughed at (as they said) the queer names that they had in Ireland.

I beg also to enclose a copy of queries* which I put to her on the day in question, to all of which I took down her unhesitating answers, as set forth; in addition to which I also refer to the enclosed certificate of the two medical gentlemen of the workhouse as to her mental capacity.

I am, gentlemen, your obedient servant,

John J. Hornidge.

To the Chairman and Guardians, South Dublin Union.

* See No. 27, page 91.

No. 37.—Medical Certificate referred to in foregoing Minute.

South Dublin Union,
April 4, 1865.

Having on two occasions carefully examined Mary Maguire, aged about fifty years, we hereby certify that we found her perfectly rational and intelligent.

We consider her to possess mental faculties of fully an average order.

Peter Shannon, M.D.
W. B. Jennings, M.D.

No. 38.—Letter from the Commissioners to the Under Secretary of His Excellency the Lord Lieutenant.

Poor Law Commission Office, Dublin,
April 13, 1865.

Sir,

The Commissioners for administering the Laws for Relief of the Poor in Ireland return to you herewith the file of correspondence which you referred to them on the 13th ultimo, on the subject of the removal of a poor woman, named Mary Maguire, from the West Derby Union to Ireland.

In the letter from Mr. Cleaver, the Clerk of the West Derby Union, which is comprised in the correspondence, it is alleged that Mary Maguire is "a simple minded woman;" that she was questioned by him as to the place of her birth in Ireland, but that from her pronunciation of the word its orthography, or approximate orthography, could not be ascertained; and he expresses regret at the observations made by Mr. Robinson, Poor Law Inspector, on this point, in reference to the fact that the woman's birthplace was ascertained from her at once, and without difficulty, on her arrival at the South Dublin Workhouse; and finally, charges the Master of South Dublin Workhouse with outrageous conduct, and states, that he not only insulted the officer intrusted with the conveyance of the pauper when at the workhouse, but followed him to the railway station, and gave him in charge to a police officer.

The Commissioners have obtained Mr. Robinson's observations on the facts of the case, and they have also obtained, through the Board of Guardians, an explanation from the Master of the Workhouse regarding the charge against him, and they have now the honour to forward, for the information of His Excellency the Lord Lieutenant, copies of these documents.

Mr. Robinson, it will be seen, repeats that there was no difficulty in ascertaining from the woman when she came to Dublin that she was born in Callowhill, in the county Fermanagh, and that though she could not name the union in which Callowhill is situated, she described so accurately its position, and its distance from two large post towns, that he ascertained without any trouble that it was in Lisnaskea Union; and he adheres to the opinion previously expressed by him, that the examination in England must have been very superficial, and that the South Dublin Board of Guardians have just grounds of complaint.

From the statement of the Master of the Workhouse also, it will be seen that there was no difficulty in ascertaining the union in which she was born, and that it was on this being discovered shortly after the Removing Officer had left the workhouse that he was directed by the Board of Guardians to meet him at the railway station, with a view to his again taking charge of the pauper for transmission to the proper union. The allegations that the Removing Officer was insulted when at the South Dublin Workhouse, and that he was given in charge to a policeman at the railway station, are denied.

In transmitting the Master's explanation to the Commissioners, the Guardians, while expressing their trust that more circumspection will be used in future in the transmission of Irish paupers by the West Derby Board, request that that Board may be called upon to pay over to the credit of the union the costs and charges which have been expended on the pauper in question.

In conclusion, the Commissioners think it right to observe, that although, as stated in the letter from the Home Office, dated the 8th March last, the complaint resolved itself into one of negligence on the part of the Justices who issued the warrant of removal, the report which Secretary Sir George Grey called upon the Justices to make appears to have been made by the Clerk of the West Derby Board of Guardians, probably as being the party who was relied upon for the preliminary information necessary to the removal; and the Commissioners remain of opinion, notwithstanding Mr. Cleaver's statement, that sufficient care was not taken by the removing authorities to ascertain the proper place of the pauper's destination in Ireland.

By order of the Commissioners,

B. Banks, Chief Clerk.

General Sir Thomas Larcom, K.C.B., &c.,

COPY DECLARATION enclosed in foregoing LETTER.

A declaration of Ellen Hamblett, who was removed from the Union of Stockport, England, by warrant, dated 16th of March, 1864, and delivered at the Cavan Union Workhouse by William Hewitt, of Stockport, on the 18th March, 1864.

Ellen Hamblett declares that she left Ireland in the year 1816. She was married in Manchester to a person named Charles Smith, to whom she bore ten children; she was married secondly to William Hamblett, in Manchester, and with whom she lived twelve years, until his death, which took place about four years ago. William Hamblett became destitute, and obtained relief in Manchester; and it was found upon examination as to his residence that he legally belonged to Sale Moor, in the Nutsworth Union, and Ellen Hamblett and her husband obtained relief from Nutsworth Union for a period of two years or thereabouts; and during the last four years since her husband's death she has been in the receipt of relief from Nutsworth Union. She declares that she was proceeding from Nutsworth to Manchester to visit her son, Charles Smith, when she fell sick near Stockport, and she was taken into the hospital of that workhouse for three or four weeks. When she got well she asked her discharge, to go to her place of residence, and she was told by William Hewitt that her husband was dead, and she had, therefore, no claim on England; he then took her to the court in Stockport, and he produced a paper to the gentlemen in the court, and the gentlemen asked her was she aware of what was in the paper, and she in reply said that she neither saw nor heard it read, but said that she understood they were going to send her to Ireland, and where she said she had no residence. William Hewitt asked her to sign the paper referred to above, and she made answer that she would not do it, and he then took hold of her by the wrist, and pulled her hand in order to force her to sign her mark, and when she would not do it, he took the pen in his own hand and made a cross; and she declares she made no cross on the paper; she also declares that she and another woman named Roach, were handcuffed together and brought to the train from the workhouse door. A policeman who was present would not interfere when called upon by Hewitt, as he said it was a bad case.

Attested before me this 20th April, 1864, at Cavan, in the county of Cavan, in that part of the United Kingdom called Ireland, being first truly read by me to declarant, Ellen Hamblett,

No. 43.—LETTER from the COMMISSIONERS to the BOARD of GUARDIANS.

Poor Law Commission Office, Dublin,
April 30, 1864.

SIR,

The Commissioners for administering the Laws for Relief of the Poor in Ireland acknowledge the receipt of your letter of the 21st instant, transmitting a copy of the depositions alleged to have been made in Stockport by Ellen Hamblett, who has been recently removed from Stockport Union to the Cavan Union under a removal warrant, as also the declaration made by her before a justice of the peace for the county of Cavan.

The Commissioners find it stated in the latter document that the woman left Ireland in the year 1816, and was married in Manchester to a person named Charles Smith, and was subsequently married in the same place to William Hamblett, with whom she lived twelve years until his death, which took place about four years ago. That her second husband became destitute, and obtained relief in Manchester; and it was found upon examination as to his residence that he legally belonged to "Salemoor," in the "Nutsworth Union;" that he and his wife obtained relief from that union for a period of two years or thereabouts, and that during the four years subsequent to her husband's death the woman had been in receipt of relief from the same union.

As it appears from the foregoing that the woman's last husband, while residing in Manchester, had relief from a parish in Cheshire, a statement which, if true, implies that he had a settlement in the latter, if the Guardians think that reliance can be placed on the statement, and should see fit to pass a resolution declaring themselves aggrieved by the woman's removal on the ground that she had a settlement by marriage in England, and agreeing to pay all costs which may be incurred in the necessary preliminary inquiry and subsequent appeal—if such appeal takes place—the Commissioners will at once cause a preliminary inquiry to be made.

The resolution of the Guardians agreeing as above should be framed closely in accordance with the provisions of the 7th section of 26 & 27 Vic., c. 89, of which a copy was sent to the Guardians, with the Commissioners' circular of the 25th of August, 1863.

It will be desirable to ascertain from Ellen Hamblett the name of the parish or parishes in which her marriages took place, and the churches or chapels in which the ceremony was performed, especially on the occasion of her last marriage.

By order of the Commissioners,

B. Banks, Chief Clerk.

To the Clerk of Cavan Union.

No. 44.—Extract from Minutes of Proceedings of the Board of Guardians, of the 3rd May, 1864.

Read letter from Poor Law Commissioners, No. 8,520, dated April 30th, 1864, on the subject of the removal of Ellen Hamblett from Stockport Union, and stating that if the Board of Guardians think they can place reliance on the woman's statements, and should the Guardians see fit to pass a Resolution declaring themselves aggrieved by her removal, and agreeing to pay all costs, which may be incurred in the necessary preliminary inquiry and subsequent appeal, if such appeal takes place, they the Commissioners will at once cause a preliminary inquiry to be made, &c.

The above letter having been duly considered the Board passed the following Resolution:—

Moved by William Humphreys, esq.

Seconded by Nathaniel Montgomery, esq.

And unanimously Resolved—That in consequence of the statement made upon oath by Ellen Hamblett, and which this Board of Guardians have no reason to doubt, we feel aggrieved by the forcible removal of the said Ellen Hamblett under the provisions of the Irish Poor Removal Act of 26 and 27 Vic., c. 89, we therefore request that the Commissioners will cause the necessary preliminary inquiry to be made for the purpose of having her sent back to England, and we agree to pay all costs which may be incurred in the necessary preliminary inquiry and subsequent appeal, if such appeal takes place.

Ellen Hamblett states that she was married to William Hamblett in Manchester Old Church about 16 years ago, and his trade was brickmaking.

No. 45.—Letter from the Commissioners to Messrs. Marsh and Barratt, Solicitors.

Poor Law Commission Office, Dublin,
May 12, 1864.

Gentlemen,

The Commissioners for administering the Laws for Relief of the Poor in Ireland, are desirous of having a preliminary inquiry made in accordance with the provisions of the 7th section of the Act 26 and 27 Vic., c. 89, with a view to an appeal against the warrant for the removal of Ellen Hamblett from Stockport Union to Cavan Union, on the ground that she had become chargeable in the former union, and that she was born in the latter union, and had not acquired a settlement in England.

It appears from a declaration made by Ellen Hamblett, before a justice of the peace in Cavan, that she left this country 47 years ago, and was married in Manchester, first to a person named Charles Smith, and secondly to William Hamblett, with whom she lived twelve years, until his death, which took place about four years ago. That William Hamblett having become destitute, obtained relief in Manchester, when it was found, upon examination as to his residence, that he legally belonged to "Salemoor" in the "Nutsworth Union," from which union he and his wife obtained relief for a period of two years or thereabouts, and that during the four years subsequent to her husband's death, Ellen Hamblett had been in receipt of relief from the same union.

It further appears that while on her way from "Nutsworth" to Manchester, to visit her son Charles Smith, she became sick near Stockport, and was taken into the workhouse hospital there, for three or four weeks, and that on her recovery, and applying for her discharge in order to return to her residence, she was informed by William Hewitt (the Removing Officer) that her husband being dead she had no claim on England. That Hewitt took her to the court, where she refused to sign a paper (probably her deposition), which he endeavoured to make her do by force, but not succeeding, he took the pen in his hand, and made a cross on the paper; and that she was then handcuffed to a woman named Roach, and brought to the train.

The Commissioners think it probable that the places designated "Salemoor" and "Nutsworth," are Sale and Knutsford in the Altrincham Union.

The Guardians of the Cavan Union place reliance on the woman's statement, and have requested the Commissioners to cause the necessary preliminary inquiry to be made; and as it would appear that the woman's last husband, who was by trade a brickmaker, and to whom she alleges she was married in Manchester Old Church 16 years ago, while residing in Manchester, had relief from a parish or township in Cheshire, which would imply that he had a settlement in such parish or township, the Commissioners request that you will have the goodness to make inquiry as to the alleged fact of the woman's marriage with William Hamblett, and as to whether she derived by that marriage a settlement from her husband in the parish or township of Sale or Sale-moor in Altrincham Union or elsewhere, and make known to them the result of such inquiry.

The removal warrant, and a copy of the examination of the woman, on which the warrant purports to be founded, as also a copy of the declaration which she has made in Cavan, are herewith forwarded for your information, and the Commissioners request that they may be returned when you communicate the result of the inquiry.

By order of the Commissioners,

B. Banks, Chief Clerk.

Solicitors, Warrington.

No. 46.—Letter from Messrs. Marsh and Barratt to the Commissioners.

Sir, Warrington, July 17, 1864.

Enclosed we beg to forward report of the result of our preliminary inquiry as to the removal of Ellen Hamblett, and return herewith the documents forwarded in your letter of the 12th inst.

We are, Sir, your most obedient servant,

Marsh and Barratt.

The Secretary to the Poor Law
Commissioners, Dublin.

Report from Messrs. Marsh and Barratt enclosed in foregoing Letter.

Warrington, May 17, 1864.

The undersigned beg to report that in pursuance of the directions of the Board, contained in their letter dated the 12th day of May, 1864 (headed No. 9,332/64 Cavan Union), we have proceeded to make a preliminary inquiry into the circumstances attending the removal of Ellen Hamblett from the borough of Stockport to that union.

We find the entry of the marriage between William Hamblett, of 121, Silk-street, labourer, aged sixty, and Ellen Smith, widow, aged fifty, in the register of the Cathedral Church in Manchester, under the date of 29th April, 1849.

The said William Hamblett and Ellen his wife were in the year 1853 removed (under the name of "Hamnett" from Manchester to the township of Ashton-upon-Mersey, in the county of Chester. It is a township in a parish of the same name, within which parish the adjoining township of Sale is also situate, which is the only approximate ground we can ascertain for Ellen Hamblett's mention of Sale Moor. The Manchester parish officers were accidentally unable to produce the duplicate order or the depositions on which it was founded, but they state that they believe the removal was to William Hamblett's birth settlement, and that the paupers were received by the township of Ashton-upon-Mersey without objection.

Subsequent to the death of the husband his widow again became chargeable to Manchester, and was again removed to and accepted by Ashton-upon-Mersey under an order of removal dated the 28th February, 1860.

She again returned to Manchester and became chargeable, and was again removed to and accepted by Ashton-upon-Mersey under an order of removal dated the 10th January, 1862.

Once more she returned to Manchester, and again became chargeable, and on the 28th October, 1863, an order was signed by Cuthbert Edward Ellison and John Thomas Price, esqrs., for her removal to Ashton-upon-Mersey, under which she was removed accordingly on the 27th November following, and delivered to Mr. James Clarke the overseer, and received into the Knutsford Workhouse, being the workhouse for the Altrincham Union, in which Ashton-upon-Mersey is situate.

None of the above orders were appealed against. We have not thought it necessary without further instructions to make inquiries at Ashton-upon-Mersey as to the nature of William Hamblett's settlement, but we will do so if directed by the Board, and will also make a further attempt to procure an inspection of the depositions on which the first order of removal was grounded.

Marsh and Barratt.

To the Commissioners for administering the Laws for the Relief of the Poor in Ireland.

No. 47.—Letter from the Commissioners to Messrs. Marsh and Barratt.

Poor Law Commission Office, Dublin,
May 19, 1864.

Gentlemen,

The Commissioners for administering the Laws for Relief of the Poor in Ireland acknowledge with thanks the receipt of your letter of the 17th instant, communicating the result of the preliminary inquiry made by you relating to the removal of Ellen Hamblett from the Stockport Union to the Cavan Union.

The Commissioners have notified to the Guardians of the former union their intention to appeal on behalf of the Guardians of Cavan Union, against the removal warrant in this case, on the ground that Ellen Hamblett had, at the time of her removal to Ireland, a settlement in the township of Ashton-upon-Mersey, in the Altrincham Union. The Commissioners, however, apprehend that on due inquiry the Guardians of Stockport Union will abandon the warrant. A copy of the notice of appeal, which has been sent by post, in pursuance of the statute, is enclosed for your information.

By order of the Commissioners,

B. Banks, Chief Clerk.

To Messrs. Marsh and Barratt,
Solicitors, Warrington.

Copy Notice to the Guardians of Stockport Union, enclosed in foregoing Letter.

To the Guardians of the Poor of Stockport Union, in the several counties of Chester and Lancaster.

Gentlemen,

The Commissioners for administering the Laws for Relief of the Poor in Ireland hereby give you notice of their intention to appeal on behalf of the Guardians of Cavan Union in Ireland to the Court of Quarter Sessions next to be holden for the county of Chester, against the warrant for the removal of Ellen Hamblett, bearing date the 16th day of March last, whereby the said Ellen Hamblett was on your complaint required to be conveyed, and was thereafter conveyed to the Union of Cavan in Ireland, and delivered at the workhouse of the said Union.

And the said Commissioners do hereby notify to you the following to be the grounds of their appeal against the said warrant of removal, namely, that the said Ellen Hamblett had at the time of her said removal to Ireland a settlement in the township of Ashton-upon-Mersey, in the Altrincham Union, in the said county of Chester, in England.

Signed by order of the said Commissioners this nineteenth day of May, in the year of our Lord one thousand eight hundred and sixty-four.

Benjamin Banks, Chief Clerk.

No. 48.—Letter from the Commissioners to the Board of Guardians.

Poor Law Commission Office, Dublin,
May 23, 1864.

Sir,

With reference to the resolution of the Board of Guardians of Cavan Union of the 3rd instant, in which the Guardians requested the Commissioners for administering the Laws for Relief of the Poor in Ireland to cause the necessary preliminary inquiry to be made respecting the removal of Ellen Hamblett from Stockport Union to the Cavan Union, the Commissioners desire to state that they have caused a preliminary inquiry to be made accordingly, and they learn that Ellen Hamblett and her late husband, William Hamblett, were removed in the year 1853 from Manchester to the township of Ashton-upon-Mersey, in the county of Chester, which township adjoins that of Sale, both of which are in the parish of Ashton-upon-Mersey; and that the parties were received by the township of Ashton-upon-Mersey without objection.

That subsequent to the death of her husband, Ellen Hamblett on three different occasions became chargeable to Manchester, and was on each such occasion removed to and accepted by Ashton-upon-Mersey, the last removal having been made on the 27th November, 1863, when she was delivered to James Clarke, the overseer, and received into the Knutsford Workhouse, the workhouse for Altrincham Union, in which Ashton-upon-Mersey is situate.

None of the above orders it appears were appealed against.

The Commissioners under these circumstances have notified to the Guardians of Stockport Union their intention to appeal to the Court of Quarter Sessions for the county of Chester on behalf of the Cavan Board against the warrant of removal in this case, on the ground that Ellen Hamblett had at the time of her removal to Ireland a settlement in the township of Ashton-upon-Mersey, in the Altrincham Union.

By order of the Commissioners,

B. Banks, Chief Clerk.

To the Clerk of Cavan Union.

No. 49.—Further Letter from the Commissioners to Messrs. Marsh and Barratt.

Poor Law Commission Office, Dublin,

Gentlemen, May 26, 1864.

Adverting to their letter of the 19th instant, the Commissioners for administering the Laws for Relief of the Poor in Ireland desire to inform you that the Board of Guardians of Cavan Union appear to concur in the course which has been taken by the Commissioners in giving notice of an intention to appeal against the warrant for the removal of Ellen Hamblett from Stockport to the above Union, and as an intention to abandon the warrant has not been communicated to the Commissioners by the Guardians of Stockport Union, they request that you will have the goodness to undertake the further prosecution of the appeal.

For this purpose the accompanying papers are again transmitted to you, and any other information you may wish to have will be supplied to you on application.

By order of the Commissioners,

B. Banks, Chief Clerk.

To Messrs. Marsh and Barratt,
Solicitors, Warrington.

No. 50.—Letter from Messrs. Marsh and Barratt to the Commissioners.

Ellen Hamblett's Removal.—Cavan Union.

Sir, Warrington, May 31, 1864.

We shall be happy to act on the instructions contained in your letter of the 26th instant (No. 10,704), and have made further inquiries as to the grounds of removal from Manchester to Ashton-upon-Mersey.

With great deference to you, and judging solely from analogy to the practice on appeals between two English townships, it appears to us that the grounds of appeal contained in your notice of the 19th instant, would be held insufficient as not specifying the grounds of the alleged settlement in Ashton-upon-Mersey; and we have drawn the enclosed notice, which we would recommend to be adopted. The Cheshire Sessions are adjourned from Chester to Knutsford, under a special regulation, alluded to in the enclosed; so that, although the appeal will be heard at Knutsford on the 29th June, the last day on which the grounds of appeal should reach the Stockport Guardians is Saturday next, the 4th.

The 26th and 27th Vic., c. 89, contains no provision for facilitating the proof of posting the notice; and in order to prevent the necessity for a witness from Dublin to prove it, would it not be well for the enclosed notices to be signed in duplicate, and sent under cover to us, and we will ourselves post them, and so be in a position to prove it?

We will, if you see no objection, correspond direct with the Guardians of the Cavan Union, as to the attendance of the pauper at the sessions, if necessary.

We are, sir, your most obedient servants,

MARSH & BARRATT.

The Secretary to the Poor Law Commissioners,
Dublin.

No. 51.—LETTER from the COMMISSIONERS to Messrs. MARSH and BARRATT.

Poor Law Commission Office, Dublin,
June 1, 1864.

GENTLEMEN,

The Commissioners for administering the Laws for Relief of the Poor in Ireland acknowledge the receipt of your letter of the 31st ultimo, relative to the pending appeal against the warrant for the removal of Ellen Hamblett from Stockport to Cavan Union; and in reply, they desire to inform you that they did not avail themselves of professional advice in Dublin, relying upon your services entirely in every matter connected with the conduct of the appeal.

The Commissioners return the notice of appeal transmitted by you, in duplicate, duly signed, in order that you may post the notice to the Stockport Board of Guardians, as proposed by you; but as it appears to the Commissioners that the notice of appeal should, according to the statute, be sent by post from this department, they request that you will have the goodness to consider whether a technical objection might be raised on this point, and to advise them further thereon by return of post.

A copy of the notice has been retained, in the event of your thinking it might be safer to send it by post from Dublin, as well as from Warrington.

The Commissioners have received no communication from the Stockport Board of Guardians, and it is possible the latter may have been hitherto relying on some defect in the notice of appeal, which has been sent to them, to defeat the proceedings. To meet the possibility of anything arising on which you might wish to refer to the Poor Law Acts, or the Poor Law Regulations in Ireland, the Commissioners have directed a copy of "Moore's Compendium" to be sent to you, of which they have to beg your acceptance.

With respect to your suggestion, that you should correspond direct with the Cavan Board of Guardians as to the attendance of the pauper at the sessions, if her attendance should be necessary, the Commissioners desire to state you can communicate directly with the Guardians of Cavan Union on the above subject, or on any other matter within the immediate cognizance of the Guardians, or their officers, regarding which you may find it convenient to do so.

By order of the Commissioners,

B. Banks, Chief Clerk.

To Messrs. Marsh and Barratt,
Solicitors, Warrington.

No. 52.—Notice enclosed in foregoing Letter.

To the Guardians of the Poor of Stockport Union, in the several counties of Chester and Lancaster.

The Commissioners for administering the Laws for Relief of the Poor in Ireland hereby give you notice, that at the next general quarter sessions of the peace for the county of Chester, to be holden at the city of Chester on the 27th day of June instant, and by adjournment thence to Nether Knutsford, in the same county, on the 29th day of the same month, when the same shall be so holden by adjournment at Nether Knutsford as aforesaid, they intend to enter, try, and prosecute an appeal on behalf of the Guardians of the union of Cavan in Ireland, being the Guardians aggrieved by the removal next hereinafter mentioned, against a warrant of removal under the hands and seals of John Eskrigge and William Williamson, esqrs., two of Her Majesty's Justices of the Peace for the borough of Stockport, in the said several counties of Chester and Lancaster, dated the 16th day of March last, whereby one Ellen Hamblett was, on your complaint, required to be conveyed, and was thereafter conveyed to the said union of Cavan, in Ireland, and delivered at the workhouse of the said union.

And the said Commissioners do further give you notice, that the grounds of their appeal against the said warrant of removal are as follow, namely:—

That the said Ellen Hamblett had, at the time of her said removal to Ireland, a settlement in England, to wit, in the township of Ashton-upon-Mersey, in the said county of Chester.

That the said William Hamblett was born in the said township of Ashton-upon-Mersey in or about the year 1789.

That on or about the 27th day of August, 1829, an order of Justices was duly made for the removal of the said William Hamblett (under the name of William Hamlett) and Sarah, his then wife, and their six children, then residing at and chargeable to the township of Manchester, to the said township of Ashton-upon-Mersey, thereby adjudged to be the place of their last legal settlement, which order was duly executed, and the said paupers were duly removed accordingly, and delivered to and received by the overseers of the poor of the said township of Ashton-upon-Mersey, and there was no appeal against the said order.

That on or about the 30th day of September, 1853, an order of Justices was duly made for the removal of the said William Hamblett and the said Ellen, his wife (under the name of William Hamnett, and Ellen, his wife), then residing at and chargeable to the said township of Manchester, to the said township of Ashton-upon-Mersey, thereby adjudged to be the place of their last legal settlement, which order, at the Quarter Sessions of the Peace holden for the city of Manchester in the month of December following, was duly confirmed on appeal, and the said paupers were duly removed thereunder, and received by the overseers of the poor of the said township of Ashton-upon-Mersey.

ship of Ashton-upon-Mersey, and there was no appeal against the said last-mentioned order.

That the said Ellen Hamblett having again returned to and become chargeable to the said township of Manchester, an order of Justices was, on or about the 28th day of October, 1863, duly made for her removal, under the name of Ellen Hamnett, to the said township of Ashton-upon-Mersey, thereby adjudged to be the place of her last legal settlement, which order was duly executed; and the said Ellen Hamblett was duly removed accordingly, and delivered to the overseers of the poor of the said township of Ashton-upon-Mersey, and received into the workhouse at Knutsford, belonging to the Altrincham Union, in which the said township of Ashton-upon-Mersey is situate, and there was no appeal against the said last-mentioned order.

That the said William Hamblett, at various times previous to the said month of August, 1829, and at various times between that period and his death, and the said Ellen Hamblett, at various times between his death and the said last-mentioned order, were relieved at the cost of the said township of Ashton-upon-Mersey while residing in the township of Manchester aforesaid.

Signed, by order of the said Commissioners, this 1st day of June, 1864.

No 53.—LETTER from Messrs. MARSH and BARRATT to the COMMISSIONERS.

SIR, Warrington, June 2, 1864.

Your letter of yesterday's date (No. 11,149, Cavan Union) is duly to hand, enclosing duplicate notices of appeal, one of which we have posted.

After again referring to the Act 26th & 27th Vic., c. 89, it still appears to us that a notice posted in Dublin would be of no service unless we were prepared with the evidence of the person who posted it; and we should not consider it necessary to incur that expense. The Act seems to make sending by post the only legal mode of serving the notice; but we see nothing to confine the posting to the Dublin Post Office.

We are obliged by your sending us the copy of "Moore's Compendium," which has duly reached us.

We are, Sir, your most obedient humble servants,

MARSH and BARRATT.

The Secretary to the Poor Law
Commissioners, Dublin.

No. 56.—Letter from the Commissioners to Messrs. Marsh and Barratt.

Poor Law Commission Office, Dublin,
June 8, 1864.

Gentlemen,

The Commissioners for administering the Laws for Relief of the Poor in Ireland, transmit for your information the accompanying copy of a notice which they have this day received from the Guardians of the Stockport Union, abandoning the warrant for the removal of Ellen Hamblett from Stockport to Cavan Union.

The Commissioners presume that the Guardians of Cavan Union may now convey Ellen Hamblett back to Stockport, and deliver her over to the officers of that union, assuming that it is her wish to be so conveyed, there being no compulsory power of removal known to the Poor Law system in Ireland.

The Guardians of Cavan Union will hold their next meeting on Tuesday, the 14th instant, and the Commissioners will be glad to receive your views on the subject of the steps yet to be taken under the statute by the Guardians, who will no doubt act in accordance with your advice.

By order of the Commissioners,

B. Banks, Chief Clerk.

To the Messrs. Marsh and Barratt,
Solicitors, Warrington.

No. 57.—Letter from Messrs. Marsh and Barratt to the Commissioners.

Sir, Warrington, June 9, 1864.

We are in receipt of your letter of the 8th instant (No. 11,643/64, Cavan Union), and have by the same post received from the Clerk to the Guardians of the Stockport Union, a duplicate notice of abandonment.

We think the Guardians of Cavan Union should now convey Ellen Hamblett back to the Stockport Workhouse, and should then furnish us with the particulars of the expenses of maintenance and conveyance, and other costs, if any, incurred by them in consequence of the warrant, and with an authority in some such form as the enclosed, sealed in duplicate. We will then serve a copy with particulars of expenses, and our bill of costs on the Stockport Guardians. If any difference of opinion should arise, some amicable mode will probably be found of settling it, as we find no authority to the Clerk of the Peace to tax the bill as in case of removals between two townships in England, and without such authority he would probably refuse. We will, if you prefer it, submit an account of costs to you in the first instance.

We are, Sir, your most obedient humble servants,

Marsh and Barratt.

The Secretary to the Poor Law Commissioners, Dublin.

Form of Notice enclosed in foregoing Letter.

To the Guardians of the Poor of the Stockport Union, in the Counties of Chester and Lancaster.

Take notice, that the Guardians of the Poor of the Cavan Union, on whose behalf notice of appeal has been given by the Commissioners for administering the Laws for Relief of the Poor in Ireland, against a warrant obtained by you for the removal of one Ellen Hamblett from your said union, which warrant has been abandoned by you, require you to pay to John Fitchett Marsh, of Warrington, gentleman, who is authorized by them to receive the same, the expenses incurred by them, and on their account, by reason of such warrant, and of a certain preliminary inquiry made by order of the said Commissioners into the circumstances attending such removal, and of the proceedings consequent thereon, and the actual expenses and charges of maintaining the said Ellen Hamblett, and of conveying her back to your said union.

Given under the common seal of the Guardians of the Poor of the Cavan Union, this day of , 1864.

Borough of Newcastle-under-Lyme, in the county of Stafford, to wit. } At a Petty Sessions of Her Majesty's Justices of the Peace for the said Borough of Newcastle-under-Lyme, holden in and for the said Borough, on the 27th day of April, in the year of our Lord 1864, before us, the undersigned, Her Majesty's Justices of the Peace for the said borough of Newcastle-under-Lyme.

Whereas complaint is now made by the Guardians of the Poor of the Newcastle-under-Lyme Union, in the county of Stafford, that Patrick Darmondy hath become and is now chargeable to the parish of Newcastle-under-Lyme, in the said union. And whereas the said Patrick Darmondy having been brought before us, and application having been made to us in Petty Sessions assembled by George Harris Tilsley, the Relieving Officer of the said Guardians on their behalf, we have made due examination on oath, and find that the said Patrick Darmondy is of the reputed age of forty years, and was born in Ireland at Derrafadd, in the parish of , in the county of Mayo, now contained in the said Union of Claremorris, and hath not a settlement in England, and is not otherwise exempt from removal from the said Newcastle-under-Lyme Union; and that he hath two children, named Catherine Darmondy and William Darmondy, of the reputed ages of seven years and four years respectively, which children are not exempt from removal from the said union; and we have seen the said Patrick Darmondy and his children, and are satisfied that the said Patrick Darmondy and his children are in a such a state of health as not to be liable to suffer bodily or mental injury by the removal.

These are therefore to require you, the Guardians of the Poor of the Newcastle-under-Lyme Union, to cause the said Patrick Darmondy (with his family) to be safely conveyed to the port of Limerick, which port is, in our judgment, under the circumstances of the case, the most convenient to the said Union of Claremorris, and to be delivered at the workhouse of such union.

Given under our hands and seals, at the sessions aforesaid, this 27th day of April, in the year of our Lord 1864.

No. 64.—Letter from the Commissioners to the Board of Guardians.

Poor Law Commission Office, Dublin,
May 23, 1864.

Sir,

The Commissioners for administering the Laws for Relief of the Poor in Ireland acknowledge the receipt of the usual particulars relating to Patrick Darmody, removed with his children under warrant from the Union of Newcastle-under-Lyme to Claremorris; and the Commissioners desire to suggest, for the Guardians' consideration, the propriety of requiring a copy of the depositions taken in the case, from the Clerk of the Newcastle-under-Lyme Union, in pursuance of the provisions of sect. 3 of the Act 24 & 25 Vic., cap. 76.

The Board of Guardians will observe that it is stated by Patrick Darmody that he was absent only one night from the union by which he was removed; and it would seem, if that be the case, to be a matter for question whether he was removable. The Commissioners have instructed Dr. Brodie, Poor Law Inspector, to examine Patrick Darmody on oath, as to the facts regarding his absence from the Newcastle-under-Lyme Union.

By order of the Commissioners,

B. Banks, Chief Clerk.

To the Clerk, Claremorris Union.

No. 65.—Letter from the Commissioners to Dr. Brodie, Poor Law Inspector.

Poor Law Commission Office, Dublin,
May 23, 1864.

Sir,

The Commissioners for administering the Laws for Relief of the Poor in Ireland forward herewith the usual particulars received from the Clerk of the Claremorris Union, regarding the case of Patrick Darmody, removed with his children under warrant (also annexed) from the Union of Newcastle-under-Lyme; and the Commissioners request that you will be so good as to examine Patrick Darmody on oath as to the circumstances attending his removal, especially as to his time of residence in Newcastle-under-Lyme, and the supposed break in it by absence for one night at Henley; and that you will report to the Commissioners on the subject.

By order of the Commissioners,

B. Banks, Chief Clerk.

To Dr. Brodie, Poor Law Inspector,
Galway.

No. 66.—Report from Dr. Brodie to the Commissioners.

Gentlemen, Galway, May 26, 1864.

I have the honour to forward herewith the deposition of Patrick Darmody, taken at Claremorris Workhouse on yesterday, the 25th instant, relating to his removal from Newcastle-under-Lyme, as requested by the Commissioners' letter, dated 23rd instant, No. 10,380/64.

It appears from his evidence that he was desirous of returning to Ireland, and that, acting on the advice of the porter of the workhouse, he removed for one night from Newcastle-under-Lyme to Henley, to break the continuity of residence, and so become legally removable.

In the information furnished to the Commissioners by the Clerk of the Union, it is stated that the change of residence was advised and adopted in order to secure the right of irremovability, but this statement is clearly a mistake. Darmody's long residence in England and his practical experience of the law of relief would have prevented him from being led astray so easily; and moreover, he acknowledges the purpose for which he removed. He admits having been kindly treated on the journey by the Removing Officer.

As to the alleged ill-treatment in the workhouse at Newcastle-under-Lyme, it does not come within the immediate province of the Commissioners to notice it, and such statements are besides unreliable without strong corroborating circumstances.

I have the honour to remain, gentlemen, your obedient servant,

T. Brodie.

To the Poor Law Commissioners,
Custom-house, Dublin.

No. 67.—Minutes of Evidence enclosed in foregoing Report.

Claremorris Union.

Patrick Darmody being duly sworn, saith:—I was born at Derryfad, in the Union of Claremorris. I left it when I was about twelve years of age and went to service in the Ballinrobe Union. I spent fourteen years in that parish, and then went to live as a servant with Mr. Kelly, of Hollymount, in the same union, where I remained two years, after which I proceeded to Newcastle-under-Lyme, in England, to my brother, who resided there. I spent thirteen years in that town, and got married there. My wife died about three years ago, leaving two children. The same winter in which my wife died I was obliged to seek for relief in the Newcastle-under-Lyme workhouse. I remained in it for four months, then took my discharge, and returned to my former employment in Newcastle-under-Lyme. I again entered the workhouse during the following winter, on which occasion I spent four months in it with my two children. I then took my discharge from the workhouse and returned to my former employment in Newcastle-under-Lyme. My two children were born in Newcastle-under-Lyme. Last winter I was again obliged to apply for admission to the workhouse for a third time. Shortly after my admission, the porter of the workhouse told me that if I spent one week in the parish of Stoke, and returned to the workhouse, I could be removed to Ireland, where I had expressed a wish to be sent in consequence of the bad usage I received in the workhouse, as I was suffering from illness at the time, and the Governor used to send me to work on the workhouse ground. I was labouring under a severe pain in the chest when I was sent to break stones, but was not under medical treatment. I was afterwards sent to the infirmary, under the Doctor's care. I took my discharge from the workhouse in consequence of the statement made to me by the porter. I proceeded to Henley, with my two children, where I remained only one night; returned to Newcastle, and in the latter end of the week applied for readmission to the workhouse, where I was again subjected to bad usage at the hands of the Governor. Shortly before Christmas last I was brought before the Magistrates, who were pleased to postpone the order for my removal, in consequence of the severity of the weather at that period of the year. In the month of April I was again brought before the Magistrates, when a warrant for my removal was made out. Mr. Tilsley, the Removing Officer, took myself and my two children from the workhouse to Farma railway station, and thence to Holyhead, where we arrived at about twelve o'clock at night. We took our passage on board of a steamer. Berths were provided for us. When we arrived in Dublin we were conveyed on a car to the railway station, and from thence by rail to Claremorris, where we arrived at two o'clock on Wednesday, the 18th instant. We were then brought to the workhouse by Mr. Tilsley, the Removing Officer, who acted towards us in a kind manner on the journey from Newcastle to Claremorris.

When I was brought before the Magistrates in April last, and told that I should return to Ireland, I did not make any objection. I solemnly swear that during the three or five years previous to my removal I never slept a night out of Newcastle-under-Lyme, with the exception of the one night spent by me in Henley.

For some years after my arrival in Newcastle, I used to go a distance of seven miles into the country during the harvest season to do farm work, but always returned to Newcastle to my wife and children on Saturday night.

mark.

Sworn and acknowledged before me at Claremorris, this 25th day of May, 1864.

No. 68.—LETTER from the COMMISSIONERS to the BOARD of GUARDIANS.

Poor Law Commission Office, Dublin,
SIR, May 31, 1864.

Adverting to the previous correspondence, the Commissioners for administering the Laws for Relief of the Poor in Ireland desire to state, for the information of the Board of Guardians of Claremorris Union, that they have received the report of Dr. Brodie, Poor Law Inspector, with the minutes of the examination which he has made of Patrick Darmody, with respect to his removal from the Newcastle-under-Lyme Union.

The Commissioners forward the minutes of examination herewith for the Guardians' perusal, and they will see from it that Patrick Darmody was only absent from the Newcastle-under-Lyme Union for one night, having lived thirteen years in the town of Newcastle-under Lyme.

It appears that Patrick Darmody absented himself for the time stated (one night) at the instigation of the porter of the Newcastle-under-Lyme workhouse, for the avowed purpose of effecting his removal to Ireland ; but the absence in question could not, the Commissioners think, be deemed to be such a break in the pauper's residence as would render him legally removable, and was a mere attempt to evade the law.

If, therefore, the Guardians of Claremorris Union think that reliance can be placed on the statement of Patrick Darmody as to the continuity of his residence in the Newcastle-under-Lyme Union, and should see fit to pass a resolution declaring themselves aggrieved by the removal of the man and his children to the Claremorris Union, on the ground that he was irremovable from Newcastle-under-Lyme Union, and agreeing to pay all costs which may be incurred in the necessary preliminary inquiry and subsequent appeal, if such appeal take place, the Commissioners will at once cause a preliminary inquiry to be made.

The resolution of the Guardians agreeing as above should be framed closely in accordance with the provisions of the 7th section of Act 26 & 27 Vic., cap. 89, of which a copy was sent to the Guardians, with the Commissioners' circular of the 25th of August, 1863.

The Commissioners request that the enclosed depositions may be returned with the Guardians' minutes.

By order of the Commissioners,

B. Banks, Chief Clerk.

To the Clerk of the Board of Guardians of the Claremorris Union.

No. 69.—Letter from the Commissioners to Messrs. Marsh and Barratt, Solicitors.

Poor Law Commission Office, Dublin,
June 3, 1864.

Gentlemen,

The Commissioners for administering the Laws for Relief of the Poor in Ireland desire to forward to you herewith a copy of a warrant which they have received from the Clerk to the Board of Guardians of Claremorris Union, dated the 27th April, 1864, for the removal of Patrick Darmody and his two children from the Newcastle-under-Lyme Union to Claremorris Union.

The Commissioners also forward a copy of some particulars relating to the circumstances of Patrick Darmody's residence in the Ashton-under-Lyme Union, which they have received from the Clerk of Claremorris Union; and a copy of a report of their Inspector, Dr. Brodie, transmitting the sworn testimony of Patrick Darmody on the subject.

It appears from these documents that Patrick Darmody was only absent from the Newcastle-under-Lyme Union for one night during the last thirteen years in which he had lived in the town of Newcastle-under-Lyme.

It further appears that he absented himself from the union for the time stated at the instigation of the porter of the Newcastle-under-Lyme Workhouse for the avowed purpose of effecting his removal to Ireland; but the absence in question could not, the Commissioners presume, be deemed to be such a break in the pauper's residence as would render him legally removable, but would be looked on as a mere attempt to evade the law.

The Commissioners have accordingly placed the depositions forwarded with Dr. Brodie's report before the Board of Guardians of Claremorris Union in order that a formal resolution may be passed with a view to a preliminary inquiry and appeal against the removal, in pursuance of the 7th section of the Act 26th and 27th Vic., cap. 89.

Owing to there having been a failure of attendance of a sufficient number of Guardians to form a board on the last day of weekly meeting of the Board of Guardians (the 1st instant), the Commissioners have not received a resolution to the effect proposed, which, however, they do not doubt the Board of Guardians will pass at a meeting which will probably be held to-morrow.

In the meantime the Commissioners forward herewith a notice of appeal (in duplicate) against the removal of Patrick Darmody and his children, on the ground that he was irremovable from the Newcastle-under-Lyme Union by reason of his having resided there for three years next before the application for the warrant of removal, under the two statutes, 9th and 10th Vic., c. 66, s. 1: and 24th and 25th Vic., c. 55, s. 1.

The Commissioners request that you will have the goodness to make inquiry at once at Newcastle-under-Lyme into the correctness of Patrick

Darmody's statements, and cause the notices of appeal to be posted, if you think an appeal to the next quarter sessions can be successfully made under the circumstances.

The depositions made by Patrick Darmody before the Justices at Newcastle-under-Lyme have been applied for by the Clerk of Claremorris Union, but have not yet been received; and the Clerk of the Union retains the depositions made by Darmody before the Inspector, Dr. Brodie.

These documents will be forwarded to you as soon as the Commissioners receive them.

By order of the Commissioners,

B. Banks, Chief Clerk.

To Messrs. Marsh and Barratt, Solicitors, Warrington.

No. 70.—Extract from Minutes of Proceedings of the Board of Guardians on the 4th June, 1864.

Resolved,—That the Board of Guardians of Claremorris Union consider themselves aggrieved by the removal of Patrick Darmody and his children to this union on the ground that he was irremovable from the Newcastle-under-Lyme Union, and that the Guardians agreed to pay all costs which may be incurred in the necessary preliminary inquiry, and in the appeal against the warrant for the removal of the poor persons referred to.

No. 71.—Letter from Messrs. Marsh and Barratt to the Commissioners

Sir, Warrington, June 4, 1864.

We are in receipt of your letter of the 3rd instant (No. 11,260), and its enclosures, and this being the last day for service of notice of appeal for the sessions named, we should at once have gone over to Newcastle-under-Lyme, but we have fortunately ascertained in the meantime that Newcastle-under-Lyme is a borough, having a separate court of quarter sessions under the Municipal Corporation Act; and in such cases it has been decided by the Court of Queen's Bench, Reg. v. Justices of Suffolk, Justices of Shropshire, and Justices of Lancashire, 2 A. and E., new ser., 85, that the borough sessions have exclusive jurisdiction in appeals against removal orders, notwithstanding the 8th and 9th Wm. 3, c. 30, provides that such appeals shall be heard at the sessions of the county, "and not elsewhere." The 26th and 27th Vic., c. 89, gives the appeal to the "quarter sessions held for the county or borough within which the parish or township from which such removal was made is situate," but from Borough Justices having acted in the removal we presume the workhouse is within the borough.

We have written to the Clerk of the Peace for the borough of Newcastle to inquire on what days or about what times there will be quarter sessions between now and the 18th November, which is the expiration of the six months allowed for appeal after the removal was completed; and having regard to the circumstances mentioned in your letter, it is, perhaps, just as well that a little longer period is allowed for inquiry.

Query—Is not a preliminary inquiry a necessary step towards an appeal? The statute provides that the Commissioners, "after such inquiry, may, if they think fit, appeal."

We will write to you again when we hear from the Clerk of the Peace.

We are, Sir, your most obedient humble servants,

Marsh & Barratt.

The Secretary to the Poor Law Commissioners,
Dublin.

No. 72.—Letter from the Commissioners to Messrs. Marsh and Barratt.

Poor Law Commission Office, Dublin,
June 6, 1864.

Gentlemen,

The Commissioners for administering the Laws for Relief of the Poor in Ireland desire to acknowledge the receipt of your letter of the 4th instant, in reply to their communication of the 3rd instant, relating to the removal of a pauper named Patrick Darmody and his two children from the Newcastle-under-Lyme Union to Ireland, and in reference thereto the Commissioners forward to you herewith a copy of a resolution passed at the meeting of the Board of Guardians of the Claremorris Union on the 4th instant, agreeing to pay all costs which may be incurred in the necessary preliminary inquiry into the case, and in the appeal against the warrant of removal.

The Commissioners also forward herewith a copy of the depositions of Patrick Darmody, taken before their Inspector, Dr. Brodie, and request that you will have the goodness to make an inquiry into the facts of the case at Newcastle-under-Lyme, and acquaint the Commissioners with the result.

By order of the Commissioners,

B. Banks, Chief Clerk.

To Messrs. Marsh and Barratt,
Solicitors, Warrington.

---

No. 73.—Letter from Messrs Marsh and Barratt to the Commissioners.

Sir,

Warrington, June 9, 1864.

Referring to your letter of the 6th instant (No. 11,472, Claremorris Union), we beg to enclose herewith a report of the result of our preliminary inquiry.

We have ascertained that the Newcastle quarter sessions will be held on the 30th instant (for which it is now too late to appeal), and on Thursday, the 20th October. If the Commissioners should determine to appeal to the latter, we shall be glad to receive duplicate notices. We beg to remind you that borough quarter sessions are not like quarter sessions for counties, held in certain weeks fixed by Act of Parliament, but according to the discretion of the Recorder, so that the days above named are at most only those on which there is an intention to hold them; and we would therefore suggest that the notices should express the appeal to be to "the General Quarter Sessions of the Peace, to be holden in and for the borough of Newcastle-under-Lyme, next after the expiration of twenty-one days from the service of this notice." In other respects your former notice seems to contain all that is requisite.

We are, Sir, your most obedient humble servants,

Marsh & Barratt.

The Secretary to the Poor Law
Commissioners.

No. 74.—Report of Preliminary Inquiry enclosed in foregoing Letter.

Messrs. Marsh and Barratt's report to the Commissioners for administering the Laws for Relief of the Poor in Ireland on a preliminary inquiry as to the removal of Patrick Darmondy and his two children from Newcastle-under-Lyme to the Claremorris Union.

In accordance with the instructions contained in the Board's letter of the 6th instant, we have made the preliminary inquiry into the case of Patrick Darmondy, as he is named in the warrant of removal, and we find—

That on the 6th May, 1861, Patrick "Darmondy," his wife Margaret, a child of hers by a former husband, one Maria Rennings (afterwards called Reynolds), and the two children, Catherine and William, were admitted to the workhouse at Newcastle-under-Lyme. Under the head of "Observations," it is stated that "They belong to Ireland, and have been in Newcastle ten years."

On the 16th, 21st, and 24th May, 1861, he was relieved under the same name by provisions to the amount of 10*s.* 2*d.*, and on 28th May, 1861, to the amount of 2*s.* 5*d.*

On 9th September, 1861, an order was made for his wife to go into the workhouse on account of illness, and on the 25th November, in the same year, his wife having died, an order was made for coffin and burial fees.

On the 30th January, 1862, an order was made for Darmondy and his two children to go into the workhouse. He left on the 24th February, and on 25th (the next day) an order was made for his readmission.

On May 27, 1862, a medical order for admission to the workhouse was made for the purpose of affording medical relief for his children, and on the 11th November a further order was made for the same reason.

On 3rd December, 1862, an order was made for admission of Patrick Darmondy and his two children.

On October 26 and November 28, 1863, further orders were made.

On December 7, 1863, a further order for admission of Patrick Darmondy and his two children was made. Under the head of "Present cause," &c., appears "Application for an order to the workhouse until sent to Ireland." Under head of "Observations," it is stated that he "belongs to Ballinrobe, in the county Mayo, and has been in Newcastle since 23rd November, 1863."

On the 25th April, 1864, the above was transferred from "Common Fund to Parish."

There is considerable discrepancy in the above orders as to the ages of the pauper and his children; but such facts are frequently so loosely stated that perhaps no importance need be attached to it.

From the above statement it would appear that the pauper's account of his continued residence at Newcastle-under-Lyme for a period far longer than was necessary to constitute a status of irremovability is substantially correct, but there is somewhat more difficulty in getting at the facts connected with the alleged collusory removal to Hanley, which is the place mentioned as "Henley" in his deposition.

Mention being made in the minutes of evidence of the pauper's brother being in Newcastle, we made inquiry, and eventually found him, and also the pauper's mother. They can give no dates for the pauper's journey to Hanley; all they can recollect was that "It was getting cold weather and dark days." The mother states that it was on a Saturday that he came out of the workhouse and said he was going to Hanley. He said he was going to beg for himself and children, and he went away, taking them with him. At the suggestion of a person with whom the pauper had lodged in Newcastle, his mother followed him to Hanley the same day and brought back the pauper's son from there to Newcastle. On the Sunday night (the next night after) the pauper returned to Newcastle, and she saw him at his late lodgings in Hick-street. She is sure the pauper had not been in Hanley for a very long time before—not for many months. The above can be corroborated by the person with whom the pauper has lodged.

In the absence of any corroboration of the pauper's statement as to the circumstances attending his removal to Hanley, the case seems to rest wholly on his testimony, contradicted as it possibly may be by the workhouse porter charged with the collusive scheme. The Board will judge how far this is to be depended on in venturing on an appeal. If the collusive motive for the removal to Hanley be established, there will probably be little difference of opinion as to its constituting no break in the residence at Newcastle; but it is obvious that a departure from Newcastle of a homeless pauper, whose most recent connexion with it was severed by his discharge from the union workhouse, raises no presumption of an "animus revertendi," the proof of which will consequently depend on the evidence of the pauper himself; and, in the absence of such an animus, a change of residence for a day would be as effectual as a longer period in destroying his irremovability.

No. 75.—Letter from the Commissioners to Dr. Brodie.

Poor Law Commission Office, Dublin,
June 11, 1864.

Sir,

The Commissioners for administering the Laws for Relief of the Poor in Ireland forward to you herewith a communication from Messrs. Marsh and Barratt, solicitors, Warrington, enclosing a report of the preliminary inquiry which they have made with respect to the removal of Patrick Darmody and his two children from Newcastle-under-Lyme to Claremorris. The depositions of Patrick Darmody taken by you are also enclosed; and the Commissioners request that you will have the goodness to take an early opportunity of examining Darmody again, upon oath, as to the circumstances of the journey to Hanley, which he took, and the intention with which he went there, and report to them thereon.

No. 76.—Letter from the Commissioners to Messrs. Marsh and Barratt.

Poor Law Commission Office, Dublin,
June 11, 1864.

Gentlemen,

The Commissioners for administering the Laws for Relief of the Poor in Ireland acknowledge the receipt of your letter of the 9th instant, forwarding a report of the preliminary inquiry made by you into the circumstances under which Patrick Darmondy and his two children were removed from Newcastle-under-Lyme to the Claremorris Union; and the Commissioners desire to forward herewith, in duplicate, notice of their intention to appeal against the removal, framed as in the terms suggested in your letter.

By order of the Commissioners,

B. Banks, Chief Clerk.

To Messrs. Marsh and Barratt,
Solicitors, Warrington.

No. 77.—Notice of Appeal enclosed in foregoing Letter.

To the Guardians of the Poor of the Newcastle-under-Lyme Union, in the county of Stafford.

The Commissioners for administering the Laws for Relief of the Poor in Ireland hereby give you notice, that at the General Quarter Sessions of the Peace to be holden in and for the borough of Newcastle-under-Lyme next after the expiration of twenty-one days from the service of this notice, they intend to enter, try, and prosecute an appeal on behalf of the Guardians of Claremorris Union in Ireland, being the Guardians aggrieved by the removal next hereinafter mentioned, against a warrant of removal under the hands and seals of Charles Massey and John Hallam, esqrs., two of Her Majesty's Justices of the Peace for the borough of Newcastle-under-Lyme, in the said county of Stafford, dated the 27th day of April last, whereby one Patrick Darmondy and his two children, Catherine and William, were, on your complaint, required to be conveyed to the port of Limerick, and to be delivered at the workhouse of the said union of Claremorris, and were thereafter conveyed to the said union of Claremorris, and delivered at the workhouse of the said union.

And the said Commissioners further give you notice, that the ground of their appeal against the said warrant of removal, is as follows, namely:—

That the said Patrick Darmondy was exempt from removal from the said Newcastle-under-Lyme Union, and was irremovable therefrom by reason of his having resided in the said union for three years next before the application for the said warrant of the 27th day of April last.

Signed, by order of the said Commissioners, this day of June, 1864.

Benjamin Banks, Chief Clerk.

No. 78.—Report from Dr. Brodie to the Commissioners.

Gentlemen, Claremorris, June 16, 1864.

I have the honour to report for your information, that, in obedience to the instructions contained in your letter dated 11th instant, No. 11,830, I attended this day at the Claremorris Union Workhouse, and examined Patrick Darmondy, upon oath, as to the circumstances of the journey to Hanley, which he took in the month of December last, and the intention with which he went there.

In forwarding Darmondy's deposition, I have only to observe that he gave his evidence in a very confused and unsatisfactory manner. It is, however, quite evident that in the month of December last he was anxious to return to Ireland for the benefit of his health, and that with this object in view, and acting upon the statement made to him by the porter of the workhouse, he went into Hanley for one night, returned to the workhouse, and was, in the month of May last, given in charge to Removing Officer Tilsley, who had him conveyed to the Claremorris Union Workhouse, of which he is at present an inmate. The documents which accompanied your letter of instructions are returned herewith.

I have the honour to remain, Gentlemen, your obedient servant,

T. Brodie.

To the Poor Law Commissioners,
Custom House, Dublin.

No. 79.—Minutes of Evidence enclosed in foregoing Report.

Patrick Darmondy being duly sworn, saith—About four or five days before I left the Newcastle-under-Lyme Workhouse, in the month of December, 1863, I mentioned to the porter, whose name I do not recollect, that I was anxious to be removed to Ireland, as my health was not good. He told me that if I left the workhouse and spent one night in Hanley, I could be removed to my native place. I accordingly took my discharge on a Friday evening, and went to the house of an acquaintance of mine named James Egan, in Bankel-street, Newcastle-under-Lyme, where myself and my children slept that night. A man named Tom Joyce gave 6*d.* to one of my children. I got no money or provisions when leaving the workhouse. On the following day, Saturday, I proceeded to Hanley, a distance of two miles from Newcastle-under-Lyme, and spent the night at the house of a man named John Chalk, a cousin of mine. He made no charge for the supper, lodging, and breakfast supplied to me and my children, and when leaving on the following day, he gave a loaf of bread to my daughter. My mother followed me to Hanley on Sunday morning, and brought back my son with her to Newcastle-under-Lyme, and I returned in the course of the same day with my daughter. I slept only one night in Hanley, and was never there before the night in question. On my return to Newcastle-under-Lyme, I went to the house of a man named Peter Conyngham in Lowe-street, where I remained until I was re-admitted to the workhouse in the course of the week. I was very ill during the time I remained at Conyngham's, and unable to use any food, with the exception of some tea, which my mother brought me from time to time. When admitted to the workhouse on my return from Hanley, I did not say anything about my wishing to return to Ireland.

When I was first brought before the Magistrates, I stated that my native place was situate in the Ballinrobe Union, but having afterwards learned from my mother that it was in the Claremorris Union, I advised the Magistrates of the change in question.

If the porter had not told me that if I left the workhouse, spent a night in Hanley, returned to Newcastle-under-Lyme, I could be removed to Ireland, I would not have taken my discharge in the month of December last. It was with a view to removal I went into Hanley.

When I married my late wife, she was a widow with one child (Maria Rennings). I never begged for alms, but received outdoor relief in provisions to the value of a few shillings about three years ago.

No. 80.—Letter from the Commissioners to Messrs. Marsh and Barratt.

Poor Law Commission Office, Dublin,
June 17, 1864.

Gentlemen,

Adverting to the previous correspondence on the subject, the Commissioners for administering the Laws for Relief of the Poor in Ireland, desire to forward herewith for your further information, in reference to the appeal against the warrant, a copy of a report which they have received from their Inspector, Dr. Brodie, enclosing the minute of an examination which he made of "Patrick Darmondy," on the 16th instant, relating to his removal from the Newcastle-under-Lyme Union, your report of 9th instant having been communicated to Dr. Brodie.

The Commissioners have at the same time to state that the Clerk of the Claremorris Union has applied twice to the Clerk of Newcastle-under-Lyme Union, without effect, for a copy of the depositions made by Patrick Darmondy before the Magistrates, previous to their issue of the warrant for his removal.

The Clerk was directed by the Board of Guardians on the 25th ultimo, to apply for a copy of the depositions, in pursuance of the 3rd section of the Act 24 & 25 Vict., cap. 76, and he reports that he applied again on the 10th instant, and that the document had not, up to the 15th instant, been furnished.

By order of the Commissioners,

W. D. Wodsworth, for Chief Clerk.

Messrs. Marsh and Barratt,
Solicitors, Warrington.

June 24, 1864.

Gentlemen,

Adverting to the previous correspondence on the subject, the Commissioners for administering the Laws for Relief of the Poor in Ireland, forward herewith, for your information, an extract from the Minutes of Proceedings of the Board of Guardians of the Claremorris Union, on the 22nd instant, containing a copy of a communication received from the Clerk of the Union of Newcastle-under-Lyme, in reply to the application made to him by the Clerk of the Claremorris Union, for a copy of the depositions taken in the case of Patrick Darmody, removed under warrant from the former union.

By order of the Commissioners,

B. Banks, Chief Clerk.

To Messrs. Marsh and Barratt,
Solicitors, Warrington.

No. 82.—Extract from Minutes of Proceedings of the Board of Guardians of the 22nd June, 1864, enclosed in foregoing.

Read letter from the Clerk of Newcastle-under-Lyme Union on the subject of the removal of Patrick Darmody in the following terms:—

Newcastle-under-Lyme Union, Staffordshire,
June 15, 1864.

(Darmody.)

Sir,

I find that the Clerk of the Justices who made the order herein did not take any formal depositions, but merely took a short minute of the evidence in his Minute Book. I have obtained from him, and enclose you herewith a copy of the minutes.

Yours obediently,

To the Clerk of the Union, Claremorris.

(Enclosure referred to.)

Copy minutes of evidence taken before Her Majesty's Justices of the Peace for the borough of Newcastle-under-Lyme, on the making by them of the order for the removal of Patrick Darmondy and his two children from Newcastle-under-Lyme to Ireland.

Patrick Darmondy, sworn.—"I was born at Derrafadd, in the Union of Claremorris, and county of Mayo. I am upwards of forty years of age. I have two children, Catherine, seven years' old, and William, four years' old."

George Harris Tilsley, Relieving Officer for Newcastle-under-Lyme, sworn.—"I know the pauper. He has for several years received relief from this union. I apply for his removal to the Claremorris Union in Ireland principally by his own desire. He recently left this union and took up his abode in the parish of Stoke-upon-Trent, and has recently returned with his family to our union. I think it a proper case for removal."

James Yates, sworn.—"I am Surgeon to the Newcastle Union. I have examined the pauper and his children. They are all in a fit state of health to bear removal to the port of Limerick in Ireland. The father is permanently asthmatic. He is now as well as he can well be."

No. 83.—Letter from Messrs. Marsh and Barratt to the Commissioners.

Sir, Warrington, June 25, 1864.

We are in receipt of your letter of the 24th instant (No. 12,699/64), sending copy communication from the Clerk to the Guardians of the Newcastle-under-Lyme Union.

The omission to take formal depositions, though somewhat loose and unsatisfactory, does not seem to us to be an irregularity of which we can avail ourselves. The form of warrant prescribed by the 8 & 9 Vic., c. 117, states the examination to be "hereto annexed," and a form of examination is given; but it is otherwise in the forms substituted by the 26 & 27 Vic., c. 89.

The notice of appeal has been duly posted, and we will in due time (unless the order be in the meantime abandoned) prepare for trial, and communicate with the Guardians of the Claremorris Union as to the pauper's attendance as a witness.

We are, Sir, your most obedient servants,

Marsh & Barratt.

The Secretary to the Poor Law Commissioners, Dublin.

Report of the Master.

That the inmate, Patrick Darmody, who was removed with his two children from the Union of Newcastle-under-Lyme, under the Irish Poor Removal Act, left the workhouse on the 18th instant with the intention of going to England.

No. 85.—Letter from the Commissioners to the Board of Guardians.

Poor Law Commission Office, Dublin,

Sir, August 30, 1864.

The Commissioners for administering the Laws for Relief of the Poor in Ireland have had before them the minutes of proceedings of the Board of Guardians of the Claremorris Union on the 24th instant, from which it appears that "Patrick Darmody," who was removed with his two children from the Union of Newcastle-under-Lyme, left the workhouse on the 18th instant, "with the intention of going to England;" and in reference to this circumstance and to the legal proceedings regarding his removal, the Commissioners request that they may be informed if the Board of Guardians are aware of the place in England to which Patrick Darmody proposed to go, or how he obtained the means of going there.

By order of the Commissioners,

B. Banks, Chief Clerk.

To the Clerk of the Claremorris Union.

No. 86.—Letter from the Commissioners to Messrs. Marsh and Barratt.

Poor Law Commission Office, Dublin,

Gentlemen, August 30, 1864.

Adverting to the previous correspondence on the subject, the Commissioners for administering the Laws for Relief of the Poor in Ireland forward herewith for your information an extract from the minutes of proceedings of the Board of Guardians of the Claremorris Union on the 24th instant, from which it appears that "Patrick Darmody," removed under warrant from the Union of Newcastle-under-Lyme, has left Claremorris workhouse for England. A copy of a letter which the Commissioners have addressed to the Guardians on the subject is also enclosed herewith.

By order of the Commissioners,

B. Banks, Chief Clerk.

To Messrs. Marsh & Barratt,
Solicitors, Warrington.

No. 87.—Extract from Minutes of Proceedings of the Board of Guardians of 31st August, 1864.

Resolved,—That the Poor Law Commissioners be informed, in reply to their letter, that Patrick Darmody stated that he intended to return to Newcastle-under-Lyme; and that it appears that while an inmate of the workhouse he received a sum of 17*s.*, which he alleged had been forwarded to him by his mother and brothers who reside in England. The Board of Guardians, however, have their conjectures as to the source from which the sum in question was obtained.

No. 88.—Letter from the Commissioners to Messrs. Marsh and Barratt.

Poor Law Commission Office, Dublin,

Gentlemen, September 14. 1864.

Adverting to their letter of 30th ultimo, and to previous correspondence on the subject, the Commissioners for administering the Laws for Relief of the Poor in Ireland forward herewith, for your information, an extract from the Minutes of Proceedings of the Board of Guardians of Claremorris Union on the 31st ultimo, relating to the case of Patrick Darmody, removed under warrant from the Union of Newcastle-under-Lyme.

By order of the Commissioners,

B. Banks, Chief Clerk.

To Messrs. Marsh and Barratt,
Solicitors, Warrington.

No. 89.—Letter from Messrs. Marsh and Barratt to the Commissioners.

Claremorris Union.—Patrick Darmody's Removal.

Gentlemen, Warrington, September 15, 1864.

We beg to acknowledge the receipt of your letter of yesterday's date (No. 16,900, 1864), and in reference thereto, and to the letter of the 30th ultimo, we shall be glad to be instructed in due time whether it is the wish of the Board to abandon the appeal in consequence of the cessation of chargeability, or to prosecute it, notwithstanding the pauper's return to England. In the latter event, we shall have to ascertain his present residence, which we may probably be able to do through the relatives whom we found during our former inquiries at Newcastle; but it is quite possible, from his unsettled habits, that he may be wandering about the country, and we may be unable to procure his attendance when wanted; and the result, as our case depends wholly on his evidence, would, no doubt, be the dismissal of the appeal, with costs.

We are, Gentlemen, your most obedient, humble servants,

Marsh and Barratt.

The Commissioners for Relief of the Poor in Ireland, Dublin.

No. 90.—Letter from the Commissioners to Messrs. Marsh and Barratt.

Poor Law Commission Office, Dublin,
Gentlemen, September 20, 1864.

The Commissioners for administering the Laws for Relief of the Poor in Ireland acknowledge the receipt of your letter of the 15th instant, relating to the case of Patrick Darmody, who was removed under warrant from the Newcastle-under-Lyme Union to the Claremorris Union, and requesting that you may be instructed whether it is proposed, under the circumstances, to abandon the appeal in the case, or to prosecute it, notwithstanding the fact of the pauper's return to England.

In reply, the Commissioners desire to state that it seems to be advisable that you should abandon the appeal, as it appears to be very unlikely, under the circumstances, that the man's evidence would be forthcoming at the trial.

The Commissioners request that you will have the goodness to forward the account of your expenses in the case.

By order of the Commissioners,

B. Banks, Chief Clerk.

To Messrs. Marsh and Barratt,
Solicitors, Warrington.

No. 91 .—Letter from the Commissioners to the Board of Guardians.

Poor Law Commission Office, Dublin,
September 20, 1864.

Sir,

Adverting to previous correspondence relating to the case of Patrick Darmody, who was removed under warrant from the Newcastle-under-Lyme Union to the Claremorris Union, the Commissioners for administering the Laws for Relief of the Poor in Ireland desire to inform the Board of Guardians, that having communicated to Messrs. Marsh and Barratt, solicitors, the particulars appearing in the Guardians' Minutes of the 24th and 31st ultimo, with regard to the recent departure of Patrick Darmody from the workhouse, they have received a letter from Messrs. Marsh and Barratt, dated the 15th instant, a copy of which is herewith enclosed, requesting to be instructed whether it is the wish of the Board to abandon the appeal in the case in consequence of the cessation of chargeability, or to prosecute it, notwithstanding the pauper's return to England.

The Commissioners have informed the solicitors in reply, that it seems to be advisable that they should abandon the appeal, as it appears to be very unlikely, under the circumstances, that the man's evidence would be forthcoming at the trial.

The Commissioners regret that the time did not appear to admit of the Guardians being consulted in the first instance as to the propriety of abandoning the appeal.

By order of the Commissioners,

B. Banks, Chief Clerk.

To the Clerk of Claremorris Union.

* The month of January includes cases which occurred in the previous year, and were still under treatment in January.

† The registry of cases in a few of the Unions does not distinguish whether the disease first arose in or out of the Workhouse; the numbers in these columns do not therefore agree with the number in the previous column, showing the total number of cases.

Note on Columns headed "Result."—From the nature of the headings under the general term "Result," some cases are necessarily twice entered; and consequently the numbers in the several Columns exceed the total entered in the final Column.

Also as regards Columns headed "One eye lost," "Both eyes lost."—These columns include many cases in which the sight was lost before admission into the Workhouse.

APPENDIX C.

ORDERS AND CIRCULARS OF INSTRUCTION ISSUED UNDER THE MEDICAL CHARITIES ACT.

1.—ORDERS.

General Order relating to the Qualifications of Medical Officers of Dispensary Districts.

To the Guardians of the Poor of the several Unions named in the Schedule hereunto annexed, to the Committees of Management of Dispensary Districts therein; and to all other Persons whom it may concern:

Whereas, in exercise of the powers given to Us by an Act passed in the Fifteenth Year of the Reign of Her Majesty Queen Victoria, intituled "An Act to provide for the better distribution, support, and management of Medical Charities in Ireland, and to amend an Act of the Eleventh Year of Her Majesty to provide for the execution of the Laws for the Relief of the Poor in Ireland," We, the Commissioners for administering the Laws for Relief of the Poor in Ireland, by a General Order under our Seal, bearing date the 10th day of October, 1862, did order, direct, and declare, that except as was thereinafter provided, the qualifications of every Medical Officer of a Dispensary District who might thereafter be appointed in any union in Ireland should be as follows, that is to say:—

No. 1. He shall have obtained a degree in medicine or a diploma or license to practise medicine, from some college or other body that may be authorized to grant a diploma or license to practise medicine in Great Britain or Ireland, also a diploma in surgery or a license to practise surgery from some college or other body that may be authorized to grant a diploma or license to practise surgery in Great Britain or Ireland, and also a certificate from some board or court of examiners, or other body duly authorized to grant the same, of his possessing a competent knowledge of midwifery.

No. 2. He shall have reached the age of 23 years.

And whereas, doubt exists whether the said above-recited qualification includes a Licentiate of the Apothecaries' Hall, Dublin, registered as such under the provisions of "The Medical Act," (1858), which Act declares every person so registered to be entitled, according to his qualification or qualifications, to practise medicine or surgery, or medicine and surgery, as the case may be, in any part of Her Majesty's dominions, and it is therefore expedient to make further regulation in that behalf:

Now therefore, we do hereby order, direct, and declare, that the qualification of every Medical Officer of a Dispensary District who may hereafter be appointed in any union in Ireland, shall be either as in the said Order is declared, or shall be as follows, that is to say:—

No. 1. He shall be a Licentiate of the Apothecaries' Hall, Dublin, and shall have obtained a diploma in surgery or a license to practise surgery from some college or other body that may be authorized to grant a diploma or license to practise surgery in Great Britain or Ireland, and also a certificate from some board or court of examiners, or other body duly authorized to grant the same, of his possessing a competent knowledge of midwifery.

No. 2. He shall have reached the age of 23 years.

And we do hereby confirm every part of the said above-recited Order of the 10th day of October, 1862, which shall not be inconsistent with the provisions of this Order.

II.—CIRCULARS.

No. 1.—Annual Appointment of Dispensary Committees and Wardens.

Poor Law Commission Office, Dublin,
Sir, 26th March, 1864.

The Commissioners for administering the Laws for Relief of the Poor in Ireland desire to call your attention to their Circular of the 21st of March, 1862, relating to the annual appointment of Dispensary Committees and Wardens, and to the extracts from previous Circulars, appended thereto; and they request that you will take the necessary steps, as pointed out in the Circular referred to, to place before the Board of Guardians, after the next annual election, a correct list of the Members of the Board entitled to be Members of the respective Dispensary Committees in the union.

As soon as the Committee shall have been completed for any dispensary district, the Guardians should fix a day for the first meeting of such Committee, for the special purpose of appointing their Honorary Officers for the current year, in accordance with Articles 5 and 6 of the Dispensary Regulations, and you should give notice thereof to each member of the Dispensary Committee, in accordance with Articles 10 and 12 of the Dispensary Regulations.

A form for the return of officers of the several Dispensary Committees in the union will be forwarded to you in due course.

By order of the Commissioners,

B. Banks, Chief Clerk.

To the Clerk of the Board of Guardians
of each Union.

No. 2.—Qualification of Medical Officers of Dispensary Districts.

Poor Law Commission, Office, Dublin,
Sir, 30th November, 1864.

The Commissioners for administering the Laws for Relief of the Poor in Ireland forward herewith a copy of a General Order which they have issued, amending the General Order dated 10th October, 1862, which prescribes the qualification of Medical Officers of dispensaries in Ireland.

The claim of the Governor and Company of Apothecaries' Hall, Dublin, to have their licence considered a sufficient medical qualification, has been for some time past under the consideration of the Commissioners.

In support of the claim, it has been represented to the Commissioners that the Medical Council, established under the Medical Act of 1858, have declared their opinion that the registered Licentiate of Apothecaries' Hall, Dublin, is entitled to practise medicine in any part of Her Majesty's dominions, and that, in accordance with that opinion, the Secretary of State for War has come to the conclusion that those Licentiates should no longer be debarred from presenting themselves for examination for appointments in the Army.

Under these circumstances, the Commissioners have determined to admit Licentiates of Apothecaries' Hall, Dublin, possessing, at the same time, the diploma of surgeon and a midwifery certificate, to compete for appointments under the Poor Law and Medical Charities Acts; and the Law Officers of the Crown in Ireland having advised that the terms of the Order of the 10th October, 1862, do not include the licence of Apothecaries' Hall, Dublin, it has become necessary to amend that Order accordingly.

By order of the Commissioners,

B. Banks, Chief Clerk.

To the Honorary Secretary of each Dispensary Committee.

No. 3.—Compulsory Vaccination Act.

Poor Law Commission Office, Dublin,
Sir, 7th March, 1865.

The Commissioners for administering the Laws for Relief of the Poor in Ireland desire to state that several cases have been brought under their notice in which parents, although duly informed of the requirements of the Compulsory Vaccination Act (26 & 27 Vic., c. 52), have neglected to take their children for vaccination within the time prescribed.

The subject is one of so much general importance that the Commissioners think it right to bring it under the special consideration of the Board of Guardians.

By the first section of the Act the parents of every child born after the 1st January, 1864, or the persons having the care and nurture of such child, are bound, as soon as practicable, and within six months after the birth, to take the child to the Medical Officer of the Dispensary District for vaccination, unless it shall have been previously vaccinated by some duly qualified medical practitioner and the vaccination duly certified; and by the second section they are required to take the child again, on the eighth day following the day on which it has been vaccinated, to the Medical Officer by whom the operation has been performed, in order that he may ascertain, by inspection, the result of the operation.

In order to facilitate and ensure this being done, the eighth section of the Act requires the Registrar of Births and Deaths, on the registration of the birth of any child, who shall not have been certified to him as having been vaccinated, to give a notice in writing to the parents or other persons having the care and nurture of the child of their duty in this respect, and also a notice of the days, hours, and places, at which the Dispensary Medical Officer of the District will attend for the purpose of vaccination; and the same section provides for the imposition of a penalty, not exceeding ten shillings, on the parents or other persons responsible, in the event of neglect to cause the child to be vaccinated or to cause it to be taken for inspection on the eighth day after the vaccination.

The Commissioners think it is the duty of the Board of Guardians to see that these provisions are duly and effectively carried out, and that proceedings should therefore be taken in every case of wilful neglect; and, with that view, the Commissioners suggest that the Guardians should call upon each Dispensary Officer acting as Registrar of Births and Deaths, to furnish them from time to time with the particulars of any cases in which, by a comparison of the Register of Vaccination, which he is required by the seventh section of the Act to keep, with the Register of Births, any such neglect shall appear; and the Guardians should thereupon direct the necessary proceedings to be instituted (which they are authorized to do by the thirteenth section of the Act), either by the Clerk of the Union or the Relieving Officer of the District, as may be deemed most expedient.

By order of the Commissioners,

B. Banks, Chief Clerk.

To the Clerk of each Union.

TABULAR RETURNS IN CONNEXION WITH RELIEF UNDER THE MEDICAL CHARITIES ACT.

[Note.—In this series of Tables, the Unions are classed in the Counties and Provinces in which the chief or central place of the respective Unions is situate; but many of the Unions comprise parts of more than one County or Province. An Alphabetical Index List of the Dispensary Districts is annexed (No. 6), showing the name of the Union in which each District is situate, and referring to the table and page in which the particulars relating to each District are to be found.]

NINETEENTH ANNUAL REPORT.

TO THE

RIGHT HON. SIR GEORGE GREY, Bart.,

HER MAJESTY'S PRINCIPAL SECRETARY OF STATE FOR THE HOME DEPARTMENT.

Board of Supervision for the Relief of the Poor in Scotland, Chambers, George Street, Edinburgh.
August 1864.

Sir,

Proceedings of the Board.

We have the honour to submit the General Report of our proceedings for the past year.

Since the date of our last Report, the General Superintendents of Poor have continued to discharge their duties within their respective districts to our entire satisfaction. Mr Briscoe has visited 82 Parishes in the Counties of Ross, Caithness, Sutherland, and Inverness. Mr Falconar has visited 204 Parishes in the Counties of Argyll, Bute, Dumbarton, Perth, Elgin, Nairn, Banff, Forfar, Aberdeen, Kincardine and Stirling. We have received from them their General Half-yearly Reports upon the administration of the Law within their respective districts, as well as special Parochial Reports from time to time, wherever circumstances appeared to require them, and we have continued to deal with these Reports in the same manner as with those of former years.

During the past year, the Visiting Officer of the Board has conducted 10 special investigations, and he has inspected and reported upon 16 Lodging Houses for Paupers, and all the Poorhouses at present in operation in Scotland. He has also visited and inquired into the administration of the Law in 124 Parishes.

We have investigated allegations, involving charges more or less serious, against 25 Inspectors of Poor; and we regret that we have been under the necessity of dismissing five of those Officers, for neglect or failure to perform their duties. Three whose conduct was under investigation, were permitted by us to resign their offices; and we have censured or admonished nine Inspectors, whose errors were not of so grave a character as to call for more serious punishment. We have had the satisfaction of acquitting eight Inspectors of the charges which were brought against them.

We have been called upon to investigate complaints against three Governors of Poorhouses, and of these we found it necessary to censure two.

We have also investigated charges against two Medical Officers. One of these gentlemen having tendered his resignation, while our inquiry was pending, we accepted it, and called upon the Parochial Board to appoint a qualified successor. In the other case we are glad to be able to state that the charges were unfounded.

App. (A.) No. 1.

Having been called upon to determine whether, when children are boarded out in a Parish other than the Parish to which they are chargeable, the Inspector of the Parish in which they reside is to be held responsible for their proper care and treatment, in the same manner as he is responsible in the case of other classes of Paupers, we were of opinion, that "when a Parochial Board places pauper children beyond the limits of the Parish, it cannot thereby relieve itself of its responsibility for the proper care and treatment of the children, but must continue to be directly and primarily responsible that the children are properly cared for, kindly treated, and duly instructed;" and that "the Inspector of the Parish in which such children are boarded cannot be held responsible for them in the manner in which, by the Board's Circular of the 1st October 1855, he is held responsible for all other classes of Paupers." At the same time we were of opinion, that "it would be his duty to attend to any application which, on an occasion of emergency, might be made to him on behalf of any of those children"—"to inform the Inspector of the Parish to which a child is chargeable" of any thing affecting a child's welfare that might be brought to his notice, and to report to this Board any neglect, abuse, or irregularity, affecting the welfare of such children boarded in his Parish, as might come to his knowledge.

App. (A.) No. 2.

In a Parish where the Parochial Board, disregarding the representations of the Inspector, and the repeated remonstrances of this Board, had failed to provide accommodation for Casual Sick Poor, an elderly man, in a destitute state, was found dangerously ill on the road side. The Inspector, on being informed of the circumstance, immediately proceeded to afford assistance, and had the poor man removed; but failing to obtain accommodation for him in the village or in the neighbourhood, every one refusing to admit him, it became necessary to place him in a stable, where he died. From the Medical Report and the whole circumstances of the case, there was no reason to doubt that the man's death had been hastened, though it could not be said to have been caused, by the persistent refusal of the Parochial Board to provide the means of affording suitable accommodation in such cases; and we intimated our opinion, that the Parochial Board had thus placed itself in a painful and discreditable position. Accommodation for Casual Sick Poor was soon after provided in that Parish; but it may be feared that there are other Parishes in which such accommodation has not yet been provided, and where, in consequence of the failure to provide it, the Parochial authorities may, at any time, find themselves involved in a criminal charge for having caused the death of some sick and destitute person. Amongst the humbler classes in many Parishes there is so great a dread of infection, that no consideration will induce them to receive as lodgers the strangers suffering from fever or any disease which they consider contagious, who may happen to be taken ill, and thus to become chargeable in the Parish; and a Parochial Board which fails to provide suitable accommodation for Casual Sick Poor, thereby exposes itself and its officers to discredit and hazard. Proceedings of the Board.

A question arose as to the right of Parishes in a Poorhouse Combination to require the admission (into the Poorhouse Hospital) of Paupers not previously inmates of the Poorhouse, who were suffering from fever. It was obvious that persons suffering from some forms of febrile disease could not, in all cases, be admitted to the Poorhouse Hospital without danger to the other inmates; and we were of opinion that the proper course, in doubtful cases, is to call upon the Medical Officer to certify in writing, and on soul and conscience, whether such danger would attend the admission of the Pauper, or whether arrangements could be made, consistent with the safety and welfare of the other inmates, for the admission of the Pauper proposed to be sent to the Poorhouse Hospital, and to be guided by that certificate in admitting or declining to admit the Pauper. App. (A.) No. 3.

In another Poorhouse Combination in which there was no public hospital to which Paupers suffering from small-pox or other contagious disorder could be sent for treatment, we recommended to the Combination to erect, in the vicinity of the Poorhouse, but at a safe distance from it, a small separate hospital for the reception of Paupers suffering from such diseases: that recommendation has been adopted.

Differences having arisen between the Parochial authorities and the officers of the Royal Infirmary, Glasgow, as to the duties App. (A.) No. 4.

Proceedings of the Board.

of those authorities with respect to patients discharged uncured from the Infirmary, we stated our opinion on the questions at issue between them, and pointed out a course of proceeding, which we have reason to believe has been adopted with satisfactory results.

App. (A.) No. 5.

The Customs and Inland Revenue Act, 1864 (27 Vict. c. 18), having imposed upon Inspectors of Poor in Parishes which are assessed for the Relief of the Poor, the duty of furnishing to applicants for licence to trade in certain commodities, a certificate as to the sum at which the house proposed to be licensed is rated for the Relief of the Poor, we issued a Circular Letter directing the attention of Inspectors to the provisions of that Statute, so far as they relate to the duties of Inspectors of Poor.

Assessments.

Since the date of our last Report, six Parishes which had previously raised the Funds for relief of the Poor by Voluntary Contributions, have resolved to raise those Funds by Assessment. The number of Parishes now assessed is 770, and the number that still raise the Funds by Voluntary Contributions is 114. The Parochial Boards of five Parishes have resolved to change the mode of assessment or of classification formerly adopted. In those five Parishes we have sanctioned the proposed change. Of the Parishes in which we have sanctioned a change, two have adopted the First Mode instead of Established Usage, and three have adopted an alteration in the classification.

The progress of the change from Voluntary Contributions to Assessment, during the nineteen years that have elapsed since this Board was formed, has been as follows:—

In 572 of the assessed Parishes, the Funds for the Relief of the Poor are raised by an equal rate upon owners and occupants respectively, and in 174 there is a classification of occupants in terms of the 36th section of the Act 8 and 9 Vict. c. 83. In 24 Parishes the Assessment is levied according to Established Usage. Assessments.

We have increased the number of Members to be elected to the Parochial Boards of the following Parishes, namely,—In St Fergus from 2 to 3, Cardross 5 to 7, Urquhart (Elgin) 2 to 4, Burntisland 3 to 5, Duirness 2 to 3. Elected Members.

The number of Parishes that have Poorhouses, either singly or in combination, is 263, having an aggregate population of 1,683,065. In the 53 Poorhouses at present in operation, the accommodation is sufficient for 12,895 inmates. When the Poorhouses which are in progress, or the erection of which has been resolved on, are completed, the number of Parishes having Poorhouses, singly or in combination, will be 340, with an aggregate population of 1,928,496. We have, during the past year, approved of the rates for boarding Paupers belonging to 82 Parishes, in those Poorhouses of other Parishes or Combinations to which it appeared to us that they might most advantageously be sent. It is now our practice, however, to limit our approval in all such cases to a period of 12 months, as we deem it desirable that we should have a periodical opportunity of considering whether any change of circumstances has arisen to render a further continuance of our approval inexpedient. The number of Parishes that possess a right, in terms of the 65th section of the Statute, to send Paupers to the Poorhouses belonging to other Parishes, is 187, with an aggregate population of 604,109; but some of these Parishes are embraced in Combinations for proposed Poorhouses, or propose to have Poorhouses of their own. The population of the Parishes to which Poorhouse accommodation is available, amounts to 2,287,174. The Tables showing the number of Poorhouses in operation and in progress, and the Parishes forming the various Poorhouse Combinations in Scotland, are printed in the Appendix. These Tables indicate the number of Inmates of Poorhouses as at 1st January and 1st July, the number who were receiving in-door relief during the half-years ended 31st December 1863, and 30th June 1864; the number of those on the Sick List, as well as those who were Lunatic, and the number of Children who were at school. These Tables also exhibit the average Weekly Cost per head of Inmates during the half-years ended 31st December 1863, and 30th June 1864, for Maintenance, including food, fuel, clothing, light, and all other necessaries; and the average weekly expenditure per head of Inmates for whom there is accommodation in the Poorhouse for the same periods under Poorhouses. App. (B.) No. 12.

the following heads, viz.:—1st, Establishment Charges, including salaries of officials, feu-duties, insurance, repairs, etc. 2nd, Estimated Rent of Poorhouse and Land, being so much per cent. on the amount expended. 3rd, Medical Relief, including medicine, medical and surgical appliances, and medical attendance.

We have sanctioned the occupation by inmates (not exceeding a specified number), of the Poorhouse of Liff and Benvie, and of the Poorhouses of Athole and Breadalbane Combination, Maybole Combination, Mull Combination, and Upper Strathearn Combination; and we have seen reason to restrict the total number of inmates to be admitted to New Monkland Poorhouse, as well as to withdraw our approval of the rates for boarding Paupers of other Parishes in that House.

We have given our concurrence to the Combination of 11 Parishes in Kincardineshire, for the erection of a common Poorhouse in that County; and we have sanctioned the addition of the Parish of Lochbroom to the Easter Ross Poorhouse Combination, and of the Parish of Buchanan to the Dumbarton Poorhouse Combination. The aggregate population of the 13 Parishes above referred to is 28,461.

We have approved of sites for the Poorhouses of Wick, Kincardineshire Combination, and Kirkintilloch Combination.

We have approved of Plans for the Elgin and Kirkintilloch Combination Poorhouses. We have also approved of plans for the Poorhouses of Upper Strathearn Combination, and of Islay Combination, which have been substituted for those formerly approved, and now cancelled. We have also approved of additions to, or alterations of, the Poorhouses of Barony, Edinburgh, and Glasgow.

App. (B.) No. 13.

We again print in the Appendix a tabular statement of the present Poorhouse Buildings Debt, as returned to us by the Parochial authorities, showing the sums borrowed for the erection or enlargement of Poorhouse buildings under the 62nd section of the 8 and 9 Vict. cap. 83, or the 19 and 20 Vict. cap. 117, sec. 3, the liquidation of the debt during the past year, and the amount of the debt as at May 1864.

Medical Relief. App. (B.) No. 8.

We have completed the arrangements for the distribution of the 16th Parliamentary Grant of L.10,000 in aid of Medical Relief to the Poor in Scotland. The number of Parishes which have resolved to comply with the conditions annexed to participation in the Grant is 697. Of these only 13 have failed to establish their claims by producing vouchers for the required amount of expenditure from their own funds, and otherwise satisfying us that the conditions of the Grant had been fulfilled. Last year 672 Parishes established their claims: this year 684. The increase in the number actually participating this year is therefore 12. The detailed account of the distribution, showing the amount expended on Medical Relief afforded to the Poor in each Parish, for which vouchers have been produced; the sum apportioned to it from the Grant; and the additional sum, proportionate to the excess of its vouched expenditure, beyond the minimum, assigned out of the unappropriated shares to each participating Parish, will be found in the Appendix. Medical Relief.

The whole sum expended on Medical Relief to the Poor during the year ended 14th May 1864, according to the Annual Returns of the Inspectors, was L.30,601, 3s. 9d., which is equal to 2·39 pence per head of the population of Scotland in 1861. The population of the 697 Parishes and Combinations that have resolved to comply with the conditions annexed to participation in the Grant is 2,807,950, and of the 187 Parishes that have not so resolved, 254,344. The sum expended by the former, according to the Returns, was L.29,307, 16s. 1½d., equal to about 2·5 pence per head of the population; and that by the latter was L.1293, 7s. 7½d., equal to about 1·22 pence per head of the population of those Parishes.

The Rules of the Board, which have been in operation since 1848, as to Medical Relief of the Poor in Parishes which participate in the Parliamentary Grant in aid of Medical Relief, required the Medical Officers of these Parishes at all times to be furnished with Vaccine Virus, and to vaccinate, without fee or other remuneration than their salaries as Medical Officers, at certain stated times and places, all persons who might come or be brought to them for that purpose. This arrangement having been superseded by the Vaccination (Scotland) Act (26 and 27 Vict. c. 108), which devolves the duty of vaccinating Paupers upon Vaccinators appointed under that Statute, we cancelled our Circular Letter of 1st May 1857, relating to the previously existing Vaccination arrangements; and with the approval of the Secretary of State, we altered the Rules as to Medical Relief of the Poor, in conformity with the Vaccination (Scotland) Act, by omitting from them the requirements respecting Vaccination. Vaccination. App. (A.) No. 6.

Complaints of Inadequate Relief. App. (B.) Nos. 2 & 3.

The number of applications complaining of Inadequate Relief that have been before us during the year ended 30th June 1864, has been 521. In the immediately preceding year the number was 563.

The subjoined Table exhibits the number of such applications in each year since this Board was formed, and the manner in which they have been disposed of:—

Cost of Relief and Management. App. (B.) Nos. 4 & 5.

The sum expended during the year ended 14th May 1864, for the Relief and Management of the Poor (including L.6,256, 3s. 11¼d. expended on buildings not being authorized Poorhouses, and L.40,629, 12s. 6¾d. expended on authorized Poorhouse Buildings), has been L.787,629, 2s. 8d. In the preceding year, the expenditure for the same purposes was L.736,027, 17s. 6d. There has therefore been an increase in the expenditure of L.51,601, 5s. 2d., but this includes the repayment of a sum of L.17,599, 7s. 10½d., which had been borrowed in previous years on the security of the assessment. The sum which has been actually expended for the Relief and Management of the Poor during the year ended 14th May 1864, including expenditure on Poorhouses and other buildings, has therefore been L.770,029, 14s. 9½d., and the increase on that expenditure has been L.34,001, 17s. 3½d.

Cost of Relief and Management.

Cost of Relief and Management.

The preceding Table presents a comparative statement of the sums expended for the Relief and Management of the Poor for the last ten years, arranged under the different heads of expenditure, together with the rate per head of the population, calculated for six years on the census of 1851, and for the last four years on the census of 1861. The rate per cent. on the annual value of real property, as returned in 1843, is also stated.

Although it has been thought desirable, for the purpose of comparison with former years, to show in the preceding Tables the rate per cent. on the annual value of real property as returned in 1843, it is right to state, that, according to the annual values returned in 1856, the rate per cent. for the last nine years would be as follows:—

| | | | |
|---|---|---|---|
| Year ended 14th May | 1856, | L.5 7 | $6\frac{3}{4}$ |
| ,, ,, | 1857, | 5 8 | 9 |
| ,, ,, | 1858, | 5 9 | $6\frac{1}{4}$ |
| ,, ,, | 1859, | 5 12 | $4\frac{1}{4}$ |
| ,, ,, | 1860, | 5 13 | $4\frac{1}{4}$ |
| ,, ,, | 1861, | 5 16 | $10\frac{3}{4}$ |
| ,, ,, | 1862, | 6 3 | $0\frac{1}{4}$ |
| ,, ,, | 1863, | 6 5 | $9\frac{1}{2}$ |
| ,, ,, | 1864, | 6 11 | $7\frac{1}{4}$ |

The rate per cent. on the annual value of real property, as estimated for 1859, would be L.5, 19s. 6d., or 11s. $11\frac{1}{4}$d. per cent. greater than in 1856, when similar returns were available.

The total sum expended under the heads of Relief to the Poor on the Roll, or Registered, and to the Casual Poor, for the last ten years, was—

There is thus an increase in the average allowance to each Pauper on the Roll, or Registered, and relieved in the course of the year, of 4d., as compared with last year.

The following is a Statement of the Number of Poor relieved Scotland for the last ten years :—

Number of Poor.

The number of Lunatic Poor relieved in the course of the year was, as stated above, 6289. Of these, 1069 died, or were cured, or ceased to receive relief; thus the number at the 14th May was 5220, being an increase as compared with the number at the same date last year (5212) of 8. Of these, 3638 were in Asylums and Poorhouses, and 1582 were residing with relatives or other parties in private dwellings.

The subjoined Table shows the number of Dependants of the Poor as returned to us for the past ten years :—

Of the Casual Poor and Dependants for 1864, as stated above, 12,905, with 12,586 Dependants, are returned as being also enumerated as Registered Poor. The whole number of Unregistered or Casual Poor at the 14th May 1864, was 3492, with 3517 Dependants. The number of Adult Casual Poor relieved on the 1st January 1864, was 3102, and their children, together with orphans or deserted children, 3109. The number of the former relieved on 1st July 1864 was 2660, and of their children, and orphans or deserted children, 2663, or stated thus: Number of Poor.

The total number of Persons of all classes and ages receiving relief as Casual Poor on 1st January 1864, was 6211; on 14th May 1864, 7009; and on 1st July 1864, 5323; the average of the three periods being 6181.

The following Table presents an abstract of the total existing Poorhouse accommodation at 1st July 1864, and of the number of Poor (exclusive of Lunatics) receiving indoor relief at the dates specified, respectively.

The whole sum derived from Church Collections in Assessed Parishes during the year ending May 1864, was L.19,218, 2s. 8d., of which L.9,678, 16s. 6d. is stated to have been expended on Relief of the Poor. From this sum, however, must be deducted L.218, 17s., handed over to the Parochial Boards. It would appear, therefore, that the sum of L.9,469, 19s. 6d., derived from Church Collections, was actually applied by the Kirk Sessions to the relief of persons in their respective Parishes who required assistance. But these funds are generally employed to afford aid to persons who have fallen into temporary difficulties, with a view to prevent them from becoming chargeable to the Parish as Paupers; and it is probable that few of the persons so assisted have also been chargeable to the funds raised by assessment. Church Collections. App. (B.) No. 7.

Returns of legal proceedings under the Statute, in the Sheriff Courts, have again been furnished to us by the courtesy of the Sheriffs-Substitute, and an abstract of them is inserted in the Appendix. Applications to Sheriffs. App. (B.) No. 1.

The total number of applications to Sheriffs, on the ground that relief had been improperly refused, as returned by the Sheriffs-Substitute, was, during the past year, 639; while, in the returns for the preceding year, the number of such applications was 724. These numbers, however, fall short the 8th and 9th sections of the Act for 21 Parishes in Scotland, and have obtained the approval of the Lord Advocate thereto. In the case of every such application, we called upon the Parochial Board to state the precise nature of the modifications which they considered necessary or expedient, and their reasons for so considering them; and after receiving the information so called for, we framed such modifications as appeared to us to be suitable to the circumstances of the Parish. The following are the Parishes for which modifications have accordingly been framed and approved, in terms of the Statute: the Parishes of North Mavine, Delting, Sandsting, Walls and Sandness, Nesting, Dunrossness, Unst, Tingwall, and Bressay Burra and Quarff, in Shetland; Sandwick, Birsay and Harray, and Walls and Flotta, in Orkney; Farr, in Sutherlandshire; Gairloch, Lochbroom, Lochs, Uig, Barvas, and Stornoway, in Ross-shire; and Glenelg and Small Isles, in Inverness-shire.

In order to ensure due publication of the nature of the modifications, which in each case had been framed, we directed them to be inserted once in the Edinburgh Gazette, and once in each of three successive weeks in the local newspaper or newspapers circulating in the Parish, to be posted on the doors of the Parish Church, and other places of public worship in the Parish, and to be further circulated in such manner as the Parochial Board shall consider most effectual for the information of the Population.

App. (B.) No. 11.

An Abstract of the Modifications, so framed and published, is printed in the Appendix.

In continuation of the Abstract of Returns, printed in the Appendix of our 18th Annual Report, as to the number of persons vaccinated by the Medical Officers of Parishes participating in the Parliamentary Grant in aid of Medical came into operation. We also print in the Appendix an Abstract of Returns from all Parishes in Scotland, which have been made in compliance with our Regulations, by the Vaccinators appointed under the Vaccination Act for the half year ended 30th June 1864. These Returns show the number of persons vaccinated successfully and unsuccessfully during the half year; the number of cases in which Certificates of Insusceptibility have been granted; and the number of persons vaccinated who were not in receipt of Parochial Relief. They relate, however, exclusively to Vaccinations performed by the Vaccinators in their official capacity, i.e., cases of paupers and the children of paupers, and of those persons not paupers, whom the Parochial Board authorize the Vaccinator to vaccinate; and they do not include Vaccinations performed by the Vaccinators, or other Medical Practitioners, in the course of their private practice.

APPENDIX (A.)

DOCUMENTS ISSUED AND RECEIVED BY THE BOARD OF SUPERVISION.

No. 1.—Extract Minute of the Board of Supervision respecting the Responsibility of an Inspector of Poor for Pauper Children boarded out in his Parish by another Parish, dated 13th August 1863.

It appears to the Board, that when a Parochial Board places pauper children beyond the limits of the Parish, it cannot thereby relieve itself of its responsibility for the proper care and treatment of the children, but must continue to be directly and primarily responsible that the children are properly cared for, kindly treated, and duly instructed. It is the bounden duty of the Parochial Board to take efficient measures and precautions to enable it to acquit itself of that responsibility, and especially to take care that the children are frequently visited at their residences by a competent and trustworthy person, employed by the Parochial Board, who shall report on the occasion of each visit the condition in which he finds the children, and more particularly anything that may appear to him to be objectionable, or to require the intervention or the attention of the Parochial Board.

The Board are therefore of opinion that the Inspector of the Parish in which such children are boarded cannot be held responsible for them in the manner in which, by the Board's circular of the 1st October 1855, he is held responsible for all other classes of paupers. It would be his duty, however, to attend to any application which, on any occasion of emergency, might be made to him on behalf of any of those children, and to inform the Inspector of the Parish to which a child is chargeable, of anything affecting a child's welfare that might be brought to his notice. It would also be his duty to report to this Board any neglect, abuse, or irregularity affecting the welfare of such children boarded in his Parish as might come under his observation, or might be brought to his notice.

No. 2.—Extract Minute of the Board of Supervision respecting Failure to provide Accommodation for Casual Sick Poor, dated 20th October 1863.

The documents respecting the death of Robert Shearer, which were before the Board on 15th September, were again submitted. The Board are of opinion, that the Inspector is not responsible, having done all that the Parochial Board permitted or enabled him to do, in order to the due performance of his duty in this distressing case; but the Board are further of opinion, that the Parochial Board, by its persistent refusal to provide accommodation for casual sick poor, and by its consequent failure to afford such relief as the statute requires, and as the Board of Supervision have repeatedly called upon it to provide the means of affording, has hastened the death of the pauper, Robert Shearer, and has thus placed itself in a painful and discreditable position.

No. 3.—Extract Minute of the Board of Supervision respecting the Admission of Paupers affected with Fever to the Hospital of a Poorhouse, dated 10th September 1863.

The Board are of opinion that it is not competent to any Parish to send to the Poorhouse Hospital a pauper whose admission would be dangerous to the other inmates of the hospital; and that when it is believed that any pauper proposed to be sent to the hospital of the Poorhouse cannot be admitted without danger to the other inmates, the proper course is to require the medical officer of the Poorhouse to certify in writing, and on soul and conscience, whether such danger would, in his opinion, attend the admission of the pauper, or whether arrangements can be made consistent with the safety and welfare of the other inmates for the admission of the pauper proposed to be sent to the Poorhouse Hospital.

No. 4.—Extract Minute of the Board of Supervision respecting the Removal of Persons about to be discharged from an Infirmary to the Poorhouse, dated 3rd February 1864.

The questions that have arisen between the Infirmary and the Parochial Board relate to the removal, as paupers, by the Parochial Board, of persons discharged, or about to be discharged, from the Infirmary. On the one hand, the authorities of the Infirmary hold that the Parochial Board ought to remove to the Poorhouse all patients alleging themselves to be destitute, whom it may be considered expedient to discharge from the Infirmary, on whatever ground. On the other hand, the Parochial Board hold that they are not bound, either by legal obligation, or by the rules of the Infirmary, to remove persons who had not been admitted to be proper objects of Parochial relief previous to their admission to the Infirmary.

It does not appear to the Board that the ground taken by either party is tenable. To assume that the authorities in the Infirmary are entitled to determine who are and who are not proper objects of Parochial relief, would be to invest them with a jurisdiction which the statutes have reserved for the Sheriff alone, and, at the same time, to supersede the discretionary power which the statutes have conferred on the Inspector and the Parochial Board with regard to applications for relief. In like manner, the assumption that no one who had not applied for and received Parochial relief before entering the Infirmary can be a proper object of Parochial relief when discharged from that institution, is inadmissible. A person who was not a proper object of Parochial relief when admitted to the Infirmary may become so while there, and even in consequence of being obliged to go there; and it is clearly the duty of the Parochial Board to give adequate relief to every applicant who is a proper object of relief, whatever may be the circumstances which have brought him, or her, to that condition.

The number of persons whom the Inspector of the City Parish of Glasgow was called upon, by the Infirmary authorities, to remove to the Poorhouse in the forty-two weeks from the 9th January to 21st October 1863, appears to have been thirty-two, or less than one per week. All of these thirty-two persons are stated by the authorities of the Infirmary not only to be unfit patients to remain there, but to be destitute, and so completely disabled as to be incapable of proceeding to the Inspector's office in order to apply for Parochial relief. On these grounds, the Inspector is required by the Infirmary to admit them as proper objects of Parochial relief, and to remove them to the Poorhouse. But it further appears, that about twenty per cent. of the whole number did not desire Parochial relief; declined to accept it when it was offered to them, and thus do not appear to have been parties to the application which was made to the Inspector in their behalf.

The Board consider it highly objectionable, and, in fact, subversive of every sound principle in the administration of a Poor Law, that application for Parochial relief should be made, without his or her concurrence, on behalf of any person who is not by nonage, or mental condition, incapacitated from concurring.

If an application to the Inspector, on behalf of a patient, by an officer of the Infirmary is to be regarded as an application by the patient, then, in terms of the statute, it may be a bar to the acquisition of a settlement, and yet in a large proportion of the thirty-two cases referred to, the application would seem to have been made without the knowledge or concurrence of the patients. Indeed, there is nothing to show that they are ever allowed a choice. Are those persons to be debarred from acquiring a settlement by an act of the officers of the Infirmary in which they had no part?

Again, it appears, that of the thirty-two persons referred to, there were about ten per cent. who were in a moribund state when they were removed from the Infirmary to the Poorhouse, and who died a few days after their admission. It appears to the Board, that a removal from the Infirmary to the Poorhouse in such circumstances, is, on many grounds, highly objectionable. The knowledge that such a practice prevailed might very naturally deter humane persons from contributing to the funds of the institution. If persons arriving at the Poorhouse in such a state of disease were sent to the Infirmary, it might not appear to be unreasonable or unnatural; but it does seem to be reversing the natural course, to remove them from the Infirmary to the Poorhouse.

It is most desirable, however, that the institutions, public and private, which have for their object the alleviation of the sufferings of the working classes, should act together harmoniously; and it appears to the Board, that as between the Infirmary and the Parochial Board matters may be so arranged as to leave no reasonable ground of complaint to either.

In all cases in which the patient, when discharged from the Infirmary, is able to go, or can, without inconvenience, be conveyed to the Inspector's office—there to make personal application for Parochial relief, if he desires it, in the usual manner—that course ought to be pursued as the most regular and proper; but if, from any cause, it cannot be adopted, then another course may be substituted. The concurrence of the patient for whom Parochial relief is demanded is, in all ordinary cases, indispensable; and this can best be secured by requiring that a schedule of application for Parochial relief shall be filled up on behalf of the applicant, and signed with his or her name, or mark, duly attested. On receiving this application (the schedules for which ought to be supplied by the Parochial Board), the Inspector will deal with it as he would with any other application from a person confined to bed, or to his residence, and will cause the applicant to be visited at his residence, which, in the case supposed, would be the Infirmary. It would then be his duty either to offer relief, and if it be in-door relief, to remove the applicant to the Poorhouse, as he would from a private residence, or to refuse relief and give a certificate of refusal, which would enable the person refused to apply to the Sheriff.

If the course here pointed out be uniformly and systematically pursued, it appears to the Board that neither the authorities of the Parish, nor of the Infirmary, would have any reasonable ground of complaint, or of difference in carrying on the important duties which bring them into contact, and which both are no doubt desirous to conduct in the manner which appears to them the best calculated to promote the public interest.

No. 5.—Circular Letter as to Customs and Inland Revenue Act, 1864—27° Vict. cap. 18.

Board of Supervision, Edinburgh, 23rd June 1864.

Sir,—I am directed by the Board of Supervision to call the attention of all Inspectors of the Poor to the 6th and 7th Sections of the Act 27 Vict. c. 18 (Customs and Inland Revenue Act, 1864), hereto annexed, whereby persons in Scotland proposing to apply for a licence to trade in or sell Coffee, Tea, Cocoa Nuts, Chocolate, or Pepper at the reduced rate of duty imposed by that Act, are entitled to demand from the Inspector of the Poor of the parish or place in which the house intended to be licensed is situated, a Certificate as to the sum at which the said house is rated to the last rate made for the relief of the poor in the parish.

If the house intended to be licensed is not separately rated to the poor on the ground of being let at a rent not amounting to £4 per annum, the Certificate to be granted by the Inspector will certify that such house is not so rated on the ground aforesaid.

Forms of Certificates prepared by the Department of Inland Revenue are annexed hereto.

You will take notice, that Inspectors of the Poor who refuse to grant, when demanded, a Certificate containing the particulars required by the 6th Section of the Act, or who grant a Certificate which is false or untrue in any particular, incur a penalty of Ten Pounds.—I am, sir, your obedient servant,

W. S. Walker, Secretary.

No. 6.—CIRCULAR LETTER AS TO MEDICAL RELIEF OF THE POOR.

Board of Supervision, Edinburgh, 17th September 1863.

SIR,—I am directed by the Board of Supervision to inform you that in consequence of the provisions of the Vaccination (Scotland) Act—26 and 27 Vict. c. 108—they have cancelled their Circular Letter of 1st May 1857, and, with the approval of the Right Hon. Sir George Grey, one of Her Majesty's Principal Secretaries of State, they have altered the Rules as to Medical Relief of the Poor, in conformity with that Statute, by omitting from them the requirements respecting Vaccination (i.e. the last clause of Rule 12).

I enclose copies of this Circular, and of the Rules as amended, for the use of the Parochial Board, the Medical Officer, and yourself; and if there be more than one Medical Officer in your Parish, I shall supply additional copies on application.

I am further to point out to you, that the Rules as to Medical Relief of the Poor require, among other things, and particularly in parishes which participate in the Parliamentary Grant in aid of Medical Relief:—

First, That a list of all the aged and infirm poor should be furnished to the Medical Officer every six months.

Second, That every such poor person should be furnished with a ticket, on the production of which the Medical Officer is bound to give attendance.

Third, That a return should be received by you for the Parochial Board from the Medical Officer (at the least once a month), in accordance with the Form A, annexed to the Rules.

Fourth, That the Inspector should immediately report to the Board of Supervision any neglect or failure on the part of the Medical Officer to comply with the Rules and the above requirements.—I am, sir, your obedient servant, W. S. Walker, Secretary.

To the Inspector of Poor,———

Rules framed by the Board of Supervision, under the Statute 8° and 9° Vict. cap. 83, as to Medical Relief of the Poor.

1. All poor persons who stand in need of medical relief shall be duly and punctually attended by a competent medical practitioner, and supplied with medicines and medical and surgical appliances of such quality, and to such extent, as may be necessary for the proper medical or surgical treatment of such poor persons.

2. A medical practitioner is not duly qualified unless he has a degree or diploma of Physician or Surgeon from a University or other Body in Great Britain or Ireland legally entitled to confer or grant such degree or diploma. A medical practitioner not thus qualified, who has not held the office of Parochial Medical Officer for at least one year prior to the 2nd of August 1848, will not be held to be competent.

3. In addition to medical relief, Parochial Boards shall furnish the sick and convalescent poor with nutritious diet, cordials, clothing, suitable lodging, and sick-bed attendance, to such an extent as may be necessary, according to the circumstances of each case.

4. A medical practitioner, appointed by the Parochial Board to attend any poor person, shall intimate in writing to the Inspector the description and extent of the relief, under Rule 3, which he may consider necessary for the proper treatment of such poor person; and, on receipt of such intimation, the Inspector, on his own responsibility, shall forthwith furnish or refuse the relief so intimated to be necessary, until he shall have brought the case before the Parochial Board, and received their instructions regarding it. But if the Inspector refuses or fails to furnish that relief, or any part of it, he will be held accountable for such refusal or failure.

5. Medical attendance and medical or surgical appliances which are furnished by the medical officer, or procured from a laboratory on his prescription, are chargeable under the head of medical relief; but nutritious diet, cordials, clothing, suitable lodging, sick-bed attendance, and such appliances and means as are not furnished by the medical attendant, nor procured from a laboratory on his prescription, are not chargeable under the head of medical relief; and Inspectors of the Poor are required to prepare the annual Returns transmitted to the Board of Supervision, in conformity with this rule.

6. A medical practitioner who has undertaken to attend the whole or any part of the poor in a Parish, or district of a Parish, shall attend personally, and at their homes, if necessary, the poor persons entrusted to his care, and is responsible that such visits and attendance are duly and punctually made and given. If he employs an assistant to aid him in the performance of his duties, no subdivision of the duty of personal attendance, or diminution of personal responsibility, will, on that account, be recognised.

7. A medical officer, appointed by the Parochial Board to attend the poor of a Parish, or of a part of a Parish, is bound to afford every reasonable facility for sending or conveying the medicines and appliances furnished from his own laboratory to paupers who are unable to go or to send for them; but when it is necessary to send a messenger expressly for that purpose, he may call upon the Inspector, in writing, to provide such messenger, and the Inspector, when so called upon, will be held responsible that the medicines and appliances are duly and punctually delivered.

8. A medical officer appointed to attend the poor, within twenty-one days after his appointment, or as soon thereafter as he shall be required by the Parochial Board so to do, shall, if practicable, name to the Parochial Board a duly qualified medical practitioner, for whose diligence he will be held responsible, and whose nomination is not objected to by the Parochial Board, who will perform the duties of the medical officer in case of his absence from home, or other unavoidable hindrance to his personal attendance.

Additional Rules applicable to Parishes which participate in the Parliamentary Grant.

9. Every Parochial Board which has accepted, or may accept, the share of the Parliamentary Grant apportioned to the Parish, shall name one or more medical officers, with a fixed salary or salaries, to attend the poor.

10. In every Parish that participates in the Parliamentary Grant, lists of all aged and infirm persons permanently disabled, who are actually in the receipt of Parochial relief, and residing within the Parish or district of each medical officer, shall be prepared every six months, and a copy furnished to the medical officer, who is bound to attend all such poor persons, on their producing to him a ticket furnished to them by the Parochial Board.

11. Every medical officer appointed by the Parochial Board to any such Parish, or to a district of any such Parish, shall duly and punctually attend upon and prescribe for all poor persons requiring medical or surgical assistance within the Parish or district to which he is appointed, whenever he shall be thereunto required, by a written or printed order from the Parochial Board, or the Inspector of the Poor; or, in cases of sudden and urgent necessity, from a member of the Parochial Board; or by the production, on the part of any poor person, of the ticket referred to in Rule 10.

12. Such medical officer shall make Returns of the sick poor to the Parochial Board, according to the annexed form A, either weekly or monthly, as that Board shall direct; he shall make to the Board of Supervision such Returns of the sick poor as this Board may from time to time require; he shall give to the Parochial Board and to the Inspector of the Poor, when required, any reasonable information respecting the case of any poor person under his care; make any such written report relative to any sickness prevalent among the poor as the Parochial Board or the Board of Supervision may require of him; attend the Parochial Board when summoned by them; give a certificate under his hand in every case to the Parochial Board or the Inspector, or the poor person on whom he is attending, of the sickness of such poor person, or other cause of his attendance, when required to do so by the Parochial Board or the Inspector.

13. The offices of Inspector and medical officer shall not be held by the same person.

14. The medical officer of a Parish, or a district of a Parish, shall not vote at the meeting of any Parochial Board whose officer he is.

Approved by the Right Hon. Sir George Grey, Bart., one of Her Majesty's Principal Secretaries of State, October 21, 1848, April 10, 1856, and September 11, 1863.

No. 7.—Circular Letter respecting the Vaccination Act—26° and 27° Vict. c. 108.

Board of Supervision, Edinburgh, 20th August 1863.

Sir,—I am directed by the Board of Supervision for the Relief of the Poor in Scotland to call the attention of the Parochial Board to the Vaccination (Scotland) Act, 26 and 27 Vict. c. 103, and to transmit for their information the accompanying "Regulations," which the Board have made and issued in terms of the 5th section of the Act.

The following are the leading provisions of the Act, so far as they relate to the duties of the Parochial authorities:—

The Parochial Board of every parish or combination of parishes is required to appoint, not later than the 28th of September 1863, a registered medical practitioner or practitioners to be the Vaccinator or Vaccinators within the parish or combination. Sec. 1.

The remuneration to each Vaccinator is to depend on, and be regulated by, the number of persons not previously vaccinated, who have been successfully vaccinated by him, and the rate of remuneration is not to be less than 1s. 6d. for every person successfully vaccinated, when the vaccination is performed within two miles of the residence of the Vaccinator by the nearest public road, and 2s. 6d. when beyond that distance. Sec. 2.

The Parochial Board is required from time to time to give notice to the Board of Supervision, the Registrar-General, and the Registrar or Registrars for the district within which the parish or combination is wholly or partially situated, of the name of each Vaccinator appointed by it, and that within 48 hours of the appointment of such Vaccinator. Sec. 4.

The Parochial Board, the Vaccinators, and the other officers engaged in the administration of the Laws for the Relief of the Poor, are required to conform to the regulations which may, from time to time, be issued by the Board of Supervision in relation to the execution of the Act. Sec. 5.

The Parochial Board is to defray the expenses incurred in the execution of the Act out of the funds at their disposal for the relief of the poor. Sec. 6.

Vaccination, and any medical or surgical treatment incidental to it, is not to be considered parochial relief, and is not to affect the parochial settlement of any person so vaccinated or treated. Sec. 7.

When the Inspector of Poor receives from the Registrar of the district a list of the names and addresses of such persons as have failed to transmit or lodge a certificate of vaccination in terms of the Act, he is required to lay the same before the Parochial Board. The Parochial Board is required thereafter to issue an order to the Vaccinator to vaccinate the persons named in the list; and the Inspector of Poor shall at the same time give notice in writing of such Order to each of the persons named in the list, or, if children, to their father, mother, or the persons having care of them. In pursuance of such order, the Vaccinator shall vaccinate the persons named therein, at any time not less than 10 nor more than 20 days of the date of such notice, unless such persons shall previously have been vaccinated, and a certificate of their vaccination or insusceptibility shall have been transmitted to the Registrar. Sec. 18.

Whenever it appears to the Registrar-General and the Inspectors under him, that the provisions of the Act are not being fully carried into effect by a Parochial Board or the officers appointed by it, the Registrar-General is required to call the attention of the Board of Supervision thereto, with a view to their providing the requisite remedy. Sec. 20.

Sec. 21. Each Vaccinator is required to keep a book in which he shall enter, from time to time, the number of persons successfully vaccinated by him, those cases in which vaccination has been postponed, and those which have been certified to be insusceptible. Each Vaccinator is further required yearly, or at such other times as the Board of Supervision may direct, to make a return to the Board embracing these and such other particulars as the Board may require. And such books and returns are to be at all times open to inspection, free of charge, by the Registrar-General, Inspectors, or Registrars, and by the officers of the Parochial Board to which they relate.

Sec. 23. In every case where, under the provisions of the Act, a Vaccinator is required to grant a certificate of vaccination, or of postponement of vaccination, or of insusceptibility to vaccine disease, and grants the same, he is required to transmit, within 48 hours from the date of the certificate, to the Registrar of the district within which the child referred to in the certificate was born, the particulars contained in the said certificate in the Form, or as nearly as may be in the Form, of Schedule F annexed to the Act.

Sec. 27. Wherever the Parochial Board fails to do or perform any of the acts or duties required of them by the Act, it is declared lawful for the Board of Supervision to do or perform the same, but without prejudice to any right competent to the Board to compel performance thereof. And the Board of Supervision are vested with the same powers for directing and enforcing the execution of the Act by Parochial Boards, as they now or may hereafter have in relation to any matter concerning the administration of the Laws for the Relief of the Poor.

Sec. 12. The provisions relating to the time and manner in which vaccination is to be performed, are contained in the 8th, 9th, 10th, and 11th Sections of the Act. And in insular, highland, and other districts, or portions of such districts, where from the difficulty of travelling and other causes it may be considered inexpedient to enforce the provisions of the Act, as expressed in these Sections, the Parochial Board may apply to the Board of Supervision to modify them, which the Board of Supervision are authorized from time to time to do, subject to the approval of the Lord Advocate ; and in such cases the Parochial Board may also apply to the Board of Supervision to appoint a medical practitioner or practitioners to travel throughout such districts for the purpose of vaccinating under the provisions of the Act ;—the remuneration to such medical practitioners being fixed and allocated among the parishes of the district by the Board of Supervision in terms of the Act.

In consequence of the provisions of this Statute, which devolves the duty of vaccinating paupers upon a "Vaccinator," the medical officer of a parish which participates in the Parliamentary Grant in Aid of Medical Relief, will, from and after the appointment of a Vaccinator for the Parish, no longer be required, in his capacity of medical officer, to be at all times furnished with vaccine virus and to vaccinate, without demanding a fee or other remuneration than his salary, at the stated times and places, all persons who may come or be brought to him for that purpose.

Where the salary of a medical officer has been fixed with reference to the obligation to vaccinate imposed upon him by the Rules of the Board of Supervision, and from which he is now relieved, it will be for the Parochial Board to consider whether any change ought, on that ground, to be made in his salary at the end of the current year.

From and after the 28th of September next, no expenditure incurred on account of vaccination will be admitted as an item in the minimum expenditure required to entitle a parish to participate in the Parliamentary Grant in Aid of Medical Relief to the Poor.

You will summon a meeting of the Parochial Board on some convenient day prior to the 28th of September next, for the purpose of appointing a "Vaccinator," in terms of the Act, and of considering this communication, and the Board's "Regulations" herewith transmitted.—I am, sir, your obedient servant,

W. S. WALKER, Secretary.

———

REGULATIONS made and issued by the Board of Supervision for the Relief of the Poor in Scotland, in terms of the 5th Section of the Vaccination (Scotland) Act, 26° and 27° Vict. c. 108.

1. The Parochial Board shall, at the time of, or prior to, the appointment of each Vaccinator, fix the rate of allowance for the remuneration of such Vaccinator, in terms of the 2nd Section of the Act; and the rate of allowance so fixed shall not be reduced without the sanction of the Board of Supervision previously had and obtained.

2. The Inspector of the Poor shall, within 48 hours of the appointment of each Vaccinator, report to the Board of Supervision the name and address of every Vaccinator so appointed, together with the rate of allowance fixed for his remuneration.

3. The Parochial Board shall supply to the Inspector of the Poor, and to each Vaccinator appointed by them, a copy of the Vaccination (Scotland) Act, and of the Board of Supervision's Regulations relating thereto.

4. In the case of pauper children, the Inspector of the Poor shall see to the execution of the Act in all matters required to be done or provided by the father, mother, or person having the care, nurture, or custody of the said children.

5. The Vaccinator shall at all times be furnished with vaccine virus, and shall vaccinate, at the cost of the Parochial Board according to the rate of allowance fixed in terms of the Act and these Regulations, all persons by themselves, or by their parent or parents, in receipt of parochial relief, who may apply to him for that purpose.

6. In every case falling under Regulation 4, where a child has been vaccinated by a person not being a registered medical practitioner, the Vaccinator shall examine such child, and if he is satisfied that the operation has been successful, he shall furnish the Inspector of the Poor and the Registrar of the district with a certificate of insusceptibility on the ground of previous successful vaccination; but if he is not satisfied that the operation has been successful, he shall proceed in terms of the Act.

7. The Vaccinator shall make a return to the Board of Supervision on the 1st day of January and on the 1st day of July in every year, according to the annexed form A.

8. The Inspector of the Poor shall make a return to the Board of Supervision on the 1st day of January and on the 1st day of July in every year, according to the annexed form B.

9. The offices of Inspector of the Poor and Vaccinator shall not be held by the same person.

10. A Vaccinator shall not act or vote at the meeting of any Parochial Board whose officer he is.

No. 8.—Circular Letter respecting the Proper Construction of certain Provisions of the Vaccination Act.

Board of Supervision, Edinburgh, 10th December 1863.

Sir,—I am directed by the Board of Supervision to inform you, that many inquiries having been made by Parochial Boards and others interested in the operation of the Vaccination (Scotland) Act, 1863, respecting the proper construction of certain provisions of that Statute, the Board deemed it advisable to obtain the opinion of Counsel upon the matters referred to.

The opinion of Counsel having been obtained, I am now to state, for the information of Parochial Boards, Inspectors of Poor, and Vaccinators, that the Board have been advised—

1. That it is the duty of the Parochial Board to see to the proper vaccination of every pauper child; and in order that this may be accomplished, that Parochial Boards should immediately make such arrangements as will ensure that this is attended to.

2. That the Vaccinator is not bound to vaccinate non-pauper children, except on an order to that effect by the Parochial Board, proceeding upon the list furnished by the Registrar to the Inspector, in terms of section 18 of the Statute.

3. That the persons ordered to be vaccinated under the 18th section of the Statute are children whose parents or guardians have failed to transmit a certificate of vaccination in terms of the Act; and when the Vaccinator is directed by the Parochial Board to vaccinate any such person, he is entitled in every case to the allowance which has been agreed upon between him and the Parochial Board.

4. That Parochial Boards are entitled to defray the cost of vaccination out of the monies coming into their hands for the relief of the poor, or from the Parliamentary Grant for Medical Relief of the Poor, without distinction of the persons vaccinated. But they are not bound or entitled to pay the Vaccinator for children other than paupers, except when such children are vaccinated under an order to that effect, in terms of the 18th section; and in all such cases it is competent for the Parochial Board to proceed against persons who have not transmitted to the Registrar a certificate of the vaccination of their children within the statutory period, for the penalties mentioned in the 17th section; and these penalties will become part of the funds for the support of the poor of the parish.

5. That no person can have failed to transmit a certificate in terms of the Act until after the expiry of six months from the 1st of January 1864, so that there can be no objection to the Registrar postponing the transmission of the first list until after six months from the 1st of January 1864, provided he thereafter always transmits a list within six months from the date of the preceding list. There appears, however, to be no objection to the Registrar transmitting lists oftener than once within six months. The Act directs that a list shall be transmitted once in every six months; but this does not exclude a more frequent transmission.

6. That the Vaccinator, unless under a special order to that effect, proceeding from the Parochial Board, is not entitled to go beyond the bounds of his district for the purpose of vaccinating a person removed from the district. If the parish to which the child has been removed is known to the Parochial Board, notice should be given to the Parochial Board of that parish, and that Board ought to see to the vaccination of the child.

7. That it is competent for the Parochial Board to make an arrangement with the Vaccinator, whereby the Vaccinator shall be bound to attend at certain stated times and places, for the purpose of vaccination, and to remunerate the Vaccinator for such attendance by a fixed salary in addition to the statutory allowance for each successful vaccination. The Parochial Board would be entitled to require the presence of pauper children at such times and places, but the presence of non-pauper children would be optional.

I enclose four copies of this Circular Letter for the use of the Parochial Board, the Vaccinators, and yourself, as Inspector of Poor. If additional copies are required, they will be furnished on application.—I am, sir, your obedient servant,

W. S. Walker, Secretary.
